Abstract

This report provides a statistical description of the 10,516 offenders committed by the courts to Massachusetts county facilities (jail or house of correction) during 1986. The report presents information on institution committed to, court committed from, month of commitment, offense, sentence length, sentence type, age, sex, race, marital status, education, place of birth and residence.

Some highlights of the statistics presented in this report are:

- In 1986 there were 10,516 commitments to county facilities. This represents an increase of 10 percent over the number of commitments in 1985.
- In terms of general categories of offenses, 11 percent were committed for offenses against the person, 2 percent for sex offenses, 28 percent for property offenses, 9 percent for drug offenses, and 51 percent for all other offenses (including Operating Under the Influence (O.U.I.)).
- Specifically, the most common offenses for which offenders were committed were O.U.I. (26 percent), motor vehicle violations (13 percent), and burglary (9 percent).
- The median sentence length was two months. Twelve percent were committed in lieu of payment of a fine. Two percent were serving weekend sentences.
- The median age of offenders committed to county facilities was 26 years.
- Seventy-eight percent of the offenders were white, 16 percent were black and 6 percent were hispanic.
- The median educational level was twelfth grade.
- Sixty-nine percent of the offenders were single, 18 percent were married and 13 percent were separated, divorced or widowed.
- Seventy-one percent were born in Massachusetts, 18 percent were born in other states, 7 percent were born in U.S. territories and 4 percent were foreign-born.

Introduction

This report provides a statistical description of offenders committed to Massachusetts county facilities (jails and houses of correction) during 1986. Included here is information about the county facilities and their operating expenditures. Offenders are described in terms of institution committed to, month of commitment, court committed from, offense, sentence length, sentence type (weekend and jail sentences), sex, age, race, marital status, education, place of birth, and residence. Trends in court commitments to the county correctional system over the past five to ten years are also presented. The tables were derived from information submitted by each county facility to the Operations Research Unit of the Research Division in the Department of Correction and were produced on the Regent's Computer Network.

Upon referring to the statistical tables, the reader should note the following: (1) the total population is sub-divided by committing institution; (2) the top number in each cell represents the total number of offenders committed to a particular institution who fall into the corresponding category in that row of the table; and (3) the bottom number in each cell (the number contained in parentheses) is the percentage of the number of individuals in the category to the total number of individuals from that institution (column percents). For example, on page eleven, Month of Commitment is presented and the following types of information can be obtained:

- (1) The total number of offenders is broken down by commitment institution, and these are labeled and presented horizontally across the top of the table;
- (2) The specific months are labeled and presented vertically;

I would like to acknowledge the assistance of Keith Obillo in the preparation of this report.

- (3) Of the 10,516 offenders committed during 1986, 2,028 were committed to the Middlesex County facility;
- (4) Of the 2,028 offenders committed to Middlesex County, nine percent (N=181) were committed in January.

County Facilities in Massachusetts

There are fourteen counties in Massachusetts. All counties except for Nantucket County have at least one county correctional facility administered by the county sheriff. These facilities usually contain a jail for pre-trial detainees, and a house of correction for sentenced inmates. The location and administrators of all facilities are shown in Appendix I. Suffolk County has a separate facility for its jail (Charles Street) and its house of correction (Deer Island). The Deer Island House of Correction is administered by the Penal Commissioner of Boston. Middlesex County has two facilities, a combined jail and house of correction in Billerica and a jail in Cambridge. Essex County has two facilities that serve as jails and houses of correction, one in Lawrence and one in Salem. Three counties have specialized facilities for sentenced offenders: Essex County has the Correctional Alternative Center (CAC) in Lawrence; Hampden County has the Western Massachusetts Correctional Alcohol Center (WMCAC) facility in Springfield; and Norfolk County has the Braintree Alternative Center.

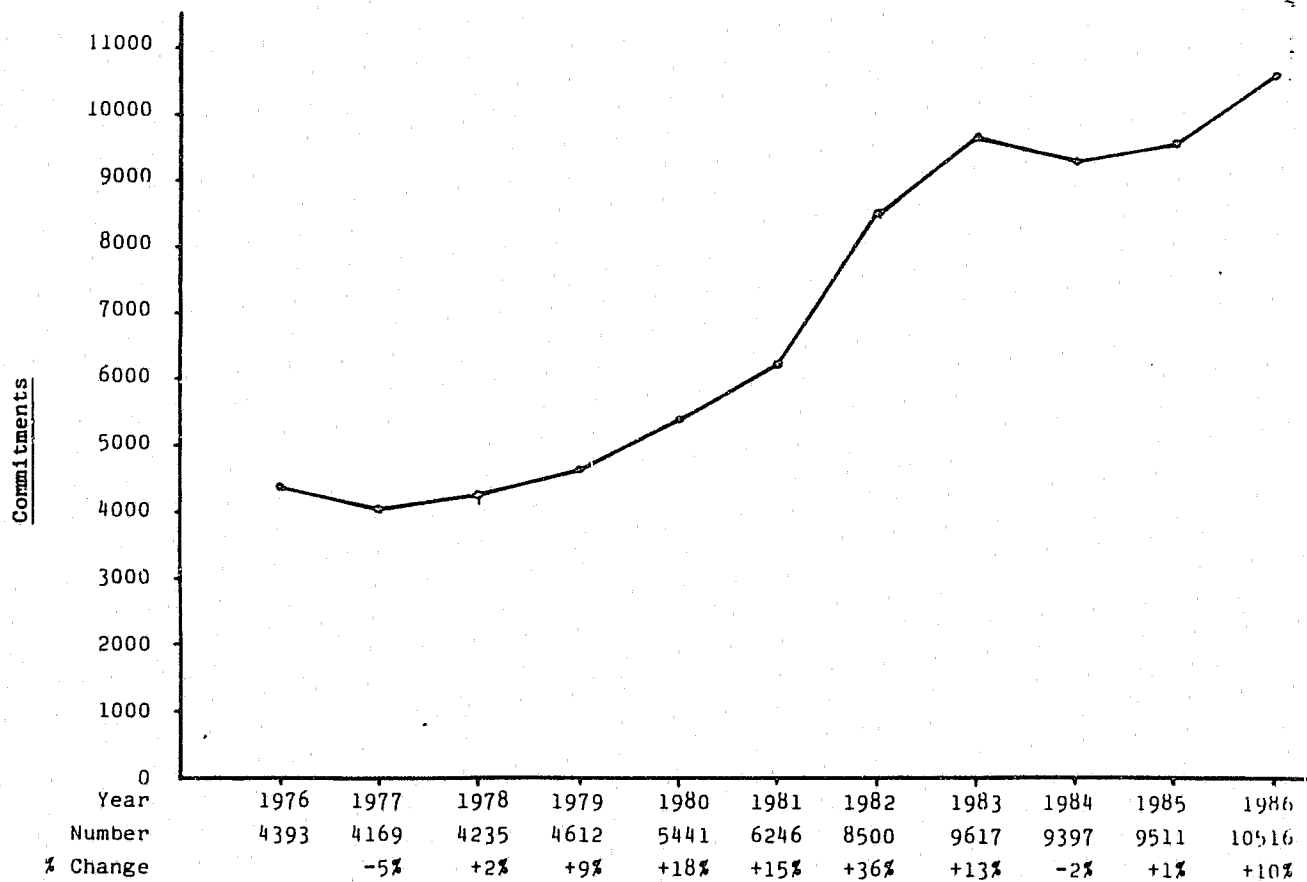

The nineteen county facilities include ten 19th century facilities and nine built in the 20th century. The oldest facility is the Essex County facility in Salem built in 1813.

The operating expenditures for each county facility for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1986 are shown in Appendix II. These include expenses for salaries, food, utilities and other expenses.

Commitments to County Correctional Facilities,
1976 to 1986

During 1986 there were 10,516 commitments to county facilities. This is a 10 percent increase from the 9,511 commitments in 1985 and a 139 percent increase from the 4,393 commitments in 1976. Commitments to county facilities for the last eleven years are shown in Figure 1.

Figure 1.
~~Commitments~~ to County Correctional Facilities,
1976 to 1986

The largest increase in commitments came between 1981 and 1982 when there was an increase of 36 percent or 2,254 commitments. Much of this increase was due to changing legislation regarding the offense of O.U.I. Commitments for O.U.I. increased from 295 in 1981 to 1305 in 1982, and increase of 1,010.

Table 1 shows selected characteristics of offenders committed to the county correctional system during the five year period, 1982 to 1986. During this five year period, the number of commitments increased by 24 percent or 2,016, from 8,500 in 1982 to 10,516 in 1986. With the exception of Franklin County and the Suffolk County jail at Charles Street, all counties experienced increases in the number of commitments.

The offenses for which individuals were committed changed over the last five years. Large increases occurred for drug offenses, motor vehicle offenses, O.U.I. and sex offenses. There was little change in commitments for person offenses and decreases in commitments for property and other offenses. Commitments for person offenses increased by 4 percent or 45 during the period, commitments for property offenses decreased by 18 percent or 627, commitments for sex offenses increased by 86 percent or 106, commitments for drug offenses increased by 115 percent or 494, commitments for O.U.I. increased by 106 percent or 1,382, commitments for motor vehicle offenses increased by 110 percent or 718, and commitments for all other offenses decreased by 7 percent or 102.

As shown in Table 1 there were no large changes in the pattern of sentence length over the last five years.

The age distribution of county commitments shifted upward over the last five years. In 1982 the median age was 24 and in 1986 the median age was 26.

A Description of 1986 Commitments

In this section the 10,516 offenders committed to county facilities during 1986 will be described in more detail. Characteristics of the present offense will be discussed first and personal background characteristics of the county offender population will be discussed second. Information for each institution for these variables can be found in the following tables.

Present Offense Characteristics

Institution Committed To. The number of commitments ranges from a low of 44 in Dukes County to a high of 2,028 in Middlesex County. Four counties received in excess of 1,000 commitments in 1986: Middlesex (N=2,028), Worcester (N=1,555), Hampden (N=1,253), and Suffolk - Deer Island (N=1,069). These four counties accounted for over half (56 percent) of all county commitments in 1986.

Present Offense. Most offenders committed to county facilities were sentenced for non-violent offenses (87 percent). Only 13 percent were committed for violent offenses, those against the person or sex offenses.

Eleven percent of the commitments were for offenses against the person. Most of these were for armed assault (assault and battery with a dangerous weapon or assault with a dangerous weapon) or unarmed assault (assault or assault and battery). There were 68 commitments for vehicular homicide.

Two percent of the commitments were for sex offenses including 51 for rape, 123 for assault with intent to rape (which includes indecent assault and battery), and 53 for other sex offenses (e.g., lewdness, indecent exposure).

Twenty-eight percent of the commitments were for property offenses. The most common property offenses were: burglary (N=989), larceny (N=604), vehicle theft (N=278), receiving stolen goods (N=278), and property injury (N=244).

Nine percent of the commitments were for drug offenses. Most of these were for violation of the Controlled Substance Act with Class A, Class B, or Class D substances.

Fifty percent of all commitments were in the "other" offense category. Most of these commitments are for O.U.I. (N=2,687) and other motor vehicle violations (N=1,370).

Sentence. Sentences to county facilities range from fines to two and one half years. The median sentence length for 1986 commitments was two months. In general, offenders sentenced for less than two months will serve their entire sentence, and offenders sentenced for two months or more will be eligible for parole after half their sentence is served. There were 1,234 (12 percent) commitments in lieu of payment of a fine.

Some sentences are served only on weekends. Two percent of all commitments were week-end sentences. Weekend sentences were used most extensively in Berkshire county where 15 percent of all commitments were served on weekends.

Most offenders are sentenced to houses of correction, but some offenders are committed to jails. In 1986 there were 149 such jail commitments (about one percent of all commitments). Almost all of these were to the Suffolk County Charles Street facility and were generally for illegitimacy (i.e. child support), non-support, violating a court order or contempt of court.

Court from Which Committed. Most offenders committed to county facilities are sentenced by the lower courts in the county to which they are committed. Ninety-four percent were from lower courts and 6 percent were from Superior courts.

Personal Background Characteristics

Sex. Of the 10,516 commitments to county facilities, there were 32 females and 10,484 males. Females are only housed at four county facilities: Berkshire, Dukes, Franklin and Hampden WMCAC. All other females receiving a county sentence are sent to the state correctional facility for female offenders, MCI-Framingham. Females committed to Hampden and Hampshire county were immediately transferred to the Hampden WMCAC facility.

Race. The majority of offenders were white (78 percent). Sixteen percent were black and 6 percent were hispanic. There were 43 individuals (less than one percent) in other racial groups. At two facilities, the majority of commitments were black: Suffolk-Charles Street (77 percent) and Suffolk-Deer Island (54 percent).

Age. The age of offenders ranged from 17 years to 80 years. The median age was 26 years. There were 1,787 offenders (17 percent) age 20 years or younger and 74 (1 percent) age 60 and over.

Marital Status. Most offenders were single (69 percent). Eighteen percent were married at the time of commitment and 13 percent were separated, divorced or widowed.

Education. The median educational level was twelfth grade. Nine percent had only a grade school education (first through eighth grade), 39 percent completed some high school and 42 percent were high school graduates. Ten percent had at least some college education and 2 percent report having a college degree.

Place of Birth. Seventy-one percent of all county commitments were born in Massachusetts, 18 percent were born in other states, 7 percent were born in U.S. territories and 4 percent were foreign-born. Bristol County had the highest proportion of foreign-born (9 percent); Hampden County had the highest proportion of offenders born in U.S. territories (21 percent); Dukes County had the highest proportion born in other states (34 percent); and Berkshire County had the highest proportion born in the same county as the facility (66 percent).

Residence. All but 282 offenders committed to county facilities were residing in Massachusetts at the time of commitment. In most cases, the offenders were residing in the same county as the facility to which they were committed. The Hampden County facility had the highest proportion of county residents (93 percent) and Franklin County had the lowest proportion of county residents (60 percent).
