STATISTICAL HIGHLIGHTS AND TRENDS

Appellate Courts

1. In 1984, there were 1,884 filings (1,297 civil, 587 criminal) and 1,857 dispositions (1,280 civil, 577 criminal); filings increased 5.8 percent, while dispositions decreased 2.4 percent from 1983.
2. Since 1974, the number of filings in the appellate courts soared 97.1 percent (956 to 1,884) or an average of 9.7 percent per year; the number of filings per appellate judge climbed 18.9 percent (106 to 126). [Table 11]
3. There were 851 formal dispositions (618 civil, 233 criminal) in the appellate courts in 1984 -- a drop of 15.2 percent (1,003 to 851) from 1983. By formal opinion, the supreme court disposed of 323 cases (223 civil, 100 criminal); the court of appeals handled 528 cases (395 civil, 133 criminal). The number of civil cases disposed of by formal opinion in the appellate courts dropped 12.2 percent (705 to 618) from 1983 to 1984; the number of criminal cases fell 21.8 percent (298 to 233). There were 1,007 appellate cases (662 civil, 345 criminal) terminated by order or other mode prior to submission to the court as compared to 900 dispositions of this kind in 1983. [Tables 3 and 9]
4. In 1984, cases involving domestic relations (dissolutions and child custody) comprised 29.0 percent (179 of 618) of the formal appellate decisions in civil cases -- the largest single category of dispositions. The 88 contract law cases comprised the second most numerous type of civil case followed by torts and property cases. [Tables 3 and 9]
5. The average appellate case terminated by formal opinion was decided slightly over five months after it was ready for submission; the average elapse time from the filing of a notice of appeal to the time a case was ready for submission was about seven and one-half months. Regular civil cases submitted to the supreme court in January 1985, were made ready in or before July 1984 -- a delay of six months or two months longer than a year ago.
6. During 1984, the number of pending cases in the appellate courts rose 4.7 percent (1,191 to 1,247). The number of cases "ready" for disposition soared 37.0 percent (308 to 422). [A "ready" case in this context is defined as any pending case in which all necessary papers have been filed; it includes cases which have been submitted to the court but not decided.] [Tables 4 and 8]

7. By formal opinion, the appellate courts affirmed the decision of the trial court 63.8 percent of the time; district court rulings had a 21.7 percent chance of being reversed; in 14.5 percent of the cases the appellate courts rendered a mixed decision partially affirming and reversing the trial court. There were 220 applications to the supreme court for further review of a court of appeals decision; the court granted further review in 44 cases while denying application for further review in 197 other instances. The supreme court vacated the judgment of the court of appeals in 21 cases, and affirmed 12 decisions in 1984.

Trial Court

1. In the 28-year period since 1956, the first year trial court statistics were collected and analyzed at the state level, the number of civil filings escalated 115.1 percent (22,922 to 49,294) while the number of criminal filings skyrocketed 553.6 percent (6,178 to 40,379); the number of civil/criminal filings per district judge mushroomed 117.8 percent (416 to 906). [Appendix F] Iowa's population grew 7.0 percent (2,722,375 to 2,913,808) during this period.
2. Since 1956, the number of civil/criminal dispositions per district court judge jumped 78.7 percent (394 to 704). [Appendix H]
3. Since 1956, the number of juvenile petitions soared 279.5 percent (1,607 to 6,099); however, since the 1978 revision of the juvenile justice code, the number of petitions filed in juvenile matters has plummeted 1.3 percent (6,179 to 6,099). The number of probate cases opened rose 49.9 percent (16,137 to 24,190) since 1956. [Appendix F]
4. Since the 1977 legislative freeze on district judgeships (modified in 1981 and 1983 to permit the appointment of seven additional district judges), civil filings increased 13.8 percent (43,324 to 49,294); criminal filings climbed 40.2 percent (28,795 to 40,379). Overall, civil/criminal filings rose 24.3 percent (72,119 to 89,673) in the four-year period. The February 1985 application of the district judgeship formula (based on 1982, 1983 and 1984 filing statistics) entitles Iowa to 124 judgeships -- an increase of 25 over the 99 district court judges currently serving in the trial court. [Appendix F]
5. Since the first calendar year after unification of the district court (1974), the number of simple misdemeanors/scheduled violations filings increased 35.8 percent (484,651 to 658,093) while the number of small claims petitions fluctuated from 68,021 to 82,208 and then down to 71,666 in 1984. The 1984 figures show a 4.6 percent drop in the number of simple misdemeanor filings, a 1.9 percent rise in the number of scheduled violations and a 6.5 percent increase in the number of small claims filed in the district court from the previous year. [Appendix G]
6. In 1984, only 639 of the 232,070 simple misdemeanors (0.3 percent) and 732 of the 26,152 small claims (2.8

percent) terminated by judicial officers were appealed to the district court. [Tables 4 and 5]

In 1984, dissolutions and modifications (16,595), uniform support (7,029), and domestic abuse (132) filings accounted for 23,756 cases or 48.2 percent of all civil filings (49,294). Indictable misdemeanor cases involving first and second offense drunk driving (OWI) comprised 16,379 of the 40,379 criminal filings or 40.6 percent of the total. There were 7,658 felony filings in 1984 -- down 502 cases or 6.2 percent from the 8,160 felony filings in 1983. [Tables 4 and 5]

I. APPELLATE COURTS

THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

The Supreme Court of Iowa is comprised of nine justices. The chief justice is selected by a vote of the court and serves for the duration of his or her eight-year term of office. As of December 31, 1983, ninety-seven persons have served on the supreme court since Iowa became a territory on July 12, 1838. Although the high court was comprised of only three justices during the first 25 years, the general assembly increased the court's membership to four in 1864, to five in 1876, to six in 1894, to seven in 1913, to eight in 1927, and nine in 1929, as a result of rising caseload.

At the end of 1983, the justices of the supreme court listed in order of seniority were: Harvey Uhlenhopp (Hampton), W. Ward Reynoldson, Chief Justice (Osceola), K. David Harris (Jefferson), Mark McCormick (Des Moines), Arthur A. McGiverin (Ottumwa), Jerry L. Larson (Harlan), Louis W. Schultz (Iowa City), James H. Carter (Cedar Rapids) and Charles R. Wolle (Sioux City).

The method of selecting justices to the Supreme Court of Iowa has changed several times since 1838. While the three territorial justices were appointed by the President of the United States, when Iowa became a state on December 28, 1846, the constitution provided for the selection of supreme court justices by a joint vote of both houses of the general assembly. Iowa's second constitution, adopted in 1857, reflected the mood of Jacksonian democracy and called for the popular election of judges. Finally, in 1962, Iowa voters ratified a constitutional amendment which removed judges from partisan elections and established a 15-member State Judicial Nominating Commission comprised of seven laypersons appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate and seven attorneys elected by members of the Iowa bar. The supreme court justice with the longest service, other than the chief justice, chairs the commission. Whenever a vacancy occurs on the Supreme Court of Iowa, the commission nominates three individuals from whom the governor selects one. One year following initial appointment, and every eight years thereafter, supreme court justices stand for retention at the general election. Trial and appellate judges appointed after July 1, 1965, must retire by age 72; those appointed earlier may serve until their 75th birthday.

Procedures were established in 1975 for the discipline and removal of judges standing for retention election. The Commission on Judicial Qualifications may apply to the supreme court to retire, discipline or remove any justice, judge or magistrate. The commission is comprised of a district court judge and two practicing attorneys appointed by the chief justice of the Supreme Court and four non-attorney electors appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate.

The Supreme Court stands at the apex of the Iowa judicial system. The court has general appellate jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases. The court also has original jurisdiction in such cases as reapportionment, bar discipline and the issuance of temporary injunctions. The supreme court has jurisdiction over all appeals from final judgments and from interlocutory orders. It also has the authority to grant writs of certiorari in cases where a district court is alleged to have exceeded its jurisdiction or otherwise acted illegally. A majority of cases handled by the supreme court are appeals from adverse final judgments in the trial court and the Iowa District Court. Except where the action involves an interest in real estate, no appeal shall be taken in any case where the amount in controversy, as shown by the pleadings, is less than $3,000 unless the trial judge certifies that the cause is one in which appeal should be allowed. In small claims actions, where the amount in controversy is $1,000 or less, the supreme court may exercise discretionary review. In criminal cases where the state is the appellant or applicant, the supreme court may exercise discretionary review in the following cases: 1) an order dismissing an arrest or search warrant, 2) an order suppressing or admitting evidence, 3) an order granting or denying a change of venue, and 4) a final judgment or order raising a question of law important to the judiciary and the profession. In cases where the defendant is the appellant or applicant, the supreme court may exercise discretionary review in the following cases; 1) an order suppressing or admitting evidence, 2) an order granting or denying a change of venue, 3) an order denying probation, 4) simple misdemeanor or ordinance violation convictions, and 5) an order raising a question of law important to the judiciary and the profession. All other final judgments may be appealed to the supreme court as a matter of right. [See diagram of the Iowa judicial system on the next page.]

The 1976 Session of the 66th General Assembly established a five-member Court of Appeals. [The Court of Appeals was increased to six members in 1983.] All cases continue to be appealed directly to the supreme court which transfers cases to the intermediate court. Supreme court justices in rotating three-member panels determine which cases to retain and which matters to route to the court of appeals. Pursuant to Rule 401, Rules of Appellate Procedure, the supreme court ordinarily shall hear (not transfer) cases involving: 1) substantial constitutional questions as to the validity of a statute, ordinance or court or administrative rule; 2) substantial issues in which there is or is claimed to be a conflict with a published decision of the court of appeals or supreme court; 3) substantial issues of first impression; 4) fundamental and urgent issues of broad public importance requiring prompt or ultimate determination; 5) cases in which life imprisonment has been imposed; 6) lawyer discipline; and 7) substantial questions of enunciating or changing legal principles. The rule also suggests summary disposition of certain cases by the supreme court and transfer to the court of appeals of cases involving the application of existing legal principles.

In addition to deciding cases, the supreme court is authorized to supervise the administration of justice and promulgate rules of procedure for the district court, determine the rules for admission and discipline of the bar, regulate a client security fund and program of mandatory continuing education for lawyers and judges, and adopt rules regulating appellate practice and procedure. In exercising its administrative and supervisory control over the trial court, the Supreme Court of Iowa appoints a chief judge in each of the eight judicial districts. The chief judges are responsible for overseeing all judges and magistrates within their jurisdictions. Together with the chief justice of the supreme court and the chief judge of the court of appeals, the chief judges of the district court comprise a Judicial Council. The council is authorized to consider all court administrative rules, directives, and regulations necessary to provide for an efficient, orderly, and effective administration of justice in Iowa.

Assisting the supreme court in its administrative, supervisory, and decision-making roles are the state court administrator, clerk of the supreme court, legal assistants, and various boards and commissions. The court administrator, clerk of court and legal assistants serve at the pleasure of the court. The court administrator and his staff have many statutory and administrative responsibilities including: managing the judicial department, screening cases for oral argument and case routing, writing case statements, gathering statistical data on the judicial business at all levels, examining the state of the dockets in the district court and recommending the assignment of judges to courts in need of assistance, apportioning judicial magistrates among the counties, computing the district court judgeship formula, conducting judicial education programs, recommending improvements in the organization and operation of the judicial system, administering the judicial retirement system, handling payroll and travel expenses for the judicial department, planning and budgeting for the judicial department, providing administrative assistance to various court-appointed committees and attending to such matters as the supreme court may direct. The court administrator serves as the executive secretary for the Judicial Qualifications Commission; the court administrator is also a member of the Criminal and Juvenile Justice Planning Agency and the State Library Commission.

The clerk of the supreme court also serves as the clerk of the court of appeals. The clerk docket and monitors all cases appealed to the court, collects court fees, files legal briefs, appendices, and records, files and records every opinion and order of the appellate courts. The clerk is responsible for the sale of court opinions, the administration of the biannual Iowa bar examination and the election of attorney-members to the state and judicial election district nominating commissions. The clerk of the supreme court also collects and accounts for all fees associated with the state bar examination and the shorthand reporter examination and certification.

In its role as supervisor of the Iowa bar, the supreme court appoints the members of the Board of Law Examiners, and confirms as commissioners of the court the members of the Grievance Commission and the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct. With the assistance of the Iowa State Bar Association, in 1973, the court established the Client Security and Attorney Disciplinary System designed to prevent defalcations by members of the Iowa bar and provide for the payment of losses caused to the public by dishonest conduct of Iowa attorneys. The court appointed a seven-member commission to administer the fund resulting from annual assessment imposed on attorneys. The supreme court also has provided that all Iowa lawyers and judges must complete a minimum of 15 hours of continuing legal education each year. In 1975, a 12-member Commission on Continuing Legal Education was appointed to exercise general supervisory authority over the administration of the rule.

The supreme court is responsible for promulgating rules of evidence, appellate, civil, criminal, juvenile and probate procedure. The court also is authorized to prescribe rules of evidence, pleading, practice, and procedure, and the forms of process, writs, and notices for all proceedings concerning hospitalization of mentally ill persons and chemical substance abuse. In exercising its rule-making authority, the supreme court is assisted by several committees including: 1) the Supreme Court Committee on Rules of Civil Procedure; 2) the Advisory Committee on Rules of Criminal Procedure, 3) the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Iowa Rules of Evidence, 4) the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Rules of Juvenile Procedure, and 5) the Probate Rules Committee. In developing rules for the hospitalization of the mentally ill, the supreme court has been assisted by the Iowa State Bar Association's Committee on Law and Behavioral Sciences.

Work Load

During 1984, the Supreme Court of Iowa disposed of 323 cases by written opinion -- 209 civil, 100 criminal and 14 disciplinary [Table 1]. As illustrated in the chart below, the number of formal opinions (signed and unsigned) decreased 29.0 percent (455 to 323) from 1983 to 1984. The dramatic drop in the number of per curiam opinions in 1984 was primarily the result of the discontinuation of the "fast-track" decision process whereby less complex cases were submitted without oral argument to rotating three-justice supreme court panels. Since February 1984, the supreme court has transferred cases eligible for "fast-track" processing to the court of appeals.

	Signed Court Opinions	Unsigned Per Curiam Opinions	Total
1984	270	53	323
1983	281	174	455
1982	289	178	467
1981	278	105	383
1980	250	25	275
1979	265	25	290
1978	312	45	357
1977	285	89	374

As illustrated in Table 2, 87.0 percent of the cases (281 of 323) decided by formal opinion were appealed to the supreme court as a matter of right. There were 220 appeals from final judgments in the district court, 16 appeals from interlocutory rulings, 16 postconviction appeals, 14 attorney disciplinary actions and 4 cases involving certified questions of law from the U.S. District Court. The Supreme Court of Iowa exercised discretionary review in only 42 cases -- 33 cases appealed from the court of appeals and 9 original certiorari cases.

Table 3 shows the most numerous types of civil cases disposed of by written opinion concerned torts (39), administrative law (31), contracts (30) and domestic relations (20). Of the 100 criminal cases, 16 involved guilty pleas and/or sentencing issues, exclusively.

In addition to writing 323 opinions during 1984, the nine supreme court justices registered 32 dissents and 9 special concurrences. Their opinions totaled 3,405 pages or 378 pages per judge on double-spaced, letter-sized paper. The average supreme court opinion was approximately 10.5 pages in length. Over 90 percent of the rulings (293 of 323) were approved by a unanimous vote of the justices. The 1984 figures show that while the number of formal supreme court opinions fell 29.0 percent (455 to 323), the average length of court rulings rose 59.1 percent (6.6 to 10.5 pages); one opinion reached 49 pages.

Cases filed before the supreme court rose from 1,781 (1983) to 1,884 (1984) -- an increase of 5.8 percent. As noted in Table 11, the number of filings in the supreme court has mushroomed 97.1 percent (956 to 1,884) during the last decade. Since 1974, civil filings have soared 118.4 percent (594 to 1,297) while criminal cases have climbed 62.1 percent (362 to 587).

Table 4 indicates the number of civil and criminal cases "In Work," "Ready," "Assigned" and "Out-to-Judges" which were pending as of January 1, 1983, 1984 and 1985. From December 31, 1983, to the end of 1984, the number of cases "In Work" fell 6.6 percent (883 to 825) while the number of cases "Ready" for disposition increased 46.6 percent (161 to 236). The total number of pending cases rose by 19 cases (1,107 to 1,126) or 1.7 percent.

When the pending cases in both appellate courts are examined, figures show an overall increase of 5.1 percent (1,107 to 1,247) in the number of pending cases from December 31, 1983, to the end of 1984. Including cases assigned and submitted but not decided, the number of cases ready for disposition (i.e., all necessary papers filed) jumped 37.0 percent (308 to 422) during 1984.

As noted in Table 5, the average elapse time from "Ready" for submission to supreme court decision was 5.4 months in 1984 or about the same processing time as in 1983. The elapse time for regular civil cases was 6.2 months - down a half month from 1983.

An examination of the direction of the supreme court decisions during 1984, indicates that 60 percent of the district court rulings were affirmed by the court, 27 percent were reversed, and 13 percent were mixed. (A "mixed" supreme court decision is defined as a ruling which both "affirms" and "modifies" or "reverses" parts of a district court ruling.) Forty-one cases involving such matters as attorney disciplinary actions, appeals from the court of appeals, certification of questions of law and original jurisdiction matters were not classified or included in the disposition direction computation.

Over fifty-seven percent of the cases (185/323) disposed of by written opinion were appealed from the trial courts of ten urban counties. Nearly one out of five cases arose in Polk County.

In addition to the 323 supreme court cases disposed of by formal opinion after submission to the court, 1,571 cases (1,072 civil and 499 criminal) were disposed of by court order, consolidation, dismissal by the clerk for failure to cure a default or by voluntary action by the parties involved. Table 6 shows 130 cases were dismissed by order of the supreme court; 251 orders were issued denying petitions for various types of review; 96 cases were dismissed by the clerk for failure to cure a default after notice; 366 cases were voluntarily withdrawn by the parties; 58 cases were consolidated; 569 cases were transferred by order of the supreme court to the court of appeals and 101 were disposed of by other means. In total, 1,894 filings were disposed of by the supreme court in 1984. Excluding cases transferred to the court of appeals, the supreme court disposed of 1,325 appeals in 1984.

A significant amount of judge-time also was spent ruling on preliminary motions and applications, conducting hearings, and writing 4,974 orders which did not result in the disposal of a case. Excluding orders transferring cases to the court of appeals, the number of dispositive and non-dispositive orders issued by the supreme court during the last eight years is illustrated on the next page.

1977	701	2,432

In recent years, several major structural and procedural changes have contributed to the supreme court's ability to handle an increasing number of appeals. One important innovation has been the reinstatement of a practice prevalent from 1929-1943; namely, hearing and deciding cases in divisions of five members. Instead of spending four days a month in court hearing oral arguments, each justice now spends two days hearing oral arguments. (During the monthly court week, Wednesdays generally are reserved for conference and administrative matters.) Except in the most complex and controversial cases in which two or more justices request disposition en banc (by the full nine-member court), cases before the supreme court are decided by division. The drafts of all proposed opinions are circulated to the entire court. At any time prior to final approval of a proposed opinion, any two justices may request that a specific case be decided en banc. The research staff initially screens all cases and recommends to a three-justice screening panel whether a case should be submitted en banc or to a division; staff attorneys also recommend the amount of oral argument time, if any, which should be allotted to each case, and whether the case should be retained by the supreme court or transferred to the court of appeals.

As noted in Table 7, 274 of the 323 supreme court decisions were decided by a panel of five justices. All disciplinary cases were considered en banc; 10.6 percent of the civil and 13.0 percent of the criminal cases were voted on formally by the full membership of the court. Overall, 15.2 percent of the cases disposed of in 1984 were decided by all nine justices sitting en banc.

In addition to using judicial panels to hear and decide cases, the court also has conserved time by reducing the number of cases permitted oral argument and limiting the amount of time each party can use in presenting its case. While before 1973 the court allowed 75 minutes to argue a case, today most oral arguments are limited to approximately 35 minutes. In 1984, 76 of the 310 cases (24.5 percent) were submitted without oral argument before the supreme court. As illustrated below, the number and percent of appeals submitted to the supreme court without oral argument dropped substantially in 1984 due to the transfer of many less complex "fast-track" cases to the court of appeals.

Submissions to the Supreme Court

	Oral	Non-Oral	Total	Percent Non-Oral
1984	234	76	310	24.5
1983	257	193	450	43.5
1982	264	217	481	45.1
1981	254	136	390	34.9
1980	236	46	282	16.3
1979	209	60	269	22.3
1978	258	96	354	27.1
1977	264	105	369	28.5
1976	242	149	391	38.1

Other factors playing crucial roles in alleviating some of the court's research and administrative burdens include: the research of legal assistants, case statements, court orders and screening recommendations drafted by the research staff, and the administrative tasks performed by the court administrator and staff, and the clerk's office.

THE IOWA COURT OF APPEALS

In 1976, the 66th General Assembly established a new five-member appellate court designated as the Iowa Court of Appeals; in 1983 a sixth member was added. The new court began hearing oral arguments and deciding cases in January 1977. The members of the Iowa Court of Appeals listed in order of seniority are: Allen L. Donielson (West Des Moines), Bruce M. Snell, Jr. (Ida Grove), Leo Oxberger, Chief Judge (St. Charles), Dick R. Schlegel (Ottumwa), Maynard J. V. Hayden (Indianola) and Rosemary Shaw Sackett (Spencer).

The court of appeals is authorized to review all civil and criminal actions, postconviction remedy proceedings, small claims actions, writs, orders and other processes transferred to it by the supreme court. The Iowa Court of Appeals hears only the cases transferred to it by the supreme court. All cases continue to be appealed directly to the supreme court.

Work Load

As indicated in Table 8, during 1984, the six-member court of appeals disposed of 532 cases -- 397 civil and 135 criminal -- the second largest number of dispositions in its eight-year history. There were 73 per curiam opinions, 455 signed opinions, and four cases dismissed by order. Since the court of appeals was established in late 1976 and began deciding cases in 1977, it has disposed of 3,514 cases (2,546 civil and 968 criminal). There were 80 civil and 41 criminal cases pending before the court of appeals at the end of 1984.

The number and type of cases disposed of by formal written opinion are illustrated in Table 9. As noted in this table, the court of appeals disposed of 153 domestic relations cases (51 involving child custody), 56 administrative law cases, 58 contract cases, 41 tort cases and 37 property matters. Twenty-seven of the 133 criminal cases involved guilty pleas and/or sentencing only.

Of the 507 cases classified by disposition, 334 or 65.9 percent were affirmed, 95 or 18.7 percent were reversed, and 78 or 15.4 percent were a combination of the two, modified or remanded only. In 1984, approximately 13.8 percent of the cases (73/528) were decided by per curiam opinion; in 1981 nearly three-fourths of the cases (368/501) were terminated by an unsigned per curiam opinion.

During 1984, the supreme court considered 241 applications for further review and granted review in 44 cases. Of the 33 court of appeals rulings reviewed by the supreme court in 1984, 21 were vacated and 12 were affirmed.

The average delay from the time a case was "ready" for submission to "decision" by the court of appeals was 4.8 months--nearly one month shorter than the elapse time recorded in 1983 and over seven months less than appellate delay in 1977, the court's first year of operation. [Table 10] In 1984, the average elapsetime for non-priority civil cases was 5.1 months; the delay was 16.1 months in 1977.

Of the 525 cases submitted to the court of appeals in 1984, 240 or 45.7 percent were heard on the record without oral argument. In 1980, 1981, 1982 and 1983, the proportion of cases decided without oral argument was 37.1, 54.2, 50.0 and 44.2 percent, respectively.

Including the 43 opinions with one or more dissents, the 528 formal opinions totaled 2,948 pages, an average of 5.6 pages per case or 49 pages per judge, counting the title page. Opinions ranged in length from 2 to 27 pages on double-spaced, letter-sized paper.

Of the 528 dispositions by formal opinion, 293 or 55.5 percent were appealed from 11 counties: Polk (90), Linn (42), Black Hawk (34), Scott (30), Pottawattamie (21), Johnson (15), Woodbury (13), Marshall (16), Lee (12), Dubuque (10) and Muscatine (10). During 1984, the court of appeals decided cases from 80 counties.

Iowa Appellate Courts -- Statistical Summary

There were 1,884 cases -- 1,297 civil and 587 criminal -- filed in the supreme court in 1984, up from 1,787 in 1983. The skyrocketing rise of appellate case filings from 1974 to 1984 is graphically illustrated in Table 11. Since 1974, civil filings have soared 118.4 percent (594 to 1,297) while the number of criminal cases docketed has mushroomed 34.9 percent (362 to 587). In 1984, there were nearly 126 filings per appellate judge; in 1974 there were 106 appellate filings per judge.

During 1984, the supreme court and the court of appeals disposed of 1,857 cases -- 1,280 civil (including 14 disciplinary cases) and 577 criminal -- down from 1,903 in 1983. More than half of the civil (662/1,208) and criminal (345/577) dispositions were by order rather than formal opinion; 63.5 percent of these matters were dismissed by the clerk or the court, denied or consolidated; 36.5 percent were voluntarily dismissed or withdrawn. There were 1,247 cases pending (885 civil and 362 criminal) at the end of the year -- an increase of 56 or 4.7 percent from the first of the year. The number of pending cases ready for disposition jumped 37.0 percent (308 to 422) during 1984.

There were 851 dispositions by formal opinion -- 618 civil and 233 criminal. During 1984, the average case was decided approximately 13 months after it was docketed in the supreme court clerk's office. In the average case the parties required seven and one-half months to file the briefs, records, etc., and make the case ready for submission to the court; the elapse time from readiness to decision was slightly over five months. The largest category of civil cases handled at the appellate level by formal opinion was domestic relations -- 179 of 618 civil cases or 29.0 percent. The number and types of other civil cases decided by formal opinion in the appellate courts were as follows: contracts, 88; torts, 80; property, 54; and postconviction relief, 45.

The supreme court disbarred four lawyers, revoked the license of two attorneys, suspended the licenses of 22 lawyers and reprimanded four others. In two instances, attorney licenses were reinstated. The court also found one attorney in contempt and imposed discipline on one judicial magistrate. Fourteen disciplinary cases were decided by a formal opinion of the supreme court.

Financial Statement

The 1984 Session of the 70th General Assembly appropriated $23,343,295 to finance the operation and administration of the trial and appellate courts in Iowa for fiscal year ending June 30, 1985. This figure includes appropriations for the supreme court, court of appeals, state court administrator's office, district court administration, Judicial Qualifications Commission, Board of Law Examiners, Board of Shorthand Reporters, jury and witness fees, the salaries and travel expenses of all judicial officers and official court reporters and the salary of court attendants from January 1 - June 30, 1985. The general fund appropriation for the judiciary represented one percent of the total state budget of $2,288,913,423.

As noted in Chart 2 on the following page, the major general fund appropriation categories and their share of the state's budget were: Education, 57.0 percent; Regulatory and Finance, 20.6 percent; Social Services, 12.2 percent; Corrections and Mental Health, 7.7 percent; State Government (including the Judicial Branch), 3.0 percent; Transportation and Law Enforcement, 1.9 percent; Natural Resources, 1.7 percent; and Human Resources, 1.3 percent.

II. TRIAL COURT

THE IOWA DISTRICT COURT

The unified trial court, known as the "Iowa District Court," became operative July 1, 1973. The district court has general and original jurisdiction of all actions and proceedings, including probate and juvenile matters. Its jurisdiction is exercised by senior judges, district judges, district associate judges and judicial magistrates. The salary and travel expenses of all judges and magistrates are funded by the state.

The Unified Trial Court Act requires the clerks of the district court to furnish each judicial magistrate, associate judge, or district judge acting as a judicial magistrate, a docket in which to enter all proceedings within their jurisdiction, except those required to be docketed with the clerks and assigned to judicial officers for disposition. The chief judge of a judicial district is authorized to order criminal proceedings combined in a centralized docket.

Judicial Magistrates

The Unified Trial Court Act created and allotted 191 part-time judicial magistrate positions to the 99 counties in the state, ranging from one to six per county. The original allotment remained in effect until June 30, 1975. Since that date, the state court administrator has apportioned magistrates among the counties.

A judicial magistrate appointing commission selects the magistrates to fill the positions allotted to the county. The person appointed must be an elector of the county and able to serve a full term of office before reaching the mandatory retirement age of 72. Although a license to practice law is not required, the commission must first consider licensed attorneys. In counties allotted only one such position, the appointing commission is authorized to appoint an additional magistrate and divide the statutory salary. (Adair and Ida Counties exercised this option in 1984.) Magistrates serve a two-year term of office commencing July 1 in odd-numbered years. The apportionment made in 1983 and 1985 appears in Appendices E and F.

As amended, the Unified Trial Court Act authorizes any county with an allotment of three or more magistrate positions to appoint a district associate judge to substitute for three part-time magistrates. The substitution is made by order of the chief judge of the judicial district on the affirmative vote of a majority of the district judges in the judicial election district in which the county is located. District associate judges serving in lieu of magistrates are nominated, appointed and retained in the same manner as regular district associate judges. As they also have the same qualifications, rights, salary, duties, responsibilities, authority and jurisdiction as regular district associate judges, their work load is totally integrated in this report.

Jurisdiction

Judicial magistrates have jurisdiction of the following:

1. Preliminary hearing cases. [Cases in which they act as committing magistrates on felonies and indictable misdemeanors.] (R.Cr.P. 2(4)(a), The Code.)
2. Nonindictable or simple misdemeanors, including traffic and ordinance violations. [A simple misdemeanor is a criminal offense in which the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or imprisonment for 30 days.]
3. First offense operating (driving) while intoxicated - OWI - where the defendant is represented by counsel and pleads guilty. The proceedings must be recorded by a court reporter. [Effective July 1, 1984, the jurisdiction of magistrates over OWI offenses was repealed.]
4. Search warrant proceedings.
5. Emergency hospitalization proceedings. (Section 229.22, The Code.)
6. Lost property actions. [These include issuing a warrant directing a peace officer to appoint appraisers to fix the value of vessels, rafts, logs and lumber which have been stopped or taken up and determining the ownership of other lost property.] (Chapter 644.)

The above proceedings are all required to be entered in the docket furnished to them by the clerk or in the centralized docket for the county, if one is ordered to be maintained by the chief judge of the judicial district.

7. Small claims. [A small claim is a civil action (1) for a money judgment where the amount in controversy is $2,000 or less, exclusive of interest and costs, and (2) actions for forcible entry and detainer where no question of title to the property is involved.]

The act requires the clerk of the district court to maintain the docket for small claims actions. If the action is one for money judgment and it is not disposed of by the clerk through entry of a confession of judgment, default judgment or a voluntary dismissal, it must be assigned to a judicial officer having jurisdiction of such actions. This is done by delivering the original notice first filed with the clerk to the officer. If it is an action for forcible entry and detainer, the appearance is required before the judicial officer who must handle the entire proceeding, including an order for the issuance of a writ of eviction if the plaintiff prevails. Again, the assignment is perfected by the clerk delivering the original notice first filed and all papers in the case to the judicial officer.

The record of all actions taken by the judicial officer in either type of small claims proceeding, including notes of testimony and judgment entry, is made on the original notice to which exhibits, if any, are attached and returned to the clerk. It serves as a calendar sheet from which the clerk makes proper entries in the small claims docket and on the lien index. Small claims actions are not entered in the docket furnished to judicial officers by the clerk or in the centralized docket used for criminal proceedings.

DISTRICT ASSOCIATE JUDGES

The original act provided for 30 magistrates required to devote full time to their position. One to four positions were authorized to counties in four population categories ranging from 35,000 to over 200,000. The 25 municipal court judges holding office June 30, 1973, became district associate judges and satisfied the requirement of a regular full-time magistrate in the county of their residence. Upon the death, resignation, retirement, removal or nonretention of a district associate judge, a full-time magistrate was appointed to fill the vacancy. By the end of 1980, there were 17 regular full-time magistrates and nine substitute full-time magistrates.

Effective January 1, 1981, full-time and substitute full-time magistrates were renamed district associate judges. Full-time magistrates who became district associate judges in January 1981, and persons appointed to these positions on or before November 2, 1981, stood for retention in office in their judicial election district in 1982. Persons appointed to these offices after November 1, 1981, who could not complete a one-year initial term of office before the November 2, 1982, general election, stood for retention at the 1984 general election. District associate judges serve four-year terms.

In counties having only one district associate judge, the county judicial magistrate appointing commission is authorized to appoint an alternate district associate judge to act in the temporary absence of a district associate judge. Such alternate is paid on a per diem basis by the state for days of actual service rendered. In 1982, an alternate district associate judge served in Marshall and Warren Counties.

The number of district associate judges by judicial election district and county is illustrated below.

Jurisdiction

District associate judges have the same jurisdiction as judicial magistrates. In addition, they have jurisdiction of:

1. Civil actions for money judgments where the amount in controversy does not exceed $3,000;
2. Indictable (serious and aggravated) misdemeanors; and
3. Juvenile cases when designated as a judge of the juvenile court by the chief judge of the judicial district.

While exercising such additional jurisdiction, they are not only required to employ district judges' practice and procedure but, as the cases are docketed with the clerk of the district court, they must be assigned and delivered to the judge with a calendar sheet on which to report the disposition of the case.

Trial by Jury and Appeal Provisions

A defendant charged with a nonindictable or simple misdemeanor is entitled to a trial by a six-member jury if he or she files a written jury demand at least ten days before the time set for trial. Failure to make such demand constitutes a waiver of jury. The plaintiff may appeal only upon a finding of invalidity of an ordinance or statute and the defendant only upon a judgment of conviction. If the original action was tried by a lay-magistrate, the district or district associate judge shall try the case anew; a case tried by a district judge, district associate judge or judicial magistrate admitted to the bar is appealed to a district judge on the record. Either party may appeal from the judgment of the district judge to the supreme court in the same manner as from a judgment in a prosecution by indictment.

A small claims action is tried before the judicial officer to whom it is assigned without the right to a jury. Either party may appeal to a district court judge who is required to hear the matter on the record. If it appears the trial record is incomplete, the district court judge may take additional testimony and evidence. The right of either party to appeal from the judgment of the district judge is entirely within the discretionary power of the supreme court.

DISTRICT COURT JUDGES

In January 1985, there were 99 district judges in Iowa. Under the judgeship formula computed in February 1984, 125 judgeships were authorized. However, the provisions of section 602.18, The Code, as amended, limited the maximum number of judgeships to 99. The latest computation of the judgeship formula (February 1985) authorized a total of 124 judgeships. The statutory formula and a copy of the application of the formula in 1984 and 1985 appear at pages 36 and 37 of this report.

For purposes of administration and ordinary judicial functions, the state is divided into eight judicial districts (Appendix D) and into 14 judicial election districts for purposes stated in the footnote to the map appearing on page 33. With 99 judges serving in the eight judicial districts, the population spread per judge ranges from 25,653 in the 5th District to 33,110 in the 3rd. [Appendix C]

Jurisdiction

District judges possess the full jurisdiction of the trial court, including the jurisdiction of judicial magistrates. While exercising the latter, they are required to employ the practice and procedure for judicial magistrates. Under the Iowa Probate Code they are the only judges sitting in probate.

Senior Judges

Effective July 1, 1979, the Sixty-eighth General Assembly established a senior judge program whereby retired supreme court justices, court of appeals judges, district court judges and district associate judges who qualify agree to work up to 13 weeks per year until age 78. The supreme court may not assign a senior judge judicial duties on a court superior to the highest court to which he or she was appointed prior to retirement. A senior judge may not be assigned to the court of appeals or the supreme court except to serve in the temporary absence of a member of that court. A senior judge may not practice law.

While serving on temporary assignment, a senior judge is paid no salary but continues to receive monthly judicial retirement annuities. The senior judge program provides a hedge against inflation by mandating an increase in judicial annuity whenever the current salary of active judges is raised. There is no provision for an increase in judicial annuity for judges who do not participate in the senior judge system.

During 1984, three supreme court justices -- M.L. Mason, C. Edwin Moore and Warren J. Rees -- seven district court judges -- John N. Hughes, Nathan Grant, Paul E. Hellwege, Robert O. Frederick, Dale Missildine, R.K. Stohr and Charles W. Antes -- and one district associate judge -- Ross Caniglia -- served as senior judges in Iowa. In this report, the work of these judges is combined with the caseload of the judicial officers with whom they worked.

Clerk of District Court

The clerk's office in the 99 counties performed two important functions during 1983 which reduced the work load of the judicial officers in each county. These were:

1. Kept the small claims docket and, through the entry of confessions of judgment, default judgments and voluntary dismissals in actions for a money judgment, avoided the necessity of assigning many such cases to judicial officers. [Tables 12(d), 14(e) and 15]

2. Maintained a traffic violations office where scheduled violations were admitted and disposed of upon payment of the minimum fine and costs before the time specified for appearance before the court on a uniform citation and complaint issued to the alleged violator. [Table 16]

Judgeship Formula

Subsections 2 through 10 of section 602.6201, 1983 Iowa Code Supplement, relating to the determination of the number of judges in each of the 13 judicial election districts and the matter of filling judgeship vacancies, are as follows:

2. A district judge must be a resident of the judicial election district in which appointed and retained. Subject to the provision for reassignment of judges under section 602.6108, a district judge shall serve in the district of the judge's residence while in office, regardless of the number of judgeships to which the district is entitled under subsection 2 hereof.

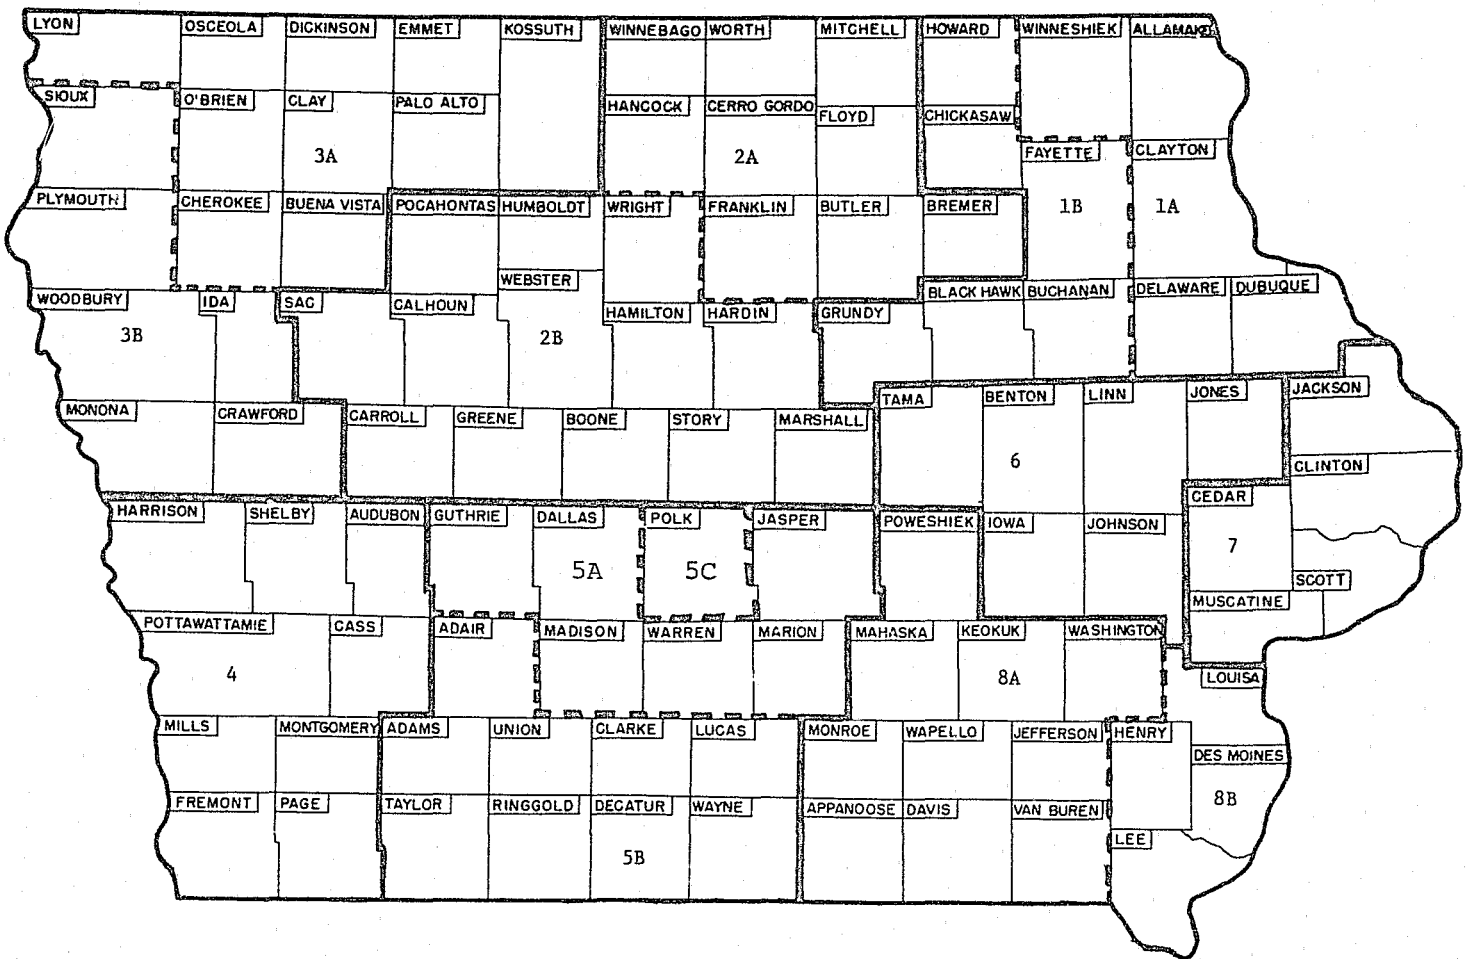

3. The number of judgeships to which each of the judicial election districts is entitled is determined according to the following formula:

a. In an election district where the largest county contains two hundred thousand or more population, there is one judgeship per seven hundred twenty-five combined civil and criminal filings or major fraction thereof. However, the seat of government is entitled to one additional judgeship.

b. In an election district where the largest county contains eighty-five thousand or more population, but less than two hundred thousand, there is one judgeship per six hundred twenty-five combined civil and criminal filings or major fraction thereof.

c. In an election district where the largest county contains forty-five thousand or more population, but less than eighty-five thousand, there is one judgeship per five hundred twenty-five combined civil and criminal filings or major fraction thereof.

IOWA'S 8 JUDICIAL DISTRICTS AND
14 JUDICIAL ELECTION DISTRICTS

* Judicial election districts are for the purpose of nomination, appointment and election of district judges, the application of the judgeship formula, the removal of judicial magistrates and the appointment and election of district associate judges.

d. In an election district where the largest county contains less than forty-five thousand population, there is one judgeship per four hundred seventy-five combined civil and criminal filings or major fraction thereof.

e. Notwithstanding paragraph "a," "b," "c," or "d" of this subsection, each election district is entitled to not less than one judgeship for each forty thousand population or major fraction thereof contained in the election district.

f. The filings included in the determinations to be made under this subsection shall include juvenile court filings after July 1, 1985, shall not include small claims or nonindictable misdemeanors, and shall not include either civil actions for money judgment where the amount in controversy does not exceed three thousand dollars or indictable misdemeanors, which were assigned to district associate judges and judicial magistrates as shown on their administrative reports, but shall include appeals from decisions of judicial magistrates, district associate judges, and district judges sitting as judicial magistrates. The figures on filings shall be the average for the latest available previous three-year period and when current census figures on population are not available, figures shall be taken from the state department of health computations.

4. For purposes of this section, a vacancy means the death, resignation, retirement or removal of a district judge, or the failure of a district judge to be retained in office at the judicial election, or an increase in judgeships under this section.

5. In those judicial election districts having more district judges than the number of judgeships specified by the formula in subsection 3, vacancies shall not be filled.

6. In those districts having fewer or the same number of district judges as the number of judgeships specified by the formula in subsection 3, vacancies in the number of district judges shall be filled as they occur.

7. In those judicial districts that contain more than one judicial election district, a vacancy in a judicial election district shall not be filled if the total number of district judges in all judicial election districts within the judicial district equals or exceeds the aggregate number of judgeships to which all of the judicial election districts of the judicial district are authorized.

8. Vacancies shall not be filled in a judicial election district which becomes entitled to fewer judgeships under subsection 3, but an incumbent district judge shall not be removed from office because of a reduction in the number of authorized judgeships.

9. During February of each year, and at other times as appropriate, the state court administrator shall make the determinations required under this section, and shall notify the appropriate nominating commissions and the governor of appointments that are required.

10. Notwithstanding the formula for determining the number of judgeships in this section, the number of district judges shall not exceed ninety-nine during the period commencing July 1, 1983 and ending as the general assembly shall specify.

ANALYSIS OF STATISTICS

Regular Civil and Criminal Cases

For the purpose of the following discussion, regular civil cases include all law, equity and special proceedings docketed in the office of the clerk except in the small claims docket. An appeal from a decision of a judicial magistrate in a small claims action also is considered a regular civil case.

Regular criminal cases include all felony and indictable misdemeanors (serious and aggravated). A felony is a public offense which is, or in the discretion of the court may be, punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary, men's reformatory or women's reformatory. An indictable misdemeanor is a public offense, less than a felony, in which the punishment exceeds a fine of $100 or imprisonment for more than 30 days in the county jail. An appeal from a decision or verdict in a nonindictable or simple misdemeanor case becomes a regular criminal case when docketed by the clerk as a regular criminal action.

A total of 89,673 regular civil and criminal cases were docketed in the clerks' offices during 1984. This was a 2.0 percent decrease from the 91,428 civil and criminal cases docketed in 1983, and a 9.3 percent increase over the 82,057 cases docketed five years earlier in 1979. A comparison of cases docketed for 1983 and 1984 reveals that while criminal filings rose 1.2 percent (39,552 to 40,379) civil filings declined 4.2 percent (51,476 to 49,294).

A number of regular civil cases and indictable misdemeanors filed in district court were assigned to district associate judges, and substitute and alternate district associate judges for disposition. These three types of judicial officers mentioned above will hereafter be referred to as district associate judges. The total number of regular civil and indictable criminal dispositions by district and district associate judges and judicial magistrates amount to 91,198 -- an decrease of 3.2 percent over the 94,159 cases disposed of in 1983. There were 1,525 less cases pending December 31, 1984, than on January 1 of that year; the number of pending cases increased in the 3rd, 4th, 7th and 8th judicial districts and decreased in the 1st, 2nd, 5th and 6th judicial districts. [Tables 1, 2(a) and 3(a)]

District Judges' Activities

During 1984, district court judges disposed of 49,324 regular civil cases: 430 or 0.9 percent by trial to jury,

4,898 or 9.9 percent by trial to court, and 43,996 or 89.2 percent without trial. The number of civil dispositions per judge ranged from 431 in the 2nd District to 619 in the 4th. Statewide, there were 498 civil dispositions per district court judge. [Tables 2(a), (b) and (d)]

During 1984, district judges disposed of 20,382 regular criminal cases: 459 or 2.3 percent by trial to jury, 1,041 or 5.1 percent by trial to court and 18,882 or 92.6 percent without trial. The number of criminal dispositions per judge ranged from 154 in the 8th District to 265 in the 3rd. Statewide, there were 206 criminal dispositions per district court judge. [Tables 3(a), (b) and (d)]

The average number of civil and criminal cases disposed of per judge (704), with the rank of each district, is shown on Table 10. The 4th District recorded the highest number of civil/criminal dispositions per judge (833) while the 6th District had the lowest number of dispositions per judge (689).

District Associate Judges' Activities

There were 352 regular civil cases assigned to district associate judges during 1984 -- a 139.2 percent decrease from the 842 cases assigned in 1983. During 1983, the judges of limited jurisdiction disposed of 421 regular civil cases, 10 or 2.4 percent by trial to jury, 44 or 10.4 percent by trial to court, and 367 or 82.2 percent without trial. On a per judge basis, dispositions ranged from 0 in the 4th and 6th Districts to 162 in the 1st. [Tables 2(a), (c) and (d)]

During 1984, 21,433 regular criminal cases (indictable misdemeanors and simple misdemeanors on appeal) were assigned to district associate judges and judicial magistrates as compared to 20,742 assigned to such judicial officers in 1983. (Until July 1, 1984, magistrates were authorized to accept guilty pleas in first offense drunken driving cases where the defendant had counsel and a court reporter recorded the proceedings.) Of the 21,071 criminal cases disposed of by district associate judges and judicial magistrates in 1984, 201 or 1.0 percent were resolved by trial to jury, 295 or 1.4 percent by trial to court, and 20,575 or 97.6 percent without trial. On a per judge basis, dispositions ranged from 433 in the 5th District to 828 in the 6th. [Tables 3(a), (c) and (d)]

Civil and Criminal Filings by Case Type

Dissolution filings (and modifications) represented 33.7 percent (16,595) of the 49,294 civil cases docketed in the district court in 1984. [Table 4] These cases, combined with other actions involving domestic relations such as child support recovery (7,029) and domestic abuse (132), accounted for nearly one half (48.2 percent) of all civil cases filed in the district court.

Table 4 also shows that 732 (2.8 percent) of the 26,152 small claims rulings by judicial officers of limited jurisdiction were appealed on the record to the district court, pursuant to section 631.13, The Code. Such appeals comprised 1.5 percent of the civil case filings.

In the criminal area, the 16,379 first and second offense drunken driver cases (OWI--operating while intoxicated) embraced 51.1 percent of the indictable misdemeanor filings and 40.6 percent of all the regular criminal cases, i.e., felonies, indictable misdemeanors (serious and aggravated), and simple misdemeanors on appeal. [Table 5]

The 7,658 felony filings represented 19.0 percent of the 40,379 criminal cases docketed. Only 0.3 of one percent (639) of the 224,312 simple misdemeanors handled by district associate judges and magistrates were appealed to the district court for a new trial, pursuant to rule 54, Rules of Criminal Procedure. Such appeals comprised 1.5 percent of the criminal filings.

Pending Regular Civil and Criminal Cases

Of the 47,726 regular civil cases pending at the end of the year, 12,676 or 27 percent were over 18 months old. During 1984, the number of civil cases pending over 18 months increased by 383 or 3.1 percent. [Appendix A] The proportion of pending civil cases over 18 months old ranged from 23 percent in the 2nd District to 29 percent in the 3rd. Except in the 3rd, 5th and 7th Judicial Districts, there were fewer civil cases pending at the end of the year than at the beginning.

There were 1,074 fewer criminal cases pending on December 31, 1984, than on January 1. Of the 18,276 regular criminal cases pending at the end of 1984, 4,066 or 22 percent were over 18 months old -- 36 percent (6,564) had been pending 3 to 18 months. [Appendix B] The 3rd District had the highest percentage of cases pending over 90 days; the 4th District had the lowest percentage of criminal cases over 90 days old.

Probate Matters

The district judges exercise the probate jurisdiction of the unified trial court. There were 979 trusteeships opened in 1984 -- up 15.6 percent from the previous year. [Table

6(a)] The number of trusteeships opened ranged from 51 in the 4th District to 191 in the 2nd. During 1984, 3,973 guardianships and conservatorships were opened -- down 1.8 percent from 1983; the number of cases ranged from 236 in the 4th to 784 in the 5th. Some 19,238 decedent estates were opened in 1984 -- a decrease of 103 or 0.5 percent. The number of estates opened varied from 1,321 in the 4th District to 3,776 in the 2nd. Statewide, there were 5 jury trials and 976 trials to court in contested probate matters; the number of jury and court trials in 1983 was 6 and 207, respectively. [Table 6(a)]

Of the 16,537 estates closed during 1984, 54 percent were closed within one year, 34 percent from 1-3 years, and 12 percent after three years. The respective percentages for the 16,731 estates closed in 1983 were 55 percent, 34 percent and 11 percent. In 1984, 59 percent of the estates were settled within one year in the 1st District; in the 4th District only 44 percent of the estates were closed within a year. [Table 6(b)] The number of decedents' estates closed during 1984 was 2,701 less than the number of new estates opened. [Table 6(a) and (b)]

Table 10 indicates the number of probate matters closed per judge in each district during 1984. The number of probate matters closed varied from 154 per judge in the 5th District to 278 per judge in the 3rd; the state average was 206.

Juvenile Matters

Juvenile matters are heard by district judges, judicial referees and district associate judges designated by the chief judge of the judicial district to act as judges of the juvenile court. There were 6,099 juvenile petitions filed in the district court clerks' offices during 1984 -- 561 more petitions than in 1983. [Table 7(a)] Juvenile petitions were classified into four general categories: delinquency (3,538), child in need of assistance or CHINA (2,501), family in need of assistance or FINA (38) and interstate compacts or extradition (22). Eighty-two percent of the FINA petitions were filed in the 1st and 5th Districts.

The number and type of formal hearings in juvenile matters are illustrated in Table 7(b). Figures show there were 3,269 adjudication hearings, 4,368 disposition hearings, 3,809 review hearings, 1,264 shelter/detention hearings and 2,785 other hearings, for a grand total of 15,495 -- up 364 from 1983. Fifty-one percent of the juvenile hearings are handled by district associate judges, 44 percent are conducted by referees and 5 percent by district judges.

Termination of Parental Rights

For statistical purposes, termination of parental rights cases were separated from regular juvenile matters involving delinquent children and minors or families in need of assistance. As indicated in Table 8, there were 892 petitions for termination of parental rights filed in the district court during 1984 -- a decrease of 39 cases from 1983. Twenty-seven percent (244) involved involuntary or contested proceedings. The largest number of termination cases (151) was docketed in the 5th District; the fewest petitions (55) were filed in the 4th District. There were 779 formal hearings held on these matters -- down 67 or 8.0 percent from 1983.

Hospitalization Hearings

Table 9 shows the number and type of hospitalization hearings. There were 4,219 hospitalization hearings in Iowa during 1984 -- 115 involuntary minor, 2,056 involuntary adult, 1,118 emergency and 930 substance abuse. The total number of hearings by type of judicial officer is noted in a footnote to Table 9.

General Activity of District Associate Judges

Other than regular civil and criminal cases, termination of parental rights and juvenile matters discussed above, a total of 142,239 cases were docketed or assigned and 136,098 cases were disposed of by the 39 associate judges during 1984. There were 50,851 cases pending at the end of the year. The number of cases docketed and assigned ranged from 4,858 in the 8th District to 68,835 in the 5th. The total number of simple misdemeanor/small claims cases pending at the end of the year varied from 556 in the 2nd District to 37,533 in the 5th. The number of each type of case filed, terminated and pending during 1984, appears in Tables 12(a) through 12(d).

As committing magistrates for indictable offenses, district associate judges conducted 17,001 initial appearance proceedings and 251 preliminary hearings in indictable criminal cases, pursuant to rule 2, Rules of Criminal Procedure. [Table 12(a)] Nearly three-fourths of the initial appearances were held in the 5th, 6th and 7th Districts; over 60 percent of the preliminary hearings by associate judges occurred in the 8th district.

There were 9,882 nonindictable state cases (simple misdemeanors) carried over from 1983. During 1984, 45,740 were docketed as compared to 42,711 in 1983 -- an increase of 7.1 percent. Of the 42,558 state cases terminated during 1984, the judges disposed of 86 or 0.2 percent by trial to jury, 1,677 or 3.9 percent by trial to court and 40,795 or 95.9 percent without trial. The number of simple misdemeanors pending at the end of 1984 (13,067) was 3,185 more than the number pending at the beginning of the year. During 1984, the associate judges of the 5th District had by far the largest number of nonindictable state cases docketed, terminated and pending. [Table 12(b)]

Some 34,476 ordinance cases were pending from 1983. During 1984, 64,944 were docketed and 61,995 were disposed of: 22 or less than 0.1 percent by trial to jury, 1,763 or 2.8 percent by trial to court and 60,210 or 97.1 percent without trial. The number of pending cases increased by 2,949 from 34,476 to 37,425. [Table 12(c)]

During 1984, district associate judges entertained 390 search warrant applications and conducted 482 seized property hearings. Eighty-seven percent of the applications for search warrants handled by district associate judges occurred in the 1st, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th Districts; over 57 percent of the seized property hearings occurred in the 1st District. [Table 14(d)] There were also 166 hospitalization hearings held by the 39 district associate judges. [Table 9]

There were 13,233 small claims assigned and 13,226 cases terminated by associate judges during 1984. [Table 12(d)] The judges resolved 5,170 or 39.1 percent by trial to the court and 8,056 or 60.9 percent without trial. Of those disposed of without trial, 7,355 or 91.3 percent were defaulted and 701 or 8.7 percent were either dismissed or transferred. Over half of the small claims cases handled by such judges were assigned and disposed of in the 5th District.

Judicial Magistrates

In 1984, 153,220 cases were docketed or assigned to 166 judicial magistrates; they disposed of 150,972 or 909 cases per magistrate. [Table 13] The number of dispositions per magistrate ranged from 770 (3rd District) to 1,477 (1st District). Approximately 28 percent of the cases pending at the end of the year were in the 1st District. [Note: Judicial districts vary in population from 198,726 (4th) to 538,716 (5th) and in the number of magistrates from 13 (7th) to 34 (2nd).]

As shown in Table 14(a), there were 16,007 initial appearances and 999 preliminary hearings conducted by judicial magistrates in indictable criminal cases. While the largest number of such actions were in the 2nd District, magistrates in the 7th District had the fewest number of initial appearances and magistrates in the 6th District had the smallest number of preliminary hearings.

There were 76,881 nonindictable state cases (simple misdemeanors) docketed before judicial magistrates in 1984. [Table 14(b)] The magistrates disposed of 75,724 cases -- 152 or 0.2 percent by trial to jury, 6,756 or 8.9 percent by trial to court, and 68,816 or 90.9 percent without trial. The 8th District had the most jury trials (32) while the 1st District reported the least (8). There were 15,555 nonindictable cases docketed in the 2nd District; only 3,083 were docketed in the 7th District.

Statistics on nonindictable ordinance cases disclose that 44,966 cases were docketed, 44,035 were disposed, and 4,618 were still pending on December 31, 1984. Seventy-nine percent of the ordinance cases were disposed of without a contested trial to a judge or jury. The 23 magistrates in the 1st District handled 18,626 ordinance cases while the 19 magistrates in the 5th District disposed of 2,588. [Table 14(c)] Over 42 percent of the filings and dispositions and 57 percent of the pending cases were within the 1st District.

Overall, magistrates terminated 119,759 simple misdemeanors in 1984 compared to 121,841 in 1983. Over half of the simple misdemeanors handled by all judicial officers involved traffic matters.

Judicial magistrates entertained 666 applications for search warrants, conducted 328 seized property hearings and handled 2 lost property actions during 1984. [Table 14(d)] There were 779 search warrant applications and 407 seized property hearings before magistrates in 1983.

Statewide, for all judicial officers, the number of search warrant applications decreased 4.2 percent (1,277 to 1,223) while the number of seized property hearings fell 13.8 percent (1,019 to 878) since 1983. Magistrates in the 2nd and 8th Districts received the largest number of search warrant applications while those in the 3rd District conducted the most seized property hearings. Considering the work of all judicial officers on these matters, the highest volume of applications for search warrants was in the 5th District; the 1st District had the highest number of seized property hearings.

As shown on Table 14(e), magistrates disposed of 12,778 small claims cases in 1984. Sixty percent (7,626) of the small claims were tried before the court; the remaining 5,152 cases (3,746 defaults and 1,406 dismissals or transfers) were disposed of without a trial. The 7th District had the largest number of small claims assigned to magistrates tried to court (1,629) and pending (673) before magistrates at the end of the year.

During the first six months of 1984, judicial magistrates handled 859 first offense OWI guilty pleas. Nearly half of the drunken driving pleas taken by magistrates occurred in the 2nd District. Magistrates in the 3rd, 4th and 6th Districts did not handle OWI cases. Effective July 1, 1984, the jurisdiction of magistrates over first offense drunken driving pleas was repealed. [Table 3(c)]

District Court Clerks

The 99 clerks of the district court played an important role not only in record keeping but in the handling of small claims (dismissals and defaults) and scheduled violations. As noted above, under the Unified Trial Court Act, district court clerks are authorized to docket and assign small claims and enter dismissals and defaults. Cases involving forcible entry and detainer must be handled by a judge.

District court clerks also are responsible for handling scheduled violations in which the defendant mails in or delivers his or her admission, scheduled fine and $8.00 costs to the clerk's traffic violations office before the time specified on the citation and complaint for court appearance. In addition, clerks are the custodians of collection boxes used at weigh stations for the deposit of fines and costs in cases involving weight and other non-moving scheduled violations of commercial carriers.

Table 15 shows that more small claims were disposed of by clerks (45,296) than judges (26,152). While clerks in the 3rd District took care of nearly three-fourths of the small claims terminated in their district, in the 4th District they handled only 49.1 percent of the small claims dispositions. Overall, 63.4 percent of the small claims were disposed of by district court clerks.

As noted in Table 16, the district court clerks disposed of 426,023 scheduled violations without the attention or assistance of any judicial officer -- up 10,312 or 2.5 percent from 1983. On the average, a district court clerk disposed of 4,293 scheduled violations in 1984. The number of scheduled violations ranged from 298 in Ringgold County to 90,852 in Polk County.

Trial Court Statistics -- A Summary

There were 49,294 regular civil cases (over $2,000 and small claims on appeal) and 40,379 regular criminal cases (indictable misdemeanors, felonies and simple misdemeanors on appeal) filed in the district court during 1984. This represented a 4.2 percent decrease in civil filings and a 1.1 percent increase in criminal filings since 1983. [Appendix F]

There was a total of 91,198 civil/criminal dispositions in 1984. While the number of civil cases terminated declined by 3,861 or 7.2 percent (53,606 to 49,745), the number of criminal dispositions increased 2.2 percent (40,553 to 41,453) from 1983 figures. There were 440 jury trials and 4,942 court trials of civil cases; in criminal matters there were 660 jury trials and 1,336 court trials. Statistics show that 89.2 percent of the civil cases and 95.2 percent of the criminal cases were disposed of without trial.

There were 47,726 civil cases pending at the end of 1984 compared with 48,177 on January 1 -- a decrease of 451 or 0.9 percent. The number of pending criminal cases also decreased 5.6 percent (19,350 to 18,276). Of the cases pending statewide, 51 percent of the civil cases and 36 percent of the criminal cases were 3 to 18 months old; 27 percent of the civil cases and 22 percent of the criminal cases were over 18 months old. These figures represent a one-year increase of 3.0 percent in the number of civil cases pending over 18 months and a 17.1 percent decrease in the number of criminal cases pending over a year and a half.

In 1984, there were 704 civil/criminal dispositions per district judge -- 29 less than in 1983. [Appendix I] District court judges in the 4th District had the highest rate of civil/criminal dispositions per judge (833); in the 2nd and 8th Districts the average number of dispositions was 643. [Table 10]

A review of the type of cases docketed in the district court shows that 48.2 percent of the 48,294 civil filings involve domestic relations -- dissolutions and modifications (16,595), uniform support actions (7,029), and domestic abuse (132). [Table 4] Parenthetically, the largest category of criminal cases was first and second offense OWI (operating while intoxicated). OWI comprised 40.6 percent or 16,379 of the 40,379 criminal filings. [Table 5] Appeals of simple misdemeanors (639) and small claims appeals (732) represented only 1.5 percent of the criminal filings and 1.5 percent of the civil filings, respectively. Statistically, only 0.3 percent of the 224,312 simple misdemeanors and 2.8 percent of the 26,152 small claims cases disposed of by judicial officers were appealed to the district court for a second ruling.

The number of probate matters opened decreased slightly (24,233 to 24,190) during 1984; there were 979 trusteeships, 3,973 guardianships and conservatorships, and 19,238 estates. Corresponding figures for 1983 were 847, 4,045, and 19,341, respectively. The number of estates closed dropped from 16,731 to 16,537; 54 percent of the estates were closed within a one-year period.

There was a 10.1 percent increase in the number of juvenile petitions filed (5,538 to 6,099) compared with 1983 figures. The number of formal juvenile hearings decreased 2.2 percent (15,805 to 15,495). Over half of the juvenile hearings were conducted by judicial officers of limited jurisdiction; more than two out of five were handled by referees; district judges were credited with less than 5 percent of the juvenile hearings. In addition to the regular juvenile cases, there were 892 petitions and 774 formal hearings involving termination of parental rights; there were 931 and 841 such matters the previous year.

The average district judge held 8 juvenile hearings, closed 206 probate matters, terminated 704 regular civil/criminal cases, and tried 69 contested civil/criminal cases during 1984.

There were 224,312 nonindictable state and ordinance cases disposed of in 1984 -- down 1.9 percent from the number (228,617) handled in 1983. Nearly 94 percent of the simple misdemeanor cases were disposed of without a contested trial. Judicial officers held 33,008 initial appearances in indictable criminal cases, conducted 1,250 preliminary hearings, entertained 1,223 applications for search warrants, conducted 878 seized property hearings, disposed of 40 lost property actions and handled 4,219 hospitalization hearings. Judicial officers disposed of 26,152 small claims actions while the clerks of the district court handled 45,296. There were 426,023 scheduled violations processed in the clerks' offices.

a. Includes felonies and indictable misdemeanors (serious and aggravated) and actions for money judgments, other than small claims, where the amount in controversy exceeds $2,000. Also includes simple misdemeanors and small claims appealed to the district court. Does not include juvenile or probate cases.

b. There were 11 senior judges, 99 district court judges, 39 district associate judges and two alternate district judges serving Iowa during all or part of 1984. In this report, the work of the senior judges is included in the terminations by district judges; similarly, the dispositions by alternate district associate judges are combined with the productivity of district associate judges.

a. Includes the work of 39 district associate judges and two part-time alternate district associate judges. The nine district associate judges substituting for judicial magistrates served Polk (2), Dickinson, Story, Woodbury, Warren, Linn, Pottawattamie and Des Moines Counties during 1984; alternate district associate judges served in Marshall and Warren Counties. As substitute district associate judges have the same qualifications, jurisdiction and responsibilities as the other district associate judges, they are considered one and the same in these tables.

a. The 1984 figures indicate the actual number of judicial magistrates serving in each district; figures in parenthesis show the number of magistrate positions authorized. See footnote a, Table 2(a) for counties using substitute district associate judges and Appendix E for the July 1, 1983, allocation of magistrates. The 1984 activity of district associate judges substituting for magistrates is included in the work load of regular district associate judges as illustrated in Table 11 rather than the business of magistrates presented in this table.

b. For purposes of this table, all search warrant applications, seized property hearings, lost property actions, preliminary hearings, initial appearances and hospitalization hearings docketed in 1984 were considered disposed of by the end of the year. Pending figures refer only to small claims and simple misdemeanors (nonindictable state and ordinance cases).

c. During 1984, Ida and Adair Counties exercised the option provided in section 602.58, The Code, and divided their one magistrate position into two jobs leaving 166 magistrates to fill 164 salaried positions.

e. This figure differs from that of December 31, 1983, due to inventory corrections.
