HOW TO USE THE LOCAL DIRECTORY OF AIDS RELATED SERVICES

The Local AIDS Related Services National Directory is a listing of organizations providing AIDS-related services, including: local health departments, community-based AIDS service organizations, state health departments, public and private hospices, hospitals, home health care agencies, public social service agencies, federal AIDS treatment programs, select veterans administration hospitals, social security AIDS coordinators, HIV testing sites, and others.

The Directory was jointly prepared by The United States Conference of Mayors and The Fund for Human Dignity, Inc. The document was prepared through responses to nationwide questionnaires sent to local health departments and AIDS service organizations on their AIDS-related activities. Additional assistance was provided by the following organizations: the Centers for Disease Control; state AIDS coordinators; The Leading Edge Foundation; the National AIDS Network, COSSMHO (Coalition of Hispanic Health and Human Services Organizations); The AIDS Record; the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases; the Social Security Administration; and others.

The Directory is organized by state and, within each state, by city. Where applicable, local health departments are listed first, along with the services provided by the health department, other local government, or referral agencies. Community-based organizations are listed next.

Most entries in the Directory include a coding system, which is explained below. Local health department listings may include the coding system and/or subject headings (e.g., HOME HEALTH CARE, SOCIAL SERVICES). Organizations listed may provide a wider range of services than is listed in the Directory.
