Introduction

The National Victims Resource Directory was developed by the National Victims Resource Center, sponsored by the Office for Victims of Crime. This directory provides a central listing and description of services for those seeking national victims information. It is a useful tool for making referrals, exchanging information between organizations, and answering any questions about who is conducting research, tracking legislation, offering training programs, or providing victim assistance, counseling and crisis intervention.

The directory is arranged alphabetically by organization with the State listed in the top right-hand corner of each page. In addition, a Summary of Services appendix provides quick reference to services offered by each organization.

We thank all participants in the directory for their time in responding to the survey and for providing the comprehensive information needed to complete this directory.
