A Message From SECRETARY RICHARD L. DUGGER

AS FY 1989-90 unfolded it became obvious the challenges of the past would continue unabated. Prison admissions continued to rise until February when Criminal Justice Estimating Conference projections reflected a relatively slight reduction. The prison status population, however, increased about 13.3% to 42,733 since the end of the previous fiscal year. In response to Governor Martinez's request, the 1990 Legislature provided funding for 9,476 new prison beds which, when fully completed, will provide the Department with a total of 58,540 beds. Even this major commitment to additional inmate bedspace will not preclude the use of early release programs.

The Department's community supervision responsibilities have expanded dramatically this year to a total exceeding 96,600 offenders under supervision. Increases were experienced in probation supervision, community control supervision, pre-trial intervention cases and provisional release supervision. With the advent of the Control Release Authority a new dimension in community supervision will be implemented in FY 90-91.

In Fiscal Year 1989-90 the intake of offenders aged 17 years or under increased 20.9%. Department objectives to meet the unique housing and programmatic needs of these offenders include establishment of youth corrections programs at designated sites totaling 800 beds. Programs of incentives, education, and vocational training are being developed with the Correctional Education School Authority and qualified private contractors.

Admission of drug offenders to the state correctional system continued to rise during the fiscal year. In the face of these increases the Department moved to establish procedures and programs aimed at dealing with drug abuse offenders. Substance abuse treatment programs were expanded into a total of twelve major institutions and ten community correctional centers. The Department's four tiered substance abuse program can provide treatment to about 6,000 offenders annually. Drug intervention centers provide four month programs for offenders entering the system with sentences of three years or less. Inmates at the centers are involved in the intensive treatment process seven days per week.

In addition to providing treatment to incarcerated offenders, testing and treatment of offenders on probation or parole also was expanded. On-site drug testing utilizing non-intrusive technology produces immediate reports to the officer and offender, enhancing monitoring of drug abuse among offenders under supervision.

The Department also provided assistance to local police authorities in the form of work crews to remove "crack" houses, the abandoned dwellings used by drug dealers and users. Using necessary heavy equipment, supervised inmates demolished the structures and hauled off the debris, thus denying continued unlawful use of the premises.

Predicated on the rapid expansion of operations, the Department found it necessary to develop special training courses for mid-level managers. The course curriculum emphasizes subjects such as team building, budgeting, decision making, labor management and a number of other critical topics essential for management effectiveness. A new training academy was also established at Lake City, Florida to provide basic and specialized training to Correctional Officers and Correctional Probation Officers.

Events in the latter part of the fiscal year lent urgency to ongoing efforts to revise classification procedures to ensure appropriate custody levels for inmates who work outside institutions and facilities. This important initiative will contribute to public safety by ensuring the inmates sentenced for violent crimes or evidencing violent behavior will not work outside institutions.

Fiscal year 1989-90 challenged the very fiber of the Department of Corrections. It was a demanding year, which stretched our capacity for accomplishment both organizationally and individually. The year's experience emphasized that "business as usual" is an inadequate approach. Innovative thought and action are necessary to keep the Department moving forward. To those many dedicated employees who made progress possible, I extend my commendation and appreciation. As the Department of Corrections heads into the 1990s, it is obvious such dedication must continue and extend to all departmental employees.

REGIONAL FUNCTIONS

Each regional office coordinates activities and solves problems at major institutions in accordance with standard Department diagnosis, evaluation, referral, classification and case management procedures.

The activities of all community correctional centers, road prisons, vocational training centers, work camps, forestry camps, and probation and restitution centers are also directed by the regional office in accordance with Central Office policies and directives.

The offices coordinate and direct all probation and parole services and activities in accordance with policy guidelines and program directives from the Central Office, to include supervision, investigation, intake and diversionary programs.

Each office performs personnel management activities, including maintenance of personnel files and related records for personnel of community facilities, probation and parole offices and the regional office. DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

RECOMMENDATIONS

As required by ss.20.315(16), F.S., the Department of Corrections has developed recommendations for improving the delivery of correctional services in the State. The recommendations address views and requirements that have become apparent in the areas of policy needs, facilities necessary to remain ahead of inmate population growth and personnel requirements to ensure optimal effectiveness of departmental staff. Based on the accomplishments of 1989-90 and assessments of requirements for further progress toward established departmental goals and strategies as set forth in the Department's Agency Functional Plan and Comprehensive Correctional Master Plan, it is recommended that action be taken and/or resources be provided to accomplish the following:

- Ensure favorable comparability in compensation and benefits between law enforcement officers and correctional officers.
- Provide for state of the art electronic data processing to produce efficient classification and reception of inmates, especially those admitted with sentences of three years or less.
- Enhance correctional health services for inmates as set forth in the Correctional Health Services Plan.
- Ensure staff to inmate ratios at existing institutions are comparable with staffing ratios authorized for new institutions.
- Provide adequate staffing of Death Row, including supervision for inmates on death watch.
- Establish and maintain trained confrontation squads and emergency squads at each institution as necessary.
- Enhance compensation and benefits for correctional employees assigned to designated high-risk assignments.
- Expand Tier I, II, and IV substance abuse treatment programs to correctional institutions and community correctional centers where appropriate and improve curriculum.
- Implement new mid-management and executive management training programs.
- Continue development and implementation of drug abuse treatment programs for probationers, parolees and offenders on community control.
- Increase availability of relapse prevention programs and aftercare services and coordination of the concept of linkage between treatment programs and community resources.
- Expand urinalysis testing policies to include all inmates/offenders.
- Continue substance abuse staff training.
- Use a combination of free standing work camps, existing facilities and new construction for drug intervention centers for offenders sentenced to prison for three years or less.
- Continue development of the Drug Abuse Treatment Resource Center (DATRC).

- Enhance job finding assistance to offenders through expansion of Department of Labor and Employment Security (DLES) staff dedicated to this purpose.
- Provide a period of community supervision after release from incarceration as prescribed by the new Control Release Authority.
- Increase the effectiveness of probation as a primary community-based sanction through use of risk and needs assessments and specialized caseloads.
- Develop an intensive substance abuse offender supervision program for expanded community diversions.
- Staff institutions and facilities with adequate number of personnel to insure proper control and supervision of inmates.
- Provide for enhanced security and the efficient transportation of inmates.
- Acquire and use drug testing kits and trained drug detection dogs to reduce instances of drug abuse in institutions and facilities.
- Enhance statewide strategic planning for Information Resource Technology.
- Expand the Department's evaluation and planning capability.

ACTIVITIES SECTION

PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

EXPANDED SERVICES:

Probation and Parole (P&P) Services continued to expand at a rapid rate as its varying types of supervision increasingly were used as alternatives to incarceration.

As of June 30, 1990, the total number of offenders under all types of supervision reached 96,622, an increase of over 9,000 from June 30, 1989. During the year 171,348 investigations were conducted. Even though the number of Correctional Probation Officers assigned reached an all time high of 2,263, the average officer case load for probation supervision exceeded 100 offenders. The increased number of newly hired officers brought about the opening of a second Training Academy as well as additional training sites locally. All new officers received 384 hours of required basic training prior to assuming duties as full-time officers.

Community Control and Electronic Monitoring

The Community Control and Electronic Monitoring programs experienced continued growth reflecting findings of national studies which show these options provide viable alternatives to more costly incarceration. During FY 89-90, 14,888 offenders were placed on Community Control Supervision.

The use of electronic monitoring as an enhancement to Community Control continued to receive judicial approval, increasing the demands for monitoring devices. Statewide, there are a total of 1,007 units in use. This represents an increase from the previous year. Additional features and upgraded equipment now available have further increased the credibility of this form of community-based supervision.

West Palm Beach was a demonstration site for the highly sophisticated B.I., Inc. 24 hour electronic monitoring anklet program. Over one hundred units were operational in all parts of circuit 15, monitoring the movements of offenders on house arrest. Officers tested the integrity of these units, and discovered a marked improvement in the elimination of false signals, reduced levels of offender tampering and fewer areas of no response within offender residences.

Substance Abuse

Drug testing and treatment of offenders became an increasingly significant intervention in community-based supervision programs statewide due to the large numbers of offenders entering the Florida criminal justice system as a result of drug-related crimes. All Correctional Probation Officers now have the capability to perform on-site drug tests by means of non-intrusive technology. During FY 89-90, 67,648 offenders received drug testing services of which 16,086 were referred for drug treatment programs.

Officers from throughout the system received 40 hours of intensive specialized training on drug testing procedures and equipment as well as in-service training at the local level as new drug testing and treatment strategies were introduced.

Dr. Tom Herman from National Health Laboratory instructing probation officers in the use of GC/MS confirmation machinery as part of the drug testing program in Tampa.

Program methodologies vary from region to region. Currently, in Region I there are four Abbott ADX drug testing machines which are located in Tallahassee, Shalimar, Panama City and Pensacola. In addition to this, field drug testing kits are being utilized in the rural areas which promote detection of substance abusers and subsequent treatment. Under direction from Central Office, Ocala and Tavares present offender drug testing programs using the Roche On Track System. In addition, a Circuit Drug Specialist position was created to spend full time with the drug treatment program.

Dade County was chosen by representatives of Roche Diagnostics Inc. to be one of 16 test sites nationwide for the use and evaluation of the Roche Abuscreen Drug Test. Based on staff acceptance of this quick, simple, in-office drug assay, probation and parole staff statewide, as well as some institutional facilities, are now using this testing technology to help determine offender drug use.

Miami was recently selected as a pilot test site to help determine the value of analysis of offender hair samples as a deterrent and information tool in determining offender drug use. An estimated 100 tests were conducted this fiscal year, and approximately 300 tests will be conducted in 1990-91 to determine the possible benefits of obtaining a longer term validated picture of offender drug use and its applications to offender supervision strategies.

The Tampa Bay area program began out of a need to provide treatment to youngsters with substance abuse problems. Since its inception it has grown tremendously and is recognized nationally for its innovative programs, especially the work being accomplished with pregnant/post-partum women and their children. They have also established a successful residential treatment program, referred to as the Therapeutic Community (T.C.), based in Largo, Florida.

Specialized Caseloads

Most P&P circuits statewide went forward in implementing specialized caseloads for supervision of sex offenders. In August 1989, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement presented a second 32 hour workshop for 147 P&P staff members discussing Crimes Against Children and Sexual Exploitation.

An offender in the New Port Richey office fills out his written Monthly Report with the aid of cartoon instructions. Cartoons were prepared by an ex-offender.

Due to departmental concerns and national trends, the Sanford circuit increased its utilization of specialized caseloads. In addition to youthful offender supervision and pretrial intervention supervision, sex offender caseloads have been developed. Each office performing probation supervision has an officer assigned who specializes in the supervision of sex offenders. During 1990, the Pensacola Circuit, along with many others was able with assistance from local mental health professionals, to start six (6) new sex offender treatment programs, which includes one for spanish speaking offenders. Approximately eighty percent (80%) of the 289 offenders charged with sex crimes in circuit 10, are now in treatment programs specifically designed for them.

Staff Management Training

A management training curriculum was developed for P&P supervisory staff. The training program encompasses both basic and advanced material, providing hands-on practical management training to all Correctional Probation Supervisors. The advanced phase is designed for supervisors recently assigned upper level supervisory duties.

Community Correctional Awareness Programs

Probation & Parole Services in the Daytona Beach circuit hosted a one day program entitled "Community Corrections Awareness." The program was attended by Judges, Prosecuting Attorneys, Public Defenders, and Law Enforcement Personnel as well as other professionals in the Criminal Justice System.

Officer Sue Wood drives the truck as offenders load it with debris as part of a community service project at Korishan State Park.

The Jacksonville Circuit sponsored a one day exposition covering many of the programs under the control of, or responsible to, the Department of Corrections. Over 200 people visited the expo throughout the day, including Circuit Judges and representatives of both the State Attorney and Public Defender Offices.

The Orange County Sheriff's Department lent the Orlando Circuit two of its computer terminals so that officers could easily access information about offenders in jail as a condition of supervision or offenders under Pre-Sentence Investigation.

Offender public service hours are emphasized in Circuit 16, and as a result of a coordinated effort between the Department, Monroe County and the city of Key West, public service hours completed in Circuit 16 amounted to almost 27,000 hours, or 2.6 hours per offender per month.

To facilitate the transfer of offender information between agencies, Circuit 16 implemented the Monroe County Criminal Justice Computer System in all three probation field offices serving the Circuit. The Ft. Lauderdale Circuit, emphasizing closer cooperation with local law enforcement jurisdictions within Broward County, established a law enforcement liaison program where specific staff are assigned as Department liaisons to each municipal police department.

During the past fiscal year the Ft. Pierce Circuit, in conjunction with St. Lucie and Indian River counties, was actively involved in promoting the offender weekend work program. Two hundred fifty-three offenders participated and contributed over 25,000 man hours of free labor. In that this also represents time in lieu of county jail time, an additional $106,000 in expenses to house these offenders in jail was saved.

INMATE WORK SQUADS

Inmate work squads set new records during FY 1989-90 for labor performed and dollars saved in community work programs and prison construction.

Community Service

Inmates assigned to the Department's Public Works Program and Community Service Squads performed a record 3,000,506 hours of free labor for Florida cities, counties, other governmental agencies, and non-profit organizations during FY 1989-90. This labor represents an estimated $12,002,024 in savings to Florida taxpayers.

A portion of the above mentioned community service involved the removal of "crack" houses across the state. Under a new program initiated by Governor Martinez, inmate crews were supplied to counties and municipalities for the demolition and removal of abandoned buildings used by drug dealers. A total of 9,831 inmate hours of free labor was provided in this program to combat drug-related crime.

D.O.T. Labor Contracts

Under a contractual agreement with the Florida Department of Transportation (DOT), approximately 900 inmates provided each workday produced over 1,774,000 hours of labor and earned a record high of $8,412,500.24 for the Department of Corrections during FY 1989-90. The money helps to offset the Department's cost of housing and feeding inmates assigned to the highway maintenance projects.

Inmate Force Account

Inmates provided a total of 3,014,048 hours of labor during FY 1989-90 to construct, renovate and repair prisons and to correct fire safety deficiencies. Of the 9,368 prison beds funded by the 1989 Legislature, some 5,327 are being built primarily by inmates. The savings is enabling Florida to build new prisons at less than one-third the average per-bed cost paid by all other states.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE TREATMENT PROGRAM

A Comprehensive Substance Abuse Treatment Program has been implemented at twelve of the major institutions and ten community correctional centers (work release). The four-tiered programs are uniquely designed to address treatment in terms of the inmate, the severity of his addiction and the length of his sentence. During the reception and classification process, all incoming offenders are initially assessed as to the extent, if any, of their drug problem. Addicted offenders are then sent to the appropriate Tier program or assigned to a waiting list pending availability of a vacancy. Tier I, a 40 hour informational program, is designed for inmates with minor drug problems and/or extremely short sentences. Tier II, an intensive 8-week program, is designed for inmates with serious substance abuse problems but with a sentence length of such brevity as to preclude entering the long, more extensive Tier III program. Tier III is a full service therapeutic community program of 9-12 months duration. Tier IV is a program specifically designed to provide drug counseling services to inmates assigned to community correctional centers to aid in their reintegration into the community. The Department provides treatment to approximately 6,000 drug abusing inmates per year through the Tier programs. Presently, A Substance Abusing Offender Information Network called "The Network," is in the design stages. "The Network" will be a unified prescribed means to transfer information on the treatment of drug offenders from one agency serving the drug involved offender to another to ensure that a continuum of treatment intervention can be coordinated and encouraged.

Individual instruction in the Tier I program.

Drug Intervention Centers (DIC)

In keeping with its Comprehensive Correctional Master Plan, the Department implemented the operation of a statewide system of Drug Intervention Centers (DIC). These facilities operate substance abuse treatment programs for minimum and medium custody inmates. The program is approximately four months in length and targets drug abusing inmates entering the prison system with sentences of three years or less. Selected inmates have an abbreviated reception process and are transferred to DIC's within 3-7 days. The treatment program is a full-time assignment based on a therapeutic community model, consisting of group and individual counseling. Inmates are involved in the therapeutic process 24 hours daily, 7 days per week. In addition to the treatment component, inmates participate in a daily exercise/fitness program to encourage healthy living practices. The program has been initiated with the opening on June 15, 1990 of the Martin Drug Treatment Center, which houses 128 inmates. The 1990 Florida Legislature has appropriated funds for two additional 384 bed DIC facilities. The Florida Drug Offender Consortium will also provide 450 DIC beds at five locations statewide. Further expansion of the DIC concept by conversion of existing facilities is under consideration.

Drug Abuse Treatment Resource Center

The Department also implemented a Drug Abuse Treatment Resource Center (DATRC). The Center is responsible for the accumulation, distribution and publication of various materials regarding substance abuse for counseling staff and for inmate use. A periodic newsletter provides for the exchange of innovative information and listings of new films, tapes and publications, creating a network for the best use of these treatment and training resources.

EXPANDED STAFF DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Florida Corrections Academy North

In response to continued increases in staffing resulting from inmate overcrowding, the Department established the Florida Corrections Academy North in Olustee, Florida. This Academy, working in concert with the Florida Corrections Academy South in Vero Beach, Florida, provides greater accessibility to academy-based training programs for Correctional Officers, Correctional Probation Officers and other support staff. The Florida Corrections Academy North, operating in facilities leased from Lake City Community College for a twenty-five (25) year period, is an excellent example of two state agencies working together to maximize the use of state-owned resources while saving valuable state revenue in the process.

Florida Corrections Academy North began operations in January, 1990. Training programs currently available include Basic Recruit Training Programs for Correctional Officers and Correctional Probation Officers, advanced and specialized training courses approved by the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission, and highly specialized training programs not readily available at other locally certified training centers.

Delivery of Computer-Based Training

The Florida Department of Corrections continues to lead the nation in the development and delivery of computerized interactive video training. The program has received nationwide attention from such agencies as the Federal Bureau of Prisons, the National Academy of Corrections, the American Probation and Parole Association, the Indiana Department of Corrections and the American Correctional Trainers Association.

Florida Corrections Academy North

During this fiscal year, the Bureau of Staff Development established 15 new learning labs in major institutions and probation and parole circuit offices throughout the Department. The Bureau also added to its library of courseware four new courses that include:

- a 10-part Management Development Series
- Using the Personal computer
- Firearms Use, Care and Safety
- AIDS Education

The Department also offers eight advanced courses ranging in scope from Hostage Negotiations and Surveillance Techniques to Court Room Presentation and Communication and Counseling Skills. The delivery system utilizes an IBM Infowindow and a Pioneer LD600A Laser Disc Player which provides a self-paced interactive learning experience between student and computer. Video simulations increase realism by placing the student in a variety of management, interpersonal, and crisis situations.

Use of the computerized interactive video training system within the Florida Department of Corrections has increased training capabilities and class sizes, standardized the training course, improved record keeping and decreased training costs.

CONSTRUCTION

Additions to Current Facilities

The Department's construction program included the addition of prototype dormitories at current facilities. These dormitories were built by inmate labor and included the 67 bed and larger 128 bed dormitories. During this fiscal period 13 of 14 dormitories scheduled for construction were completed.

Martin County Jail, adjacent to Martin Correctional Institution, was purchased by the State and converted to the Martin Drug Treatment Center.

The success of the Department's construction program is widely recognized by other states. Presentations by Department of Corrections' staff were made to legislative delegations in Kentucky and North Carolina. Representatives from Maryland, California, New South Wales and Australia toured construction sites to study construction procedures and techniques; including management, planning, and procurement of materials within established time frames to meet construction schedules for the individual projects.

Major Institutions

Donated sites valued at about $1.6 million, have been provided by local governments for the construction of five (5) major institutions and one (1) work camp. One site for a major institution was jointly purchased by the State and the local community. Construction commenced on six (6) new major institutions during this fiscal period. Three (3) Quick Construction open bay dormitory institutions were appropriated directly to the Department for construction by inmate labor (force account). North Florida Reception Center was substantially completed with all seven housing units finished during this period. Walton Correctional Institution completed five of seven dormitories and Jefferson Correctional Institution completed two of five dormitories scheduled for construction.

Three (3) other institutions consisting of one single cell prototype institution located in Hardee County and two combo institutions located in Jackson and Escambia Counties (Century) were appropriated to the Department of General Services to manage construction.

Single cell prototypes, Hardee Correctional Institution and Century Correctional Institution, are also combination facilities which combine two single cell housing units and five open bay dormitories. This type of facility utilized construction contracts with the private sector to build the two single cell housing units, support facilities and perimeter fence necessary to allow the Department to house close custody inmates. Upon completion of the contract phase, close custody inmates will be housed in completed facilities and utilized in construction of the five open bay dormitories and completion of the remainder of the institution.

Work Camps

During this fiscal year the Department started construction of six (6) work camps. These work camps are prototype facilities built by inmate labor and normally located adjacent to existing institutions. Five of the work camps were substantially completed during this period, which allowed the Department the opportunity to open a total of ten dormitories out of twelve. The work camp located adjacent to Hamilton Correctional Institution was completed within six months. The average construction time for a work camp is usually nine to ten months.

CORRECTIONAL WORK PROGRAMS FOLLOW UP

Prison Rehabilitative Industry Diversified Enterprises (PRIDE) employed over 2,300 inmates at the close of fiscal year 1989-90. In addition, PRIDE's employment agency assisted released inmates in finding jobs. Of the 1,248 offenders who applied with the agency, 387 were placed. These workers earned approximately 4.3 million dollars over the past fiscal year.

ACHIEVEMENTS

HONORED EMPLOYEES

EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR AND CENTRAL OFFICE EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

Trisha Redd, Assistant Admission and Release Administrator, was selected Central Office and statewide Employee of the Year. Ms. Redd was employed by the Department in 1969. She has spent almost 20 years working with inmate records and is an expert on gain time laws and release procedures. Redd also provides assistance to the Office of the Attorney General, the Department's Legal Services Office and the Legislative Programs Office relating to sentence structure, gain time and release provisions. She is participating in the Certified Public Manager Program and is an active member of the Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency.

CORRECTIONAL PROBATION OFFICER OF THE YEAR

Sheila Faye Henderson, a Community Control Officer in Sarasota's Circuit 12, was selected statewide Correctional Probation Officer of the Year. A graduate of Western Kentucky University, Henderson was employed by the Department in 1983. Since the time of her employment she has continuously worked to increase her skills by participating in training programs relating to community control, child abuse, safety, narcotics identification and investigation, sex crimes investigation and crisis intervention. Henderson consistently "exceeds standards" on her job performance evaluations and has surpassed the required field contacts by 40 percent in personal contacts and 60 percent in collateral contacts.

CORRECTIONAL OFFICER OF THE YEAR

Wanda Phillips from Union Correctional Institution in Region II, was selected statewide Correctional Officer of the Year. A six year employee of the Department, Phillips started as Correctional Officer I in Food Services and was promoted to Sergeant in 1987. She has completed courses in CPR Instructor Training at the St. Augustine Culinary Technical Center's Professional Cooking Course, Emergency Medical Technician Training and a course in sanitation. Phillips is credited with greatly improving the procedures for receiving and disbursing food supplies, and with maintaining an inventory system that is considered one of the best in the Department. Her superior administrative abilities have resulted in stabilizing the food service operation through better utilization of staff and inmates.

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR

Chaplain Edsel R. Trouten earned Volunteer of the Year recognition at Glades Correctional Institution where last year he rendered over 500 hours of service. He visits the institution each Sunday and on many occasions conducts the morning worship services. Chaplain Trouten supervises the weekly library study time on Wednesday evenings, visits confinement, the clinic, Glades General Hospital, Palms West Hospital, and provides counseling to many of the inmates. He has attended the 40 hour employee orientation program and assisted other Chaplains in establishing a Student Chaplain Internship Program utilizing graduate students from Hobe Sound Bible College. In addition, he developed a training manual for the program. Chaplain Trouten is a Professor at Hobe Sound Bible College.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE TRENDS

The size of the inmate population and the probation and parole caseload of the Department of Corrections is the result of varying rates of admissions and releases. Several factors affect the rates of admission including population growth in Florida, crime rates, rates of arrest and prosecution, use of alternative programs, sentencing policies of the judiciary and statutes relating to sentencing. Factors affecting releases include the extent of mandatory sentencing, the existence of parole and other post release supervision programs, sentence length, and policies concerning the award of gain time.

TRENDS IN PRISON ADMISSIONS AND RELEASES

The number of new inmates admitted to prison (new court commitments and violators) has increased from 9,546 in fiscal year 1979-80 to 44,701 in 1989-90, a 368% increase over a ten year period. The Criminal Justice Estimating Conference has projected that admissions will increase another 74.5% in the next five years to an annual level of 78,009 in fiscal year 1995-96. Prison releases have increased from 9,190 in 1979-80 to 40,197 in 1989-90, a 337% rise. If special early release mechanisms are not used, the prison population is projected to increase to 139,858 inmates by the end of fiscal year 1995-96, a 227% increase from the present level of 42,733.

RISE IN ADMISSIONS ASSOCIATED WITH DRUGS AND CRIME

The chart below suggests that increases in crime, especially drug arrests are closely associated with the rise in new prison commitments.

PERCENT CHANGES IN ADMISSIONS, CRIME AND POPULATION:

* Crime Data is from calendar years 1979-1989.

 Index crimes include Murder, Rape, Robbery, Burglary, Aggravated Assault, Larceny, and Auto Theft. Admissions and population data is from fiscal years 1979-80 — 1989-90.

NEW COMMITMENTS AS A PERCENT OF GUILTY DISPOSITIONS UP SINCE 1980

The percent of guilty dispositions that are committed to prison as new commitments hit a low of 15% in 1984 after the implementation of sentencing guidelines. Since 1984, the percent of felony convictions resulting in a prison sentence has increased to record levels as high as 34.9% in May, 1990. New commitments as a percentage of guilty dispositions averaged 30.6% during the first three months of 1990.

PRISON ADMISSIONS BY NINE SENTENCING GUIDELINES CATEGORIES

Admissions to prison for drug offenses have risen an astounding 1,984% over the past ten years. Offenses involving theft have increased 307% while the violent offenses of murder, sexual offenses and robbery have increased at more moderate rates.

PERCENT CHANGE IN ADMISSIONS: 1979-80 to 1989-90

INDEX CRIMES IN FLORIDA INCREASED 0.9% DURING CALENDAR YEAR 1989*

The Uniform Crime Report provides a general indicator of criminal activity in the state. Crime report data historically has somewhat been related to prison admissions. This may be explained by the fact that the Uniform Crime Report counts crimes, not criminals. In addition, the index crimes reported include a significant number of misdemeanor offenses not resulting in prison admissions.

CORRECTIONAL STATISTICS

In the pages that follow, statistical information is provided on offenders in the custody of, or supervised by, the Florida Department of Corrections. This information is organized into two sections: inmate statistics and statistics on offenders under community supervision. Each section comprises two distinct populations: offender admissions during fiscal year 1989-90 and status population as of June 30, 1990.

The included statistics reflect salient features of offenders, in particular, their demographic characteristics as well as aspects of their personal and criminal histories. It should be noted that some data are the result of self-reporting and may raise legitimate validity concerns. Also, missing data have been proportionately redistributed in the tables, subjecting them to possible rounding errors and in general making estimates of some of the reported numbers.

Statistical information from previous reports is available upon request from the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics, 2601 Blainstone Road, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-2500; telephone (904) 488-8430 (SunCom 278-8430).

A Decade of Dramatic Change

(FY 1980-81 through FY 1989-90)

At the beginning of fiscal year 1980-81, the inmate population totaled 19,722. Ten years later, that number had grown by 216.7% to reach 42,733. Even more dramatic was the increase in yearly inmate admissions, which rose from 11,014 in 1980-81 to 44,701 in 1989-90, a jump of 405.9%. Florida's overall population also grew but not as quickly. In 1980-81, there were 110 inmate admissions per 100,000 persons in the state's population; in 1989-90, admissions per 100,000 had climbed to 343. To accommodate these prisoners required building new facilities. In 1980-81, the Department maintained 25 major institutions, while in 1989-90 that figure had grown to 41.

Concomitant with expanded numbers was a changing inmate profile. One very conspicuous change was in the racial composition of inmate admissions. Simply put, the inmate population went from predominantly white to predominantly black. In 1980-81, 56.1% of all offenders admitted to prison were white and 43.6% were black. In 1989-90, 37.5% were white and 61.3% were black. The proportions have been reversed.

A second change was the increased incarceration of women. From 5.4% of the total 1980-81 admissions, females accounted for 9.7% of the 1989-90 total. Still, however, males continued to exceed 90% of all incarcerations.

A third change was the general aging of the inmate population. In 1980-81, the average age of intaken inmates was 27.3; in 1989-90, it was 29.4. The difference is not to be explained by an increased incarceration of elderly offenders, for figures show the contrary: the proportion of inmates over 50 declined from 2.6% of the 1980-81 admissions to 1.98% of the 1989-90 intakes. The statistical aging of the inmate population can be traced to a decline in the admission of young offenders. In 1980-81, persons 18 or younger represented 10.6% of all inmate admissions, but in 1989-90 they represented only 5.8%.

The changing profile of inmate admissions was also apparent in offense and criminal history characteristics. Compared with incarcerations a decade ago, recently admitted inmates were much more likely to have previously spent time in prison. In 1980-81, only 22.6% of intaken prisoners were repeat incarcerations; by 1989-90, that number had nearly doubled, reaching 42.7%.

Also changing were the offenses which resulted in admission to prison. In 1980-81, the leading three offenses accounted for nearly half of all intakes: burglary (28.31%), armed robbery (11.98%), and larceny (9.51%). By 1989-90, the top three offenses summed to include over half of all admissions, but two of the offenses were different. While burglary remained among the three, though at a diminished 18.2% of admissions, drug offenses represented almost twice as many cases. The most frequent offense, the sale or manufacture of illegal drugs (20.9%), together with possession of illegal drugs (15.2%), accounted for 36.1% of all incarcerations, a pronounced increase from the 8.2% reported for 1980-81.

Prison sentences of intaken offenders were longer in 1989-90 than in 1980-81. In that year, the median sentence length was 3.0 years; by 1989-90, sentence length had grown to a median of 5.0 years. This is not to say, however, that inmates on the average remained in prison longer, for the awarding of gain-time and release credits results in early release of most inmates.

In summary, the changes in the state correctional system through the decade of the nineteen-eighties were both quantitative and qualitative. The growth of the inmate population was accompanied by an increasing tendency for inmates to be black, older, repeat offenders convicted of drug felonies and sentenced to longer terms of incarceration.

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION STATISTICS

The following pages contain statistics concerning offenders under community supervision in the Department of Corrections. The community supervision caseloads continue to increase. The Department continues its emphasis upon diversionary programs and these programs, hopefully, will reduce the number of institutional beds necessary in the future.

In the following tables, misdemeanor probation reflects cases originally filed in circuit court as felonies that were reduced to misdemeanors and subsequently placed on probation.
