The Court of Appeal, Third Circuit, whose jurisdiction extends over a twenty-one parish area, formally dedicated its new courthouse on January 24, 1992, in Lake Charles, Louisiana.

Construction of the new courthouse began in January 1990 and the Court took occupancy November 1, 1991. The Courthouse is located at 1000 Main Street in Lake Charles, at the end of the main entrance to the old Chennault Air Force Base. The 3.2 acres on which the Court is located was donated to the State by Mr. A. P. Leonard.

To the Members of the Supreme Court of Louisiana
To the Members of the Board of Governors of the Louisiana State Bar Association

Ladies and Gentlemen:

The work of Louisiana's judiciary is statistically recorded within these pages and I am pleased to submit herewith the thirty-sixth annual report of the Judicial Council of the Supreme Court of Louisiana.

The work of the judiciary is reflected in increased caseloads and additional judgeships. The work of the Judicial Administrator's office is significant in the ongoing effort to improve the court system and is described within these pages. Additionally there is considerable factual information about the Law Library of Louisiana, the Judiciary Commission, the Judicial College, and the Judicial Council. All of these elements work together as part of the realization of the judiciary's determination to provide justice to the people of Louisiana.

With kindest regards, I remain

Very truly yours,

Pascal F. Calogero, Jr.

Requests for new judgeships evaluated . . . Two new judgeships created . . .

In 1991 the Louisiana Legislature created two new judgeships, one each in the 4th Judicial District Court, Morehouse and Ouachita Parishes, and in Orleans Juvenile Court. The new judgeships were created following investigation and recommendation by the Judicial Council Committee to Evaluate Requests for New Judgeships, chaired by Retired Judge Thomas W. Tanner. This committee (which, in 1991, received seven requests for new judgeships), working in cooperation with members of the Judicial Administrator's staff, examined court records and conducted on-site visits to the courts in question before making recommendations to the members of the Judicial Council.

Judicial Planning Committee: Reports . . . Survey . . .

The subcommittees of the Judicial Planning Committee of the Judicial Council, which is chaired by Associate Justice James L. Dennis are involved in numerous activities as follows.

The Science and Technology Subcommittee, chaired by Appellate Judge Charles A. Marvin, staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Ronald Wm. Stritzinger, and of which Deputy Judicial Administrator Rose Marie Bye is a member, was instrumental in passing legislation authorizing the Supreme Court to supervise the development of comprehensive plans for use of FAX in Louisiana's courts (Act 531). Additionally, the Science & Technology Committee is following use of FAX with regard to filings by Clerks of Court (Act 463). Legislation relevant to search warrants issued via phone and the affixing of electronic signatures is also being followed closely by the Science and Technology Committee (Act 84).

Additionally, the Science and Technology Subcommittee is responsible for a pilot project in Baton Rouge City Court utilizing video transcription and a planned pilot project in one division of Orleans Criminal District Court utilizing the Computer Integrated Courtroom (CIC) method of transcription.

The Juvenile Courts Subcommittee, chaired by Judge Salvadore T. Mulé and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Nancy C. Chachere, is working with a statewide Task Force created in response to House and Senate Resolutions and Executive Order, chaired by Judge Gorman E. Taylor, which is studying the potential of a statewide juvenile justice system. This task force is also staffed by Ms. Chachere. Additionally, members of the subcommittee have served for over four years on the Children's Code Project which produced a compilation of all laws regarding juveniles, resolution of ambiguity, and a reconciliation of conflicting laws where necessary to reconcile statutory law with constitutional demands and to produce a true code. The Judicial Council approved the Code in principle and the legislature passed the code into law.

The Appellate Court Delay/Court Reporting Subcommittee, chaired by Retired Judge J. Cleveland Marcel and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Ronald Wm. Stritzinger, is working with the Court of Appeal, Fourth Circuit, in analyzing a 1988 ABA study on appellate time standards to determine if procedures implemented for the 1988 study have had a significant impact on the movement of cases currently decided by the court. The subcommittee is also cooperating with the work of a committee studying delay in the Second and Third Circuits. Additionally, the subcommittee was a participant in the successful effort to pass legislation requiring certification of all official court reporters in Louisiana.

The annual survey of Louisiana's district judges, conducted for the Judicial Planning Committee each year by Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan, requested information relevant to the impact of drug-related cases on the court system. While the survey questions dealt with a perceived future impact, the judges' responses indicated that the impact was immediate and dramatic. A majority of those judges responding offered solutions: these ranged from additional judges and courts exclusively for drug cases, tougher sentencing laws, additional jail space, better support services and more funding for Indigent Defenders and District Attorneys, to increased efforts to educate the populace as to the hazards of drug use.

Jury Standards approved . . . Task Force on Women in the Courts completes public hearings . . . Records Management Committee underway . . .

In other areas of activity, the Judicial Council also received reports from the following groups.

The Jury Standards Committee, chaired by Judge Melvin A. Shortess and staffed by Judicial Administrator Dr. Hugh M. Collins and Deputy Judicial Administrator Timothy F. Averill, has completed its work and presented its report. The Judicial Council approved the report of the committee which will be submitted to the Supreme Court. The new standards, if implemented, will essentially increase the authority of the Supreme Court and the Office of the Judicial Administrator with relationship to the jury system. It was noted that Louisiana law was utilized in the standards extensively with little need to make many changes.

A pilot project of the Committee on Time Standards for Trial Courts, chaired by Judge Gerald P. Fedoroff and staffed by Chief Deputy Judicial Administrator Timothy J. Palmatier, has completed its work and was unable to conclude from its efforts that time standards can be achieved in other than one-parish, one-judge, rural district courts.

The Louisiana Task Force on Women in the Courts, chaired by Judge Miriam G. Waltzer and on which Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan serves, has completed the public hearings portion of its work, having held hearings in New Orleans, Lafayette, Lake Charles, Monroe, Alexandria, Baton Rouge and Shreveport. Additionally, the Task Force has had a survey conducted of a random selection of members of the Louisiana State Bar Association on the subject of gender bias in the courts. The Task Force has begun the final phase of its work, that of preparing recommendations. The full report of the Task Force is expected by the middle of 1992.

Backlog under study . . .

The Committee to Study Backlog in the Courts of Appeal,

The Judicial Council notes with sadness the death, on November 10, 1991, of Retired Judge J. Cleveland Frugé, longtime secretary of the Judicial Council and first President of the Louisiana District Judges Association. Judge Frugé served on the Thirteenth Judicial District Court, Evangeline Parish, from 1935 until 1960, and on the Court of Appeal, Third Circuit from 1960 until his retirement in 1975. He was 91.

First and Third Circuits, chaired by Judges J. Burton Foret and Walter I. Lanier, Jr., has submitted a report to the Judicial Council which will be considered by a seven member special committee of the Judicial Council, prior to submission to the Supreme Court.

The Records Management Committee, chaired by Judge Blady M. Fitzsimmons and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan, is working toward recommendations in four areas: 1) implementation of a record retention schedule – in this regard, the committee is working closely with the office of the State Archivist who has received a federal grant to investigate record retention; 2) evaluation of court forms to simplify language and to reduce the number of forms; 3) limitation on the size of briefs; and, 4) uniform rules for court reporters.

The Committee to Study Orleans Criminal and Civil Courts: A Response to the National Center for State Courts Study, chaired by Judge Patrick M. Schott and staffed by Chief Deputy Judicial Administrator Timothy J. Palmatier, has begun its work and expects to have a report in early 1992.

The Judicial Council is the appointing authority for two members each on the Judicial Funding Commission and on the Alternative Dispute Resolution Task Force, each created by the legislature. These groups are expected to have reports sometime in 1992-93. Timothy J. Palmatier and Timothy F. Averill of the Judicial Administrator's office, respectively, are monitoring these groups for the Judicial Council.

Additionally, the Judicial Council passed a motion recommending that the Supreme Court look into the feasibility of implementing a rule whereby failure to obey orders of a court regarding child support would be a basis for disciplinary action leading to suspension or revocation of a license. It was recommended that the work on this study be done in cooperation with the Louisiana State Bar Association.

The Judicial Council of the Supreme Court of Louisiana was established in 1950 and received its first funding by the state legislature in 1954. Its task is to evaluate and monitor the operations and procedures of the judicial system of the state. In this capacity, it serves as a clearinghouse for ideas for simplifying and expediting judicial procedures and/or correcting shortcomings in the system. Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan serves as administrative staff to the Judicial Council.

The Judicial Administrator Reports

HUGH M. COLLINS, Ph.D.
Judicial Administrator

1991 was a year of quiet progress, much of which occurred through the sub-committees of the Judicial Council (for the specific achievements of the Council, see the Judicial Council report on page 4). This report will discuss the staff support provided by the members of my office to the Judicial Council and to other efforts to support and improve the court system.

Mr. Timothy Palmatier serves as Chief Deputy Judicial Administrator. In addition, he staffs the Judicial Council's Committees on Financing the Orleans Parish Courts and Reducing Delay in the First and Third Circuit Courts of Appeal. He is this office's representative on the LSBA's Committee on Alcohol and Drug Abuse and provides technical assistance to both the legislature's Judicial Funding Commission and LSBA's Committee on the Composition and Administration of Justice.

Mrs. Paulette Holahan, of my staff, continues to serve as the chief staff person for the Judicial Council. In this capacity she coordinates the various Council subcommittees, personally staffs the Records Management Subcommittee and the Committee to Evaluate Requests for New District Judgeships, and also conducts the annual survey concerning the most pressing problems facing the courts. In addition, Mrs. Holahan serves as a member of the Task Force on Women in the Courts and as the public information and education officer for the Supreme Court. During 1991, she also began serving as a guest lecturer at the Loyola University School of Journalism.

Mr. Ronnie Stritzinger provides staff support to the Judicial Council's Science and Technology Committee. In addition, he directs the statistical information gathering activities of the office and in 1991 upgraded the data gathering process in the city and district courts to bring them into compliance with national standards. Mr. Stritzinger also generates statistical reports for a large number of Judicial Council committees and provides answers to the numerous statistical inquiries we receive. Mr. Stritzinger is the project director for a federal grant to improve the collection of criminal history information in order to make it useful to courts in bond setting activities and sentencing. Lastly, Mr. Stritzinger found time during the summer to participate in and graduate from Phase 2 of the Institute for Court Management.

Ms. Nancy Chachere continues to provide staff support to the Judicial Council's Juvenile Task Force. She has become the most active staff person for the Judiciary Commission, which handled more than 600 inquiries last year about the appropriateness of Judicial behavior. She continues to serve as the office expert on child support matters, and, lastly she continues to assist the office's efforts to monitor Clark v. Roemer, Louisiana's judicial voting rights lawsuit, and to interpret the legislation resulting from this lawsuit.

Mr. Timothy Averill staffs the Judicial Council's subcommittees on the indigent Defense System and Juror Use and Management. In addition, he serves on the joint legislative Task Force on Alternate Dispute Resolution and on the LSBA's Bridging the Gap Committee. Mr. Averill has also become the office's chief legal consultant and, in this capacity, has answered hundreds of questions from the Supreme Court, other Louisiana courts, and various judges and administrators around the country. Perhaps his finest work has been in assisting the Louisiana Supreme Court and the Louisiana State Bar Association in refining its new discipline system.

Mrs. Michelle Speaser continues to direct the budget section, and in this capacity she and her staff have modernized the budget process this year, including making provision for the submission of budget data by diskette. Mrs. Speaser also has worked on a uniform longevity pay plan for the Courts of Appeal and together with Tim Palmatier provides staff support for the Judges' Supplemental Compensation Fund. Lastly, Mrs. Speaser found time this year to produce a baby girl.

Mrs. Rose Marie Bye serves as a member of the Judicial Council's Science & Technology Committee. Efforts of Mrs. Bye and of the Sciences & Technology Committee have culminated in legislation creating and refining the certification process for court reporters in Louisiana. Additionally, Mrs. Bye serves as a member of the Records Management Committee of the Judicial Council.

1991 has seen other significant activities. The first work on the renovation of the 400 Royal Street for use by the Supreme Court, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeal, and the Attorney General began in November. November also witnessed the tragic, unexpected death of the architect of the Royal Street project, Mr. Bill Hess.

During the year Mr. John Stritzinger joined our staff as an investigator for the Judiciary Commission. He also lends expertise he acquired from his previous jobs as a safety officer.

Mr. Paul Tumminello of the finance section took and passed his CPA exam, commonly regarded as one of the most difficult, if not the most difficult, certification exams.

1991 also witnessed the reinvigoration of the State/Federal Judicial Council. This holds great hope for improving cooperation between the two court systems.

The normal day-to-day activities of the office continue to rise to record levels. I have already alluded to the inquiries received by the Judiciary Commission (on page 9). Similarly the number of orders assigning judges to sit in the various courts in the state rose to more than 1,200 from 312 in 1987, the year prior to the effective date of a constitutional amendment mandating to the Supreme Court sole authority to provide by rule for appointments of attorneys as temporary or ad hoc judges of city, municipal, traffic, parish, juvenile or family courts.

To meet increased demands at a time when the state cannot afford to provide adequate staffing for my office, we have begun to utilize volunteers to assist the office on a regular basis. The first of these volunteers is Dr. Elizabeth Francis. It is anticipated in the future we will also seek assistance from students and faculty at nearby law schools. H.M.C.

Law Library of Louisiana 1991 Annual Report

"What happens when you cross a lawyer and a librarian? You get all the information you want, but you can't understand it." This joke told by a colleague in Idaho contains a great deal of truth when one considers how intimidating a large modern law library can be — even to an experienced attorney, let alone a layman.

Both the sheer quantity of legal information and the plethora of publishing formats — print (monographic, serial, hardbound, advance sheet, slip opinion, looseleaf), microform, CD-ROM, and online — have made the process of legal research something not to be tackled by the faint of heart. And to make matters even more complicated, judges and attorneys are increasingly in need of more "non-legal" information — science, medicine, economics, ethics, religion, history, etc. — for preparing cases, making decisions and writing articles and speeches. Busy judges, law clerks and practitioners find it nearly impossible to keep up with the deluge of new tools of the trade and the techniques for using them. To deliver the goods to these library patrons in "ready to use" form, professional law libraries have increasingly expanded their roles as teachers, researchers and information managers. The Law Library of Louisiana is fortunate that we have been able to attract and retain staff members who not only possess a wealth of education and experience to handle the growing demand for service, but who are also constantly taking advantage of continuing education opportunities, both formal and informal.

The sadness of losing our superb reference librarian Tina McLellan to fulltime motherhood in April was tempered by the joy of welcoming Marie Erickson, an extraordinarily experienced former law school librarian and practitioner, to our staff. Our delight upon receiving approval for a second reference librarian was made complete when Catherine Lemann, an experienced New Orleans attorney who has just received her master's degree in library and information science accepted the new position in October. Happily, the other eight members of our staff remain.

Financially the library is merely marking time without being able to move forward significantly. The total expenditure for staff, books, equipment and operations for fiscal year 1990/91 totalled $671,052, an increase of 4.3% over the previous year. (Self-generated funds constitute $55,460 of that total.) Payments for books and subscriptions, $320,426, represent only a 2% rise — far short of publishers' price for renewing subscriptions. Consequently, we are being forced to cancel subscriptions to stay within our budget.

The number of new titles acquired during 1991 was only 389 (accounting for 502 physical volumes) — up slightly from last year. Only half of these were purchased, however, with free federal and Louisiana documents and gifts making up the balance. In the category of continuations and added volumes of serials, our net gain was 1,472 — down 260 from 1990. It is ominous to note that while the cost of acquiring new materials rises dramatically each year, the quantity of acquisitions grows smaller. As happened last year, the area experiencing the greatest growth was our microform collection. Huge additions on Congressional hearings and reports as well as superseded state codes contributed to a total of 22,258 fiches acquired.

Reliance on information accessed by computer continues to mount. Westlaw and Lexis searches conducted by our reference librarians for patrons numbered 685 for the year. The 360 additional searches carried out for court personnel bring the total to 1,045. The addition to our staff of another librarian enables us to provide these research services without sacrificing traditional reference service for our patrons. We fulfilled 87 requests for materials on interlibrary loan and borrowed 84 items from other libraries. Our telefax machine again proved a boon to service, with 414 items being transmitted by us and 144 being received.

Our staff was very involved in preparations for the 84th Annual Meeting of the American Association of Law Libraries, which convened in our city in July. Betty Kern chaired the Local Arrangements Committee; Janice Shull, assisted by D. D. Thompson, was in charge of publicity; Marie Erickson was a function coordinator; Carol Billings arranged the opening reception at the Aquarium; Ruth Mahoney coordinated the closing banquet revel and Cathy Lemann assisted with hospitality and registration. Janice Shull also prepared an impressive exhibit on AALL and the profession of law librarianship for the courthouse lobby. State law librarians from other states were entertained at a luncheon in the Conference Room, and many convention attendees toured the library. Marie Erickson also coordinated one of the convention educational programs.

As usual, the staff took advantage of a wide range of professional development opportunities, particularly those offered by AALL and its chapters. Carol Billings co-directed AALL's 1991 Winter Institute in Williamsburg, Virginia, "Law Libraries — Serving the Legal Information Needs of a Varied Constituency: The Judiciary, the Bar and the Public," and Tina McLellan served as a faculty member. Janice Shull and Betty Kern also attended. Betty Kern continues to serve on AALL's Advisory Committee on the Indexing of Periodical Literature. Carol Billings, in her third year on the AALL Executive Board, chairs the association's Long Range Planning Committee. Both Betty Kern and Carol Billings spoke on the program at the Tuscaloosa annual meeting of the Southeastern Chapter on AALL in April, and Carol Billings received the chapter's Distinguished Service Award.

Once again, the library is grateful for the financial support of the Friends of the Law Library of Louisiana. As the year drew to a close, members of the Friends joined with the entire Supreme Court staff to celebrate at the annual party "judged the most appealing" of the season.

Louisiana Judicial College 1991 Annual Report

Furthering its goal of providing quality continuing legal education for Louisiana's judges, the Judicial College presented programs at eleven meetings in 1991.

The College provided the educational programs at five judges' conferences: Joint Meeting of the City and Juvenile Judges (68 attendees); Annual Spring Judges' Conference (246 attendees); Summer School for Judges (176 attendees); Annual Fall Judges' Conference (214 attendees); and the Annual Fourth and Fifth Circuit Judges' Conference (20 attendees).

The College also sponsored or co-sponsored six special seminars during the year. The conferences and number of attendees were: Evidence and Procedure Seminar (59 attendees); A Summary of the 1991 Children's Code (44 attendees); 1991 Summer Seminar (82 attendees); Family Violence: A Seminar for Judges and Professionals (19 Attendees); Sentencing Guidelines Orientation (27 attendees); and Annual Torts Seminar (49 attendees).

During 1991, the College republished the Louisiana Judicial Law Clerks Manual and distributed it, without cost, to all Louisiana Judges who have law clerks. In addition, the College (in cooperation with the LSU Law Center), published and distributed to all Louisiana judges "Louisiana Law of Comparative Fault: A Decade of Progress," by Professor David Robertson. The Judicial College bore the expense of distribution to the judiciary.

Several other publications are in progress, including civil jury charges, a civil judges bench book, the updating of the juvenile judges bench book and the criminal judges bench book.

In its efforts to keep judges abreast of recent developments, the judicial College during 1991 published a criminal law newsletter. The College also published and distributed to the judges a summary of legislative developments during the 1990 session.

The Judicial College also contributed in 1991 to the development of the proposed new edition of the biographies of Louisiana judges.

Many outstanding legal scholars and other experts made presentations at Judicial College programs in 1991. Among the speakers were Professors Thomas Galligan, Symeon Symeonides and Cheney Joseph of the LSU Law Center; Professors Robert Force and Catherine Hancock of Tulane Law School; Professors David W. Robertson and William Powers, University of Texas School of Law; Professor Marilyn Yarbrough of University of West Virginia Law School; Professor Charles McManis, Washington University, Judge Frank Andrews, 116th District Court (Dallas); Judge Ken Corey, Circuit Judge (Louisville, Kentucky), Justice Richard L.

Jones, Alabama Supreme Court; Judge Henry Politz, U. S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit; Judge Scott Jordan, 2nd Judicial District (Nevada); Judge Robert Payant, Dean, National Judicial College; and Judge Howard D. McKibben, U. S. District Court (Nevada).

Louisiana judges who served as speakers or panelists at Judicial College programs during 1991 included Judges Harold Brouillette, Carrell White, Gorman Taylor, Lynette Feucht, Niles Hellmers, Bill Kelly, Robert Burns, Wilson Ramshur, Freddie Pitcher, E. A. delaHoussaye, Morris A. Lottinger, Jr., Robert J. Klees, W. Peyton Cunningham, Jr., Durwood Conque, John L. Peytavin, Thomas P. McGee, Jimmy Stoker, Gerald Fedoroff, Melvin Shortess, Jeffrey Victory, Richard Ganucheau, Robert Katz, Thomas Wicker, Graydon Kitchens, Douglas Gonzales, P. J. Laborde, Ian W. Claiborne, John R. Joyce, Max N. Tobias, William Redmann (retired), Salvadore Mulé, Nancy Amato Konrad, and Charles Lindsay. Dr. Hugh Collins, Judicial Administrator, also made a presentation.

Among the attorneys making presentations at Judicial College programs were H. Alston Johnson, John P. Calmes, Jr., Tracey Ewing, Lon D. Norris, and James Boren, all of Baton Rouge; District Attorney Bernard Boudreaux of New Iberia; Patrick A. Juneau of Lafayette; Karen Hallstrom, Research Director, Louisiana Children's Code Project; Dr. Donna Rosenberg of Denver and Dr. Henry Cellini of Albuquerque.

THE JUDICIARY COMMISSION OF LOUISIANA 1991 ANNUAL REPORT

The Judiciary Commission of Louisiana, created in 1968 by an amendment to Article IX, Constitution of 1921, is continued in existence by Article V, Section 25, Constitution of 1974.

Powers

On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the Supreme Court may censure, suspend with or without salary, remove from office, or involuntarily retire a judge for willful misconduct relating to his official duty, willful and persistent failure to perform his duty, persistent and public conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute, and conduct while in office which would constitute a felony, or conviction of a felony.

On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the Supreme Court may disqualify a judge from exercising any judicial function, without loss of salary, during pendency of disciplinary proceedings in the Supreme Court.

On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the Supreme Court may retire involuntarily a judge for disability that seriously interferes with the performance of his duties and that is or is likely to become permanent.

The Commission's jurisdiction includes justices and judges of all courts of this state, including commissioners, magistrates, justices of the peace, and mayors who perform judicial functions.

Confidentiality

In accordance with Rule XXIII, Section 23, of the Rules of the Supreme Court, all documents filed with and evidence and proceedings before the Commission are confidential unless and until the Commission files a recommendation for discipline or retirement with the Supreme Court. The record filed by the Commission with the Supreme Court and proceedings before the Supreme Court are not confidential. Once a recommendation is filed with the Supreme Court, it becomes public as any other case before the Court.

Membership

Complaints

During the year 1991 the Commission opened 80 new case files on complaints against judges and justices of the peace, and 9 open cases were pending from 1990. In January, 1991, this office began for the first time collecting statistics on all complaints received even those not within the jurisdiction of the Commission. The 606 complaints tabulated include those received as phone calls and in person. Many of these complaints were questions concerning possible unethical conduct which could be answered immediately. A large number were legal rather than ethical matters. Of the written complaints, 37 were resolved with letters explaining the functions of the Judiciary Commission. Many were undocumentable or without content. The serious ones, of course, are accounted for in the new files opened. These complaints included alleged violations of Canon 2, "A Judge Should Avoid Impropriety and the Appearance of Impropriety in All His Activities"; Canon 3, "A Judge Should Perform the Duties of His Office Impartially and Diligently"; Canon 7, "A Judge Should Refrain from Political Activity Inappropriate to His Judicial Office"; allegations of misconduct in exercising judicial discretion, unprofessional conduct, undue delays in rendering decisions, and failure to perform judicial duties, among others, and were filed by litigants, interested citizens, and by the Commission's own motion.

Dispositions

During the year 1991 the Commission disposed of 60 open cases. These complaints were either closed because of insufficient evidence of judicial misconduct or otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of the Commission; preliminary investigations were ordered and conducted in 89 complaints. Twenty-nine cases are still pending at the beginning of 1992.

STATISTICAL APPENDIX

INTRODUCTION TO THE STATISTICAL SECTION

The statistical information in this section was compiled from data submitted to the Judicial Administrator's Office by the various courts of Louisiana during the calendar year 1991.

In 1991 there were 3,004 filings in the Supreme Court. The filings in 1991 were 8.6% greater than in 1990.

In 1991 there were 8,623 filings in the Louisiana courts of appeal. This represents an increase of 200% over the filings 10 years earlier. In addition, the 1991 filings were 10.3% greater than those in 1990. The average time interval from the filing of a civil appeal to its disposition was 401 days in the First Circuit, 292 days in the Second Circuit, 535 days in the Third Circuit, 297 days in the Fourth Circuit, and 171 days in the Fifth Circuit. The average time interval from the filing of a criminal appeal to its disposition was 382 days in the First Circuit, 244 days in the Second Circuit, 314 days in the Third Circuit, 440 days in the Fourth Circuit, and 167 in the Fifth Circuit.

During 1991 there were 167,602 civil filings in the district courts, a decrease of .4% when compared to 1990. During 1991 there were 348,210 criminal filings in the district courts, an increase of 8.2% over 1990. Civil jury trials increased by 10.2% when compared with 1990, and criminal jury trials increased by 8.1% when compared with 1990.

Filings in Louisiana city and parish courts increased by 2.2% from 663,598 filings in 1990 to 678,461 filings in 1991.
