REPORT BY CHIEF JUSTICE DENVER N. DAVISON
TO THE OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE
JANUARY 23, 1973

Senate President Hamilton
House Speaker Willis
Distinguished Members of the Legislature

The entire judiciary is indeed honored and pleased to have its representative share with you a resume<sup>1</sup> of our last year's operations and reveal in this formal way the areas in which legislative solution is felt needed for continued improvement of the judicial service to the people of this state. The Supreme Court, which as you know bears the responsibility for operating the entire court system, is truly grateful to you for this opportunity to present its problems and seek your decisions on matters we cannot solve. We have always cooperated with the legislative and executive branches of our government. Please accept our appreciation for the many courtesies extended to us in the past. We are especially grateful for your cooperation in making it possible for us to air-condition our court room that was not usable during the summer because of excessive heat.

JUDICIAL MANPOWER

The size of the state judicial manpower and its geographical distribution must be treated as one of those problems only you have the authority to settle. The Constitution clearly vests that power and responsibility in you. You determine not only how many judgeships there shall be, but also where we shall have them. The only limit placed on you is that each county must be assured of at least one associate judge. Ours is the duty to operate the judicial service with whatever manpower you choose to give us.

In recent years attempts have been made to reduce judicial manpower through a constitutional amendment that would eliminate the one-associate-judge-per-county requirement and by legislation restricting appointment to vacant judgeships to those areas where manpower need may be certified by the Supreme Court to exist. All these attempts have failed in the past, but I am informed that similar measures will be introduced in this session.

There are at least twenty sparsely populated counties whose workload does not justify a full-time resident associate judge. This much is hard to deny. There are also other judicially overstuffed areas. While the judges from these areas can be and are being used for non-resident assignments where needed, there are signs of growing resistance in rural areas to "taking our judge out" and in urban areas against deployment of out-of-county part-time judicial manpower.

While the decision to continue or not to continue providing full-time judges in these twenty rural counties is not ours, it is my duty to advise that there are presently understaffed metropolitan and middle-sized urban areas in which judicial efficiency is increasingly impaired because of serious geographical maldistribution in Oklahoma judgeships. These areas are and will be pressing you for additional manpower. Total judgeships and the total cost of the court system will ultimately increase under urban pressure unless you are willing to re-examine our present statewide manpower distribution scheme and to reduce workload disparities.

We invite you to take a closer look at our personnel needs. Statistics will be available to assist you in the assessment you will have to make. Our hope is that whatever you come up with will help remove all present impairments to efficient judicial service in the more populous areas of the state.

STATE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE DEFENSE SERVICES

When the Supreme Court of the United States imposed on us, in 1963, the obligation to provide free defense services to indigent felony defendants, you came to our rescue and authorized payment of fees to appointed lawyers out of our court fund revenue. Now, almost nine years later, only three of our counties have a public defender service. In the rest of the state defense services are still provided by appointed counsel. Last June the Supreme Court of the United States extended further our obligation to provide free defense services. It included within the scope of benefits all indigent misdemeanor defendants in cases in which a jail sentence may be imposed.

The cost of defense services has been rising steadily. In the last three post-reform years (1969-1971) it has increased more than 100 per cent, from $344,292 to $689,050. In many areas seasoned civil lawyers complain that their appointment in a criminal case constitutes a real hardship to themselves and to the defendant. A recent survey reveals that almost 20 per cent of all felony convicts in the penitentiary did not have any representation when judgment and sentence was pronounced.

Since 1963, federal rulings have required us to provide free defense services virtually at every state of criminal prosecution and, in some instances, our obligation now extends beyond the courthouse, reaching into the police station, the sheriff's office and inside the penitentiary walls. These services, we believe, require a statewide network of civil servants trained in what has become a highly specialized field of law. The judiciary will benefit from the availability of such trained service because it would and should reduce, as it has in other states, the incidence of criminal retrials, of post-conviction challenges in federal courts and of dangerously low morale among penitentiary inmates. Moreover, the creation of the defense service will remove the operation of this function from judicial responsibility.

Judicial operation of defense services is totally incompatible with the judge's traditionally neutral position. There is as little basis for a judge to control the choice and compensation of defense counsel as there is for him to control public prosecution.

We in the judicial service ask to be relieved of our present responsibility to operate defense services. Our hope is that you will see fit to establish a statewide defense service that, like our public prosecution, is independent of the judiciary.

We also ask that in order to reduce the present high cost of defense services you consider removing jail penalty provisions from those misdemeanor statutes, such as many traffic and other minor offenses, in which confinement is seldom imposed and does not seem needed for effective enforcement.

JUDICIAL SALARIES

We urge you to help us solve what some describe as a real manpower crisis produced by low compensation levels.

Recent resignations from the state judicial service of many able men are not so much attributable to the lure of the private sector and of the federal civil service as to general lack of faith in your willingness to improve judicial compensation. By standards of other states and by comparison with all the neighboring states we rank extremely low. The American Judicature Society's recent survey puts Oklahoma's trial court salaries in the 51st place (after all other states and the District of Columbia), while our neighboring Texas ranks 16, New Mexico 25, Colorado 34, Missouri 29, Kansas 24 and Arkansas 45.

No one knows better than we that you labor at times under most severe budgetary limitations. But all of us are also aware that the needs of your state judicial service have not received priority A. Our hope is that you will find your way clear to affording us your top priority level when you re-examine the subject of judicial compensation.

DOCKET STATUS (Trial Courts)

The trial courts (municipal, industrial and district) have been prompt in the disposition of cases. The metropolitan (Oklahoma City and Tulsa) district court time gap between felony arrest and trial is one of the shortest in the nation. The interval between the time a civil case is "at issue" and when it is reached for trial is diminishing in all areas of the state. Our trial judges are indeed doing a fine job.

APPELLATE COURTS

There is still a substantial backlog of cases in the appellate courts. It is being reduced thanks to a very high productivity of the Court of Appeals, but we are plagued with an ever increasing number of petitions to review by certiorari the decisions of the intermediate court. This added burden is taking so much of our time that it creates a virtual bottleneck in the processing of appeals. We ask that you study this matter and give due consideration to imposing an additional filing fee for those who seek access to the Supreme Court after losing their case in the Court of Appeals. Such access to our Court is now free to all litigants because only one cost deposit is required for filing an appeal.

Our hope is that the number of petitions for further review in the Supreme Court may be decreased so that more cases decided by the intermediate court can become final.

CONCLUSION

We are hopeful that you will give careful consideration to our problems and needs to the end that Oklahoma's judicial service will continue to be the envy of all those states which do not have a modern and well-managed court system.

II. COURT STRUCTURE

JUDICIAL INSTITUTIONS OF OKLAHOMA

SUPREME COURT*

The Supreme Court is a constitutional tribunal consisting of nine justices retained in office for a term of six years pursuant to a non-partisan non-competitive election. Any vacancy is filled by gubernatorial appointment from a supreme court judicial district. The state is divided into nine supreme court judicial districts. (See map page )

The appellate jurisdiction of the supreme court is co-extensive with the state and includes all civil cases. The supreme court has general superintendent and administrative control over all other courts and agencies of the state government and may issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition and other remedial writs.

COURT OF APPEALS**

The Court of Appeals consists of two permanent divisions, one sitting in Tulsa County and the other sitting in Oklahoma County, with each division having three judges. One Court of Appeals judge is elected from each of the six congressional districts on non-partisan ballots for a term of six years.

The Court of Appeals has the power to dispose of any cases assigned to it by the Supreme Court. Its decisions, when final, are neither appealable to the Supreme Court nor subject to re-examination by another division of the Court of Appeals or by the judges of that court sitting en banc. It has jurisdiction to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition or any other process necessary to any case assigned to it. Its decisions may be reviewed by the Supreme Court if a majority of that court's justices direct that certiorari be granted, and the Supreme Court may by order recall cases from the Court of Appeals.

The procedure and practice of the Court of Appeals is prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court, although, pursuant to law and the rules of the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals may promulgate its own rules.

*Art 7, Sec. 1, Okl. Const.

** 20 O.S. 1971 § 30.1 et seq.

Court of Appeals (continued)

The Clerk of the Supreme Court serves as the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS *

The Court of Criminal Appeals is composed of three judges, one from each of the Court of Criminal Appeals Judicial Districts. Judges of the court are elected by popular vote at a non-partisan election for a term of six years.

The Court of Criminal Appeals has exclusive appellate jurisdiction, co-extensive with the limits of the State, in all criminal cases appealed from the district courts and such other courts of record as may be established by law. The Court of Criminal Appeals, in criminal matters, has the power to issue, hear and determine writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition and such other remedial writs as may be provided by law, and may exercise such other and further jurisdiction as may be conferred by statute.

COURT ON THE JUDICIARY **

The Court on the Judiciary has: (a) a nine-member Trial Division and (b) a nine-member Appellate Division. Each division of the court selects a presiding judge.

The Trial Division has jurisdiction to (a) remove from office any member of the judiciary, state or municipal; or (b) subject a member of the judiciary to compulsory retirement from office. In either instance the action must be for cause and result from proceedings before the Court on the Judiciary.

The Appellate Division may review any judgment of the Trial Division when the respondent or prosecutor files a notice of appeal with the Clerk of the Supreme Court within ten days after entry of a judgment.

District courts must, on the direction of a division of the Court on the Judiciary, aid in carrying out the procedures and mandates of that court.

** Art 7-A, Ckl. Const.

*** 20 O.S. 1971 § 1404 as amended in 1973 by S.B. 83

INDUSTRIAL COURT *

The State Industrial Court is a statutory body consisting of five judges appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. The court sits in hearing and judgment of industrial accident cases and has the power to formulate rules and procedures for the transaction of its business. The court has full power to determine all questions in relation to the payment of claims for compensation and in the exercise of its power may make any investigation it deems necessary. The award or decision of the court shall be final and conclusive upon all questions within its jurisdiction between the parties unless an appeal is lodged within statutory time either to the court en banc or to the Supreme Court.

COURT OF BANK REVIEW **

The Court of Bank Review consists of three district judges designated by the Governor and confirmed by the State Senate. The law requires that each judge be from a different Court of Criminal Appeals district. The Governor designates one of the judges as presiding judge of that court.

The Court meets at the State Capitol on the call of the presiding judge and has the power and duty to hear and determine all appeals from any final order of the Commission and the Banking Board.

The Court may: (a) affirm the order of the Banking Board or the Commissioner; (b) may direct such action as may be affirmatively required by law; or (c) may reverse or modify the order of the Board or Commissioner.

The decision of the Court of Bank Review is subject to review by certiorari in the Supreme Court.

COURT OF TAX REVIEW***

The Court of Tax Review is composed of three district judges designated by the Governor. The State Auditor acts as its clerk.

The Court of Tax Review has judicial cognizance of all protests against any alleged illegal levies.

** 6 O.S. 1971 § 207

*** 68 O.S. 1971 § 24104

DISTRICT COURT *

The district courts of the State of Oklahoma have unlimited original jurisdiction of all justiciable matters, powers of review of administrative action and power to issue any writs, remedial or otherwise necessary or proper to carry into effect their orders, judgments or decrees.

There are 24 district court judicial districts with 51 district judges. Other judges of the district court are: 87 associate district judges and 42 special judges. There is at least one associate judge in every county in the state.

District and associate district judges are elected on a non-partisan ballot in a competitive election for a term of four years. The special judges are appointed by the district judges of the judicial administrative district in which such judicial offices are authorized by statute. They serve at the pleasure of their appointers.

There are nine judicial administrative districts, each headed by a presiding judge. (See map page
