ARRESTS AND DISPOSITIONS TEXAS NARCOTICS CONTROL PROGRAM CALENDAR YEAR 1989

The Texas Narcotics Control Program (TNCP) administered by the Office of the Governor, Criminal Justice Division was established in 1987. Its purpose is to provide funding and administrative support to Drug Control Initiative Programs such as the Multi-Jurisdictional Anti-Drug Abuse Task Forces and Prosecution Units. TNCP is federally funded under the Anti-Drug Abuse Acts of 1986 and 1988. Under a grant provided by the TNCP the Criminal Justice Policy Council collects case summaries for all arrests by the TNCP drug control programs. This report presents the analysis of these data for calendar year 1989. The data was analyzed 18 months after the closing of the calendar year to insure that case disposition information was as complete as possible.

The CJPC is an independent state agency mandated to conduct strategic planning and evaluations of programs and policies affecting the criminal justice system in Texas. CJPC also serves as the Texas Statistical Analysis Center (SAC) in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics and is a member of the National Consortium for Drug Strategy Impact Assessment of the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance. The Consortium is a cooperative research effort of 21 participating states generating data and evaluating the impact of the anti-drug abuse funded efforts.

INTRODUCTION

The Texas Narcotics Control Program (TNCP) was created in 1987 in the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office to develop a drug control strategy, and to provide funding and technical assistance to local jurisdictions in implementing this strategy. TNCP operates with federal funds made available by the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 and 1988. The three types of drug control programs funded by TNCP are:

the Multi-Jurisdictional Anti-Drug Abuse Task Forces; the Prosecution Units; and the Drug Adjudication Impact Courts.

Drug control programs seek to coordinate resources and activities among law enforcement entities within the same county or operating in two or more jurisdictions. The goals of TNCP drug control programs are to investigate, arrest, and prosecute street-level and/or upper-level drug law offenders through the pooling of resources, such as; personnel, equipment, and finances.

This report depicts in graphical format the results of the evaluation of the TNCP drug control program arrests and court dispositions for calendar year 1989. Part I discusses the data collection methods. Part II depicts in graphical format the results of the analysis and Part III presents analytical summaries for each drug control program analyzed.

METHODS

The CJPC collects and analyzes case summaries of all TNCP drug control program arrests and court dispositions submitted on the Anti-Drug Abuse Data Element Form (see the appendix). This three-part data element form is used to collect suspect demographic, prior criminal history, arrest information, case filing information, court disposition and sentencing information. A copy of the record is also retained by TNCP drug control programs for their use.

After a suspect has been arrested by a TNCP drug control program a data element form is submitted to the CJPC. The CJPC enters this information into a comprehensive drug offender-tracking research database. Once the defendant has been disposed by the courts, the TNCP drug control program completes and submits to the CJPC the remainder of the data element form with the court disposition information (yellow copy). TNCP drug control programs take at least seven months to submit case disposition information. This is the average time from arrest to disposition and, therefore, the for record to be completed.

This information is analyzed and reported to the Office of the Governor, Criminal Justice Division, Texas Narcotics Control Program, and the National Consortium for the Evaluation of Drug Control Strategies, U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance, as part of the state and national effort to evaluate the effectiveness of these federally funded programs.

Data Quality Issues

Collecting large amounts of information from many diverse sources such as the 36 TNCP drug control programs operating during calendar year 1989 requires data quality checks. Prior to analyzing the information the CJPC checks the consistency and completeness of the data as much as possible. Quality control techniques used are: technical assistance and guidelines to task force personnel for consistent data collection and reporting methods; computer file maintenance routines of the tracking system; review of data as it is entered into database; and validity checks that are set to allow only the correct information to be entered.

In 1991 a Technical Assistance Guide (TAG) was developed and a statewide workshop was conducted to assist TNCP drug control program personnel in completing and reporting information on the data element form.

Data Analysis Issues

Many data element forms received from the drug control programs show multiple charges filed against an arrestee. Since the focus of the analysis presented here is on persons as opposed to cases the following data transformations are made of the information entered into the drug offender-tracking database:

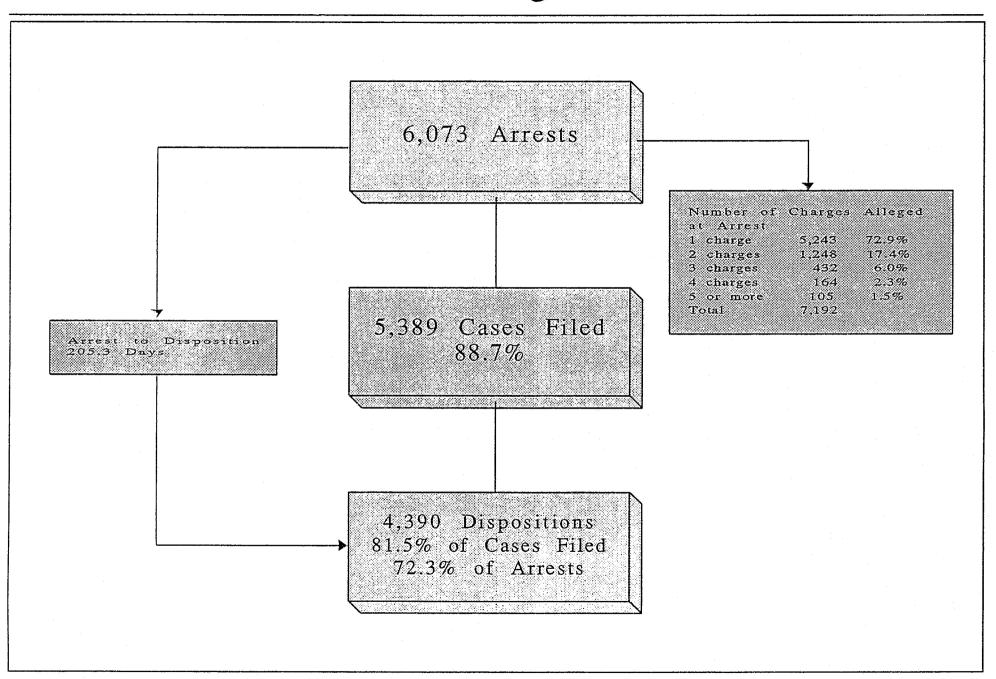

- 1) Compile all multiple records and determine if any arrests occurred simultaneously.
- 2) Evaluate each set of multiple records to determine if at least one disposition has been reported.
- Evaluate multiple dispositions reported to determine if at least one conviction has been reported.

If multiple convictions have been reported, evaluate the sentences received by the offender in the following hierarchy.

- a) Prison
- b) Probation
- c) County Jail
- d) Probated County Jail
- e) Fine only (no other supervision sanction imposed)
- 4) If multiple sentences within a hierarchical category have been reported, select the highest or longest sentence imposed.
- 5) If all sentences are equal select the first reported record (i.e., the first record of an individual receiving three sentences for five years each for three different charges on the same arrest).

Texas Narcotics Control Program Drug Control Programs for Calendar Year 1989

The following pages present detailed arrest and disposition information for 36 TNCP drug control programs (shown two per page) for calendar year 1989. Thirty-three (33) of the 36 drug control programs operated as Multi-Jurisdictional Anti-Drug Abuse Task Forces and three operated as Prosecution Units.

Of the 33 drug control programs operating as Multi-Jurisdictional Anti-Drug Abuse Task Forces in 1989, two suspended operations at the end of the TNCP program year (May 31, 1989). The two programs were the Austin County Apprehension and Prosecution of Drug Offenders and the City of Houston Hobby Airport Task Force.

The TNCP operates on a different calendar than the CJPC. The TNCP program year starts June 1 to May 31. Therefore, the TNCP drug control programs operating under a grant awarded in June 1988 and ending in May 1989 were considered by the CJPC to be operating in calendar year 1988 and 1989.

The three prosecution units operating in 1989 were the Bexar County Adjudication of Drug Offenders, the Dallas County Adjudication of Drug Offenders, and the Harris County Prosecution of Drug Offenders.

The Bexar County Adjudication of Drug Offenders, listed on page 3, currently prosecutes all cases investigated by the Alamo Area Narcotics Task Force. In order to avoid duplication of records, responsibility for reporting all drug control program records to the CJPC was transferred to the Alamo Area Narcotics Task Force.

Notes:

* Prosecution Units - Programs do not arrest drug offenders

Cases are referred to Prosecution Units through local police and sheriff departments

[^] Alamo Area Narcotics Task Force took over the reporting of cases to the CIPC for Bexar County

 Program ceased operations in calendar year 1989; TNCP Program Year 1989

 One TNCP Drug Control Program started late in calendar year 1989 (TNCP PY 1990); this program contributed one arrest to the 1989 Drug Report
