MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

This report contains statistical profiles for each U.S. court of appeals and U.S. district court. The format for the report, approved by the Judicial Conference Subcommittee on Judicial Statistics, is intended to provide historical information for each court and to present workload data in a slightly different format from annual and semiannual reports. In addition to total workload information, the report presents data based on the number of judgeships authorized by statute.

District court workload figures are divided by the number of authorized judgeship positions in each court to provide the workload per judgeship. Cases in the courts of appeals are generally handled by panels of three judges; so workload figures are shown per panel. The per judgeship and per panel figures virtually eliminate the influence of court size and allow comparison between courts of different sizes.

In 1992, U.S. courts of appeals once again experienced increases in filings, terminations, and pending cases. Criminal appeals rose for the eleventh year in a row, moving from 10,249 in 1991 to 11,215 in 1992. The number of drug related cases in the district courts and implementation of the Sentencing Guidelines have combined since 1987 to produce a dramatic 95 percent increase in criminal filings per panel which have risen from 103 to 201. After three years of decreases, civil appeals (excluding prisoner petitions) increased 9 percent to 20,716 cases filed. Total filings were up 9 percent and terminations 7 percent. Because filings outnumbered terminations by 2,640 cases, the pending caseload grew 8 percent to 36,068. The median time from filing to disposition in the courts of appeals increased from 10.2 months in 1991 to 10.6 months in 1992.

District court filings increased dramatically in 1992, from 244,790 to 265,612, a gain of almost 9 percent. Total weighted filings per judgeships, which had declined in 1991 as a result of 74 additional district judgeship positions, grew to 416 in 1992. The gain in civil filings arose primarily from increases in defaulted student loans, civil rights cases, and prisoner petitions. Criminal felony filings increased 4 percent to 35,103 with drug cases growing 8 percent to 11,884 case filings (excluding transfers).

The profile pages in this report provide a more detailed summary of the workload of the courts of appeals and district courts on both a national (see page 29 and page 167) and local court basis. Refer to the following three pages that explain the data contained in the profile pages. We welcome any comments you may have on the content and format of this report.

ACTIONS PER PANEL

The workload statistics for the courts of appeals are presented as "actions per panel" as compared to the "actions per judgeship" profile used for the district courts. This type of profile provides a more accurate indication of the workload of an individual judge since appeals cases are generally handled by a panel of three judges rather than a single judge.

CIRCUIT'S NUMERICAL STANDINGS

All twelve circuit courts of appeals have been arranged in a ranked order with respect to the statistical indices of workload or performance found on the profile. This shows where an individual court of appeals workload condition stands in relationship to all other circuit courts of appeals.

		Civil		Includes all civil cases filed
		Criminal Felony		Includes all criminal felony cases filed whether by indictment, information, or transfer

For all criminal felony defendants time is computed from the filing date to either the sentencing date or the dismissal/acquittal date including excludable delays reported under the Speedy Trial Act. When the District had less than 10 terminations the median case was not computed.
Civil
From Issue to Trial (Civil Only)		For civil cases, except land condemnation, going to a trial during profile years, this figure shows the time interval in months for the middle (median) case. Time is computed from the date the answer or response is filed to the date trial begins.

WHAT THE DISTRICT'S NUMERICAL STANDINGS MEAN	These show where an individual district court stands in relation to other district courts in the circuit and in the country. All "workload" statistics are ranked in descending order (highest value receives rank of 1) and all other statistics are ranked in ascending order (lowest value is ranked first). In some categories fewer than 94 courts are ranked because the information was not available for all districts.

WEIGHTED FILINGS

The weighted filings figures were based on weights developed from the 1979 Time Study conducted by the Federal Judicial Center. A detailed discussion of that project can be found in the 1979 Federal District Court Time Study, published by the FJC in October 1980. Also, a historical statement about weighted caseload studies completed in the U.S. district courts appears in the 1980 Annual Report of the Director, pages 290 through 296.

CIVIL MEDIAN TIME/ASBESTOS CASES

Civil median times shown for all six years on the profile pages exclude not only land condemnation, prisoner petitions, and deportation reviews, but also all recovery of overpayments and enforcement of judgments cases. The large number of these recovery/enforcement cases (primarily student loan and VA overpayments) are quickly processed by the courts and would shorten the median times in most courts by approximately one month. Excluding these cases gives a more accurate picture of the time it takes for a case to be processed in the federal courts. The medians for 1991 and 1992 for certain districts are unusually high because courts closed asbestos personal injury cases which were transferred by order of the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation to the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Some 26,000 of these cases were still pending on September 30, 1992 but are not reflected on Pennsylvania, Eastern's profile page.

ACTIONS PER JUDGESHIP

The Federal Judgeship Act of 1990, enacted on December 1, 1990, authorized 11 additional judgeship positions in the U.S. courts of appeals and 74 additional positions in the U.S. district courts. As of October 1, 1992, seven of the eleven judgeship positions in the courts of appeals, and 26 of the 74 positions in the district courts, were still vacant. Overall, there were 17 vacancies on the courts of appeals and 84 vacancies on the district courts on that date.

REPORTING PERIOD

In March 1992, the Judicial Conference approved a change in the reporting period for judicial statistics. Instead of the old statistical year which ran from July 1 through June 30 of the succeeding year, the new reporting period will be the same as the federal fiscal year, October 1 through September 30 of the succeeding year. All statistics in the Federal Court Management Statistics reflect this change except vacant judgeship months (June 30th data was used for 1987 through 1990), sitting senior appeals judges (June 30th data was used for 1987 through 1990), the two jury items (June 30th data was used for 1987 and 1988), and other workload per judgeship (courts of appeals, June 30th data was used for 1987 through 1990).
