The result is the average number of hours for the disposition of each type of case. Weights were computed on the basis of hours and dispositions during the court year ending August 31, 1973.

NOTE: Some data for General Equity and Matrimonial cases may differ slightly from other tables because of change in reporting of transferred cases after publication of data for Preliminary Annual Report.

STATISTICAL DATA ON THE
WORK OF THE COURTS

1972-73

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

The year began with 31 more authorized full-time judgeships than at September 1, 1971; during the year 25 more judgeships were authorized; and at September 1, 1973 there were a total of 293 full-time Judicial positions (with 26 vacancies as of September 1, 1973).

The added strength resulted in an increase of dispositions reflected in the statistical tables, and an overall reduction in the pending cases from 130,554 at August 31, 1972 to 123,665 at August 31, 1973 (or a net reduction of 6,889 cases). This favorable trend of increased dispositions and a reduced case backlog was accomplished despite increases in appeals and cases in all areas except criminal. Since demographic and other factors indicate the number of new filings will continue to increase, on an overall basis, it is essential that all Judicial vacancies be promptly filled to permit dispositions and backlog reduction to keep pace with anticipated caseload increases. Highlights and tentative conclusions to be drawn from the statistical tables follow:

APPELLATE COURTS

Temporary assignments during absences due to illness have permitted the Supreme Court to keep abreast of its caseload. Similar temporary assignments to the Appellate Division, together with the successful use of the Central Research Staff, permitted that court to dispose of 434 more cases than in the preceding year. The continuing trend of increased filings, however, resulted in a further increase in the backlog at August 31, 1973.

A sixth three-judge part has been added, effective September 4, 1973, and with the continued work of the Central Research Staff, it is anticipated that the backlog will be reduced in the current year to manageable proportions.

LAW DIVISION -- CIVIL

Despite an increase of 643 cases added to the combined civil calendar, increased dispositions resulted in an 11.1% reduction in the backlog of pending cases to 39,605. Increased dispositions by jury trial reflected favorable results from increased Judicial manpower and broadened use of six-man juries. A reduction, however, in the number of settlements before assignments of trial dates indicates that early settlement programs planned for the future may still be an area for improved calendar control and management. Since total auto negligence cases disposed of were practically the same as last year, the full impact of "no fault" has not yet been felt. In most civil cases there has been a reduction in the age from date of complaint of the pending active cases at August 31, 1973.

LAW DIVISION -- CRIMINAL

Although criminal case dispositions decreased by 1,935 during the year, a greater decrease in indictments and accusations filed resulted in a net decrease of 533 cases pending to 21,789. The statistics indicate some progress has been made in reductions of older active indictments and accusations, with the % of active cases over one year old holding at 15%. Implementation of a Statewide Judicial Management Information System (JMIS) in the next few years, assuming favorable legislation and funding, will permit more meaningful detailed statistics, control, and management of problem areas in the criminal field.

CHANCERY DIVISION -- GENERAL EQUITY

There were increases in General Equity cases added, disposed of, and pending at the end of the year. The total pending cases over one year old, however, was reduced from 20% to 19% of the August 31, 1973 caseload.

CHANCERY DIVISION -- MATRIMONIAL

Matrimonial cases added, disposed of, and pending at the end of the year all increased--a predicted result of the "no fault" divorce statute effective September 13, 1971. In 1970-71 there were 13,349 cases added, in 1971-72 17,940 were added, and in the past year the figure was 22,890. Tentative and preliminary indications are that this category has peaked and the current year may reflect a decrease in filings. The largest increase has been in uncontested cases, of course, but there has also been a substantial increase in contested cases.

APPEALS TO COUNTY COURT

Cases added, disposed of, and pending at the end of the year all increased significantly, although such cases over six months old have actually been reduced to only 20 such cases.

JUVENILE COMPLAINTS

Again there were increases in filings, dispositions, and cases pending at the end of the year. The increased backlog of both formal and informal complaints, including increases of pending older cases indicates that this area will need special attention in the current year.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS AND RECIPROCAL SUPPORT COMPLAINTS

Although new filings increased slightly, there was a substantial increase in dispositions, resulting in a dramatic reduction in pending cases at the end of the year.

COUNTY DISTRICT COURT

Filings and dispositions both increased during the year, with a resultant 4.8% reduction in the backlog of cases pending at August 31, 1973. The detailed statistics indicate that only an insignificant (less than 1%) number of all dispositions were by jury trials commenced.

THE MUNICIPAL COURTS

During the court year ending August 31, 1973, there were 524 municipal courts, including 16 joint municipal courts serving two or more municipalities. These courts were presided over by 389 judges, who reported spending 107,221 hours hearing all types of cases, an increase of 7.9% over the prior court year.

A total of 3,676,142 complaints were filed, an increase of 3.5%. This included 2,395,752 parking complaints, 1,008,264 non-parking complaints and 272,126 minor criminal complaints. Of the total dispositions, excluding cases closed for failure to appear, the violations bureaus disposed of 91.4% of the parking complaints and 65.9% of the non-parking traffic complaints. The 272,126 minor criminal complaints filed is an increase of 3,121 or 1.2% over the prior court year. These complaints involved disorderly persons offenses, local ordinance violations and minor indictable offenses heard on waiver of indictment and trial by jury.

There were 44,505 complaints referred by the municipal courts to the county prosecutors for the action of the grand juries and 14,193 to the juvenile and domestic relations courts for a combined total of 58,698 referrals, a decrease of 3.8% from the prior year.

There was a decrease of 974 in the number of defendants sentenced to jail, from 12,964 to 11,990. The number of persons put on probation decreased from 10,570 to 8,895, a decrease of 15.8%. The judges revoked 15,387 motor vehicle drivers' licenses, an increase of 3,719 (31.9%) over the prior court year.

Of the non-parking traffic cases heard in court, 18.7% resulted in dismissals or findings of not guilty.

There were 47,766 non-parking traffic, 45,383 parking and 2,657 non-traffic (criminal) complaints filed in the five county district courts which exercised concurrent jurisdiction with the municipal courts, most of which were in Bergen and Hudson Counties.

The municipal courts imposed fines and costs of $35,886,049. This includes bail forfeitures. For the county district courts, which exercised concurrent jurisdiction, this item was $1,486,792.

Expenditures for the municipal courts for the calendar year 1972 included $2,366,772 for judges' salaries, $5,675,989 for other salaries, and $1,392,519 for other expenses. Total expenditures increased $955,613 or 11% over the prior calendar year.

COMMENTARY

COST OF OPERATING THE COURTS

The information reported here has been extracted from budget and audit reports on file with the Division of Local Finance and from reports to the Administrative Office of the Courts. It should be noted that the data may not be altogether accurate, primarily because of lack of uniformity in state, county and municipal accounting procedures and also because generally, no allocation is made to using departments for overhead and capital costs.

As shown by Fiscal Chart A, there has been a steady increase since 1961 (the first year for which comparable data was collected and reported) in both expenditures and revenues for the courts at all levels. Total expenditures for the courts by the State, counties and municipalities have increased 212% from $19,954,301 in 1961 to $62,158,781 in 1972. Revenues have increased 221% from $17,546,851 in 1961 to $56,344,892 in 1972. Of the total expenditures of $62,158,781 for 1972, 20% was borne by the State, 65% by the counties, and 15% by the municipalities. It is interesting to note that the State expenditures of $12,182,958 for the Judiciary in Fiscal Year 1973 amounted to only 0.41% of total State expenditures.

STATISTICAL DATA

ON

COUNTY PROBATION DEPARTMENTS

Data Format

The annual report on probation services for the court year ending August 31, 1973 includes ten data pages, compared to four pages the previous year. Some of the additional tables are component parts of previous tables, while others represent new material being collected. "Personnel" has been divided into two data tables with two accompanying graphs, and the "Volume of Work" table is now three separate charts; namely, "Investigations," "Supervision," and "Supervised Collections." "Expenditures and Collections" figures have been separated with federally funded programs added to the former, also a "Special Projects" listing has been included. Hopefully, this change in format will provide a more readable presentation of probation data, as well as an accounting on programs of recent development.

Personnel

In the 1972-1973 court year there was an increase of 73 probation officers of all ranks in the 21 county probation departments. This increase of nearly 10% over the previous year raises the total number of officers to 806 (714 permanent status and 92 temporary status). The position with the largest percentage increase was Principal Probation Officer II (a supervisory assignment), adding 16 new positions and representing an increase of nearly 24%. The Probation Officer position (a field assignment) had the smallest increase at 6.7%; 28 new positions. More than 70% of the overall increase in officers of all ranks is represented by four counties:

Essex (20 positions), Union (14 positions), and Camden and Middlesex (9 positions each).

A 19% increase in Investigators resulted in the change from 115 positions in 1972 to 137 positions in 1973. This continued increase in Investigators allows the Probation Officer to engage in more of the professional functions of his position, resulting in overall increased efficiency in the probation system. The departments in Mercer, Ocean, and Warren were the only departments not utilizing the Investigator position.

Work Volume

The number of probation cases being supervised at the close of the 1972-1973 court year was 50,623, an increase of 1,534 or 3.1% from the previous year. Support and pay thru cases also increased totaling 83,744, which compares to 77,323 at the same period in the 1971-1972 court year; an increase of 8.3%.

The number of pre-sentence and predisposition investigations completed in adult and juvenile cases respectively, in the 1972-1973 court year totaled 30,747. This is a 3.8% increase over the total of 29,619 in the preceding year. Nine counties reported an increase over the previous year in these investigations, with Mercer having the highest increase at 127%; juvenile predisposition investigations accounting for the bulk of this increase. The other twelve counties had a decrease in pre-sentence and predisposition investigations with the average decrease being 14%.

Applying a weighted formula which rates one active probation supervision case as being equivalent to 1 work unit, one regular pre-sentence, predisposition or custody investigation at .417 units (this figure is derived by allocating 5 weighted units and dividing by 12 for a monthly figure) and one active pay-thru case at .1 units, an increase of 6.5% in the overall work volume is noted. In applying this formula an annual average of persons on probation is used. This figure is derived by adding those on probation beginning September 1, 1972 (the first four columns of Table B-2) to those remaining on probation on August 31, 1973 (the last four columns of Table B-2), and dividing the total by 2. This same process is applied to the first and last three columns of "Supervised Collections" (Table B-3) and multiplying by .1 as stated in the weighted formula. Investigation work units are determined by adding regular investigations (the first five columns of Table B-1) and multiplying by .417. The total of these three figures provides a measure to assess changes in the overall volume of work. The 6.5% increase in overall work volume contrasts with the 12% personnel increase, which includes officers and investigators.

Investigations data being reported for the first time includes: Bail/Release on Recognizance, Grand Jury, Work Release, Juvenile Detention Hearings and Public Defender Hearings. A zero in any of this data may, but does not necessarily, indicate that the county is not now involved in conducting investigations in the respective area. A few counties previously without a Bail/ROR program plan to initiate them in the next court year. The conducting of Grand Jury investigations by the probation services is not mandatory, but the service may be requested by the Assignment Judge; thus some counties conduct and report these investigations while others do not. Work Release programs can be administered by probation or by a County Work Release Administrator. This accounts for the fact that there are zeros listed in the appropriate column of some departments. Also, investigations associated with Juvenile Detention Hearings and Public Defender Hearings are limited in scope and their use varies from county to county. These investigations are usually in the form of a brief report.

Salaries and Expenses

In the 1972-1973 court year, the cost of operating the probation service increased more than 10% over the previous court year. Total appropriations in the counties amounted to $15,624,730, compared to $14,091,803 in the 1971-1972 court year. Increased appropriations in four counties - Mercer (22.2%), Middlesex (24%), Passaic (10.2%) and Union (24%) - account for almost 50% of the statewide increase in appropriations.

Salaries, the budget component that accounts for the bulk of the increase, represents 91.7% of the county appropriations. The remainder includes materials, supplies and services. Probation programs funded by the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency had combined budgets totaling $877,406 with 80.5% utilized for salaries and wages.

Support and Other Collections

The total amount of monies collected and disbursed by probation departments in 1972-1973 was $64,813,757. This is an increase of 12.7% over last year's $57,507,101. Support and alimony payments account for nearly 97% of these collections, as shown in Probation Table C-2, at more than $62 million.

Training

The Administrative Office conducts various on-the-job courses for probation personnel throughout the court year. During this court year 80 probation officers completed the Orientation course and 63 completed the advanced course in Skills and Methods. A Middle Management course, open to Principal Probation Officers II and Senior Probation Officers with supervisory responsibilities, was taken by 32 officers, and the Group Counseling course, which is for both field and supervisory personnel, was completed by 38 officers during the 1972-1973 court year.

Probation Research and Development

The Probation Research and Development Service continued its efforts in the improvement of probation through the completion of various projects and the development and planning of numerous specialized programs. This federally funded unit within the Administrative Office of the Courts undertook projects in areas relating to program implementation, development of standards, personnel analysis, information systems, departmental operations, and applied research and evaluation. Some specific projects include: (1) the review of the continually expanding volunteer probation programs; (2) the county by county review of Juvenile Conference Committees with selected membership characteristics; (3) the on-going personnel inventory of probation staff; (4) the development of a model administrative management system to be implemented in Morris County; (5) the development and implementation of a standardized monthly statistical reporting system; (6) the development of a monitoring mechanism for county Bail/ROR programs; and, (7) the provision of technical assistance to counties in program development and administrative and organizational improvement. Probation Research and Development, now in its third year, has continued to establish itself as a vital resource and facilitator for the improvement of probation services throughout the state.

Special Probation Projects

Probation Table D outlines the special projects that were in operation in the counties during the 1972-1973 court year. The use of volunteers continued to increase as an effective method of providing services to probationers, with nine counties having programs. Four counties operated federally funded Bail/ROR programs and three counties operated special juvenile projects. Hudson and Passaic counties continued their operation of diagnostic units which provide the Juvenile Court with comprehensive diagnostic evaluations, and Morris County continued a juvenile intake program which continued to draw the interest of other counties. A Job Bank in Bergen County addresses the problem of probationer unemployment through job development in the community and employment counseling for probationers. These programs are indicative of probation's response to the needs of those it serves. They offer encouragement in the immense task of improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the probation system.

REPORT OF THE
CENTRAL APPELLATE RESEARCH STAFF PROJECT

JULY 1, 1972 TO JUNE 30, 1973

As of June 30, 1973, the Appellate Staff project completed its first full year of operation. This Project was undertaken in July 1972 by the Administrative Office of the Courts on an experimental basis for two years to ascertain whether the Appellate Division of Superior Court could produce more without increasing the complement of judges.

One of the primary goals for the first fiscal year was to expedite appeals through increased productivity of judges by supplementing their resources through the use of a staff of research attorneys. As of May 31, 1973, 1846 cases had been decided. 232 of these were staff prepared. During the same time last year, 1537 cases had been decided. Thus, it would initially appear that the staff has helped production.

The staff originally projected that during the first year, it could complete 350-360 memoranda. As of June 30, 393 memoranda have been completed. This number has been reached even though the project was not fully staffed until October, 1972, and even though the staff has had some difficulty with sickness. Production has evened out at approximately 40 memoranda per month, so during the forthcoming year we are certain that we can produce a minimum of 480 memoranda. As the experience of the staff increases, production will increase as well, although this increase will level off.

Another stated purpose of the Appellate Justice Project on the national level was to experiment with the use of uniform statistics in the four participating states. By September 30, 1973, the New Jersey project had computed its statistics for the period ending June 30, 1973.

A copy of these statistics derived from the first year's operation is attached hereto. These statistics are extensive and revealing. The statistics in Table 1 reveal the total elapsed time between various points in the appellate process. The chart speaks for itself and indicates clearly that decisional delay in many instances is not the function of the backlog in Superior Court, Appellate Division, but rather the function of attorneys or of court reporters. Particularly significant, for example, are the statistics showing that in general transcripts of the trials are filed well beyond the time that they are due, i.e. 30 days after receipt of order. Also significant for this project is that in those cases which are staff processed, the time throughout the appellate process from the filing of the final brief is shorter than those cases which are not staff processed. This essentially proves one of the basic premises of the project, namely, that a staff can produce efficiencies at least in disposing of cases.

Table 2 is devoted to extension of time on appeal. While the median is only 30 days, which is approximately one month's extension of time, the Table does not indicate those cases in which no extension is sought, and the brief is merely filed late. The table also indicates that in more than one third of the total cases decided, extensions are sought.

Table 3 indicates the motions for new trials made. Even though the Rules of Court require that in certain kinds of cases a motion for a new trial must be made before specific grounds can be raised on appeal, the indication is that in the vast majority of cases no motion for a new trial is made.

Also of interest is Table 7 which deals with grounds asserted on appeal. A statistical study of this type had never been done before in this State. The chart sets forth in order of descending frequency the most common grounds raised on appeal. In contrast the percentage of reversal does not follow the frequency of the ground being raised on appeal. Of those categories which grounds are raised frequently, it appears that the most likely candidate for reversal in terms of grounds raised is the entry of a directed verdict or judgment as a matter of law. As to some grounds, it can be seen that reversals are rarely, if ever, granted.

*Criminal Sentence Reviewed Only - (Not included in totals) Included with Guilty Plea. It is recognized that there has been a small number of cases involving a jury for which the sole issue was sentence. These cases will be included in the sentence review category, but have been statistically counted in the designation "Criminal".

 Office of the Public Defender which has a separate Appellate Section.
 Thus if a case is handled by that office throughout, a different counsel will invariably handle the appeal although the same agency is involved.
