Preface

State Drug Resources: 1994 National Directory is a comprehensive guide to State agencies that address drug abuse concerns. Organized by State, the Directory provides agency names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Also included are listings of Federal agencies that people frequently ask for information, as well as several quick references to State agencies by area of specialty. The Directory was compiled by the Drugs & Crime Data Center & Clearinghouse, which is a national resource center for drug-related crime information.

Individuals seeking specific State-level drug data often do not know where to turn and may require several referrals before the correct office is found. It is hoped that this Directory will serve as a road map to the most appropriate source.

Following this introduction is a description of the functions and responsibilities of the types of State agencies listed for each State. The individual State listings that follow are organized alphabetically and give each agency's name, address, and telephone number. About 15 drug abuse, criminal justice, and policy offices are listed for each State. Although most States have at least one of each type of agency, some States do not. In those cases the category was not included in the State listings.

The State listings are followed by 14 appendixes that list federally sponsored drug control offices, national clearinghouses, national associations, and national drug abuse or criminal justice resources. Finally, as a quick reference, those drug control or statistical agencies common to each State have been assembled and listed alphabetically by State.

While great care was taken in compiling and proofreading the agency listings, the Data Center & Clearinghouse necessarily relied on national mailing lists that may contain errors or may become outdated. Users are urged to report any corrections to the clearinghouse on the form provided at the end of this Directory so that they can be reflected in subsequent editions.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) of the U.S. Department of Justice manages the Drugs & Crime Data Center & Clearinghouse, with partial funding from the Bureau of Justice Assistance, to support drug control policy research and development. Since 1987 the Data Center & Clearinghouse has responded to policymakers' needs for the most current data about—

- illegal drug trafficking
- drug-law violators
- drug-using offenders in the criminal justice system
- the impact of drugs on criminal justice administration.

The Data Center & Clearinghouse also coordinates with and refers callers to federally sponsored clearinghouses that address other drug-related issues such as the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention's National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information.

Data analysis and evaluation are performed primarily at the Research Triangle Institute in North Carolina. The Clearinghouse is located at Aspen Systems Corporation in Rockville, Maryland. To learn more about the Data Center & Clearinghouse or to obtain specific information, use the order form at the end of this Directory or call or write the drugs and-crime information specialists at:
