STATISTICAL HIGHLIGHTS AND TRENDS

Appellate Courts

1. In 1993, there were 1,997 filings (1,387 civil, 610 criminal) and 2,026 dispositions (1,399 civil, 627 criminal). Filings decreased by 85 or 4.3 percent while dispositions increased by one case from 1992. [Tables 2, 6, 8, and 12]
2. Since 1977, the number of filings in the appellate courts soared 62.2 percent (1,231 to 1,997); the number of filings per appellate judge jumped 51.1 percent (88 to 133). [Table 12]
3. There were 1,117 formal dispositions (795 civil, 322 criminal) in the appellate courts in 1993. By formal opinion, the supreme court disposed of 468 cases (302 civil, 166 criminal); the court of appeals handled 649 cases (493 civil, 156 criminal). The number of civil cases disposed of by formal opinion in the appellate courts decreased 3.4 percent (823 to 795) from 1992 to 1993; the number of criminal cases rose 7.0 percent (301 to 322). There were 898 appellate cases (593 civil, 305 criminal) terminated by order or other mode prior to submission to the court as compared to 889 dispositions of this kind in 1992. [Tables 3 and 9]
4. Excluding attorney disciplinary cases, in 1993, cases involving domestic relations (dissolutions and child custody) comprised 36.8 percent (293 of 796) of the formal appellate decisions in civil cases -- the largest single category of dispositions. The 103 tort cases comprised the second most numerous type of civil case followed by administrative law (92); contracts (88); and postconviction relief (81) cases. The number of attorney disciplinary cases disposed of by formal opinion decreased 43.8 percent (16 to 9) from 1992 to 1993. In 1991, there were 15 attorney disciplinary cases handled by formal opinion. [Tables 3 and 9]
5. The average appellate case terminated by formal opinion was decided approximately six and one-half months after it was ready for submission; the average elapse time from the filing of a notice of appeal to the time a case was ready for submission was about 6.8 months. Regular civil cases submitted to the supreme court in January 1994; were made ready in or before July 1993 -- a delay of six months. [Tables 5 and 11]
6. During 1993, the number of pending cases in the appellate courts increased 0.5 percent (1,439 to 1,447). The number of cases "ready" for disposition dropped 1.9 percent (587 to 576). (A "ready" case in this context is defined as any pending case in which all necessary papers have been filed; it includes cases which have been submitted to the court but not decided.) [Tables 4 and 8]

7. By formal opinion, the appellate courts affirmed the decision of the trial court over three-fourths of the time; about one out of seven district court filings were reversed and in the remaining cases the appellate courts rendered a mixed decision, partially affirming and reversing the trial court. The supreme court was more likely to reverse the trial court (19 percent) than the court of appeals (12 percent).
8. In 1993, the supreme court granted further review in 42 cases and denied further review in 281 instances. Since 1977, the supreme court has denied further review in 84.5 percent of the cases (3,517/4,162). [Table 10]
9. In 1993, the supreme court vacated the judgment of the court of appeals in 30 cases and affirmed 8 decisions. The reversal rate represents less than 5 percent of the 660 cases terminated by the court of appeals; in other words, in 95.5 percent of the cases decided by the court of appeals the rulings of that court were final.
10. Ninety-six percent of the formal rulings of the supreme court (451 of 468) and 84 percent of the opinions of the court of appeals (544 of 649) were decided by a unanimous vote of the court.

Trial Court

1. During the last 33 years, the number of civil filings escalated 155 percent (26,767 to 68,244) while the number of criminal filings skyrocketed 944.7 percent (7,260 to 75,844); the number of civil/criminal filings per district judge mushroomed 206.2 percent (466 to 1,427). [Appendix F] Iowa's population increased 3.0 percent (2,722,375 to 2,802,944) during this period.
2. Since 1960, the number of civil/criminal dispositions per district court judge jumped 116.6 percent (429 to 929). [Appendix H]
3. Since 1960, the number of juvenile petitions soared 328.3 percent (2,012 to 8,618). The number of probate cases opened rose 22.2 percent (17,248 to 21,070) since 1960. During 1993, the number of juvenile cases increased 11.0 percent (7,767 to 8,618), and the number of probate cases rose 4.5 percent from 1992. [Appendix F]
4. From 1992 to 1993, the number of petitions for termination of parental rights increased 2.0 percent (955 to 974); the number of hearings declined 5.3 percent (1,211 to 1,147). [Table 9]
5. Since 1974, the first calendar year after unification of the Iowa District Court, civil filings, criminal filings, and juvenile petitions have increased 88.4, 267.2, and 58.2 percent, respectively, while probate matters declined 7.0 percent. Similarly, the number of simple misdemeanors/scheduled violations jumped 42.1 percent (484,651 to 688,739) while the number of small claims petitions increased 1.9 percent (68,021 to 69,283). The 1993 figures show a

0.7 percent rise in the number of simple misdemeanor filings since 1992; small claims figures show a 2.5 increase. Scheduled violations increased 3.0 percent from 1992. [Appendices F and G and Table 16]

6. There were 430,593 scheduled violations (admissions) and 38,633 small claims (dismissals and defaults) handled by the district court clerks' offices in 1993 without judicial assistance. [Tables 15 and 16]
7. In 1993, only 340 of the 262,964 simple misdemeanors (0.1 percent) and 568 of the 29,409 small claims (1.9 percent) terminated by judicial officers were appealed to the district court. [Tables 5 and 6]
8. The number of search warrant applications increased 12.1 percent (1,894 to 2,123) and the number of seized property hearings rose 10.4 percent (651 to 719) since 1992. [Table 14(d)]
9. From 1992 to 1993, civil filings increased 7.7 percent (63,381 to 68,244); criminal filings jumped 5.0 percent (72,227 to 75,844). While the number of civil case dispositions increased 7.7 percent (62,652 to 67,448) from 1992 to 1993, the number of criminal cases terminated rose 6.8 percent (68,569 to 73,256). [Tables 2(a) and 3(a)]
10. In 1993, the average district judge handled 648 civil cases and 271 criminal cases; the average district associate judge disposed of 20 civil cases and 917 criminal cases. [Tables 2(d) and 3(d)]
11. In 1993, dissolutions and modifications (20,415), uniform support (9,348), and domestic abuse (2,677) filings accounted for 32,440 cases or 47.5 percent of all civil filings (68,244). Drunk driving (OWI) cases represented 22,440 of the 75,844 criminal filings or 29.6 percent of all criminal filings. There were 14,626 felony filings in 1993 -- up 622 cases or 4.4 percent from the 14,004 felony filings in 1992. [Tables 5 and 6]
12. The number of civil cases pending increased by 4.9 percent (36,156 to 37,937) from January 1, 1993, to December 31, 1993. The number of civil cases pending over 18 months increased 9.3 percent (3,921 to 4,286) statewide; in the 7th District only 1.5 percent of the civil cases exceeded 18 months. Statewide, the number of pending criminal cases rose 8.0 percent (31,976 to 34,537) during 1993; the number pending over 18 months rose 11.2 percent (5,426 to 6,036). [Appendices A and B]

I. APPELLATE COURTS

THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

The Supreme Court of Iowa is composed of nine justices. The chief justice is selected by a vote of the court and serves for the duration of his or her eight-year term of office. As of January 1, 1993, 101 persons have served on the supreme court since Iowa became a territory in 1838. Although the high court was composed of only three justices during the first 26 years, the general assembly increased the court's membership to four in 1864, to five in 1876, to six in 1894, to seven in 1913, to eight in 1927, and nine in 1929, as a result of rising case load.

At the end of 1993, the justices of the supreme court listed in order of seniority were: David Harris (Jefferson), Arthur A. McGiverin, Chief Justice, (Ottumwa), Jerry L. Larson (Harlan), James H. Carter (Cedar Rapids), Louis A. Lavorato (Des Moines), Linda K. Neuman (Le Claire), Bruce M. Snell, Jr. (Ida Grove), James H. Andreasen (Algona), and Marsha K. Ternus (Des Moines). (Justice Ternus commenced judicial service on September 7, 1993, replacing Justice Louis W. Schultz who retired September 5, and became a senior judge.)

Selection and Removal

The method of selecting justices to the Supreme Court of Iowa has changed several times since 1838. While the three territorial justices were appointed by the President of the United States, when Iowa became a state on December 28, 1846, the constitution provided for the selection of supreme court justices by a joint vote of both houses of the general assembly. Iowa's second constitution, adopted in 1857, reflected the mood of Jacksonian democracy and called for the popular election of judges. Finally, in 1962, Iowa voters ratified a constitutional amendment which removed judges from partisan elections and established a 15-member State Judicial Nominating Commission composed of seven laypersons appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate and seven attorneys elected by members of the Iowa bar. The supreme court justice with the longest service, other than the chief justice, chairs the commission. Whenever a vacancy occurs on the Supreme Court of Iowa, the commission nominates three individuals from whom the governor selects one. One year following initial appointment, and every eight years thereafter, supreme court justices stand for retention at the general election. Trial and appellate judges appointed after July 1, 1965, must retire by age 72; those appointed earlier may serve until their 75th birthday.

Procedures were established in 1975 for the discipline and removal of judges standing for retention election. The Commission on Judicial Qualifications may apply to the supreme court to retire, discipline or remove any justice, judge or magistrate. The commission is composed of a district court judge and two practicing attorneys appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court and four non-attorney electors appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate.

Jurisdiction

The supreme court stands at the apex of the Iowa judicial system. The court has general appellate jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases. The court also has original jurisdiction in such cases as reapportionment, bar discipline and the issuance of temporary injunctions. The supreme court has jurisdiction over all appeals from final judgments and from interlocutory orders. It also has the authority to grant writs of certiorari in cases where a district court is alleged to have exceeded its jurisdiction or otherwise acted illegally. A majority of cases handled by the supreme court are appeals from adverse final judgments in the trial court, the Iowa District Court. Except where the action involves an interest in real estate, no appeal shall be taken in any case where the amount in controversy, as shown by the pleadings, is less than $3,000 unless the trial judge certifies that the cause is one in which appeal should be allowed. In small claims actions, where the amount in controversy is $2,000 or less, the supreme court may exercise discretionary review in the following cases: (1) an order dismissing an arrest or search warrant; (2) an order suppressing or admitting evidence; (3) an order granting or denying a change of venue; and (4) a final judgment or order raising a question of law important to the judiciary and the profession. In cases where the defendant is the appellant or applicant, the supreme court may exercise discretionary review in the following cases: (1) an order suppressing or admitting evidence; (2) an order granting or denying a change of venue; (3) an order denying probation; (4) a simple misdemeanor or ordinance violation conviction; and (5) an order raising a question of law important to the judiciary and the profession. All other final judgments may be appealed to the supreme court as a matter of right. [See diagram of the Iowa judicial system on the next page.]

IOWA JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

January 1, 1994

The 1976 Session of the 66th General Assembly established a five-member court of appeals. (The Iowa Court of Appeals was increased to six members in 1983.) All cases continue to be appealed directly to the supreme court which transfers cases to the intermediate court. Supreme court justices in rotating three-member panels determine which cases to retain and which matters to route to the court of appeals. Pursuant to Rule 401, Rules of Appellate Procedure, the supreme court ordinarily shall hear (not transfer) cases involving: (1) substantial constitutional questions as to the validity of a statute, ordinance, court or administrative rule; (2) substantial issues in which there is or is claimed to be a conflict with a published decision of the court of appeals or supreme court; (3) substantial issues of first impression; (4) fundamental and urgent issues of board public importance requiring prompt or ultimate determination; and (5) lawyer discipline. The rule also authorizes summary disposition of certain cases by the supreme court and transfer to the court of appeals of cases involving the application of existing legal principles.

In addition to deciding cases, the supreme court is authorized to supervise the administration of justice and promulgate rules of procedure for the district court, determine the rules for admission and discipline of the bar, regulate a client security fund and program of mandatory continuing education for lawyers and judges, and adopt rules regulating appellate practice and procedure. In exercising its administrative and supervisory control over the trial court, the Supreme Court of Iowa appoints a chief judge in each of the eight judicial districts. The chief judges are responsible for overseeing all judges and magistrates within their jurisdictions. Together with the chief justice of the supreme court and the chief judge of the court of appeals, chief judges of the district court comprise the Iowa Judicial Council. The council is authorized to consider all court administrative rules, directives, and regulations necessary to provide for an efficient, orderly, and effective administration of justice in Iowa.

Administrative Office

Assisting the supreme court in its administrative, supervisory, and decision-making roles are the state court administrator, clerk of the supreme court, legal assistants, and various boards and commissions. The court administrator, clerk of supreme court and legal assistants serve at the pleasure of the court. The court administrator and staff have many statutory and administrative responsibilities including: managing the judicial department, screening cases for oral argument and case routing, writing case statements, gathering statistical data on judicial business at all levels, apportioning judicial magistrates among the counties, computing the district court judgeship formula, conducting educational programs for judicial officers and support staff, recommending improvements in the organization and operation of the judicial system, administering the judicial retirement system, handling fiscal and personnel matters, planning and budgeting for the judicial department, providing administrative assistance to various court-appointed committees, and attending to such matters as the supreme court may direct. The court administrator serves as the executive secretary for the Judicial Qualifications Commission and secretary to the State Judicial Nominating Commission; the court administrator is also a member of the Criminal and Juvenile Justice Planning Agency and the State Library Commission.

The clerk of the supreme court also serves as the clerk of the court of appeals. The clerk docket and monitors all cases appealed to the court, collects court fees, files legal briefs, and appendices, and records and files every opinion and order of the appellate courts. The clerk is responsible for the sale of court opinions, the administration of the biannual Iowa bar examination, and the election of attorney-members to the state and judicial election district nominating commissions. The clerk of the supreme court also collects and accounts for all fees associated with the state bar examination and the shorthand reporter examination and certification.

Boards and Commissions

In its role as supervisor of the Iowa bar, the supreme court appoints the members of the Board of Law Examiners and confirms as commissioners of the court the members of the Grievance Commission and the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct. In 1973, with the assistance of The Iowa State Bar Association, the court established the Client Security and Attorney Disciplinary System designed to prevent defalcations by members of the Iowa bar and provide for the payment of losses caused to the public by dishonest conduct of Iowa attorneys. The court appointed a seven-member commission to administer the fund resulting from an annual assessment imposed on attorneys. In 1975, the supreme court ordered that all Iowa lawyers and judges complete a minimum of 15 hours of continuing legal education each year. Effective January 15, 1988, a minimum of two hours every two calendar years shall be devoted exclusively to the area of legal ethics. A 12-member Commission on Continuing Legal Education exercises general supervisory authority over the administration of this rule.

On December 28, 1984, the Supreme Court of Iowa, upon petition of The Iowa State Bar Association, established an Interest on Lawyers' Trust Account program (IOLTA), effective July 1, 1985. Attorneys in Iowa are required to deposit clients' funds in interest-bearing trust accounts. However, under this program, sums that are too small or held for too short a time to cover the cost of maintaining the accounts are required to be deposited by attorneys into a pooled interest-bearing trust account. Any interest resulting from the pooled account is transmitted to the Lawyer Trust Account Commission, a seven-member body of both lawyers and laypersons appointed by the supreme court to administer the IOLTA program. Funds received in the IOLTA program are used primarily to assist in providing legal services to the poor in civil cases. Other public purposes related to improving the administration of justice also are eligible. The supreme court determines the actual allocation of IOLTA funds. As of January 1, 1994 IOLTA grants totaling over $7 million have been awarded.

The supreme court is responsible for promulgating rules of evidence, appellate, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate procedure. The court also is authorized to prescribe rules of evidence, pleading, practice, and procedure, and the forms of process, writs, and notices for all proceedings concerning hospitalization of mentally ill persons and chemical substance abuse. In exercising its rulemaking authority, the supreme court is assisted by several committees including: (1) the Supreme Court Committee on Rules of Civil Procedure; (2) the Advisory Committee on Rules of Criminal Procedure; (3) the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Iowa Rules of Evidence; (4) the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Rules of Juvenile Procedure; and (5) the Probate Rules Committee.

Court Reorganization

In recent years the administrative responsibilities of the state court administrator and supreme court have increased dramatically as the size of the judicial department has grown to approximately 1,829 employees. The 1983 Court Reorganization Act provided state funding for court support staff and a five-year implementation phase-in by functional area as follows: October 1, 1983 - jury fees and mileage; July 1, 1984 - court reporters and witness fees and mileage; January 1, 1985 - court attendants; July 1, 1985 - juvenile referees, juvenile court officers, and staff; July 1, 1986 - district court clerks and staff, probate referees, judicial hospitalization referees, and incidental judicial expenses; and July 1, 1987 - indigent defense costs. Court reorganization was completed in 1987. (In 1989, administrative responsibility for adult and juvenile indigent defense costs at the state level was transferred from the Iowa Judicial Department to the Department of Inspections and Appeals.)

The supreme court appointed advisory committees from different components joining the judicial department to assist the court in implementing a smooth transition. A personnel system and a "comparable worth" pay plan for all judicial employees has been established. The state court administrator is the public employer of court employees for purposes of public employment relations.

The supreme court also is assisted by eight chief judges and district court administrators who supervise judicial officers and employees in their respective districts. Although funding is now centralized, most of the day-to-day administration is done at the district level where budgets are developed and expenditures are monitored. The supreme court and staff review all budget requests, prepare a departmental budget, and present the budget request to the legislative branch. A budget summary is attached to the chief justice's annual "State of the Judiciary" message.

Budget

The 1993 Session of the 75th General Assembly appropriated $81,831,063 to finance the operation and administration of the Judicial Department for fiscal year ending June 30, 1994. This figure includes appropriations for the supreme court, court of appeals, state court administrator's office, district court administration, court-related boards and commissions, jury and witness fees, the salaries and travel expenses of all judicial officers, referees, and support staff, and the offices of district court clerks and juvenile court services.

The general fund appropriation for the Iowa Judicial Department represented less than 2.3 percent of the net State General Fund appropriation of $3,517.8 million for FY1994. The department's budget is summarized in the chart below

Work Load

During 1993, the Supreme Court of Iowa disposed of 468 cases by written opinion -- 293 civil, 166 criminal, and 9 disciplinary. [Table 1] As illustrated in the chart below, the number of formal opinions increased 6.3 percent (440 to 468) from 1992 to 1993. The fluctuation in the number of per curiam opinions during the last few years is primarily the result of the use of the fast-track decision process where by less complex cases are submitted without oral argument to rotating three-justice panels. Of the 231 per curiam opinions filed in 1993, 162 were handled by fast-track procedure.

Year	Signed Court Opinions	Unsigned Per Curiam Opinions	Total
1993	306	162	468
1992	240	200	440
1991	247	262	509
1990	249	162	411

As illustrated in Table 2, 90 percent of the cases (419 of 468) decided by formal opinion were appealed to the supreme court as a matter of right. There were 350 appeals from final judgments in the district court, 8 appeals from interlocutory rules, 43 postconviction appeals, 9 attorney disciplinary actions, and 6 cases by miscellaneous modes of review. The Supreme Court of Iowa exercised discretionary review in only 49 cases -- 36 cases appealed from the court of appeals, 12 original certiorari cases, and 1 case involving discretionary review of small claims.

Table 3 shows the most numerous types of civil cases disposed of by written opinion concerned administrative law (51), contracts (50), torts (46), and postconviction relief (46). Of the 166 criminal cases, 35 involved guilty pleas and or sentencing issues, exclusively.

In addition to writing 468 opinions during 1993, the nine supreme court justices registered 17 dissents and 6 special concurrences. Discounting fast-track cases, their opinions totaled 3,444 pages or 230 pages per judge on double-spaced, letter-size paper. Excluding fast-tracks, the average supreme court opinion was 7.9 pages in length. Ninety-six percent of the rulings (451 of 468) were approved by a unanimous vote of the justices.

Cases filed before the supreme court dropped 4.1 percent from 2,082 (1992) to 1,997 (1993). Since 1977, civil filings have soared 76.7 percent (785 to 1,387) while criminal cases have climbed 36.8 percent (446 to 610) for a combined total increase of 62.2 percent. [Table 12]

Table 4 indicates the number of civil and criminal cases "In Work," "Ready," "Assigned," and "Out-to-Judges" which were pending as of December 31, 1991, 1992, 1993. From December 31, 1991, to the end of 1993, the number of cases "In Work" increased 3.1 percent (845 to 871), the number of cases "Ready" for disposition increased 17.2 percent (227 to 266). The total number of pending cases increased by 97 cases (1,130 to 1,227) or 8.6 percent.

When the pending cases in both appellate courts are examined, figures show an overall increase of 0.6 percent (1,439 to 1,447) in the number of pending cases from December 31, 1992, to the end of 1993. Including cases assigned and submitted but not decided, the number of cases for disposition (i.e., all necessary papers filed) decreased 0.2 percent (587 to 576) during 1993.

As noted in Table 5, the average elapse time from "Ready" for submission to supreme court decision was 6.0 months in 1993. The processing time for civil, priority civil, and criminal cases in 1993 was 7.8, 3.9 and 3.9 months, respectively.

An examination of the direction of the supreme court decisions during 1993, indicates that 75 percent of the district court rulings were affirmed by the court, 19 percent were reversed, and 6 percent were mixed. (A "mixed" supreme court decision is defined as a ruling which both "affirms" and "modifies" or "reverses" parts of a district court ruling.) Sixty-one cases involving such matters as attorney disciplinary actions appeals from the court of appeals, and original jurisdiction matters were not classified or included in the disposition direction computation.

In addition to the 468 supreme court cases disposed of by formal opinion after submission to the court, 1,571 cases (1,109 civil and 462 criminal) were disposed of by court order, consolidation, dismissal by the clerk for failure to cure a default or by voluntary action by the parties involved. Table 6 shows 106 cases were dismissed by order of the supreme court; 230 orders were issued denying petitions for various types of review; 64 cases were dismissed by the clerk for failure to cure a default after notice; 347 cases were voluntarily withdrawn by the parties; 25 cases were consolidated; 673 cases were transferred by order of the supreme court to the court of appeals, and 110 were disposed of by other means. In total, 2,039 filings were disposed of by the supreme court in 1993. Excluding cases transferred to the court of appeals, the supreme court disposed of 1,366 appeals in 1993.

A significant amount of judge-time also was spent ruling on preliminary motions and applications, conducting hearings, and writing 3,893 orders which did not result in the disposal of a case. (The clerk's office issued an additional 2,485 nondispositive orders and 647 default notices.) Excluding orders transferring cases to the court of appeals, the number of dispositive and nondispositive orders issued by the supreme court and clerk's office since 1980 is illustrated on the next page.

In recent years, several major structural and procedural changes have contributed to the supreme court's ability to handle an increasing number of appeals. One important innovation has been the reinstatement of a practice prevalent from 1929-43; namely, hearing and deciding cases in divisions of five members. Instead of spending four days a month in court hearing oral arguments, each justice now spends two days hearing oral arguments. (During the monthly court week, Wednesday and sometimes part of Thursday morning, generally are reserved for conference and administrative matters.) Except in the most complex and controversial cases in which two or more justices request disposition en banc (by the full nine-member court), cases before the supreme court are decided by division. The drafts of all proposed opinions are circulated to the entire court. At any time prior to final approval of a proposed opinion, any two justices may request that a specific case be decided en banc. The appellate screening staff initially examines all cases and recommends to a three-justice screening panel whether a case should be submitted en banc or to a division; staff attorneys also recommend the amount of oral argument time, if any, which should be allotted to each case, and whether the case should be retained by the supreme court or transferred to the court of appeals.

As noted in Table 7, 437 of the 468 supreme court decisions were decided by a division or panel of the nine-member court. There were 293 cases decided by rotating panels of five justices; 162 cases were disposed of by three-justice fast-track panels. Only 6.6 percent of the cases disposed of in 1993 were decided by all nine justices sitting en banc.

In addition to using judicial panels to hear and decide cases, the court also has conserved time by reducing the number of cases permitted oral argument and limiting the amount of time each party can use in presenting its case. While before 1973 the court allowed 75 minutes to argue a case, today most oral arguments are limited to approximately 35 minutes. In 1993, over half of the cases were submitted to the supreme court without oral argument.

The number and percentage of appeals submitted to the supreme court without oral argument since 1981, are shown below.

Other factors playing crucial roles in alleviating some of the court's research and administrative burdens include: the research of legal assistants, the case statements, court orders, and screening recommendations drafted by the screening staff, and various administrative tasks performed by the state court administrator's office and staff, and the clerk's office.

THE IOWA COURT OF APPEALS

In 1976, the 66th General Assembly established a new five-member appellate court designated as the Iowa Court of Appeals; in 1983 a sixth member was added. The new court began hearing oral arguments and deciding cases in January 1977. During 1993, the members of the Iowa Court of Appeals listed in order of seniority were: Allen L. Donielson (Des Moines), Leo Oxberger, Chief Judge (Des Moines), Dick R. Schlegel (Ottumwa), Maynard J. V. Hayden (Indianola), Rosemary Shaw Sackett (Okoboji), and Albert L. Habhab (Fort Dodge).

In March, 1994, Chief Judge Leo Oxberger and Judge Richard R. Schlegel retired from the bench and became senior judges. Their vacancies were filled by District Judges Mark S. Cady of Fort Dodge and Terry L. Huitink of Ireton. On March 16, 1994, Judge Allen L. Donielson was elected by his colleagues as chief judge of the Iowa Court of Appeals.

The court of appeals is authorized to review all civil and criminal actions, postconviction remedy proceedings, small claims actions, writs, orders, and other processes transferred to it by the supreme court. The Iowa Court of Appeals hears only the cases transferred to it by the supreme court. All cases continue to be appealed directly to the supreme court.

Work Load

As indicated in Table 8, during 1993, the six-member court of appeals disposed of 660 cases -- 504 civil and 156 criminal. There were 56 per curiam opinions, 593 signed opinions, and 11 cases dismissed by order. Since the court of appeals was established in late 1976 and began deciding cases in 1977, it has disposed of 9,493 (7,141 civil and 2,352 criminal). There were 173 civil and 47 criminal cases pending before the court of appeals at the end of 1993.

The number and type of cases disposed of by formal written opinion are illustrated in Table 9. As noted in this table, the court of appeals disposed of 256 domestic relations cases (130 involving child custody), 97 tort cases, 41 administrative law matters, 38 contract cases, 35 postconviction relief cases, and 21 property matters. Thirteen of the 143 criminal cases disposed of involved exclusively sentencing or guilty plea issues.

Of the 638 cases classified by disposition, 459 or 71.9 percent were affirmed, 73 or 11.4 percent were reversed, and 106 or 16.6 percent were a combination of the two, modified or remanded only.

An overwhelming majority of the cases were heard and decided by a three-member division of the court. Only 41 of the 649 formal decisions or 6.3 percent were decided en banc by a vote of all six judges on the court.

During 1993, the supreme court considered 323 applications for further review and granted review in 42 cases or 13.0 percent of the applications. Of the 38 court of appeals rulings reviewed by the supreme court in 1993, 30 were vacated and 8 were affirmed.

The average delay from the time a case was "ready" for submission to "decision" by the court of appeals was 7.0 months, up from 5.9 the year before and over five months less than appellate delay in 1977, the court's first year of operation. [Table 11] In 1993, the average elapse time for non-priority civil cases was 9.4 months; the delay was 16.1 months in 1977.

Of the 649 cases submitted to the court of appeals in 1993, 292 or 45.0 percent were heard on the record without oral argument. Many of these cases were handled as fast-tracks.

On the average, each judge wrote 72 court opinions. Dissents were registered in only 105 of the 649 formal opinions or 16.2 percent of the rulings

Excluding fast-tracks, formal opinions totaled 4,963 pages, an average of 7.6 pages per case or 827 pages per judge, counting the title page. The number of opinion-pages was down 149 pages from the 1992 total of 5,112 pages. Opinions ranged in length from 2 to 35 pages on double-spaced, letter-size paper.

Of the 649 dispositions by formal opinion, 346 or 53.3 percent were appealed from eight counties: Polk (118), Black Hawk, (61), Scott (48), Linn (37), Woodbury (34), Pottawattamie (18) Johnson (18), and Dubuque (12). During 1993, the court of appeals decided cases from 87 of the 99 counties in Iowa.

Iowa Appellate Courts -- Statistical Summary

There were 1,997 cases -- 1,387 civil and 610 criminal -- filed in the supreme court in 1993 down from 2,082 in 1992. The number of appellate case filings from 1977 to 1993 is graphically illustrated in Table 12. Since 1977, civil filings have climbed 76.7 percent (785 to 1,387) while the number of criminal cases docketed has climbed 36.8 percent (446 to 610). In 1993, there were approximately 133 filings per appellate judge.

During 1993, the supreme court and the court of appeals disposed of 2,026 cases -- 1,399 civil (including 9 attorney disciplinary cases) and 627 criminal -- an increase of one case over 1992. Forty-three percent of the civil dispositions (604/1,399) and 49 percent of the criminal dispositions (305/627) were by order rather than formal opinion.

There were 1,447 cases pending (995 civil and 452 criminal) at the end of the year - an increase of 8 cases from the first of the year. The number of pending cases ready for disposition increased 0.2 percent (587 to 576) during 1993.

There were 1,117 dispositions by formal opinion -- 795 civil and 322 criminal. During 1993, the average case was decided about 13.5 months after it was docketed in the supreme court clerk's office. In the average case the parties required seven months to file the briefs, records, etc., and make the case ready for submission to the court; the elapse time from readiness to decision was six-seven months.

The largest category of civil cases handled at the appellate level by formal opinion was domestic relations -- 293 of 1,117 civil cases (excluding disciplinary cases) or 26.2 percent. The number and types of other civil cases decided by formal opinion in the appellate courts were as follows: torts, 103; administrative law, 92; contracts, 88; and postconviction relief, 81.

As illustrated below, in 1993 the supreme court disbarred or revoked the licenses of five attorneys, suspended the licenses of 31 lawyers, and reprimanded 19. Nine attorney disciplinary cases were disposed of by a formal opinion.

II. TRIAL COURT

THE IOWA DISTRICT COURT

The unified trial court, known as the "Iowa District Court," became operative July 1, 1973. The district court has general and original jurisdiction of all actions and proceedings, including probate and juvenile matters. Its jurisdiction is exercised by senior judges, district judges, district associate judges, alternate district associate judges, associate juvenile judges, associate probate judges, referees, and magistrates. The salary and travel expenses of all judges and magistrates are funded by the state.

The Unified Trial Court Act requires the clerks of the district court to furnish each magistrate, associate judge, or district judge acting as a magistrate, a docket in which to enter all proceedings within their jurisdiction, except those required to be docketed with the clerks and assigned to judicial officers for disposition. The chief judge of a judicial district is authorized to order criminal proceedings combined in a centralized docket.

Magistrates

The Unified Trial Court Act created and allotted 191 part-time magistrate positions to the 99 counties in the state, ranging from one to six per county. The original allotment remained in effect until June 30, 1975. Since that date, the state court administrator has apportioned magistrates among the counties.

A magistrate appointing commission selects the magistrates to fill positions allotted to the county. The person appointed must be an elector of the county and less than 72 years of age. In 1989, the magistrates' term of office was increased from two to four years. Although a license to practice law is not required, the commission must first consider licensed attorneys. In counties allotted only one such position, the appointing commission is authorized to appoint an additional magistrate and divide the statutory salary. (Adair and Ida Counties exercised this option in 1993.) The magistrate apportionment appears in Appendix E.

As amended, the Unified Trial Court Act authorizes any county or combination of counties with an allotment of three or more magistrate positions to appoint a district associate judge to substitute for three part-time magistrates. The substitution may not occur if it results in the lack of either a resident district associate judge or a magistrate in one or more of the counties. The substitution is made by order of the chief judge of the judicial district on the affirmative vote of a majority of the district judges in the judicial election district in which the county is located. District associate judges serving in lieu of magistrates are nominated, appointed, and retained in the same manner as regular district associate judges. As they also have the same qualifications, rights, salary, duties, responsibilities, authority, and jurisdiction as regular district associate judges, their work load is totally integrated in this report.

Jurisdiction

Magistrates have jurisdiction of the following:

1. Preliminary hearing cases. (Cases in which they act as committing magistrates on felonies and indictable misdemeanors.) [R.Cr.P. 2(4)(a)]
2. Nonindictable or simple misdemeanors, including traffic and ordinance violations. (A simple misdemeanor is a criminal offense in which the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or imprisonment for 30 days.)
3. County and city infractions.
4. Search warrant proceedings.
5. Emergency hospitalization proceedings. [§229.22, The Code]
6. Lost property actions. (These include issuing a warrant directing a peace officer to appoint appraisers to fix the value of vessels, rafts, logs and lumber which have been stopped or taken up and determining the ownership of other lost property.) [Chapter 644]

The above proceedings are all required to be entered in the docket furnished to them by the clerk or in the centralized docket for the county, if one is ordered to be maintained by the chief judge of the judicial district

7. Small claims. (A small claim includes: (1) a civil action for a money judgment where the amount in controversy is $2,000 or less, exclusive of interest and costs, (2) an action for forcible entry and detainer where no question of title to the property is involved, and (3) an action of replevin where the value of the property claimed is $2,000 or less.)

The clerk of the district court is required to maintain the docket for small claims actions. If the action is one for money judgment and it is not disposed of by the clerk through entry of a confession of judgment, default judgment or a voluntary dismissal, it must be assigned to a judicial officer having jurisdiction of such actions. This is done by delivering the original notice first filed with the clerk to the officer. If it is an action for forcible entry and detainer, the appearance is required before the judicial officer who must handle the entire proceeding, including an order for the issuance of a writ of eviction if the plaintiff prevails. Again, the assignment is perfected by the clerk delivering the original notice first filed and all papers in the case to the judicial officer.

The record of all actions taken by the judicial officer in either type of small claims proceeding, including notes of testimony and judgment entry, is made on the original notice to which exhibits, if any, are attached and returned to the clerk. It serves as a calendar sheet from which the clerk makes proper entries in the small claims docket and on the lien index. Small claims actions are not entered in the docket furnished to judicial officers by the clerk or in the centralized docket used for criminal proceedings.

District Associate Judges

The original act provided for 30 magistrates required to devote full time to their position. One to four positions were authorized to counties in four population categories ranging from 35,000 to over 200,000. The 25 municipal court judges holding office June 30, 1973, became district associate judges and satisfied the retirement of a regular full-time magistrate in the county of their residence. Upon the death, resignation, retirement, removal or nonretention of a district associate judge, a full-time magistrate was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Effective January 1, 1981, full-time magistrates were renamed district associate judges. District associate judges serve four-year terms and stand for retention in office in their judicial election district the same as district judges.

In counties having only one district associate judge, the county magistrate appointing commission is authorized to appoint an alternate district associate judge to act in the temporary absence of a district associate judge. Such alternate is paid on a per diem basis by the state for days of actual service rendered. In 1993, an alternate district associate judge served in Dickinson, Jasper, Marshall, Marion, Warren, Sioux, and Palo Alto Counties.

The number of district associate judges by judicial election district and county is illustrated below.

Jurisdiction

District associate judges have the same jurisdiction as judicial magistrates. In addition, they have jurisdiction of:

1. civil actions for money judgments where the amount in controversy does not exceed $5,000;
2. indictable (serious and aggravated) misdemeanors;
3. felony violations of §321.281 (operating while intoxicated -- OWI); and
4. juvenile cases when designated as a judge of the juvenile court by the chief judge of the judicial district.

While exercising such additional jurisdiction, district associate judges are required to employ district judges' practice and procedure.

Trial by Jury and Appeal Provisions

A defendant charged with a nonindictable or simple misdemeanor is entitled to a trial by a six-member jury if he or she files a written jury demand at least ten days before the time set for trial. Failure to make such demand constitutes a waiver of jury. The plaintiff may appeal only upon a finding of invalidity of an ordinance or statute and the defendant only upon a judgment of conviction. All simple misdemeanor appeals from a decision of a magistrate shall be on the record. Either party may appeal from the judgment of the district judge to the supreme court in the same manner as from a judgment in a prosecution by indictment.

A small claims action is tried before the judicial officer to whom it is assigned without the right to a jury. Either party may appeal to a district court judge who is required to hear the matter on the record. If it appears the trial record is incomplete, the district court judge may take additional testimony and evidence. The right of either party to appeal from the judgment of the district judge is entirely within the discretionary power of the supreme court.

District Court Judges

In January 1993, there were 101 district judges in Iowa. Under the judgeship formula computed in February, 1993, 107 judgeships were authorized. However, because of the statutory freeze on the number of judgeships the vacancies could not be filled. Twenty-four additional judgeships were authorized, but not filled, by February 1994 application of the judgeship formula. The 1993 and 1994 applications of the formula appear at pages 36 and 37 of this report.

For purposes of administration and ordinary judicial functions, the state is divided into eight judicial districts. [Appendix D] The state is further divided into 14 judicial election districts for purposes stated in the footnote to the map appearing on page 34. The population spread per judge ranged from 25,004 in the 8th District to 31,105 in the 6th. [Appendix C]

Jurisdiction

District judges possess the full jurisdiction of the trial court, including the jurisdiction of magistrates. While exercising the latter, they are required to employ the practice and procedure for magistrates. Under the Iowa Probate Code they are the only judges sitting in probate.

Senior Judges

Effective July 1, 1979, the 68th General Assembly established a senior judge program whereby retired supreme court justices, court of appeals judges, district court judges, and district associate judges who qualify agree to work up to 13 weeks per year until age 78. A senior judge may not practice law.

While serving on temporary assignment, a senior judge is paid no salary but continues to receive monthly judicial retirement annuities. The senior judge program provides a hedge against inflation by mandating an increase in judicial annuity whenever the current salary of active judges is raised. There is no provision for an increase in judicial annuity for judges who do not participate in the senior judge program.

During 1993, 26 senior judges served in the Iowa judicial branch including: one supreme court justice - Louis W. Schultz, one chief judge - Roger F. Peterson, 18 district judges Dennis D. Damsgaard, Forest E. Eastman, Murray S. Underwood, Harold J. Swailes, William S. Cahill, Theodore H. Miller, Harry Perkins, Jack W. Frye, Peter Van Metre, Margaret S. Briles, Newt Draheim, Joseph C. Keefe, Ralph McCartney, M. D. Seiser, Max Werling, Richard A. Strickler, Leonard D. Lybbert, and Anthony M. Critelli - and six district associate judges - Frank D. Gilloon, John M. Fachman, Louis A. Anania, L. M. Goldblatt, I. Joel Pasternak, and Jack F. Broderick. Judges Louis W. Schultz, Richard A. Strickler, Roger F. Peterson, Leonard D. Lybbert, Anthony M. Critelli, and Jack F. Broderick commenced service while Judges W. Ward Reynoldson and Paul H. Sulhoff concluded their tenure as senior judges in 1993.

Clerks of District Court

The clerk's office in the 99 counties performed two important functions during 1993 which reduced the work load of the judicial officers in each county. These were:

1. Kept the small claims docket and through the entry of confessions of judgment, default judgments, and voluntary dismissals in actions for money judgment, avoided the necessity of assigning many such cases to judicial officers. [Tables 12(d), 14(e) and 15]
2. Maintained a traffic and scheduled violations office where violations issued on a uniform citation and complaint could be admitted and disposed of upon payment of the minimum fine, surcharge, and costs. [Table 16]

IOWA'S EIGHT JUDICIAL DISTRICTS AND 14 JUDICIAL ELECTION DISTRICTS*

* Judicial election districts are established for the purpose of nomination, appointment, and election of district judges, application of the judgeship formula, and appointment and election of district associate judges.

Judgeship Formula

The judgeship formula gives equal weight to population and filings. The formula authorizes one judge for every 550 combined civil and criminal filings (3-year average) in judicial election districts having a city of 50,000 or more population and one judge for every 450 such filings in districts not having a city that large. The population factor allows one judge for every 40,000 residents. There is a statutory cap of 101 on the number of district judges authorized, irrespective of the application of the formula.

Application of the judgeship formula for 1992 and 1993, respectively, is illustrated by the tables that follow.

ANALYSIS OF STATISTICS

Regular Civil and Criminal Cases

For the purpose of the following discussion, regular civil cases include all law, equity, and special proceedings docketed in the office of the clerk except in the small claims docket. An appeal from a decision of a judicial magistrate in a small claims action also is considered a regular civil case.

Regular criminal cases include all felony and indictable misdemeanors (serious and aggravated). A felony is a public offense which is, or in the discretion of the court may be, punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary, men's reformatory or women's reformatory. An indictable misdemeanor is a public offense, less than a felony, in which the punishment exceeds a fine of $100 or imprisonment for more than 30 days in the county jail. An appeal from a decision or verdict in a nonindictable or simple misdemeanor case becomes a regular criminal case when docketed by the clerk as a regular criminal action.

A total of 144,088 regular civil and criminal cases were docketed in the clerks' offices during 1993. This was a 6.3 percent increase from the 135,608 civil and criminal cases docketed in 1992. A comparison of cases docketed for 1992 and 1993 reveals that civil filings increased 7.7 percent (63,381 to 68,244); criminal filings jumped 5.0 percent (72,227 to 75,844).

A number of regular civil cases and indictable misdemeanors filed in district court were assigned to district associate judges for disposition. The total number of regular civil and indictable criminal dispositions by district and district associate judges in 1993 was 139,719 -- an increase of 7.1 percent from 130,404 cases disposed of in 1992. There were 4,369 more cases pending December 31, 1993 than on January 1 of that year; the number of pending cases increased in all but the 1st and 7th Districts. [Tables 1, 2(a) and 3(a)]

District Judges' Activities

During 1993, district court judges disposed of 65,478 regular civil cases: 551 or 0.8 percent by trial to jury, 12,514 or 19.1 percent by trial to court, and 52,413 or 80.0 percent without trial. The number of civil dispositions per judge ranged from 558 in the 3rd District to 799 in the 7th. Statewide, there were 648 civil dispositions per district court judge, up from 612 in 1992. [Tables 2(a), (b) and (d)]

During 1993, district judges disposed of 27,404 regular criminal cases: 788 or 2.9 percent by trial to jury, 2,651 or 9.7 percent by trial to court, and 23,965 or 87.5 percent without trial. The number of criminal dispositions per judge ranged from 111 in the 8th District to 338 in the 4th. Statewide, there were 271 criminal dispositions per district court judge. [Tables 3(a), (b) and (d)]

The average number of civil and criminal cases disposed of per judge, with the rank of each district, is shown on Table 4. The 4th District recorded the highest number of civil/criminal dispositions per judge (1,065) while the 8th District had the lowest number of dispositions per judge (711).

District Associate Judges' Activities

There were 978 regular civil cases assigned to district associate judges during 1993 -- a 11.8 percent increase from 875 cases assigned in 1992. During 1993; the judges of limited jurisdiction disposed of 985 regular civil cases, one or 0.1 percent by jury trial, 130 or 13.2 percent trial to court, and 854 or 86.7 percent without trial. On a per judge basis, dispositions ranged from 0 in the 4th and 5th Districts to 346 in the 3rd. [Tables 2(a), (c) and (d)]

During 1993, 47,233 regular criminal cases (indictable misdemeanors and simple misdemeanors on appeal) were assigned to district associate judges as compared to 41,849 assigned to such judicial officers in 1992. Of the 45,852 criminal cases disposed of by district associate judges in 1993, 309 or 0.7 percent were resolved by trial to jury, 1,132 or 2.5 percent by trial to court, and 44,411 or 96.9 percent without trial. On a per judge basis, dispositions ranged from 640 in the 4th District to 1,074 in the 6th. [Tables 3(a), (c) and (d)]

Civil and Criminal Filings by Case Type

Dissolution filings (and modifications) represented 29.9 percent (20,415) of the 68,244 civil cases docketed in the district court in 1993. [Table 5] These cases, combined with other actions involving domestic relations such as child support recovery (9,348) and domestic abuse (2,677), accounted for about one-half (47.5 percent) of all civil cases filed in the district court.

Table 5 also shows that 568 (1.9 percent) of the 29,409 small claims rulings by judicial officers of limited jurisdiction were appealed on the record to the district court, pursuant to Iowa §631.13. Such appeals comprised 0.8 percent of the civil case filings.

In the criminal area, the 21,265 first and second offense drunken driver cases (OWI -- operating while intoxicated) represented 34.9 percent of the indictable misdemeanor filings and 28.0 percent of all the regular criminal cases, i.e., felonies, indictable misdemeanors (serious and aggravated), and simple misdemeanors on appeal. [Table 6]

The 14,626 felony filings represented 19.3 percent of the 75,844 criminal cases docketed. Only 0.1 of one percent (340) of the 262,964 simple misdemeanors handled by district associate judges and magistrates were appealed to the district court for a new trial, pursuant to rule 54, Rules of Criminal Procedure. Such appeals comprised 0.4 percent of the criminal filings.

Pending Regular Civil and Criminal Cases

Of the 37,937 regular civil cases pending at the end of the year 4,286 or 11.3 percent were over 18 months old. During 1993, the number of civil cases pending over 18 months increased by 365 or 9.3 percent. [Appendix A] The proportion of pending civil cases over 18 months old ranged from 1.5 percent in the 7th District to 18.5 percent in the 3rd. In all of the eight districts there were more civil cases pending at the end of the year than at the beginning. Statewide, the number of civil cases pending increased 4.9 percent (36,156 to 37,937).

There were 2,588 more criminal cases pending on December 31, 1993, than on January 1. Of the 34,537 regular criminal cases pending at the end of 1993, 17.5 percent (6,036) were over 18 months old and 40.3 percent (13,928) had been pending 3 to 18 months. [Appendix B] The 2nd District had the largest percentage of cases pending over 18 months (30.9 percent); the 5th District had the lowest percentage of criminal cases pending over 18 months (3.1 percent).

Probate Matters

The district judges exercise the probate jurisdiction of the unified trial court. There were 769 trusteeships opened in 1993 -- down 1.4 percent from the previous year. [Table 7(a)] The number of trusteeships opened ranged from 41 in the 4th District to 151 in the 2nd. During 1993, 3,269 guardianships and conservatorships were opened -- down 4.4 percent from 1992; the number of cases ranged from 272 in the 7th to 703 in the 5th. Some 16,420 decedent estates were opened in 1993 -- an increase of 451 or 2.8 percent. The number of estates opened varied from 1,021 in the 4th District to 3,348 in the 2nd. Statewide, there were 5 jury trials and 607 trials to court in contested probate matters. [Table 7(a)]

Of the 14,818 estates closed during 1993, 60.1 percent were closed within one year, 32.3 percent from 1-3 years, and 7.6 percent after three years. In 1993, 66.3 percent of the estates were settled within one year in the 1st District. [Table 7(b)] The number of decedents' estates closed during 1993 was 1,602 less than the number of new estates opened. [Tables 7(a) and (b)]

Juvenile Matters

Juvenile matters are heard by district judges, associate juvenile judges, and district associate judges designated by the chief judge of the judicial district to act as judges of the juvenile court. There were 8,618 juvenile petitions filed in the district court clerks' offices during 1993 -- 851 petitions more than in 1992. [Table 8(a)] Juvenile petitions were classified into four general categories: delinquency (5,372), child in need of assistance or CHINA (3,224), family in need of assistance or FINA (12) and interstate compacts or extradition (10). Half of the FINA petitions were filed in the 5th District.

The number and type of formal hearings in juvenile matters are illustrated in Table 8(b). Figures show there were 5,294 adjudication hearings, 6,037 disposition hearings, 8,965 review hearings, 2,534 shelter/detention hearings, and 6,131 other hearings, for a grand total of 28,961 -- down 855 from 1992. Over 40 percent of the juvenile hearings were handled by district associate judges, 47.6 percent were conducted by associate juvenile judges, and 7.5 percent by district judges.

Termination of Parental Rights

For statistical purposes, termination of parental rights cases were separated from regular juvenile matters involving delinquent children and minors or families in need of assistance. As indicated in Table 9, there were 974 petitions for termination of parental rights filed in the district court during 1993 -- an increase of 19 cases from 1992. One-third of the petitions (324) involved involuntary or contested proceedings. The largest number of termination cases (233) were docketed in the 5th District; the fewest petitions (49) were filed in the 4th District. There were 1,147 formal hearings held on these matters -- down 64 or 5.3 percent from 1992.

Hospitalization Hearings

Table 10 shows the number and type of hospitalization hearings. There were 6,327 hospitalization hearings in Iowa during 1993 -- 435 involuntary minor, 2,822 involuntary adult, 1,683 emergency, and 1,387 substance abuse. Nearly seventy percent of the hearings were held by judicial hospitalization referees.

General Activities of District Associate Judge

Other than regular civil and criminal cases, termination of parental rights, and juvenile matters discussed above, a total of 182,611 cases were docketed or assigned and 181,343 cases were disposed of by the 50 associate judges during 1993. There were 22,877 pending at the end of the year. The number of cases docketed and assigned ranged from 5,833 in the 7th District to 61,007 in the 5th. The total number of simple misdemeanor and small claims cases pending at the end of the year varied from 69 in the 7th District to 7,195 in the 5th. The number of each type of case filed, terminated, and pending during 1993 appears in Tables 12(a) through 12(d).

As committing magistrates for indictable offenses, district associate judges conducted 52,345 initial appearance proceedings and 443 preliminary hearings in indictable criminal cases, pursuant to rule 2, Rules of Criminal Procedure. [Table 12(a)] Thirty-two percent of the initial appearances were held in the 5th District; 77 percent of the preliminary hearings by associate judges occurred in the 5th and 8th Districts.

There were 12,545 nonindictable state cases (simple misdemeanors) carried over from 1992. During 1993, 67,496 were docketed as compared to 60,317 in 1992. Of the 66,663 state cases terminated during 1993, the judges disposed of 43 or less than 0.6 percent by trial to jury, 3,131 or 4.7 percent by trial to court and 63,489 or 95.2 percent without trial. The number of simple misdemeanor state cases pending at the end of 1993 (13,378) was 833 more than the number pending at the beginning of the year. During 1993, the associate judges of the 5th District had by far the largest number of nonindictable state cases docketed and terminated. [Table 12(b)]

Some 8,804 simple misdemeanor ordinance cases were pending from 1992. During 1993, 44,176 were docketed and 43,391 were disposed of: 13 or less than 0.03 percent by trial to jury, 1,998 or 4.6 percent by trial to court, and 41,380 or 95.4 percent without trial. The number of pending cases increased 8.9 percent from 8,804 to 9,589. [Table 12(c)]

During 1993, district associate judges entertained 773 search warrant applications and conducted 440 seized property hearings. Over three-fourths of the applications for search warrants handled by district associate judges occurred in the 5th, 6th, and 7th Districts; 32 percent of the seized property hearings occurred in the 1st District. [Table 14(d)]

There were 16,702 small claims assigned and 16,601 cases terminated by associate judges during 1993. [Table 12(d)] The judges resolved 5,425 or 32.7 percent by trial to the court and 11,176 or 67.3 percent without trial. Of those disposed of without trial, 9,792 or 59.0 percent were defaulted and 1,384 or 8.3 percent were either dismissed or transferred. Nearly half of the small claims cases handled by such judges were assigned and disposed of in the 5th District.

District associate judges also disposed of 724 civil infractions in 1993. [Table 12(d)]

Magistrates

In 1993, 231,277 cases were docketed or assigned to 135 magistrates; they disposed of 237,461 or 1,759 cases per magistrate. [Table 13] The number of dispositions per magistrate ranged from 962 (5th District) to 2,560 (1st District). Nearly 20 percent of the cases pending at the end of the year were in the 1st District. (Note: Judicial districts vary in population from 183,504 (4th) to 565,391 (5th) and in the number of magistrates from 13 (6th and 7th) to 32 (2nd).)

As shown in Table 14(a), there were 26,206 initial appearances and 518 preliminary hearings conducted by magistrates in indictable criminal case. While the largest number of preliminary hearings were in the 2nd District. Magistrates in the 4th and 5th Districts had the fewest number of initial appearances. Magistrates in the 7th and 1st Districts had the smallest number of preliminary hearings.

There were 107,502 nonindictable state cases (simple misdemeanors) docketed before magistrates in 1993. [Table 14(b)] The magistrates disposed of 107,963 cases -- 80 or less than 0.01 percent by trial to jury, 8,125 or 7.5 percent by trial to court, and 99,758 or 92.4 percent without trial. The 5th District had the most jury trials (16) while the 3rd District reported the least (2). There were 21,827 nonindictable state cases docketed in the 2nd District; only 8,180 were docketed before magistrates in the 4th District.

Statistics on nonindictable ordinance cases disclose that 39,223 cases were docketed, 44,947 were disposed, and 10,961 were still pending on December 31, 1993. Ninety-five percent of the ordinance cases were disposed of without a contested trial to a judge or jury. The 17 magistrates in the 1st District handled 18,821 ordinance cases or 41.9 percent of the state total. [Table 14(c)]

Overall, magistrates terminated 152,910 simple misdemeanors in 1993 compared to 149,251 in 1992.

Magistrates entertained 942 applications for search warrants and conducted 121 seized property hearings. [Table 14(d)] There were 983 search warrant applications and 142 seized property hearings before magistrates in 1992.

Statewide, for all judicial officers, the number of search warrant applications increased 12.1 percent (1,894 to 2,123); the number of seized property hearings dropped 10.4 percent (651 to 719) since 1992. Magistrates in the 2nd and 8th Districts received the largest number of search warrant applications; those in the 8th District conducted the most seized property hearings. Considering the work of all judicial officers on these matters, the highest volume of applications for search warrants was in the 5th District; the 1st District had the largest number of seized property hearings.

As shown on Table 14(e), magistrates disposed of 12,808 small claims cases in 1993. Fifty-eight percent (7,486) of the small claims were tried before the court; the remaining 5,322 cases (4,077 defaults and 1,245 dismissals or transfers) were disposed of without a trial. The 7th District had the largest number of small claims assigned to magistrates (3,696), tried to court (1,983), and pending (213) before magistrates at the end of the year.

Magistrates handled 973 civil infractions - 145 county infractions and 828 city infractions. [Table 14(e)]

District Court Clerks

The 99 clerks of the district court played an important role not only in record keeping but in the handling of small claims (dismissals and defaults) and scheduled violations. As noted above, under the Unified Trial Court Act, district court clerks are authorized to docket and assign small claims and enter dismissals and defaults. Cases involving forcible entry and detainer must be handled by a judge.

District court clerks also are responsible for handling scheduled violations in which the defendant mails in or delivers his or her admission, scheduled fine, surcharge, and court cost to the clerk's scheduled violations office before the time specified on the citation and complaint for court appearance. In addition, clerks are the custodians of collection boxes used at weigh stations for the deposit of fines and costs in cases involving weight and other non-moving scheduled violations of commercial carriers.

Table 15 shows that more small claims were disposed of by clerks (38,633) than judges (29,409). While clerks in the 3rd District took care of over three-fourths of the small claims terminated in their district, in the 5th District they handled only 43 percent of the small claims dispositions. Overall, 57 percent of the small claims were disposed of by district court clerks.

As noted in Table 16, the district court clerks disposed of 430,593 scheduled violations without the attention or assistance of any judicial officer -- 13,030 less than the number processed by clerks in 1992. On the average, a district court clerk disposed of 4,349 scheduled violations in 1993. The number of scheduled violations ranged from 622 in Keokuk County to 27,347 in Polk County.

Summary of Trial Court Statistics

There were 68,244 regular civil cases (over $2,000 and small claims on appeal) and 75,844 regular criminal cases (indictable misdemeanors, felonies, and simple misdemeanors on appeal) filed in the district court during 1993. This represented a 7.7 percent increase in civil filings and a 5.0 percent jump in criminal filings since 1992. [Appendix F]

There was a total of 139,719 civil/criminal dispositions in 1993. The number of civil cases terminated increased by 4,628 or 7.5 percent (61,835 to 66,463); the number of criminal dispositions jumped 6.8 percent (68,569 to 73,256) from 1992 figures. [Tables 5 and 6] There were 552 jury trials and 12,644 court trials of civil cases; in criminal matters there were 788 jury trials and 2,651 court trials. Statistics show that 80.1 percent of the civil cases and 87.5 percent of the criminal cases were disposed of without trial. [Tables 2(b), 2(c), 3(b), and 3(c)]

There were 37,937 civil cases pending at the end of 1993 compared with 36,156 on January 1 -- an increase of 1,781 or 4.9 percent. The number of pending criminal cases increased 8.1 percent (31,949 to 34,537). Of the cases pending statewide, 30 percent of the civil cases and 42 percent of the criminal cases were pending three months or less; 11 percent of the civil cases and 18 percent of the criminal cases were over 18 months old. The 5th District had the lowest percentage of civil and criminal cases pending over 18 months. [Appendices A and B]

In 1993, there were 920 civil/criminal dispositions per district judge -- 30 more than in 1992. [Appendix H] District court judges in the 4th District had the highest rate of civil/criminal dispositions per judge (1,065). [Table 4]

A review of the types of cases docketed in the district court shows that 47.5 percent of the 68,244 civil filings involved domestic relations -- dissolutions and modifications (20,415), uniform support actions (9,348), and domestic abuse (2,677). [Table 5] Parenthetically, the largest category of criminal cases was first and second offense OWI (operating while intoxicated). OWI's comprised 29.6 percent or 22,440 of the 75,844 criminal filings. [Table 6] Appeals of simple misdemeanors (340) and small claims appeals (568) represented only 0.4 percent of the criminal filings and 0.8 percent of the civil filings, respectively. Statistically, only 0.1 percent of the 262,964 simple misdemeanors and 1.9 percent of the 29,409 small claims cases disposed of by judicial officers were appealed to the district court for a second ruling.

The number of probate matters opened rose 1.4 percent (20,170 to 20,449) during 1993; there were 769 trusteeships, 3,269 guardianships and conservatorships, and 16,420 estates. Corresponding figures for 1992 were 780, 3,269 and 15,969, respectively. The number of estates closed decreased 3.0 percent from 15,280 to 14,818; 60 percent of the estates were closed within a one-year period.

There was a 11.0 percent increase in the number of juvenile petitions filed (7,767 to 8,618) compared with 1992 figures; the number of formal juvenile hearings dropped 2.9 percent (29,816 to 28,961). Approximately 47.6 percent of the juvenile hearings were conducted by associate juvenile judges; 44.9 percent were handled by district associate judges; and 7.5 percent were heard by district judges. In addition to the regular juvenile cases, there were 974 petitions and 1,147 formal hearings involving termination of parental rights; there were 955 and 1,211 matters the previous year.

The average district judge terminated 920 regular civil/criminal cases and tried 163 contested civil/criminal cases during 1993. The average district associate judge terminated 937 civil/criminal cases and tried 31 contested civil/criminal matters.

There were 262,964 nonindictable state and ordinance cases disposed of in 1993 -- down 3.6 percent from the number (253,704) handled in 1992. Ninety-four percent of the simple misdemeanor cases were disposed of without a contested trial. Judicial officers held 55,583 initial appearances in indictable criminal cases, conducted 961 preliminary hearings, entertained 2,123 applications for search warrants, conducted 719 seized property hearings, handled 1,697 civil infractions, and held 6,327 hospitalization hearings. Judicial officers disposed of 29,409 small claims actions while the clerks of the district court handled 38,633. There were 430,593 scheduled violations processed in the clerks' offices.

<sup>c</sup> Figures in this column show the number of magistrate positions apportioned among the counties as provided in Iowa Code §602.6401. See footnote <sup>a</sup>, Table 2(a) for counties substituting district associate judges in lieu of magistrates and Appendix E for the 1989 allocation of magistrates. The 1993 activity of the 19 district associate judges substituting for magistrates is included in the work load of regular district associate judges as illustrated in Table 11 rather than the business of magistrates presented in this table.

<sup>d</sup> For purposes of this table, all search warrant applications, seized property hearings, preliminary hearings, initial appearances, and hospitalization hearings docketed in 1993 were considered disposed of by the end of the year. Pending figures refer only to small claims and simple misdemeanors (nonindictable state and ordinance cases).
