Cover: The former Supreme Court Building located at 400 Royal Street was completed in 1908 to house the Louisiana Supreme Court, the State Law Library, the Attorney General's Office, the Courts of Appeal, the Civil and City Courts, as well as several City and State governmental agencies. For half a century this imposing building in the center of the Vieux Carre was the seat of judicial functions. In 1958 the courts and other agencies were moved to the government complex on Loyola Avenue. The Courts building became the property of the State of Louisiana and was gradually relegated to a series of temporary and makeshift uses.

Now, following years of planning, restoration has begun on the historic old building and it is anticipated that the building will once again house the Louisiana Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal, Law Library and Attorney General.

In keeping with the renewed interest in the Court's history, a group of judges, attorneys and historians formed the Supreme Court of Louisiana Historical Society for the purpose of fostering the study and appreciation of Louisiana's unique legal heritage. Its mission is "to preserve the history of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, to research, publish and create items and materials of historical interest regarding the said Court, and to make the results of its research, published materials, and other items of historical interest available for educational purposes."

The Judicial Council

New Judgeship for the Twenty-Third Judicial District Court

The Committee to Evaluate Requests for New Judgeships, chaired by Judge Charles R. Scott, received six requests for new judgeships in 1993; following preliminary investigation, three of the requests were withdrawn. Members of the Committee to Evaluate Requests for New Judgeships, working with deputies from the Judicial Administrator's staff, visited the courts in question, examined statistics and interviewed court-related personnel. The committee approved one request and made this recommendation to the Judicial Council which subsequently recommended to the legislature the creation of one new judgeship for the Twenty-Third Judicial District Court, Assumption, Ascension and St. James Parishes. The Louisiana Legislature created the new judgeship in 1993.

Judicial Planning Committee reports: Computer Integrated Courtroom is here ... Planning for Case Management Information System begins

Justice James L. Dennis continued to chair the Judicial Planning Committee (J.P.C.) of the Judicial Council. The various J.P.C. subcommittees are responsible for much of the ongoing work of the Judicial Council.

The Science and Technology Subcommittee, chaired by Court of Appeal, Second Circuit Chief Judge Charles A. Marvin and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Ronald Wm. Stritzinger, utilizing a grant from the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement (L.C.L.E.), has installed a Computer Integrated Courtroom (C.I.C.) in the courtroom of Judge Leon A. Cannizzaro, Jr. of Orleans Criminal District Court. This pilot project which was supervised by Deputy Judicial Administrator Rose Marie DiVincenti, a member of the subcommittee, links the court reporter's stenotype machine to computers thereby allowing judges and attorneys to have access to previous testimony by touching a key, and the court reporter to produce rough transcripts of testimony during breaks in a trial with fully edited transcripts available at the end of the day.

The Science and Technology Subcommittee had also solicited comment from the judiciary with regard to guidelines for the use of FAX filings in Louisiana courts. The results of this survey proved to be inconclusive.

Additionally, the Subcommittee was successful in having legislation passed which added one dollar to the court costs of all felony, misdemeanor, and ordinance convictions, including traffic, for the support of the C.M.I.S. project. Case Management Information System, for trial courts. In this connection Justice Catherine D. Kimball has been named Chair of a project which will create a statewide task force to determine the needs of the Clerks of Court, the Courts, the State Police, Department of Corrections, Division of Elections, and other agencies that may play a role in the

C.M.I.S. project. The work product of C.M.I.S. will be a felony disposition reporting system and a master plan for a trial court case management information system.

Judge Salvatore T. Mulé, chair of the Juvenile Courts Subcommittee, staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Nancy C. Chachere, and the members of his Subcommittee have been active in the Families in Need of Services Task Force which is part of the outcome of the Children's Code Project. This group is working with a Judicial Council Task Force in the formation of regions for juvenile service. The Judicial Council restated its support for a proposed plan to implement a statewide regional juvenile court system utilizing the services of volunteer judges for assignment.

"You The Jury" distributed ... 100% response to annual survey ...

The Juvenile Courts Subcommittee is also working with the Science and Technology Subcommittee to make uniform the reporting of juvenile statistics. Because this reporting has not been uniform, it has been difficult to accurately reflect the amount of work done in juvenile courts and has been almost impossible to compare statistics on a national basis.

The Courts/Community Relations Subcommittee, chaired by Mr. Richard F. Knight and staffed by Paulette H. Holahan, Deputy Judicial Administrator, completed a seventeen-minute film entitled "You the Jury" in 1993. This film was designed for viewing by prospective jurors statewide and was distributed to all district courts in the state. Mary Ethel Siefken, member of the subcommittee, donated freely of time and talent, both authoring the script and serving as liaison with the production company during filming. Funding for the production was provided by a grant from the Louisiana Bar Foundation.

The annual survey of the state's district courts which is conducted for the J.P.C. each year by Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan showed that state funding of Law Clerks ranked as the number one need noted by the judiciary in 1993 followed by the need for more space (for courtrooms, for witnesses, for attorneys, for jurors, for juveniles). The lack of space in most courthouses figured prominently in the concern for security in the courts which ranked as the number three concern. Salaries for court personnel, money for Indigent Defenders and an overall interest in state funding for the courts followed in that order. Response was once more received from 100% of the district courts in the state.

Task Force on Women in the Courts recommendations approved ... Mediation program started ... Racial and Ethnic Fairness Task Force formed

The Louisiana Task Force on Women in the Courts, chaired by Judge Miriam G. Waltzer, having completed its study and published its report, asked the Judicial Council for approval of its recommendations. The Judicial Council approved all of the recommendations in the Task Force report as worthy of consideration by the entities with the power to enforce them. The Task Force report (now in its second printing) has been distributed to all those asked to implement change. Recommendations were directed to the Louisiana State Bar Association, the judiciary, the Judicial Council, the Judicial College, the legislature, Louisiana's district attorneys, and numerous other groups. The Task Force expects to follow-up with the intention of compiling information as to the progress of recommendation implementation.

Two members of a legislative Task Force on Alternative Dispute Resolution directed to study the concept of mediation in Louisiana's courts were appointed by the Judicial Council. They are Orleans Civil District Court Judge Okla. Jones, II, and Orleans First City Court Judge Niles Hellmers. With the help of Deputy Judicial Administrator Timothy F. Averill who staffs the Task Force, a pilot mediation program was begun in Orleans Civil District Court and New Orleans First City Court which will continue until August 1994.

The newly created Louisiana Racial and Ethnic Fairness in the Courts Task Force is co-chaired by Judge Ulysses G. Thibodeaux and Judge Max N. Tobias, Jr. and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Anthony J. Gagliano. During 1993, the group determined that it would adopt a "visioning" approach to its mission and process but would incorporate some data gathering and fact-finding into its process. The scope of the Task Force will be limited to the activities of the courtroom, that is, to all matters over which a judge would have control. The Task Force has set September 1, 1995 as the target date for completion of its work.

Cameras in the trial courts? Task Force formed

Should cameras be allowed in the trial courts of Louisiana? This is a question being debated by the Task Force to Study Cameras in the Trial Courts of Louisiana, chaired by Judge Graydon K. Kitchens, Jr. and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan, who is also a member of the Task Force. This group will present its findings to the Judicial Council and to the Louisiana Supreme Court. Included in its charge is the formulation of guidelines governing the presence of cameras should the Supreme Court ultimately decide to allow them. This Task Force is composed of judges, defense and plaintiff attorneys, prosecutors, and representatives from television, newspaper, and radio.

Justices of the Peace Study ... Records Management Committee ... City Courts jurisdiction (Act 541)

In another area of activity, the Attorney General's Office is presently working to clarify the laws concerning the Justice of the Peace courts and to improve training for Justices of the Peace. The Attorney General's Office is also

The Judicial Administrator Reports

HUGH M. COLLINS, Ph.D.
Judicial Administrator

I am pleased to report that 1993 was a year of significant progress. Many of the more note-worthy improvements in the court system were conceived and developed by the Judicial Council whose committees and subcommittees are staffed by deputy judicial administrators. For a report on these, see the report of the Judicial Council beginning on page four.

One project is of particular importance and is worthy of special mention. The passage of legislation funding the fast track development of a court based felony disposition reporting system and of a master plan for the advancement of automation in the courts was a landmark event. This legislation and its funding recipient, the Court Management Information System (CMIS), will dramatically improve the management information available to the Judicial Council and the Supreme Court. In addition, it comes just in time to begin providing the state with the resources needed to meet the mandates included in new federal legislation, such as, the Brady bill. Lastly and most importantly it provides the seed money needed to begin the modernization of court technology in Louisiana.

Dramatic progress has also taken place in other areas. The Supreme Court has responded to record levels of inquiries to the Judiciary Commission, concerning possible judicial misconduct, by authorizing the creation of a special counsel's position for the Commission. It is anticipated that the creation of this new position will decrease the time it takes the Commission to respond to citizen complaints and will also provide much needed assistance in the preparation of cases which are presented to the Judiciary Commission and subsequently to the Supreme Court.

The infrastructures of the Supreme Court and the Courts of Appeal were significantly improved by the creation of new personnel policies which reflect the mandates of the Americans with Disabilities Act. In addition, with the help of the National Center for State Courts and the Louisiana Civil Service Commission, a project to develop a coherent, up-to-date pay plan for the Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal was begun in 1993 and is expected to be completed in early 1994.

Another event which portends things to come took place when judges and a member of my staff attended a national conference on strategic planning and courts futures projects. The information and techniques gained from this conference have already been shared with a number of Louisiana court organizations and will play a significant role in the future plans of this office.

One other particularly significant project was launched in late 1993 under the direction of the Chief Justice. Exhaustive research is being done by my staff into the current status of Louisiana's indigent defense system and into fiscally responsible improvements which can be undertaken to guarantee constitutionally mandated representation to indigent defendants.

H.M.C.

working to determine a fee schedule for Justices of the Peace. The Judicial Council approved, in concept, the proposed effort by the Attorney General's Office with regard to Justices of the Peace, with the understanding that completed plans will be submitted to the Judicial Council for approval. All plans will ultimately be submitted to the Louisiana Supreme Court for approval.

Uniform transcript format guidelines for court reporters were formulated by the Records Management Committee, chaired by Judge Brady M. Fitzsimmons, staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan and of which Deputy Judicial Administrator Rose Marie DiVincenti is a member. The effective date of these guidelines is February 1, 1994. The Records Management Committee, through the work of State Archivist Dr. Donald J. Lemieux, continues to study documentation retention and expects to issue a comprehensive report in 1994.

At the request of representatives of the Tulane University Law School, the committee will also consider the use of recycled paper in Louisiana's courts.

The Judicial Council also approved a proposed increase in jurisdiction for most of Louisiana's City Courts (Orleans already has jurisdiction up to $20,000) from $10,000 to $15,000. The 1993 legislature passed Act 541 with regard to City Court jurisdiction.

The Judicial Council of the Supreme Court of Louisiana was established in 1950 and received its first funding by the state legislature in 1954. Its task is to evaluate and monitor the operations and procedures of the judicial system of the state. In this capacity, it serves as a clearinghouse for ideas for simplifying and expediting judicial procedures and/or correcting shortcomings in the system.

Law Library of Louisiana 1993 Annual Report

Whether one enjoys singing in a choir, playing in a softball league, or volunteering for a charity, the sense of working as part of a team is especially rewarding. During 1993 the staff of the Law Library of Louisiana experienced a sense of accomplishment as members of the Supreme Court team and essential partners in Louisiana's legal community. In order to respond more effectively to the needs of the state's judiciary, bar, and general public, the staff has developed close working relationships with all three constituencies. The challenges presented by the information technology revolution compel us to learn from and cooperate with each other.

One prominent example of teamwork has been participation of reference librarian Cathy Lemann and director Carol Billings on the Task Force on the Cost-Effective Provision of Information Resources for Louisiana Courts. Appointed by Chief Justice Calogero in response to questions raised by the introduction of CD-ROM legal publications, the Task Force comprises judges, judicial administrators, staff attorneys, computer experts and librarians. Chaired by Billings, the group is studying ways that our state courts may share expertise and cooperate to extend high quality legal information service throughout the system. One important result has been the authorization of a new "Public Domain Citation Format" to take effect January 1, 1994 for Louisiana court opinions, which will enable legal researchers and practitioners to employ the products of multiple publishers.

Library staff members have also been cooperating with other Supreme Court departments to bring about a local area computer network for the building. Soon librarians will acquire the software to automate the catalog and serials record so that users both in the library and throughout the building can access the collection via computer. To help implement the Americans with Disabilities Act for the Court, the building's official ombudsman, reference librarian Cathy Lemann, and other staff have been working with judicial administrators. Janice Shull and Cathy Lemann have both prepared attractive lobby exhibits to inform and educate visitors to the building.

Director Carol Billings was pleased to have the opportunity to inform judges and court staff from throughout the state of the library's services when she spoke to municipal clerks and when Cathy Lemann joined her at the state judges' conference in speaking to judicial administrators and manning a library information display.

Reference librarians Marie Erickson and Cathy Lemann, assisted by Janice Shull, continue to provide excellent information and research services to the courts, attorneys and the public. From the only Louisiana library offering Lexis and Westlaw computer-assisted legal research for the public, our librarians performed 987 searches for non-court users during 1993--an annual increase of 40%. Searches for court personnel rose by 15% to 266. Non-legal research, such as background material for justices' speeches, represents a substantial portion of the reference department's work. Interlibrary loan activity increased once more, with 282 items loaned and 131 borrowed.

Like the demand for the library's services, the cost of maintaining the collection continues to climb. The total expenditure for books, subscription and supplementation for fiscal year 92/93 was $363,774, a 7.7% increase over the previous year. A mere 4.6% of the total was used for new titles; nearly all of those funds were self-generated rather than appropriated. During the new year it is our intention to take every advantage of cost-saving measures in order to restore a number of subscriptions for loose-leaf treatises that have lapsed for lack of funds.

The number of new titles added to the collection in 1993, 579, represented an 18% increase over last year. Nearly two-thirds of the total, however, were free publications--mostly federal, state, and State Justice Institute depository items. Cataloging/Documents Librarian Janice Shull, assisted by D.D. Thompson, also "weeded" 586 titles from the collection, largely as a result of replacing hard-copy superseded statutes from many states with microfiche versions to save space.

The substitution of microfiche for bound state statutes also is underway primarily as a means of preserving access to the old materials more effectively. Acquisitions Librarian Betty Kern reports a total of 2,425 volumes weeded during the year. Combined with an additional 568 volumes superseded by new updates, the total withdrawals exceed the 2,191 additions to the collection by 802. D.D. Thompson reports the acquisition of 21, 534 microfiches, with superseded state statutes representing 37% of the total and federal documents representing 47%.

A dramatic example of the effect of technology on the demand for library service, telefax transmissions to and from the library rose substantially. Library assistant Ruth Mahoney reported a 26% increase in faxes transmitted, 1,211; 365 faxes received represent a 31% increase.

Responding to the heightened level of library activity, long-time library assistants Bill Luster and Dave Laurent have kept up faithfully with their duties maintaining the supplementation and order of the collection. Luster also keeps the busy photocopiers running, and Laurent handles important tasks relating to bookkeeping.

The staff continues to be actively involved in professional development opportunities. Cathy Lemann spoke at the Charleston, West Virginia meeting of the Southeastern Chapter of the American Association of Law Libraries on the challenges facing the attorney/librarian assisting the public. Carol Billings travelled to Blaine, Washington, to participate in the program for the National Conference of Chief Justices and State Court Administrators. Elected in April to the office of vice president/president-elect of AALL, Billings also serves on the association's Strategic Planning Committee. Acquisitions/serials expert Betty Kern appropriately works as a member of AALL's Committee on Relations with Information Vendors. In addition to co-editing the New Orleans Law Librarian with Cathy Lemann for the local AALL Chapter, Janice Shull serves on the state's Depository Library Council. Marie Erickson continues to teach legal research in UNO's Paralegal Institute.

Louisiana Judicial College 1993 Annual Report

The year 1993 marked a "changing of the guard" for the Louisiana Judicial College. Professor Frank L. Maraist of the LSU Law Faculty, who became executive director of the Judicial College in 1985, announced his "retirement" from the position, effective February 1, 1994. His well-qualified replacement: Professor Cheney C. Joseph, Jr., also a member of the faculty (and former vice chancellor) at the LSU Law Center, a frequent lecturer on Judicial College programs, and a former state district judge pro tempore, state district attorney, and United States Attorney.

During 1993, the Judicial College continued to provide quality continuing legal education for Louisiana's judges, presenting programs at nine meetings.

Training the state's experienced judges as judicial educators remains a major project of the College. In December 1993, the second special "Training the Trainers" Seminar was conducted; 20 experienced judges received special training in adult education and in judicial education at the seminar. These judges and those who attended the first "Training the Trainers" seminar will form the faculty on upcoming judicial education programs.

In addition to "Training the Trainers," the Judicial College provided educational programs at five judges' conferences: Joint Meeting of the City and Juvenile Judges (75 attendees); Annual Spring Judges' Conference (241 attendees); Summer School for Judges (211 attendees); Annual Fall Judges' Conference (203 attendees); and the Annual Fourth and Fifth Circuit Judges' Conference (20 attendees).

The College also sponsored or co-sponsored three special seminars during the year. The conferences were: Evidence and Procedure Seminar (73 attendees); 1993 Joint Meeting with Mississippi Judiciary (40 Louisiana judges attending); and Annual Torts Seminar (62 attendees).

During 1993, the College revised and republished the Louisiana Judicial Law Clerk's Manual and distributed it, without cost, to all Louisiana judges who have law clerks. The College also published and distributed, without cost to Louisiana judges, The Louisiana Judges' Criminal Benchbook, Volume 1.

The College continued its efforts to keep judges abreast of recent developments by publishing its Criminal Law Newsletter and the Summary of Legislative Developments. The Judicial College also contributed in 1993 to the development of the proposed new edition of the biographies of Louisiana judges.

Many outstanding legal scholars and other experts made presentations at Judicial College programs in 1993. Among the speakers were Professors Thomas Galligan, Cheney Joseph, Eulis Simien, William Hawkland and Frank Maraist of the LSU Law Center; Professor David W. Robertson, University of Texas School of Law; Professor Thomas Mauet, University of Arizona; Professor Jerry Phillips, University of Tennessee; Dr. Charles Gifford, University of New Orleans; Professor Edward Kionka, Southern Illinois University; Professor Roger Henderson, University of Arizona; Dr. Ian Russ (Child and Family therapist), Encino; Dr. Bonnie Lewis, Southeastern Louisiana University; Robert E. Bermudez, New Orleans

Louisiana judges who served as speakers or panelists at Judicial College programs during 1993 included Chief Justice Pascal F. Calogero, Jr., and Associate Justices Harry T. Lemmon and Catherine D. Kimball of the Louisiana Supreme Court; Judges Nancy Amato Konrad, Billy Ezell, Harmon Drew, John Campbell, Paul deMahy, Jimmie Peters, Felicia Toney Williams, Burrell Carter, Sidney Ordoyne, Ronald Sholes, Thomas Daley, E. Complaints

During 1993, 1,671 complaints against judges and justices of the peace have been received in this office through mail, phone contact, and in person. Of these, 94 resulted in docketing and extensive investigation. Additionally, 19 investigations remained open from 1992. A majority of the complaints were resolved rather quickly as they were not within the jurisdiction of the Commission because they were (1) legal rather than ethical matters; (2) undocumentable; or (3) frivolous. The more serious cases which resulted in extensive investigation included complaints alleging violations of Canon 2, "A Judge Should Avoid Impropriety and the Appearance of Impropriety in All Activities"; Canon 3, "A Judge Should Perform the Duties of Office Impartially and Diligently"; Canon 7, "A Judge Should Refrain from Political Activity Inappropriate to Judicial Office"; allegations of misconduct in exercising judicial discretion, unprofessional conduct, undue delays in rendering decisions, and failure to perform judicial duties, among others, and were filed by litigants, interested citizens, and by the Commission's own motion.

Dispositions

During the year the Commission disposed of 1,625 complaints, including 75 which involved extended investigation. These matters were either closed because of insufficient evidence of judicial misconduct or were otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of the Commission. Two cases were filed in the Supreme Court with recommendations for disciplinary action. Sixty-five cases are still pending at the beginning of 1994.

Editor's Note: Complaints may be made to the office of the Chief Executive Officer of the Judiciary Commission of Louisiana, Hugh M. Collins, Ph.D., 301 Loyola Avenue, Room 109, New Orleans, Louisiana 70112-1887, Telephone: (504) 568-5747.
