Introduction

The National Institute of Justice/NCJRS is proud to sponsor the Criminal Justice Information Exchange (CJIE), an informal, cooperative association of libraries serving the criminal justice community. The Exchange aims to foster better communication and cooperation among member libraries and to enhance user services.

Member libraries can improve services in the criminal justice area through information exchange and interlibrary loan. In addition, group members furnish criminal justice patrons with information about CJIE collections, policies, and services.

The National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS), a CJIE member, coordinates the Exchange and produces the CJIE Directory. NCJRS is an international clearinghouse of justice information sponsored by the National Institute of Justice (NIJ), a research and development arm of the U.S. Department of Justice. NCJRS also maintains or supports data bases for other Department of Justice agencies and operates their clearinghouses. These information centers include the Juvenile Justice Clearinghouse, the Justice Statistics Clearinghouse, the National Victims Resource Center, and the Bureau of Justice Assistance Clearinghouse.

How To Use This Directory

The Criminal Justice Information Exchange Directory provides access to the locations, holdings, and services of member libraries. It features an index which provides library names, addresses, phone numbers, and page numbers to locate full entries. The Directory lists CJIE libraries alphabetically by State and province, and within each State, alphabetically by city. It includes the following information when applicable: Name of library; street, mailing address, or both; telephone number; and name and title of a contact person. In addition, the Directory describes the size of a library's criminal justice collection (books, periodicals, audiovisual materials) as well as special interest areas. Online services, interlibrary loan, (ILL), microfiche capabilities, and other services are described; and restrictions on the use of library facilities or holdings are explained. Additional information is included under "Notes."

At the back of the Directory is a listing of 50 GPO Regional Depository Libraries. These libraries permanently hold all documents selected for the Depository Program, including many criminal justice documents. As regional depositories, they also provide reference services and interlibrary loan services. CJIE members are indicated with an asterisk (*).
