CURRICULUM

I. ASSAULT

A. Assault (Penal Code Section 240)

1. The initial crime in the evolutionary scale of violent crimes is in the form of an attempted attack on the person of another.
2. Definition of assault (Penal Code Section 240)

Penal Code Section 240 defines assault as "an unlawful attempt, coupled with a present ability, to commit a violent injury on the person of another."
3. Corpus Delicti--Elements of the crime of Penal Code Section 240
 - a. An unlawful attempt,
 - b. The present ability, and
 - c. To commit a violent injury.
4. The attempt must be unlawful. There are lawful assaults.
 - a. Prize fighting and other sporting events
 - b. Effecting an arrest
 - c. Self-defense
5. Assuming, though, that the attempt is unlawful, two facts are always present in an assault:
 - a. There is an intent to commit harm against a person, and
 - b. a direct act is done to commit harm.
6. The second element of an assault is dependent upon the present ability of the perpetrator to carry out the intended injury.
7. The third element of an assault is to commit a violent injury.
 - a. Violent injury as used in this context does not require violence or actual injury.
 - b. An effort to touch could satisfy this requirement (e.g., spitting, throwing water, etc.)

II. BATTERY

- A. Battery (Penal Code Section 242): Battery is "any willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon the person of another".
- B. Elements of battery
 - 1. Willful and unlawful: The intent implies a purpose or willingness to commit the act.
 - 2. Use of force or violence
 - (a) The degree of force is not a consideration in the crime. As mentioned earlier, if someone spit at another person and this time it struck the person or the person's clothing, a "battery" has been committed.
 - (b) Every battery contains a lesser crime of assault.
 - (c) Battery does not require an injury.
- C. Penalties as defined in Penal Code Section 243
 - 1. Simple battery: punishment - misdemeanor
 - 2. Battery "serious bodily injury" - felony (Penal Code Section 243(f)(5))
 - 3. Battery on a peace officer - misdemeanor
 - 4. Battery on a peace officer - felony
 - a. An injury requiring professional medical treatment
 - b. A battery "upon a peace officer" can only occur if the officer is "engaged in the lawful performance of his or her duties" (This offense cannot occur in the course of an illegal arrest or an arrest involving the use of excessive force.)
 - c. The person committing the offense must know or reasonably should know that the victim is a peace officer.
- D. Battery is a general intent crime.

III. ASSAULT WITH A DEADLY WEAPON

- A. Definition of assault with a deadly weapon (Penal Code Section 245): Every person who commits an assault upon the person of another with a deadly weapon or instrument or by any means of force likely to produce great bodily injury.
- B. Elements of Assault with a Deadly Weapon
 - 1. Unlawful attempt to commit a violent injury
 - 2. Upon person of another
 - 3. Use of deadly weapon or force likely to produce great bodily injury
 - a. This deadly weapon can be any object capable of causing death or great bodily injury from the manner in which it was used.
 - b. Any physical force is sufficient if it is capable of producing great bodily injury.
 - c. It is not necessary that an actual injury result from the assault.
 - d. If an injury does result it is an additional chargeable crime.
- C. Assault with a Deadly Weapon is a general intent crime.
- D. The "deadly weapon" can be any object capable of causing death or great bodily injury from the manner in which it is used.
- E. Illustrations of Assault with a Deadly Weapon are
 - 1. throwing a hard object like a rock or full beer can at someone,
 - 2. kicking or beating someone severely, or
 - 3. throwing someone against or off something.
- F. In the case of assault and battery on peace officer or other designated class, the prosecution must prove knowledge on the part of the defendant that the victim was a peace officer or member of other designated class performing an official duty.
 - 1. 245 (a) (1) - ADW (other than firearm)
 - 2. 245 (a) (2) - ADW with firearm
 - 3. 245 (c) - ADW on peace officer
 - 4. 245 (d) - ADW on peace officer with a firearm
 - 5. 244 - Assault with caustic chemicals

IV. MAYHEM

- A. Definition of mayhem (Penal Code Section 203): Every person who unlawfully and maliciously deprives a human being of a member of his body or disables or disfigures, or renders it useless, or cuts or disables the tongue, or puts out an eye or slits the nose, ear, or lip, is guilty of mayhem.
- B. Elements of the crime (Penal Code Section 203) felony
 - 1. Unlawfully and by means of physical force
 - 2. maliciously inflicting or attempting to inflict violent injury
 - 3. resulting in one or more specified injuries.
- C. Examples of mayhem
 - 1. Biting off the nose, or portion thereof, a piece of the ear, or a portion of a lip
 - 2. To put out an eye merely means to render it useless for practical purposes
 - 3. Disabling the tongue by biting
- D. Mayhem is a general intent crime.
- E. Aggravated Mayhem (Penal Code Section 205)
 - 1. Extreme indifference to the physical or psychological well-being of another
 - 2. Intentionally causes permanent disability or disfigurement

V. INFLECTING CORPORAL INJURY UPON A SPOUSE, ETC.

A. Spousal or cohabitant beating (felony) Penal Code Section 273.5: Any person who willfully inflicts upon his or her spouse, or any person who willfully inflicts upon any person of the opposite sex with whom he or she is cohabiting, or any person who willfully inflicts upon any person who is the mother or father of his or her child corporal injury resulting in a traumatic condition, is guilty of a felony.

B. Certain specific conditions must be met to fulfill the element requirements of this section.

1. One of the following relationships must exist:

C. Examples of spouse beating include:

1. The defendant shoves spouse to the floor and kicks victim several times inflicting injury.

2. The defendant strikes live in boyfriend or girlfriend in the face with a closed fist inflicting injury

3. One parent strikes another with a bull whip.

VI. STALKING

- A. Definition of stalking (Penal Code Section 646.9): Any person who willfully and maliciously and repeatedly follows or harasses another person and who makes a credible threat with the intent to place that person in reasonable fear of death or great bodily injury or to place that person in reasonable fear of death or great bodily injury of his or her immediate family.
- B. Elements of the crime
 - 1. Willfully, maliciously and repeatedly
 - 2. Follows or harasses another person and
 - 3. Makes a credible threat

- G. This section does not apply to conduct that occurs during labor picketing.

 - 5. Such property was taken with the specific intent permanently to deprive such person of the property
- C. Terminology

 - b. Physical resistance on the part of the victim is not necessary to establish a robbery.
 - 2. Fear (Penal Code Section 212)
 - a. The fear of an unlawful injury to the person or property of the person robbed, or to any of his or her relatives or family members, or
 - b. the fear of an immediate and unlawful injury to the person or property of anyone in the company of the person robbed at the time of the robbery.
 - c. A reasonable apprehension of danger means a reasonable person under the same set of circumstances, would be in fear of life, fear danger of injury, or fear that personal property may be injured or damaged.
 - 3. Immediate presence
 - a. Immediate presence must mean at least an area within which the victim could reasonably be expected to exercise some physical control over their property.

b. The following are examples of what our courts hold to be immediate presence:

- (1) Example--robbery: A victim is forced from his car at gun point and tied to a tree several hundred feet from his car. Property is removed from his car.
- (2) Example--robbery: A night watchman is held in one room while property under his control is removed from an adjoining warehouse.
- (3) Example--not robbery: A girl, after accepting an offer of a ride from a defendant, was taken to an unfrequented road where he attempted to rape her and she jumped out of the car. The defendant drove away in his car containing her handbag.

D. Robbery in the first degree (Penal Code Section 212.5)

E. Robbery is a specific intent crime.

 - 5. by force or fear
- C. Carjacking is a specific intent crime.
- D. Carjacking is a felony.
- E. Discussion
 - 1. Kidnapping during a carjacking or attempted carjacking is punishable by life imprisonment.
 - 2. Murder during carjacking may be punishable by death.
 - 3. Prison sentences are enhanced for carjacking involving the use of weapons and for second or subsequent carjacking convictions

IX. EXTORTION

A. Extortion (Penal Code Section 518): Extortion is the obtaining of property from another with his consent or the obtaining of an official act of a public officer, induced by a wrongful use of force or fear, or under color of official right.

B. Elements of the crime

1. Obtaining property from another
2. With the person's consent, or
3. Obtaining an official act of a public officer
4. By inducement through wrongful use of force or fear, or under color of official right

C. Extortion is a specific intent crime.

D. Threats which may constitute extortion (Penal Code Section 519)

Fear, sufficient to constitute extortion, may be induced by a threat either:

1. To do an unlawful injury to the victim or his property or of a third person
2. To accuse the individual threatened, or any relative of his or member of his family of any crime, or
3. To expose, or to impute to him or them any deformity, disgrace, or crimes; or
4. To expose any secret affecting him or them.

E. Classifications

1. Penal Code Section 520 - felony

 - (a) Under color of official right
3. Penal Code Section 524 - felony/misdemeanor
 - (a) Attempted extortion
 - (b) Threatening letter--any person with intent to extort money or property from another by means of a letter or writing or by means of a threat, as in Section 523, is punishable as if such money, etc., were actually obtained. The minute the letter is delivered or dropped in the mail with intent that it shall be forwarded, the offense is complete.

F. Differences between extortion and robbery

1. In extortion, property obtained can be real or personal property while in robbery the property obtained is personal.
2. In extortion, property need not be taken from a person or that person's immediate presence.
3. Force is an alternative in extortion, but there must be force or fear for robbery.
4. Extortion is committed with consent of the victim while in robbery it is done without the victim's consent.

G. Discussion

1. To constitute extortion, the force or fear must be the operating or inducing cause which produces the consent or results in the property being obtained. If some other cause is the primary and controlling cause for the consent, there is no extortion. The consent may not be entirely voluntary; it is the lesser of the two evils.
2. The force or fear in extortion leaves the victim a choice and does not compel the victim to allow the taking of his property against his will; that would be robbery.

X. FALSE IMPRISONMENT (PO 3.26.1)

A. False imprisonment: False imprisonment is the unlawful violation of the personal liberty of another. (Penal Code Section 236)

B. Elements of false imprisonment

1. Unlawful violation

3. False imprisonment does not require that there be confinement in a jail, prison or other building.

D. False imprisonment is a general intent crime.

E. Crime Classification

1. False imprisonment - misdemeanor
2. False imprisonment - felony if accomplished by:
 - a. Violence
 - b. Menace
 - c. Fraud, or
 - d. Deceit

XI. KIDNAPPING

- A. Kidnapping (Penal Code Section 207(a)): Kidnapping is the unlawful, forcible taking of a person against their will from one place to another.
- B. Elements
 - 1. Unlawful
 - 2. Forcible taking of a person
 - 3. Against their will
 - 4. From one place to another
- C. Discussion
 - 1. The force used to effect the movement does not need to be physical force or even expressed threats coupled with ability to carry out the threats. As long as the suspect gives orders which the victim feels compelled to obey, and reasonably feels some kind of harm will occur, the force used is sufficient.
 - 2. To arrest for forcible kidnap, a two-pronged test must be met:
 - a. Was the movement under compulsion
 - b. Was the movement substantial as opposed to slight or trivial movement
 - (1) Substantial movement does not refer to a specific distance.
 - (2) It refers to whether or not the victim was exposed to additional danger because of the movement.
- D. Kidnapping is a general intent crime.
- E. Crime classification: felony
- F. Related sections:
 - 1. Penal Code Section 209 (Kidnapping for Ransom)
 - 2. Penal Code Section 210.5 (Taking of Hostages)
 - 3. Penal Code Section 277, 278 and 278.5 (Child Abduction) (See Section 12 in this unit guide.)

XII. CHILD ABDUCTION

- A. Child abduction (Penal Code Section 277): In the absence of a court order determining the rights of custody or visitation to a minor child, every person having a right of custody of the child who maliciously takes, detains, conceals, or entices away that child within or without the state, without good cause, and with the intent to deprive the custody right to that child.
- B. Elements
1. In the absence of a court order determining the right of custody
 2. Every person having a right of custody who
 3. Maliciously detains, conceals or entices away that child
 4. Without good cause
 5. With the intent to deprive the custody right of another person
- C. Discussion
1. The crime of child abduction is a crime against the parent or guardian who has the right of custody of the child.
 2. The consent of the child to go with the parent who is concealing or detaining is not a defense.
 3. This section defines "good cause" as a good faith belief that the taking, detaining, concealing, or enticing away of the child is necessary to protect the child from immediate bodily injury or emotional harm.
 4. Domestic violence situations would constitute a basis for good cause.
- D. Unlawful detention (Penal Code Section 278): Every person, not having a right of custody, who maliciously takes, detains, conceals, or entices away, any minor child with intent to detain or conceal that child from a person, guardian, or public agency having the lawful charge of the child shall be a felony.

- B. Elements
 - 1. Any person who
 - 2. Willfully causes or permits with knowledge
 - 3. An elder or dependent adult to suffer unjustifiable physical or mental pain

 - 5. Or who violates any provision of law proscribing theft or embezzlement to the property of that elder or dependent.
- C. Definitions
 - 1. "Elder" means any person who is 65 years of age or older. (Penal Code Section 368(d))
 - 2. "Dependent adult" means any person who is between the ages of 18 and 64 who has physical or mental limitations which restricts his or her ability to carry out normal activities.

- F. The following crimes are frequently perpetrated against elders and dependent adults:
 - 1. Burglary
 - 2. Confidence games and deceptive practices
 - 3. Theft of income checks such as social security, welfare, etc.

4. Vandalism - damage to home/car
5. Robbery
6. Pocket picking or purse snatching
7. Domestic violence

XIV. EXCUSABLE HOMICIDE

- A. Homicide is the killing of a human being or fetus by another human being.
 - 1. Homicide may be lawful
 - a. Excusable
 - b. Justifiable
 - 2. Homicide may be unlawful
 - a. Murder
 - b. Manslaughter
- B. Excusable homicide (Penal Code Section 195)
Homicide is excusable when committed by accident and misfortune, or in doing any other lawful act by lawful means, with usual and ordinary caution, and without any unlawful intent.
- C. Elements
 - 1. Killing
 - 2. By accident or misfortune
 - 3. Or during lawful conduct
 - 4. Without intent to kill
- D. Discussion
 - 1. There cannot be any intent to kill, i.e., you strike a person who hits you for no reason and he dies from brain damage; you shove a drunk who has been mauling your wife and he falls, striking his head.
 - 2. If any intent to kill appears, the act would then immediately be elevated to at least voluntary manslaughter.
- E. Justifiable Homicide by Public Officer (Penal Code Section 196): Homicide is justifiable when committed by public officers and those acting by their command in their aid and assistance
- F. Elements
 - 1. Killing
 - 2. By public officers (or those acting under their authority)
 - 3. In obedience to any judgement of a competent court, or

4. When overcoming actual resistance, or
5. In the discharge of any other legal duty, or
6. When retaking escaped felons or to arrest persons charged with a felony who are fleeing from justice or who resist such arrest.

NOTE: The use of deadly force against a fleeing felon must pertain to a forcible and atrocious crime where there is a substantial risk of death or serious bodily harm.

G. Justifiable Homicide - general (Penal Code Section 197): Homicide is justifiable when committed by any person when resisting murder and felonies; defending home, property or persons; apprehending a felon or preserving peace.

H. Elements

1. Killing
2. By any person
3. When resisting any attempt to murder any person or
4. Resisting an attempt to inflict great bodily injury upon any person or
5. In defense of habitation, property or person against anyone intending to commit a violent felony or
6. When committed during the lawful apprehension of a felon or
7. When lawfully suppressing any riot or in lawfully keeping or preserving the peace

I. Discussion

1. Defense of habitation alone is not sufficient. It must be shown that there was an intention to commit a felony or other violence.
2. Fear is judged by the standards of the reasonable and prudent person. Threats alone do not justify homicide.
3. Anyone who kills while engaged in mutual combat must really and in good faith have endeavored to decline any further struggle before the homicide was committed.

J. Examples of Justifiable Homicide

- a. Killing a neighbor attempting to murder his wife
- b. Killing a burglar who has just entered your bedroom and is attacking you with apparent deadly force

- c. Killing of an armed robber by the store owner during a robbery
- d. Killing a man attempting to kidnap your child
- e. Killing a man attempting to rape your wife
- f. A man steals your wife's purse on the street. You chase him and tackle him. He strikes his head and dies.

 - b. Heat of passion implies a blinding rage which clouds judgment and common sense, and prompts a man to act rashly, without deliberation. Keep in mind that it is not manslaughter if the defendant lies in wait.
 - (1) The issue is whether a reasonable man would have had time to "cool off" and regain his senses (amount of provocation may affect the length of the "cooling off" period).
 - (2) "Hot blood" must exist at the time of the act.
 - (3) Cooling-off period - the period of time between the provocation and the act of killing.
- C. Involuntary Manslaughter (Penal Code Section 192(b)): Unlawful killing in the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to a felony, or in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, or without due caution and circumspection.

 - 3. Criminal homicide is the unlawful killing of one human being or fetus by another human being.
 - a. An unlawful homicide must be the result of an affirmative act, an omission to act, or criminal negligence. Although the act need not be the only cause of death, it must be the proximate cause.
 - b. The death must occur within three years and one day after the cause of death. (Penal Code Section 194)
 - 4. Malice aforethought
 - a. A predetermination to commit an act without legal justification or excuse; a purposeful action thought out in advance. It may be either express or implied malice.
 - b. Malice does not require that the suspect have an attitude of ill will toward the victim or that the suspect have a specific intent to kill the victim although these states of mind are often present. Basically, the term refers to an expressed or implied "man-endangering state of mind" which manifests itself in the commission of one of five different acts:
 - (1) An act done with a specific intent to kill. (Express malice - Penal Code Section 188)
 - (2) An act which is intended to produce serious bodily harm. (Express Malice)

- (3) An act accomplished during resistance of a lawful arrest done in such a manner as to demonstrate a conscious disregard to human life.
- (4) An act done in conscious disregard of the consequences where death or serious bodily injury is likely to occur, and which reveals an "abandoned and malignant heart" (such as randomly shooting into a crowd). (Implied malice)
- (5) An act accomplished during the perpetration of attempted perpetration of, or escape from, an inherently dangerous felony (such as robbery, burglary, illegal abortion or kidnapping)
 - (a) Malice may be inferred from the commission of one or more of the felonies described in Penal Code Section 189 (Felony Murder Rule) and is sufficient to charge both suspect and/or his accomplice with the crime of murder. However, proof of intent to kill must be established in court to convict.

D. Murder is a specific intent crime.

E. Degrees of murder (Penal Code Section 189)

2. Based on our constitution, congress has legislated certain statutes to insure equal rights. This resulted in prohibiting unequal treatment.
3. Law enforcement officers are subject to this law and constitution and can be held liable for unequal application.

XVIX. TITLE 18, SECTION 242 OF THE U.S. CODE

A. United States Code - Title 18, Chapter 13 (Civil Rights) Section 242

2. Section 242 is another law established to protect persons from unequal application of the law.

Elder & Dependent Adult Abuse Reporting Requirements

EXTORTION

Extortion, (sometimes known as blackmail) is distinguished from robbery in that the crime of extortion does not amount to larceny and is with the consent of the victim; also, the crime is complete if the property is turned over to a third party at the defendant's request.

Case Decision on Extortion

Consent

To constitute consent on the part of the victim of extortion, it is not necessary that the turning over of his property shall have been entirely voluntary on his part, but the consent is in the nature of a choice on his part between turning over his property or of refusing to do so, and thereby incurring the possible consequences threatened by the extortionist. The force or fear in extortion is not such as would leave the victim no choice or which would compel him to allow the taking of his property against his will, for that would be robbery and not punishable as extortion.

("In a legal sense, money or property is obtained from a person with consent if he with apparent willingness turns it over to another with the understanding that he will be thereby saved from some personal calamity or injury, or if turning over his property is the lesser of two unpleasant alternatives, notwithstanding that he may mentally protest against the circumstances which compel the choice...") (People v. Peck, 43 Cal App 638) (CALJIC 14.74)

Examples of Threats:

1. Threaten another person with arrest in order to collect a debt.
2. Exposing secrets.
3. Where a threat used to extort property from another is of such a nature that it would ordinarily produce fear in the mind of the person threatened and the defendant intended it to have such effect, it is immaterial that the person to whom it is made is unaffected thereby.
4. Threats by labor union personnel to damage an employer's property and do him bodily injury are sufficient to be the basis for extortion.

CASE DECISIONS ON EXTORTION

Force or Fear

1. The force contemplated by the law of extortion differs from the force which is an element of robbery in that it is not such as compels the victim to turn over his property as the only alternative.
2. The kidnapping of hostages for the purpose of preventing police officers from stopping criminal acts of kidnapping, escape and assaults; for fear that hostages would be killed or injured; would constitute kidnapping for extortion and it is clear that kidnapping and holding of hostages may induce police officers by force or fear to forego their official duties to prevent law violations. (Magee vs. Superior Court 34C.A3d 201)

MANSLAUGHTER DEFINED

192--Manslaughter defined. Voluntary and involuntary manslaughter. Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of a human being without malice. It is of three kinds:

- a. Voluntary--upon a sudden quarrel or heat of passion.
- b. Involuntary--in the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to felony; or in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, or without due caution and circumspection; provided that this subdivision shall not apply to acts committed in the drive of a vehicle.
- c. Vehicular
 - (1) Driving a vehicle, not involving drug or alcohol and in the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to felony, and with gross negligence; or driving a vehicle in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, and with gross negligence.
 - (2) Driving a vehicle in the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to felony, but without gross negligence; or driving a vehicle in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, but without gross negligence.
 - (3) Driving a vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code and in the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to felony, and with gross negligence; or driving a vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code and in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, and with gross negligence.
 - (4) Driving a vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code and in the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to felony, but without gross negligence; or driving a vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code and in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, but without gross negligence.

This section shall not be construed as making any homicide in the driving of a vehicle punishable which is not a proximate result of the commission of an unlawful act, not amounting to felony, or of the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner.

"Gross negligence", as used in this section, shall not be construed as prohibiting or precluding a charge of murder under Section 188 upon facts exhibiting wantonness and a conscious disregard for life to support a finding of implied malice, or upon facts showing malice, consistent with the holding of the California Supreme Court in People v. Watson (1981) 30 Cal.3d 290.

CONSPIRACY

Prior Law

This section is based on Act Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, Section 19, 35 Stat. 1092 (Section 51 of former Title 18).

Revision Note:

Clause making conspirator ineligible to hold office was omitted as incongruous because it attaches ineligibility to hold office to a person who may be a private citizen and who was convicted of conspiracy to violate a specific statute. There seems to be no reason for imposing such a penalty in the case of one individual crime, in view of the fact that other crimes do not carry such a severe consequence. The experience of the Department of Justice is that this unusual penalty has been an obstacle to successful prosecutions for violations of the act. Mandatory punishment provision was rephrased in the alternative because the court has this discretion by making use of its power to suspend sentence under Section 3651 of this title.

In General

The gist of the crime defined by the statute was an unlawful conspiracy based on the unlawful agreement of defendants. (1936) Steedle v. U.S., (CCA 3), 85 F(2d) 867, 107 ALR 1361; (1937) Walker v. U.S., 9 (CCA 8), 93 F(2d) 412, rev'g 19 FGSupp 975.

Conviction in federal court under the section, precluded a subsequent prosecution in state court for offense growing out of same transaction. (1933) People v. Spitzer, 148 Misc 97, 266 NYS 522.

Constitutionality

Congress was without constitutional power to enact laws to punish persons for conspiring to deprive persons of equal protection of state laws. (1883) U.S. v. Harris, 106 US 629, 27 LEd 290, 1 SCR 601

The section was constitutional. (1900) Motes v. U.S. 178 US 458, 44 LEd 1150, 20 SCR 993.

The inclusion of Fourteenth Amendment (Const. amend. 14) rights within the compass of this section does not render it unconstitutionally vague. (1966) U.S. v. Guest, 383 US 745, 16 LEd(2d) 239, 86 SCR 1170, rev'g (DC-Ga), 246 FSupp 475.

Nature of the Statute

The section was a purely criminal statutory provision and did not make damages to be recovered in an action for acts constituting the offense, penalties, as bearing on what statute of limitations applied to such action for damages. (1913) O'Sullivan v. Felix, 233 US 318, 58 LEd 980, 34 SCR 596, aff'g (CCA 5), 194 Fed 88.

This section does not provide a civil cause of action for damages. (1958) Watson v. Devlin, (DC-Mich), 167 FSupp 638. Aff'd 268 F(2d)211.

Neither general criminal conspiracy statute (Section 371 of this title) nor civil rights criminal conspiracy statute (this section) creates a civil cause of action. (1965) Bryant v. Donnell, (DC-Tenn), 239 FSupp 681.

Conspirators

The section applied to the acts of two or more election officers who conspired to injure and oppress qualified voters by omitting the votes cast from the count and return to the state election board. (1915) U.S. v. Mosley, 238 US 383, 59 LEd 1355, 35 SCR 904.

PURPOSE

Section 15630 of the Welfare & Institutions Code of California was amended effective January 1, 1986. Certain duties and obligations have been imposed upon employees of law enforcement agencies.

BACKGROUND

15630 W&I has, in the past, required health care professionals to report any incidents of "elder or dependent adult abuse" they encounter to an appropriate enforcement agency. The law makes it a misdemeanor to fail to report an incident, and provides legal safeguards to reporters of such incidents.

The State Legislature has expanded the group of persons required to report these incidents to include any employee of a law enforcement agency. The intent of this legislation is to provide aid to abused elder or dependent adults.

DEFINITIONS

Specific words and terms as used in this training bulletin and in the pertinent sections of the Welfare & Institutions Code, are defined as follows:

"DEPENDENT ADULT" means any person residing in this state, between the ages of 18 and 64, who has physical or mental limitations which restrict his or her ability to carry out normal activities or to protect his or her rights including, but not limited to, persons who have physical or developmental disabilities or whose physical or mental abilities have diminished because of age.

"ELDER" means any person 65 years of age or older.

"ABUSE" means physical abuse, sexual abuse, neglect, intimidation, cruel punishment, fiduciary abuse, or other treatment with resulting physical harm or pain or mental suffering, or the deprivation by a care custodian of goods or services which are necessary to avoid physical harm or mental suffering.

"PHYSICAL ABUSE" includes Sections 240, 242, 245 of the Penal Code, or any unreasonable physical constraint, or prolonged or continual deprivation of food or water.

"SEXUAL ABUSE" includes 243.4, 261, 264.1, 285, 286, 288a or 289 of the Penal Code.

"NEGLECT" means the negligent failure of any person having the care of custody of a dependent adult to exercise the degree of care which a reasonable person in a like position would exercise. Neglect includes, but is not limited to all of the following:

Failure to assist in personal hygiene, or in the provision of food or clothing.

Failure to provide medical care for physical and mental health needs. (No person shall be deemed neglected or abused for the sole reason that he or she voluntarily relies on treatment by spiritual means through prayer alone in lieu of medical treatment.)

Failure to protect from health and safety hazards.

Failure to prevent malnutrition.

"ABANDONMENT" means the desertion or willful forsaking of a dependent adult, by anyone having care or custody of that person, under circumstances in which a reasonable person would continue to provide care and custody.

"FIDUCIARY ABUSE" means a situation in which any person who has the care or custody of, or who stands in a position of trust to, a dependent adult, takes, secretes, or appropriates their money or property, to any use of purpose not in the due and lawful execution of his or her trust.

"CARE CUSTODIAN" includes any employee or any other person responsible for providing goods or services necessary to avoid physical harm or mental suffering.
