FOREWORD

The New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services was assigned the responsibility for the collection of data concerning crimes and arrests in New York State, effective January 1975, pursuant to Sections 837, 837-a, and 837-b of the Executive Law.

In assuming that responsibility, the Division was also committed to providing relevant data to the National Uniform Crime Reporting program administered by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to disseminating this information to the New York State criminal justice community.

This publication is the nineteenth annual report prepared in discharge of that responsibility. The Division appreciates the cooperation and support of the nearly 550 police departments, sheriffs' offices and specialized police agencies that provide offense and arrest data for the report. We also wish to express our gratitude to District Attorney and Special Prosecutor offices throughout the State for their continued cooperation and assistance in providing data on the processing of felons. The Division is also indebted to the Superintendent of the Division of State Police, the Chairman of the Board of Parole, the Chairman of the Commission of Correction, the Commissioner of the Department of Correctional Services, the State Administrator of the Courts, the Director of the Division for Youth, and the Director of Probation and Correctional Alternatives for the data provided by their respective agencies.

The contributions of all involved in the preparation of this report permit the Division to provide a comprehensive picture of the nature of crime and justice in New York State. Without the concerted and dedicated efforts of the people who serve in the many local and State agencies which comprise our criminal justice system, the publication of this report would not be possible. It is these efforts which are documented in this Crime and Justice Annual Report.

Richard H. Girgenti
Director of Criminal Justice and Commissioner, DCJS

DATA SOURCES

Uniform Crime Reporting system - Crimes Reported

Uniform Crime Reports (UCR) submitted monthly by all police agencies in the State to the Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) are the basis for much of the material presented in this report. These reports include information on Index (Part I) offenses, Part II offenses, location and time of the offense, value of property stolen, arrests for Index and Part II offenses, juvenile arrests, law enforcement officers killed or assaulted, and law enforcement personnel and expenditures.

The UCR program is one of the major sources of official statistics on the amount of crime in society. However, for many reasons, not all offenses come to the attention of the police. Victims may feel too embarrassed to report a crime or that the loss sustained was too small to report or believe that there is nothing the police can do. Victimization studies have confirmed that many offenses are never reported to the police.

To combat crime effectively, it must be known when and where crime is occurring. The county, as a crime location, is not sufficiently definitive. Therefore, DCJS instituted direct reporting to the state program from every police chief and sheriff in New York State in accordance with State law.

KNOWN DATA PROBLEMS

In 1993, several agencies (primarily railroads) did not submit complete reports for the year. As a result, the county crime totals for many counties was slightly underreported. The incomplete reporting is indicated by a # sign in the tables beginning on page 42 and subsequent pages. Comparisons with 1992 data should be made with this in mind. Although minimal, the effect on statewide crime totals for 1993 must also be taken into consideration when making any comparisons.

Comparison of crime rates between agencies and counties should generally be made with caution. Crime rates published here are based solely on offenses reported and the size of the resident population (determined by the 1990 census data and updates provided by the United States Department of Commerce - Bureau of Census and the United States Department of Justice - Federal Bureau of Investigation). Additional factors which may influence crime rates are density of population, geographic location, social attitudes, economic conditions, number of law enforcement officers, seasonal and transient population, and rural or urban environments.

Police agencies also submit supplementary reports on homicide and arson offenses. These reports allow for the presentation of more detailed information regarding these offenses.

Uniform Crime Reporting system - Arrests

In addition to monthly summaries of crimes reported, each police agency also reports to DCJS the number of adult (16 years and over) and juvenile (under 16 years) arrests. (The FBI/UCR Program considers persons under 18 as juveniles; however this report classifies juveniles in accordance with New York State law.) Arrest offenses are tabulated according to the universal definitions of offenses provided by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (Part I and Part II) instead of New York State statutory classifications.

DATA SOURCES (con't)

Offenses are usually considered "cleared" when one or more arrests is made. However, there are exceptional circumstances when an offense may be cleared without an arrest. Exceptional clearances result when the police know who and where the offender is and have enough evidence to support an arrest, but are prevented from doing so because of some reason outside of their control. Tables showing clearance rates are also not transactional (i.e., clearances shown may be for offenses reported in earlier years).

Computerized Criminal History/Offender-Based Transaction Statistics - Adult arrests and dispositions

In addition to UCR arrest data contained in this report, county and regional data are presented for adult arrests and dispositions from the Computerized Criminal History/Offender-Based Transaction Statistics system (CCH/OBTS). These figures are based on the arrest fingerprint cards submitted to DCJS in compliance with Section 160.20 of the Criminal Procedure Law. The unit of count is an "arrest event." If there are multiple offenses charged at arrest, only the most serious offense is counted for statistical purposes. These offenses are classified according to the statutory classifications under New York State law. Disposition data pertain to the final outcome of cases during the specified year and may be for arrests that occurred in the same or previous years.

Indictment Statistical System - Felony indictments and dispositions

Felony indictment* and disposition information is reported to DCJS by District Attorneys and Special Prosecutors throughout the State pursuant to Section 837-a of the Executive Law (via the 1020 form). The unit of count is the defendant-indictment; when several defendants are named in one proceeding or indictment, each defendant is counted separately, and when one defendant is named in multiple proceedings or indictments, each indictment is counted separately. Disposition data pertain to cases handled during the specified year by the superior courts, and may be for indictments that occurred in the same or previous years. The use of offender-based statistics and the tracking of each defendant from the time of indictment until final disposition makes possible the measuring of elapsed time between various stages in processing, and these median (mid-point) processing times in days are displayed by region.

Other Contributing Agencies

Information from other criminal justice agencies is included in this report to present a broader overview of the entire criminal justice process. Agencies that have submitted data included in this report are the Office of Court Administration, Division of Probation and Correctional Alternatives, Department of Correctional Services, Commission of Correction, Division for Youth, and the Division of Parole. Data from these agencies may conflict with data presented from DCJS systems due to differences such as the unit of count, reporting delays, and compilation dates.

Index Offenses

For over 50 years, criminal offenses reported to the police have been used as an index to assess the level of criminal activity within the country. The Index offenses were selected because of their seriousness or frequency of occurrence and include the violent crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault; and the property crimes of burglary, larceny, and motor vehicle theft.

HIGHLIGHTS

In 1993, the number of Index offenses reported statewide dropped for the third consecutive year, and fell to the lowest level since 1985. This decline mirrors that experienced in the early 1980s, which saw annual decreases in Index crimes. This decline also reverses the trend of year-to-year increases in crimes reported that prevailed between 1985 through 1990.

Compared with 1992, the number of Index crimes in 1993 declined 4.9 percent in the Non-New York City counties and 4.3 percent in New York City. New York City accounted for approximately six out of every ten Index crimes reported statewide.

The rate of Index crimes per 100,000 population in 1993 was the lowest since 1984. The rate for New York City was more than twice that for the Non-New York City counties.

Violent Crimes

Violent crimes consist of the offenses of murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault. In 1993, violent crimes comprised approximately 19 percent of all Index offenses reported.

HIGHLIGHTS

The number of violent crimes reported in New York State fell in 1993 for the third consecutive year since reaching an all time high in 1990.

The decline in the State total reflects what occurred in New York City (-3.8) as well as Non-New York City (-3.6). The Non-New York City counties declined in 1993, reversing five consecutive years of increases.

Also, the level of violence involving the use of firearms in the commission of violent crimes remains virtually unchanged from last year. In 1993, almost 30 percent of violent crimes involved the use of a firearm.

The violent crime rate of 1,058.4 per 100,000 population in 1993 was the lowest since 1987. Among counties, Bronx County had the highest violent crime rate in the State at 2,592.2, while Oswego County had the lowest rate at 77.3.

Murder

Murder is defined as the willful killing of one human being by another. Excluded from this category are deaths caused by negligence, suicide, or accident; justifiable homicides; and attempts to murder, which are classified as assaults.

HIGHLIGHTS

The number of homicide victims in 1993 increased slightly (+0.2) compared to 1992.

Approximately eight out of every 10 murders in the State occurred in New York City. New York City experienced a decline in murders in 1993 compared with 1992 (-2.5%). The Non-New York City counties increased 13.7 percent.

Most homicide incidents involved one victim slain by one offender. In 1993, the 2,428 homicide victims were slain in 2,320 incidents which involved a total of 1,372 known offenders.

Among offenders whose characteristics were known, 55 percent were under 25 years old, 58 percent were black, and 93 percent were male. Among victims whose characteristics were known, 55 percent were under 30 years old, 52 percent were black, and 82 percent were male.

MURDER (con't)

NEW YORK STATE

The relationship between the victim and offender was not known in three-quarters of the homicides that occurred in 1993. Among those cases where the relationship was reported, 67 percent involved a person known to the victim: 33 percent involved a relative or romantic interest, and 34 percent involved a friend or other acquaintance. However, this varied by the gender and age of the victim. Females were most likely to be killed by a family member or in a romantic dispute (64%) while males were most likely to be killed in situations outside the family setting, usually involving a stranger or casual acquaintance (80%). Victims under 20 years of age were more likely to be killed by a family member/romantic interest (41%) than those 20 years and older (30%). There were no significant differences in the victim/offender relationship across racial groups.

Homicides that occurred during the commission of another felony accounted for 41 percent of all murders, while altercations and other circumstances accounted for 59 percent. Among cases where the type of weapon used was reported, 72 percent involved firearms (primarily handguns).

CHARACTERISTICS OF VICTIMS AND OFFENDERS: 1993

% OF MURDERS BY FIREARMS AND STRANGERS

Figures for the following tables and the above graphs were derived from the Supplementary Homicide Reporting (SHR) system which details homicides reported by law enforcement agencies for 1993. These SHR totals are slightly higher than those reported in the UCR (previous page) because the UCR system provides for the deletion of cases from the current year when cases originally reported in prior years have been later determined to be false or unfounded.

The number of incidents and the number of victims are the basic units of count, with the offender, weapon and other data as subordinate data fields attached to the victim(s) in a given incident. Prior to 1989, a homicide victim with an undetermined number of offenders was counted as one offender and added to the "unknown" offender tally. Beginning with the 1989 report, no assumption is made about the number of offenders in a case with an undetermined number of offenders. As a result, the "unknown" value is not reported in the offender tables, since it is truly unknown.

New York City reported 57 percent of the rapes as compared to 43 percent in the Non-New York City counties.

The vast majority of rapes (87%) were completed as opposed to attempted offenses, and most (67%) did not involve a weapon.

Burglary

Burglary is defined as the unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or theft. The use of force to gain entry is not required to classify an offense as Burglary.

HIGHLIGHTS

The 1993 level is the lowest ever recorded by the Uniform Crime Reporting system, and the 181,077 reported offenses represent a 5.9 percent decrease from 1992.

Both New York City and the Non-New York City counties experienced a decline in burglaries during 1993, although the rate of decline in the Non-New York City counties (-7.9%) was more than that of New York City (-4.2%).

Seven out of every ten burglaries occurred in a residence. Most residences were burglarized between six a.m. and six p.m., while non-residential structures were most often burglarized after six p.m. Forcible means of entry were used in 65 percent of all burglaries in 1993.

Larceny

Larceny is defined as the unlawful taking, carrying, leading, or riding away of property from the possession or constructive possession of another. It includes crimes such as shoplifting, purse snatching, bicycle thefts, etc., in which no use of force, violence, or fraud occurs. This offense category does not include offenses such as embezzlement, forgery, or bad checks.

HIGHLIGHTS

Nineteen hundred and ninety-three marks the fifth consecutive year of decreases in larceny.

Larceny is the most frequently reported Index crime, accounting for 48 percent of offenses reported in 1993. Larceny is also the only Index crime in which the Non-New York City counties account for a larger proportion of the State's total (52%) than New York City.

The largest category of larceny involved theft of items left in a motor vehicle (21.6%). Most items lost were valued at either under 50 dollars or over 200 dollars.

Note: These data were derived from a supplementary arson data collection program that began in 1979 under the UCR system. They differ from arson counts shown elsewhere in this report because all arsons are reported to this program, regardless of whether they occurred in conjunction with a more serious offense. Thus, these tables show more arsons than the UCR Part II offense presentations elsewhere which count arsons only if they are the most serious offense in an incident.

A "cleared" arson incident is defined as an offense for which a perpetrator has been taken into custody or is otherwise known by police to have committed the crime, but for reasons outside police control cannot be taken into custody.

Estimated values of property damaged are included in order to provide an estimate of the absolute minimum dollar value. Because many police departments have little or no access to dollar amounts for arson, the monetary values for many arson cases are not reported. New York City does not report estimated values.

Domestic Violence

The NYS Office for the Prevention of Domestic Violence studies "the traumatic effects of domestic violence and how our social and legal systems can better deal with such violence and its causes." Domestic violence data presented here represent offenses which have come to the attention of law enforcement officers, regardless of whether a formal complaint was filed or an arrest made.

HIGHLIGHTS

Domestic violence offenses increased 7.6 percent in 1993 compared to 1992.

New York City accounted for 62.2 percent of these offenses statewide, and reported an increase of 14.3 percent in 1993, while the Non-New York City counties decreased 2.0 percent.

Most domestic violence situations involved a husband against a wife and non-sexual or assaultive offenses (e.g., harassment, weapons, etc.)

ADULT ARRESTS AND DISPOSITIONS*

HIGHLIGHTS

The number of adults arrested for felony and misdemeanor offenses in New York State rose substantially during the 1980s, driven by increased enforcement of anti-drug laws. Most of the increase occurred in the mid to late 1980s, with adult arrests peaking in 1989 at 525,874. Arrests for drug offenses rose almost 80 percent between 1985 and 1989, when they accounted for almost one-quarter of all arrests. Since 1989, total arrests have fallen each year through 1993 for a cumulative decline of eight percent. However, an increase was reported in misdemeanor arrests during 1993 for the first time in five years.

Approximately 40 percent of all arrests were at the felony level in 1993, and this proportion has been relatively consistent for the last 10 years. Among arrests for drug offenses, however, the proportion that were at the felony level was higher in 1993 (56%) than in 1984 (39%).

New York City accounted for 52 percent of the arrests statewide in 1993, and had a considerably higher proportion of arrests at the felony level (49% of the City total) than the counties outside of New York City (26%). New York County reported the highest number of arrests in 1993, accounting for 20 percent of the State total, while Hamilton County reported the lowest.

Statewide, almost two-thirds of all arrests ultimately resulted in a conviction to some charge. Misdemeanor arrests resulted in a conviction slightly more often than felony arrests. Cases in New York City typically resulted in conviction less often than cases in the remainder of State, although the rate of incarceration was much higher in the City. Statewide, the number of sentences to incarceration was at the lowest level in 1993 since 1985.

FELONY INDICTMENTS AND DISPOSITIONS

HIGHLIGHTS

Felony indictments and Superior Court Informations totaled 71,040 in 1993, a decrease of 7.2 percent from 1992, ten percent from 1991, and a twelve percent decline from the record high of 80,572 in 1990. In 1993, the State witnessed the lowest number of indictments since 1988. During the 1980's, and early 1990's, felony indictments experienced a cumulative growth of more than 75 percent, largely attributable to drug indictment activity. In 1983, there were three times as many indictments for violent felonies as for drugs, but by 1993 drug offenses accounted for 41 percent of the total indictments.

New York City accounted for two-thirds of the total indictments statewide, in 1993, but a much higher proportion of the State's drug cases (79%) than non-drug cases (58%). Indictments declined in 1993 in all geographic regions of the State, although the counties outside of New York City and Suburban New York City experienced a much smaller decline in total cases, and an increase of five percent in drug indictments compared with 1992.

Statewide, approximately 89.5 percent of felony indictments resulted in a conviction on some charge in 1993. This rate has been relatively steady for the last 10 years although the number of convictions has increased greatly (64%) due to increased numbers of indictments. There were 3,999 felony trials completed in 1993, and 71 percent of the trials resulted in guilty verdicts. Almost all (92%) of the convictions from indictments were at the felony level in 1993, and 51 percent resulted in a sentence to State prison. In 1993, 44 percent of the prison sentences imposed were for drug convictions, compared with only 15 percent in 1984.

In 1993, the median number of days between indictment and disposition was 90 days, up from 84 days in 1992. Processing times were significantly longer in New York City (110 days) than in Suburban New York City (31 days) and Upstate (69 days).

FELONY INSURANCE FRAUD OFFENSES

MANDATE

Because of the increasing concern with insurance fraud, the State Legislature enacted Chapter 480 of the 1992 Laws of New York requiring the Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) to collect and analyze statistical information on the number of felony insurance fraud offenses violating Sections 176.15, 176.20, 176.25, and 176.30 of the New York State Penal Law relative to insurance fraud. The Computerized Criminal History/Offender-Based Transaction Statistics System (CCH/OBTS) uses data collected from police, prosecutors, courts, and correction agencies to track individual offenders through the criminal justice system. With CCH/OBTS, both arrests and dispositions are recorded where the specific insurance fraud offense is the most serious charge in an arrest or disposition event. Also, data on indictments and sentences for these felonies provided by District Attorneys to the Indictment Statistical System (ISS) are displayed.

PENAL LAW INSURANCE FRAUD OFFENSE DEFINITIONS

§176.05 Insurance fraud; defined:

A fraudulent insurance act is committed by any person who, knowingly and with intent to defraud presents, causes to be presented, or prepares with knowledge of belief that it will be presented to or by an insurer or purported insurer, or any agency thereof, any written statement as part of, or in support of, an application for the issuance of, or the rating of an insurance policy for commercial insurance, or a claim for payment or other benefit pursuant to an insurance policy for commercial or personal insurance which he knows to: (i) contain materially false information concerning any fact material thereto; or (ii) conceal, for the purpose of misleading, information concerning any fact material thereto.

§176.15 Insurance fraud in the fourth degree:

A person is guilty of insurance fraud in the fourth degree when he commits a fraudulent insurance act and thereby wrongfully takes, obtains or withholds, or attempts to wrongfully take, obtain or withhold property with a value in excess of one thousand dollars. Insurance fraud in the fourth degree is a class E felony.

§176.20 Insurance fraud in the third degree:

A person is guilty of insurance fraud in the third degree when he commits a fraudulent insurance act and thereby wrongfully takes, obtains or withholds, or attempts to wrongfully take, obtain or withhold property with a value in excess of three thousand dollars. Insurance fraud in the third degree is a class D felony.

§176.25 Insurance fraud in the second degree:

A person is guilty of insurance fraud in the second degree when he commits a fraudulent insurance act and thereby wrongfully takes, obtains or withholds, or attempts to wrongfully take, obtain or withhold property with a value in excess of fifty thousand dollars. Insurance fraud in the second degree is a class C felony.

§176.30 Insurance fraud in the first degree:

A person is guilty of insurance fraud in the first degree when he commits a fraudulent insurance act and thereby wrongfully takes, obtains or withholds, or attempts to wrongfully take, obtain, or withhold property with a value in excess of one million dollars. Insurance fraud in the first degree is a class B felony.

1993 DATA HIGHLIGHTS

- » There were 159 arrests for felony insurance fraud offenses statewide in 1993. This represents an increase of almost 12 percent from the 142 arrests reported during 1992.
- » The overwhelming majority (80%) of arrests for felony insurance fraud were at the class D felony level (third degree) involving frauds with a value in excess of three thousand dollars.
- » Despite the increase in arrests, there was an 18 percent decrease in the number of felony indictments for insurance fraud in 1993 (from 62 to 51).
- » Almost 80 percent of the arrests disposed resulted in a conviction to some charge. The conviction rate was highest for the fourth degree offense, and lowest for the second degree offense.
- » There were 21 convictions for felony insurance fraud (resulting from indictments for any charge) in 1993, about the same number reported in 1992. Almost half of those convictions resulted in an incarcerative sentence of prison, jail, or jail plus probation. Probation was the most common sentence imposed.

Notes: Indictments include Superior Court Informations. Data are not transactional; i.e., indictments which occurred in 1993 are not necessarily from arrests which occurred in 1993. The conviction rate represents the number of dispositions of arrests that resulted in a conviction to any charge. The convictions shown for insurance fraud could have resulted from arrests or indictments on other charges.

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENSES

MANDATE

On September 1, 1978, substantial revisions to the New York State Penal, Criminal Procedure and Executive Laws became effective and altered the treatment of violent offenders. The newly created Penal Law Section 70.02 designated specific class B through class E felonies as violent felony offenses (VFOs) subject to minimum mandatory indeterminate state prison sentences. Additional offenses were later designated violent felonies through subsequent amendments to the Penal Law and VFOs currently include specific charges within nine different Penal Law articles. DCJS is required to report on the criminal justice processing of violent felony offenses.

DATA HIGHLIGHTS

- » In 1993, there were 65,017 arrests for violent felony offenses statewide, accounting for approximately 35 percent of all felony arrests. VFO arrests peaked in 1989 and have declined in each of the last four years. Almost three-quarters of all VFO arrests occurred in New York City, and approximately two-thirds were for either assault or robbery offenses.
- » Slightly more than one-third of all violent felony arrests retain their felony status post-arrest and reach the upper courts for prosecution. This rate has risen moderately since 1990. Resulting violent felony indictments peaked in 1991 and were down about 12 percent in 1993.
- » The number of violent felony convictions rose 15 percent between 1990 and 1991, when VFO convictions reached a record level. In 1993, violent felony convictions were down about eight percent from that peak in 1991. Approximately eight out of every ten VFO convictions result in some form of state or local incarceration, while the remaining non-incarcerative sentences were imposed when mitigating circumstances allowed for alternative sentences.

Criminal Cases

Criminal cases are processed in the trial courts as follows: Felony indictments and superior court informations are processed in the Criminal Term of the Supreme Courts in New York City and in the County Courts outside New York City. In several counties outside New York City, a portion of the felony caseload is processed in the Supreme Court as well. The District Courts of Nassau and Suffolk and the City, Town, and Village Courts outside New York City have original jurisdiction over felonies and complete jurisdiction over misdemeanors, violations, and infractions.

Criminal Term of Supreme and County Courts Filings: Statewide, 71,824 felony cases* were filed in the Supreme and County Courts during 1993. Sixty-six percent (47,133) of the 1993 filings occurred in New York City. Table 2 shows 1993 filings by judicial district. Table 3 focuses on individual counties, showing the seventeen counties with 400 or more felony case filings in the Supreme and County Courts. These seventeen counties accounted for 90 percent of all felony filings in these courts.

* "Cases" are a count of "defendant-indictments," i.e., each defendant on each indictment counts as a case.

Dispositions: Statewide, 75,681 cases reached disposition (guilty plea, trial verdict, dismissal, or miscellaneous other) in 1993. Sixty-six percent (49,970) of the 1993 dispositions occurred in New York City. Table 2 shows 1993 dispositions by judicial district. Table 3 shows the seventeen counties with more than 400 dispositions in 1993; these counties accounted for 90 percent of all felony case dispositions. Eleven counties which commenced over 40 trials accounted for 89 percent of felony trials commenced statewide in 1993. Of the total 5,188 felony trials commenced, 4,405 (86%) were jury trials. Figure 1 shows felony case dispositions by type. There were 63,198 guilty pleas (84%), 6,648 dismissals (9%), 4,415 trial verdicts (6%), and 1,420 other dispositions (2%).

City and District Courts Outside New York City: Criminal case intake in the City Courts and the Nassau and Suffolk District Courts totaled 224,462 in 1993. There were 216,576 dispositions. Of the dispositions, 50 percent were by guilty plea, 38 percent by dismissal, 7 percent by referral to grand jury or by transfer to superior court for waiver of indictment, 1 percent by trial verdict, and 3 percent miscellaneous other.

There were 364,850 non-criminal (violations and infractions) Uniform Traffic Tickets disposed in these courts. These consisted primarily of fines paid (by personal appearance and mail). In addition, 38,449 traffic tickets were filed and not answered. In jurisdictions without a parking violations bureau, the City and District Courts process parking tickets. Dispositions totaled 504,365 in 1993.

DIVISION OF PROBATION AND CORRECTIONAL ALTERNATIVES

PROBATION DEPARTMENTS DATA SUMMARY

Intake Services

Cases opened for intake services decreased three percent from 134,016 in 1992 to 129,819 in 1993.

Investigations

Probation departments conducted 109,137 regular investigations (pre-sentence, pre-plea, JD, and PINS) and 78,909 other investigations in 1993, as compared to 112,137 and 75,882 respectively, in 1992. This 188,287 total is a slight increase from the 188,019 investigations conducted in 1992.

Pre-disposition Services

There were 17,469 cases received for supervision prior to court disposition in 1993. This is a 6 percent decrease from the 18,535 cases received in 1992.

Probation Supervision

The total number of family and criminal cases sentenced to probation decreased from 57,679 in 1992 to 53,834 in 1993. The number of family and criminal cases under probation supervision at the end of the year increased from 159,715 in 1992 to 164,454 in 1993, an increase of three percent.

The number of criminal cases sentenced to probation in New York City increased by less than 1 percent from 19,527 in 1992 to 19,644 in 1993. During 1993, there were a total of 46,508 criminal cases sentenced to probation in New York State. This is an eight percent decrease from 1992 when 50,694 cases were sentenced to probation.

Felony cases sentenced to probation increased between 1989 and 1992 and then decreased in 1993. Misdemeanor cases increased between 1989 and 1992 and then decreased between 1992 and 1993. New York City and Upstate Counties both experienced a slight decline in felony cases sentenced to probation between 1992 and 1993.

The number of criminal court cases supervised on December 31 in New York City rose from 72,940 in 1992 to 76,456 in 1993, an increase of five percent. Statewide, the number of criminal court cases supervised at the end of the year increased from 152,165 in 1992 to 156,617 in 1993, an increase of three percent.

Since 1989, the total number of felony cases supervised at the end of the year have outnumbered misdemeanors. However, outside New York City, there has continued to be a larger number of misdemeanor cases supervised than felony cases.

Of the 41,904 criminal cases closed in 1993, 14,464 (35%) were by early discharge and another 11,701 (28%) were closed by maximum expiration. In New York City, these categories reflected 52 percent of all case closings. Outside New York City, these categories reflected 68 percent of all case closings.

POPULATION ON DECEMBER 31: 1972 - 1993

CHART 2
DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICES
ADMISSIONS AND RELEASES: 1982 - 1993

Under Custody Population (Table 1 and Chart 1)

The number of inmates in New York State prisons rose to an all-time high of 64,569 by the close of calendar year 1993. This represents a rise of 4.6 percent or 2,833 inmates from the previous year and 431.7 percent from a low of 12,144 inmates on December 31, 1972. Prior to 1972, the prison population had declined following a series of executive, legislative and judicial actions which diverted a number of offenders to other agencies. In the early 1970's, a rising volume of crime led to enactment of more stringent legislation which was accompanied by an increase in admissions to state prisons. In 1973, admissions exceeded prison releases for the first time since 1963 and the prison population increased. This increase has continued annually through 1993.

The number of women in prison has risen at a higher rate than the increase for men. At the close of 1993, the female population stood at 3,528. This represents a rise of 788.7% over the 397 at the close of 1972. The male population has risen at a lower rate but at a much greater volume, growing by 48,994 (+406.7%) from a 12,047 low in 1972 to 61,041 by the close of 1993.

Admissions To Department Custody (Table 1 and Chart 2)

Admissions to DOCS facilities have risen consistently over the last twenty-two years and reached a record high of 35,801 in 1993.

Court commitments account for close to four out of five admissions and trends in this category largely shape the flow of offenders into state prisons. Beginning in 1971, felony commitments rose rapidly, offsetting declines in commitments for lesser offenses which have been diverted to other agencies. Contributing to this trend have been a rise in crime, felony arrests, indictments and court dispositions and an increasing tendency of the courts to commit convicted felons to prison. Several stringent laws enacted in 1973 and in subsequent years have added to this increase in commitments. These include the second felony offender law which imposes mandatory state prison terms for such offenders; a drug law which imposes harsher penalties on drug felons; the imposition of mandatory terms of imprisonment on all Class B and certain Class C and Class D felonies. The trend toward a higher level of court commitments has continued reflecting the additional impact of the violent felony legislation that became effective in 1978 as well as the growing pool of felony offenders who must be sent to prison in the event of any new felony conviction.

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICES
1993 COMMITMENTS BY TYPE OF OFFENSE

Of the 24,893 commitments to DOCS in 1993, 57.0 percent or 14,189 were sentenced as second felony offenders. A mandatory state prison term is required for persons convicted of a second felony offense. The single largest crime group was made up of drug felons accounting for 43.9 percent or 10,939 of all commitments. Over half (67.1%) of the drug felons were sentenced as second felony offenders.

One out of three (8,650 or 34.7%) of the 1993 commitments had been convicted of crimes designated in the penal law as Violent Felony Offenses (VFO). Robbery led the VFO group followed by dangerous weapons, burglary, homicide, assault and violent sex crimes. The VFO group had the smallest (43.1%) portion sentenced as second felony offenders.

Property and other crimes accounted for 14.0 percent or 3,476 of the 1993 commitments. Burglary 3rd was the largest crime category in the group followed by larceny, stolen property, driving while intoxicated and forgery. This group had the highest portion sentenced as second felony offenders, 66.5 percent.

There were 1,408 commitments sentenced for lesser felonies involving violence or coercion. Robbery 3rd led this group followed by sex offenses, homicide and assault. Well over half (57.5%) were sentenced as second felony offenders.

A small group of inmates (311) were sentenced as persistent felony offenders with a maximum term of life. Offenders convicted of three or more VFOs receive a mandatory persistent felony sentence while this type of sentence is optional for other combinations of felonies. The largest portion (259) of the persistent felons were VFOs. Drugs at 28 was the next largest persistent felony category followed by property crimes at 16 and other coercive at 8.

Drug Felony Commitments (Tables 3 and 4 and Chart 4)

CHART 4
DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICES
DRUG COMMITMENTS: 1970 - 1993

Drug commitments to DOCS have risen over the 1970 - 1993 period from an annual figure of 470 to 10,939. Over the 14 year period from 1970 to 1983, drug felons accounted for an average of 12.2 percent of all DOCS commitments annually, ranging from a low of 10.5 percent to a high of 15.0 percent. Since then the proportion of drug felons to total commitments has increased markedly and in 1993 accounted for 43.9 percent of all commitments to DOCS. Class A felonies accounted for 677 or 6.2 percent of all drug commitments in 1993 (57 for Class A-I and 620 for Class A-II). There were 2,387 or 21.8 percent Class B drug felons committed; 2,683 Class C (24.5%); 3,883 Class D (35.0%); and 1,359 Class E (12.4%). Crimes of drug sale accounted for 70.0 percent of drug commitments while possession accounted for 30.0 percent.

Two thirds (67.3%) of all drug commitments received predicate felony sentences. Only 5.3 percent or 36 of the Class A drug felons were sentenced as second or persistent felony offenders. Among the Class B group, 35.0 percent or 836 were sentenced as predicate felons as were 62.0 percent or 1,664 of the Class C group. Class D felons had the second highest portion sentenced as predicate felony offenders at 90.4 percent or 3,512 while Class E felons at 95.5 percent or 1,298 had the highest portion of predicate felony offenders.

1993 FIRST RELEASES BY OFFENSE

There were 18,445 inmates released to parole supervision for the first time on their current sentence in 1993. The average time served by these offenders in combined Department and local jail custody was 31.4 months. Violent felony offenders had the highest time served at 45.2 months. Other coercive felons served an average time of 27.5 months; followed by drug felons at 26.1 months; property/other felons at 21.7 months and Youthful Offenders at 8.2 months. As expected, persons convicted of murder served the longest period of time, 209.1 months followed by manslaughter 1st at 83.3 months and rape 1st degree at 82.1 months.

COMMISSION OF CORRECTION

1993 CORRECTIONAL POPULATION REVIEW

The Commission of Correction oversees all correctional facilities in New York State including state prisons, county jails, city, town and village lockups and precincts. Its goals are: to regulate and oversee the operation and management of State and local correctional facilities; to develop policies, plans and programs that will improve the administration of these facilities; and to promote a safe and secure correctional environment for both staff and inmates. In light of these goals, the Commission investigates incidents and correctional management issues; establishes and enforces minimum standards; provides training for county correction officers and managers; offers technical assistance on health services including AIDS related issues; and, approves plans and specifications for new jail construction or renovations. The Commission also serves as a central repository for information on the correctional system in New York State.

Three Commissioners head the agency: A Chairperson and two members who chair the Citizens' Policy and Complaint Review Council and the Medical Review Board, respectively. The Citizens' Council monitors grievances in county facilities and provides an avenue for citizen participation in development of Commission policies and programs. The Medical Review Board monitors medical and mental health services in correctional facilities and investigates circumstances surrounding inmate deaths.

The correctional system in New York State is comprised of three major correctional jurisdictions including the Department of Correctional Services, the New York City Department of Correction, and county jails/penitentiaries. The Department of Correctional Services (DOCS) operates all state correctional facilities. DOCS houses only those inmates who are sentenced to more than one year. The New York City Department of Correction (NYCDOC) operates all county correctional facilities within the City of New York; and thirdly, county jails and penitentiaries are operated by individual county sheriffs/correction departments. These county departments house pre-trial individuals as well as those who are sentenced to one year or less.

In addition, the Commission of Correction monitors and serves as a central repository of data for the New York City Police Department (operating New York City Precinct Lockups) and all other City, Town and Village Police Department Lockups outside the City of New York.

Inmate Populations

The Commission began collecting inmate population data by conducting semi-annual telephone surveys to county jails and penitentiaries in 1981. Currently, county facilities report daily inmate populations via the on-line Jails Daily Population Reporting System.

Inmate population counts for both the New York City Department of Correction and the State Department of Correctional Services are obtained from Daily Population Reports produced by both departments.

Table 1 and Figure 1 present the inmate populations across the three major correctional jurisdictions from 1981-1993.

STATE AND COUNTY INMATE POPULATION
NOVEMBER 1981 - NOVEMBER 1993

Table 2 illustrates the percent of occupancy of county inmates to jail capacity for upstate facilities as well as the City of New York. The average daily count for the month of December, 1993 includes the physical body count only. It is common for "upstate" jails to board their inmates out to other counties due to overcrowding. This decreases their body count in order to maintain facility compliance for maximum occupancy. Conversely, many counties board-in inmates from surrounding counties when they have bed space available. This increases their body count to include all inmates housed. The following table reports the actual body count for all jails across New York State for the last month of 1993. The design capacity represents the amount of permanent jail space within each facility. The total capacity includes all permanent and temporary jail space available within each facility. Examples of approved temporary capacity would include a day room that has been converted to house inmates until permanent jail space is obtained.

The average daily CENSUS for county correctional facilities for the last six years are displayed in Table 3. The average census reflects the number of county inmates for whom the sheriff/commissioner are responsible. The census is computed by adding to the physical body count all those inmates who are boarded out to another county, housed out to a mental hygiene facility, etc. Inmates who are boarded in would not be included in the census. Rather, these inmates are reflected in the county of origin or census county.

County jail and penitentiary admission data are derived from the Statewide Compilation of Data from Sheriffs' Annual Reports for the last five years. The Commission of Correction compiles annual data from individual Sheriff and Penitentiary reports submitted by all county correctional facilities. Annual reports submitted by the New York City Department of Correction since 1983 are the source of all City admission data.

Tables 4 and 5 represent total admissions reported by county correctional facilities between 1988 and 1993. Total admissions include both sentenced and unsentenced admissions.

Total Admissions to City, Town and Village Lockups

The total number of admissions reported by police department lockups across New York State between 1988 and 1993 are reflected in Table 6. The Commission compiles annual data from individual record of detention reports received from police department lockups.

Beginning in 1985, the Commission requested a one day population figure from police departments. This one day population represents the number of admissions during the 24 hour period of 12/31. Table 7 reports these December 31 population figures for the last six years.

The Commission of Correction is mandated to investigate the causes and circumstances surrounding inmates who die while incarcerated. The following three tables focus on inmate deaths reported across New York State. Table 10 reports the number of inmate deaths across all correctional jurisdictions during 1993. The number of suicides and AIDS deaths reported since 1988 are reflected in Tables 11 and 12 respectively. Data on the cause of death for 1993 are preliminary and subject to final determination.

DIVISION OF PAROLE

THE BOARD OF PAROLE: 1992-1994

During the 1992-93 and 1993-94 fiscal years, the Parole Board conducted over 62,500 interviews and/or hearings in State correctional facilities to determine the release readiness of eligible inmates for parole supervision and the re-release of parole violators, as well as other types of administrative hearings.

The number of release interviews conducted by the Parole Board (excluding Shock interviews and administrative hearings) increased from 29,946 in 1992-1993 to 32,751 in 1993-1994, an increase of 9 percent.

The Parole Board granted release to 40,353 inmates during the last two fiscal years with an increase of 11 percent in 1993-1994. Release decisions were granted to 27,688 initial applicants during the two year period (inmates who became eligible for parole release after serving their minimum sentence from April 1, 1992 through March 31, 1994). Reappearance interviews resulted in 5,116 release decisions for inmates who were previously eligible for parole release, but were denied release and became eligible again. Re-release interviews for violators resulted in 7,549 inmates released to the community. The decisions rendered at the various release interviews are summarized in Table 1 below.

* This table excludes release interviews conducted with Shock Incarceration inmates and administrative hearings which are a part of the Board's duties.

The community protection efforts of the Parole Board are reflected in a comparison of some of the characteristics of inmates granted and denied release at initial interviews. The comparison reveals that inmates who were denied release were more likely to have committed crimes involving the use of a weapon or the occurrence of an injury. Further, those who were denied release had more extensive prior records than inmates granted release. The effectiveness of the Parole Board's screening is demonstrated in greater detail in the table to follow:

PAROLE OPERATIONS

The mission of the Division of Parole is to create the opportunity for an offender to become a productive law-abiding member of the community, while limiting public risk.

Institutional Parole

The Parole Officer assigned to an institution plays a critical role in the inmate's transition from institutional to community life. These Parole Officers serve in a bridging capacity between the inmate and the community, the inmate and the field parole officer, and the inmate and the Parole Board.

The role of the Parole Officer with an institutional assignment includes an assessment of the needs of each inmate and encouragement of their participation in programming, during incarceration, which meets these needs. It also encompasses discharge planning to expedite the release of inmates and linkages with community programs appropriate to identified needs. These Parole Officers conduct inmate group counseling sessions and Parole orientation classes for inmates. Additionally, they interview inmates, in advance of their Board release interviews, to gather information which is presented to the Board in summary reports together with recommendations for the granting or denial of parole release and possible conditions of release.

After a parolee has been granted release, the Parole Officer continues to participate in Parole Board release planning through the Community Preparation Program. The Parole Officer provides the link between the institution and the community both through pre-release interviews conducted with inmates and through ongoing communication with the Field Area Office to which the parolee is to be released. These services are provided to both inmates who are released by decision of the Parole Board and to those conditionally released.

Finally, institutionally assigned Parole Officers participate on correctional temporary release committees, which grant temporary work release and furloughs to inmates.

Community Supervision of Parolees

Community supervision is at the heart of the Division's mission. The Parole Officer with a field assignment is located in the community supervising offenders released from state correctional facilities. Community protection requires that Parole Officers adhere to strict supervision standards. Additionally, it is essential to ensure that parolees comply with the terms and conditions of release. When the conditions of release are violated, the Parole Officer must take appropriate action.

Their presence in the community allows Parole Officers to become familiar with the services and resources within their neighborhood. Through their familiarity with the surrounding community, the officer can expedite the reintegration of the offender by linking offenders with particular needs to relevant services.

Beginning in FY 85-86, the Division implemented Differential Supervision, which was a unique approach to community supervision caseload management. The concept targets resources on parolees with the highest levels of need for surveillance and social services in an attempt to meet the agency's goals. Allocation of these resources is based on a model of risk management under which newly released parolees are placed on Intensive caseloads which require extensive contact standards and reduced caseload size. After fifteen months, most parolees are moved to Regular caseloads when their potential threat to the community and level of service needs have been reduced.

There were 63,894 individuals under community parole supervision during fiscal year 1993-94, as reflected in Table 3. This represented an increase of 5 percent over the previous year's figure of 60,580. Parole Board releases from state correctional facilities increased from 20,605 during fiscal year 1992-93 to 22,215 during fiscal year 1993-94. Statistics reflecting median time-served of those released by the Parole Board have remained very consistent over the years.

- a These individuals were actually released from state prison during the given fiscal year. The total number of releases should not be confused with the number of inmates granted release by the Parole Board during the same year. Release interviews are done two months in advance, so that the number of actual releases is usually less than the number of inmates granted release by the end of a year. Moreover, inmates granted release in March, which is the close of the fiscal year, would be counted as releases in the new fiscal year.*
- b This includes cases released to supervision both within and out-of-state.*
- c Removals include parolees discharged from parole supervision by expiration of maximum sentence, death, Board action, court order and prison returns.*
- d Dynamic population is the cumulative number of parolees under supervision during all or any part of the year.*
- e Delinquents are those parolees carried by parole officers who are either in the stages of the violation process or are absconders. Not all delinquents in the violation process will have their parole revoked.*

Shock Incarceration

In response to prison overcrowding, in 1987 New York State created the Shock Incarceration Program. Carefully selected inmates who participate in this six-month regimented program of physical exercise, education, substance abuse treatment and counseling do not have to serve their entire minimum sentence but may be released from prison after successful completion of the six-month program. During fiscal year 1993-94, 2,155 Shock graduates were released from prison.

After release, the Shock program is continued by the Division of Parole. Shock parolees are supervised on reduced caseloads at a ratio of two parole officers for every thirty-eight parolees for the first six months in the community before moving to standard Intensive caseloads. The goal of the Shock Supervision program is to reinforce the Shock experience by continuing to provide intensive supervision and a variety of programming opportunities.

Outcome of Parole Supervision

Parole Officers contribute to the Division's mission by supervising parolees in the community, coordinating the delivery of available social services, and helping to motivate and guide the parolees towards a more positive life-style. However, one must realize that not all persons will abide by their conditions of release. The Division must, therefore, return a violator to prison when appropriate.

A violation of parole occurs when an individual under supervision violates the conditions of parole in an important respect. These conditions are agreed to in writing by an inmate upon release from prison to community parole supervision. They stipulate, for example, that if the releasee absconds from supervision or re-engages in criminal activity, his/her parole is subject to revocation. The individual may consequently be returned to prison following a series of due process hearings.

In the 1993-94 period, 16 percent of all parolees under supervision during the year were returned to prison by the courts for committing new crimes or by the Parole Board for violating the rules of parole (e.g., absconding, or illegal use of drugs). Table 4 provides a more detailed analysis of the parole success rate.

OUTCOME MEASURES	FY 1992-93 ^a	FY 1993-94 ^b
Rate of Parolees Returned to Prison with New Court Conviction During Year	6% (N = 3,761)	6% (N = 3,937)
Rate of Parolees Returned to Prison for Violating Conditions of Parole During Year	10% (N = 6,354)	10% (N = 6,350)
Total Rate of Prison>Returns During Year	17% (N = 10,115)	16% (N = 10,287)

^a Rates computed on basis of dynamic population of 60,580 parolees during April 1, 1992 through March 31, 1993.

^b Rates computed on basis of dynamic population of 63,894 parolees during April 1, 1993 through March 31, 1994.

In view of the data in Table 4, the parole success rate can be discussed in two different ways. In terms of total number of parolees not returned to prison, the success rate was 83 percent in 1992-93 and 84 percent in 1993-94. This result is an indication of the Division's overall performance in deterring parolee crime and re-incarceration. A prison return based on a rule violation decreases the chances of a parolee being a threat to community safety. Given this, the success rate was 94 percent for fiscal year 1992-93 and for fiscal year 1993-94.
