information contained in this report is based on data solicited from the Chief Justices of the several state courts of last resort and from Court Administrative Officers now operating in close to 45 States. We are most grateful to them for their splendid cooperation in furnishing the data.

We hope this compilation will be useful to judges and other state officials interested in the judicial branch of state government. We also hope that any errors of omission or commission may be brought to our attention for inclusion in the next edition of this report. The Council of State Governments wishes to acknowledge the work of the staff of the State Criminal Justice Assistance Program, funded by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, who helped compile the data and information presented in this report.

Foreword

Brevard Crihfield Executive Director The Council of State Governments

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This compilation contains the names of the Justices of the courts of last resort of the fifty States and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. For each State, the names are listed in order of seniority of service on the court, except that the Chief Justice is listed first, and that, where there is a Vice Chief Justice or Justice otherwise designated specially, his name is listed next.

The date on which service commenced, in the first column, is the date on which the Justice first began to serve on the particular court. The other columns show the dates on which the present term commenced and will terminate. In most instances, the termination date is in accord with the number of years fixed by statute, but in some cases the termination date shown reflects the necessity of a Justice retiring at a certain age, even though the term for which he was elected or appointed would not have expired. Where information regarding a retirement date was provided, it has been noted in a footnote. Likewise, when it was known that a Justice was chosen to fill a vacancy, this information appears in a footnote.

In a majority of the States, the dates of the present terms listed for Chief Justices are the dates of their terms as Justices. In these instances, footnotes indicate their respective terms as Chief Justices. The terms indicated by the last two columns are full terms where Chief Justices are popularly elected or appointed for full terms.
