ANNUAL REPORT OF JUDICIAL EDUCATION FY 1998-1999

Constant changes in statutes, procedures, substantive law and personnel require ongoing training and education. Such training and education are vital in keeping abreast of current issues and maintaining a well informed judicial branch. The judicial education office of the Administrative Office of the Courts provides initial and continuing education for appellate judges, circuit and chancery judges, municipal judges, appellate staff, case coordinators, municipal court clerks, city court clerks, and municipal court probation officers.

During fiscal year 1998-99 the Administrative Office of the Courts provided a core calendar of continuing education conferences and seminars. Attendance at the continuing education programs has continued to grow as has the awareness of the necessity of continuous training and education. The office has continued to expand its orientation programs. During fiscal year 1998-99, the office provided orientation programs for circuit and chancery judges, municipal judges, municipal and city court clerks and appellate staff members. For the first time the office provided an orientation program for case coordinators. The program was held in connection with a week- long circuit and chancery judges orientation program, allowing judges and case coordinators to attend a session on case management together.

The office has had access for the past few years to a grant from the National Highway Transportation Safety Agency to provide education programs for municipal judges. That grant will be expanded in the upcoming fiscal year to provide programming for more employees in the municipal courts.

As the number of participants in its education programs continues to grow, the Administrative Office of the Courts will continue to provide its core calendar, but will begin to search for ways to better address the educational needs of the judicial branch of government.

WEIGHTED CASELOAD SYSTEM

I INTRODUCTION

The Judicial Resources Assessment Committee (JRAC) was established by the Arkansas Judicial in response to Act 864 of 1989. Act 864 directed the Arkansas Judicial Council to develop criteria for new judgeships of the Courts of General Jurisdiction and to make recommendations to the General Assembly.

The Judicial Council appoints two judges from each of the Court of Appeals districts and a chairman. The Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts serves as secretary. The current committee is:

Court of Appeals District 1:	Howard Templeton Harvey Yates
Court of Appeals District 2:	Jim Hannah John Dan Kemp
Court of Appeals District 3:	Richard Gardner Tom Keith
Court of Appeals District 4:	Phil Shirron Ted Capeheart
Court of Appeals District 5:	Edward Jones David Guthrie
Court of Appeals District 6:	Robin Mays Morris Thompson
Chair:	John Fogleman
Secretary:	J.D. Gingerich

The Delphi Weighted Caseload method was adopted due to its cost effectiveness, simplicity, use of data already captured by the information system, and the high probability of judicial involvement.

II METHODOLOGY

Implementation involves two rounds of surveys of judges. Judges are asked as experts in case processing to determine the average amounts of time required to dispose of different case types.

After the estimated hourly processing times are established, three basic steps must be completed. First, the average amount of judge time available (in hours) to hear and handle cases is calculated. Second, the amount of judicial time required (in hours) to handle the actual caseload is calculated. Finally, the number of judicial positions needed to process the cases are calculated.

This is an abbreviated presentation of the Weighted Caseload method. If you would like to receive the entire procedure, please call the Administrative Office of the Courts at (501) 682-9400. Ask for a copy of the "Weighted Caseload System", dated June 20, 1994.
