FOREWARD

On behalf of the Board of Regents, the National College of District Attorneys expresses its appreciation to the Houston Endowment Incorporated which made possible the publication of this bibliography.

The College believes that this bibliography will provide America's prosecutors with an essential reference source for current prosecution materials in the field of criminal justice.

ACQUISITIONS

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this bibliography is to supplement the research aids available to the practicing prosecutor. The subjects reflect the broad range of needs and responsibilities of the average district attorney.

To facilitate easy reference the bibliography contains only three sections: subject, source and audio visual.

The SUBJECT SECTION lists books, manuals and periodical articles of interest to the average district attorney. After selection of the desired material, the prosecutor can refer to the SOURCE SECTION for direct ordering from the publisher.

Recognizing the increasing reliance upon audio visual materials in prosecutorial training and research, an AUDIO VISUAL SECTION has been included in the bibliography. This section lists by subject, selected materials available for rental or purchase. Accompanying a brief description of the material is the address of the distributor.

Supplements to this volume will be published periodically to keep the bibliography current. To guarantee the effectiveness of the bibliography as a useful research aid an evaluation form is provided to record your impressions.

EVALUATION

TRIAL BY JURY

The film depicts the procedure followed in a personal injury action in the Superior Court, King County, Washington. It commences with a collision of two automobiles. Statistics on auto accidents supply background information. The role of the Superior (trial) Court in the Washington judicial system is discussed. Then all steps from the filing of the complaint to the jury verdict are explained in detail. Apart from its technical correctness the greatest value of this film lies in the detail with which it presents such aspects of a trial as these: the filing of complaint, service of summons and complaint, summons served on jurors, excuses from jury duty, physical layout of the court, presentation of evidence, instructions to the jury, polling of the jury, and many others. This is law in action. This film is valuable because it was prepared for use in law schools and is well done.
