ANNUAL REPORT

OF

THE ROYAL VIRGIN ISLANDS POLICE FORCE

FOR THE YEAR 1977

PART I      GENERAL REPORT AND SURVEY OF THE YEAR

Introduction

The Territorial crime level indicated a 26.6% fall compared to 1976. This is very satisfactory considering the high percentage increase in tourism during the same period. It demonstrates only too well the law abiding qualities of the population as a whole and must be regarded as an incentive to economic development.

2.      The high light of the Silver Jubilee Year was the visit on 26th October, by Her Majesty The Queen and His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh, The force provided a Guard of Honour and all aspects of crowd and traffic control. It was a memorable day.
3.      There was no external threat to the Territory during the period under review .
4.      During the year, the force was selected to run a Field Training School. It was very successful, and included 15 students from Dependencies and 10 from Associated States. Valuable and useful equipment was obtained for the benefit of the course by way of a generous grant from the United Kingdom Government through its Development Division in the Caribbean. The equipment has now been taken on charge.
5.      The Development Aid programme has provided excellent buildings and equipment, the benefit of which must be felt in the years ahead. This force is conscious of its gratitude to the United Kingdom Government for its support and assistance.
6.      The A/M communication system originally installed but which proved totally unsuited to the terrain was transferred at the request of the Development Division to the Government of St. Kitts.

7. A scenes of crime equipment room and photographic dark room were completed during the year on a self-help basis. Internal and external redecoration of Headquarters and outstations also continued by self-help as and when required.
8. The Queen's Birthday Parade was held on 11th June. The Police took part with civilian organisations.
9. The Legislative Council was opened with formal ceremony by Her Majesty the Queen on 26th October.
10. Although H.M. Prison is now a separate department of Government, the Police assisted in staffing the Prison as and when required.
11. Tribute is paid to the keen and efficient application to duty in all fields, to the high level of morale and discipline maintained by members of the Force during the year, and to the general public who supported their efforts.

Command

12. The Force was under command of Mr. Rex Jones MVO., QPM., until November when he left on vacation leave. Mr. W. Warren Deputy Chief of Police then assumed command.

Visits

13. There were several courtesy visits by naval units during the year, these included British, American and French vessels. The Police operated joint patrolling activity. On-shore discipline was in general excellent and reports minimal.

Inspections Of The Force

14. The Regional Police Adviser, M. Mackenzie Esq., visited the Force periodically during the year.

Honours and Awards

15. R.K.Jones Chief of Police:-
 Member of the Royal Victorian Order IV Class

The above members of the Force were honoured to be invested with these awards by Her Majesty the Queen during her visit.

16. Three members of the Force received commendations and monetary awards for outstanding Police work in 1977.

New Legislation Affecting The Force

17. S.R. & O. 8/1977 Drugs (Prevention of Misuse) Ordinance 1977

- (a) A new and more comprehensive Ordinance for the control of drugs with increased penalties.

S.R. & O. 11/1977 Motor Vehicles Insurance (Third Party Risks (Amendment) Ordinance 1977

- (b) Increased penalties for offences committed under the Motor Vehicles Insurance (Third Party Risks) Ordinance Cap 219.

Explosives Ordinance 1977

- (c) Control of explosives general.

Post Office Offences Act (Amendment) Ordinance 1977

- (d) Increased penalties for offences committed under the principal ordinance.

Building Programme

18. External drainage in Police Headquarters and roof defects continue to present problems. Drainage in particular presents a continual flooding threat. Applications for funds under Capital Estimates to deal with the problems have been made to Government.

19. No further representations have been made on the proposed construction of institutional housing due to financial restrictions.

Recruitment

20. Five British Virgin Islanders were recruited into the Force in 1977. At the end of the year local recruitment formed 55.3% of the total strength. The standard of local recruitment is of average standard but continues to be very slow. Lectures are given to high school students on the advantages of a police career.

Training

21. Caribbean and United Kingdom centres provided in-service training during the year. Weapon and specialist training is undertaken with Royal Marine units during naval visits to the Territory. A Chief Instructor was seconded from the Hong Kong Police during the year to assist in the running of the Regional Field Training School, held in the Territory. The Force continues to be grateful to the United Kingdom and Barbados Governments for training opportunities provided.

Crime

22. The fall in total crime of 26% in 1977 compared to 1976 was satisfactory and was mainly achieved through preventative policing consisting of a duty officer system, patrols in commercial areas and in areas favoured by the tourist element particularly beaches. Although there was a marginal increase in offences against the person of 9.8% (81-73) in 1977, most other heads indicated decreases - Offences against property were significantly reduced by 22.2% compared with 1976 - Breakings showed a 31.4% decrease (61-89) and Simple larceny - the most prevalent offence involving property fell by 22.5% against 1976. The detection rate in simple larceny indicated that 16.6% of true reports resulted in cases to court. Breakings showed that 29.5% of true reports resulted in court proceedings during the year. Many cases of simple larceny consisted of the theft of unidentifiable currency notes carelessly left unattended. Police Advice to Visitors pamphlets are extensively distributed and tourists are now asked if they have seen this preventative advice whenever they make their complaints.

23. Scenes of crime and photographic equipment obtained through United Kingdom aid was used extensively in the first murder investigation in the Territory for five years. The case was successfully investigated and a conviction for this capital offence was subsequently recorded in the High Court.

24. The Criminal Records office has now reached a high standard in statistical data recording and towards the end of the year plans had been formulated to include traffic statistics.

25. There is still a need to extend the powers of the Magistrate which are at present limited to jurisdiction over offences where the value of property stolen is below $100.00 and malicious damage cases to $24.00. These are unrealistic figures in present day circumstances. Increased powers to the lower court would ensure a reduction in the number of preliminary enquiries and high court cases with a consequent reduction in expenditure and would certainly accelerate the administration of justice.

PART IIORGANISATION AND ADMINISTRATION

26. The Royal Virgin Islands Police Force was established on the 26th February 1967, as a result of constitutional changes in the Leeward Islands. Prior to that time Police in the Virgin Islands were part of the Antigua/Montserrat/Virgin Islands Police Force which in turn originated from the old Leeward Islands Police Force.

27. The 1952 Police Act provides for the establishment of the Force and lays down the powers and duties of Police. The latter are described as "the prevention and detection of crime and the repression of internal disturbance". The Police are also responsible for defence of the Territory against external aggression. Additionally, the Police are responsible for the following services:-

The Fire Brigade

The examination, registration and licensing of motor vehicles

The licensing and registration of firearms

Housing

37. Single barrack accommodation was available for junior ranks and Government provided subsidised accommodation for the Chief of Police and the S.P.Os incharge Virgin Gorda and East End. No progress was made towards planning police married quarters on the grounds of general financial restrictions.

Buildings (other than housing)

38. No building projects were undertaken during the year. Internal and external re-decoration of Headquarters and stations on a self-help basis continued throughout the year as required.

39. Structural defects found in Police Headquarters and East End Station during 1975 still require attention. External drainage at Police Headquarters will have to be properly constructed if further flooding in heavy rains is to be avoided. Capital Estimates have been submitted in this respect.

40. The dark room photographic facilities and scenes of crime equipment room have been completed on a self-help basis. It is hoped to convert an office into a photographic studio. There is still distinct need to improve storage facilities for exhibits and lost and found property and to establish an archives but funds are difficult to obtain for this work at the present time.

Clerical Staff

41. One civilian clerk is included in the establishment at Force Headquarters.

Telecommunications

89. HF Transceivers are located at Police Headquarters, and are fitted on the Police Launch. These form part of the Eastern Caribbean Police HF network. Daily contacts are made with other Territories.

90. Equipment for an internal Police FM/VHF system was made available by Cable & Wireless (W.I.) Ltd. Generally this has proved satisfactory. The AM/VHF system which was replaced was sent to St. Kitts at the request of the Development Division.

93. The Police Welfare Association continued as an active body during the year.

94. The Police Cricket and Football teams took part in league activities with marked success. The Police Football team were runners up in the League Championship and won the Knock-Out Shield. The Police Cricket XI did well in the Cricket Shield matches. A Police constable scored the most goals during the league championship.
