ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

An informed citizenry is indispensable to the necessary support of the judicial branch and its continued improvement to meet its responsibilities in present-day society. Only by working together at all levels of the judiciary can we provide a better forum for the administration of justice for all of our citizenry.

The Office of Court Administration expresses its appreciation to the many judges, chief juvenile probation officers and clerks of the courts who have so promptly submitted the monthly reports and other requested information on the operations of the Texas Juvenile Justice System.

We also wish to acknowledge the assistance of the Criminal Justice Division, Office of the Governor, for financial support toward publication of this report. The fact that the Criminal Justice Division furnished financial support to the activity described in this publication does not necessarily indicate the concurrence of the Criminal Justice Division in the statements or conclusions contained herein.

Foreword

"This title shall be construed to effectuate the following public purposes:

(1) to provide for the care, the protection and the wholesome moral, mental, and physical development of children coming within its provisions;

(2) to protect the welfare of the community and to control the commission of unlawful acts by children;

(3) consistent with the protection of the public interest, to remove from children committing unlawful acts the taint of criminality and the consequences of criminal behavior and to substitute a program of treatment, training, and rehabilitation;

(4) to achieve the foregoing purposes in a family environment whenever possible, separating the child from his parents only when necessary for his welfare or in the interest of public safety and when a child is removed from his family, to give him the care that should be provided by parents; and

(5) to provide a simple judicial procedure through which the provisions of this title are executed and enforced in which the parties are assured a fair hearing and their constitutional and other legal rights recognized and enforced."

—Sec. 51.01, Title 3, Family Code

This second annual report on statewide juvenile court and probation statistics covers the activities for the calendar year 1977.

During 1977, law enforcement agencies reported 99,622 arrests of juveniles (persons ages 10-16 inclusive), juvenile probation authorities reported 71,598 referrals to their departments, and 12,791 juvenile cases were docketed in the designated juvenile courts of the state.

The most frequent reason juveniles were referred to juvenile probation authorities was theft. Males accounted for seventy-eight percnt of that offense category. The second most frequent reason for referral was runaway (17.1 percent). Females accounted for sixty-five percent of those referrals, the only category in which more females were referred than males. Males were referred more frequently for alleged delinquent conduct while females were most often referred for alleged conduct indicating a need for supervision.

It is our sincere hope that the information contained in this report will be helpful in channeling the State's efforts to meet the needs of society by reducing the incidence of juvenile delinquency.

This designation is made by the juvenile board in each county or, if there is none, by the judges of the above-mentioned types of courts in the county.

THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM OF TEXAS

Presently Texas does not have a unified, statewide, juvenile probation system; rather, the responsibility for, and supervision of, the juvenile probation system is fragmented among county commissioners, juvenile boards and juvenile court judges. Because of this, a basic knowledge of the Texas Judicial System is necessary for a person to properly understand the juvenile probation activities contained in this report.

The present court system of Texas was established by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1891. The court structure has existed since that time virtually without change except for the creation of additional courts as the volume of cases increased throughout the years.

Today there are a total of 2,378 judges in the state, excluding the judges of the federal courts located in the state. Of these, 60 serve on the 16 appellate courts while the remainder serve as judges of the trial courts on three different levels. The state has one Supreme Court with 9 justices, one Court of Criminal Appeals with 9 judges, 14 courts of civil appeals each having 3 justices, 305 district courts, 254 "constitutional" county courts, 94 statutory county courts-at-law, 925 justice of the peace courts and 747 municipal courts.

The Supreme Court is the highest state appellate court for all civil and juvenile cases, and has general responsibility for the efficient operation of the Texas judicial system. It is empowered to make and enforce all necessary rules of civil practice and procedure for the judicial system, and to promulgate rules of administration to provide for the efficient administration of justice in the state. This Court has original jurisdiction to issue writs and to conduct proceedings for the involuntary retirement or removal of all judges in the state. In addition to its major judicial responsibility of reviewing the cases reaching it and the other duties enumerated above, the Supreme Court has general supervisory responsibility over and promulgates rules for the operation of the admission and disciplining of all lawyers of the state, the State Bar of Texas, the State Commission on Judicial Conduct and the Texas Court Reporter's Committee. It also equalizes the dockets between the 14 courts of civil appeals in the state.

The Court of Criminal Appeals has state-wide final appellate jurisdiction over criminal cases. As the present intermediate appellate courts have no jurisdiction over criminal cases, all criminal appeals are directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals from the trial courts. The trials and appeals in all criminal cases are under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure as enacted and amended by the Legislature of the State of Texas.

The 14 courts of civil appeals have intermediate appellate jurisdiction in civil and juvenile cases from the trial courts located in their respective geographic districts, which are designated as "Supreme Judicial Districts."

The state trial courts of general jurisdiction are the district courts, which in some metropolitan areas have been established as courts having primarily civil, criminal, domestic relations or juvenile jurisdiction. It should be noted that the geographical jurisdiction of each individual district court is established by the specific statute creating that court, and such jurisdiction does not necessarily correspond to any previously established court. Each court has one judge.

In addition to the above state courts, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county, which is presided over by the county judge. To relieve the calendar congestion of the single "constitutional" county court the Legislature has established probate courts and county courts-at-law in certain counties having large populations.

The Texas Constitution also provides for justice of the peace courts in each county. Since 1953, these courts also serve as small claims courts.

The Legislature has created by statute a Municipal Court in each incorporated city. These courts have concurrent criminal jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts limited to the geographic confines of the municipality.

Trials in the justice of the peace courts and most municipal courts are not of record, and appeals therefrom are on trial de novo to the county court except in those counties having statutory county courts-at-law or where by statute the district court has assumed portions of the county court's jurisdiction.

State, county and municipal governments all contribute to the financing of the judicial system. The state government provides appropriations for the operation of the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, courts of civil appeals and the state judicial agencies. It provides a basic salary for the appellate and district judges, which may be supplemented by local county governments. County governments provide the necessary operating expenses for the district courts, except for the judge's basic salary, and the entire cost of the county-level courts. The municipal governments completely finance the municipal courts operating within the city.

JUVENILE COURTS

In addition to these courts, there exists in the judicial system the juvenile courts, which have exclusive jurisdiction of all juvenile cases. The juvenile court is not a separate court in and of itself, but is one of the regularly established courts in a county which is designated to handle these specific cases.

One of the regular courts in each county of the state is designated as the juvenile court for the county. This court is designated by the juvenile board, or by the judges of the various courts in the county if there is no juvenile board. Among the courts that may be so designated are: district courts, criminal district courts, county courts or county courts-at-law. Approximately 90 percent of the juvenile cases in the state are handled by district courts and the remaining 10 percent are handled by county-level courts (county courts-at-law or "constitutional" county courts.) Child means a person who is: (A) ten years of age or older and under 17 years of age; or (B) seventeen years of age or older and under 18 years of age who is alleged or found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision as a result of acts committed before becoming 17 years of age.

During 1977, 12,791 new juvenile cases were docketed in these juvenile courts and some 12,177 cases were disposed. Findings of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision were entered in 60 percent of the dispositions and a finding of no delinquent conduct or no conduct indicating a need for supervision were entered in 2 percent. Thirty-seven percent of these cases were dismissed. During this same period, the appellate courts rendered 23 significant opinions concerning the juvenile system. These decisions are dicussed in the Recent Developments Section of this report.

Beginning on the next page is a more detailed look at the activity of the judiciary by level of court.

SUPREME COURT

A record number of applications for writs of error were filed in the Supreme Court during 1977. Seven hundred sixty-six applications were filed, compared to 693 in 1976--an increase of 11 percent and 20 percent higher than the ten-year average of 638. In 1977, 103 new "regular causes"--primarily cases in which the Court hears oral argument and delivers an opinion--reached the docket, compared to 111 in 1976 and the ten-year average of 100. New civil mandamus matters remained practially the same--86 in 1976 and 88 in 1977 but criminal mandamus matters decreased 11 percent--from 171 to 153 in 1977.

In 1977, the Supreme Court disposed of 78 percent of the regular causes docketed during 1977 or carried over from 1976, the same percentage as in 1976. Eighty-one percent of the applications for writs of error were disposed of during the year, compared to 85 percent during 1976.

The Court delivered 84 deciding opinions in 1977 compared to 107 in 1976. A total of 109 opinions were written (including Rule 483 per curiam opinions), an average of 12 per justice.

The Supreme Court disposed of 717 applications for writs of error from decisions of the courts of civil appeals, compared to 667 in 1976, an average of 80 per justice. Fourteen percent of the 717 applications were granted. Of the granted writs, the Court of Civil Appeals was reversed in 66 percent of the cases for an effective reversal rate of the courts of civil appeals of 6 percent.

Forty-two regular causes were pending at the end of 1977--12 more than at the end of 1976, and 8 cases more than the ten-year average. The number of applications for writs of error remaining on the docket at the end of 1977 was 171--40 percent more than the 122 at the end of 1976 and 63 percent more than the ten-year average of 105.

In addition to its major responsibilities of hearing oral arguments, deciding cases appealed to it, and writing of opinions, the Supreme Court has many administrative duties placed upon it by the Legislature to ensure the efficient administration of justice by the Texas Judicial System. These duties include:

1. Promulgating the Rules of Civil Procedure for the Texas Judicial System (Article 1731a).
2. Promulgating Rules of Administration for the Texas Judicial System (Article 2328b).
3. Equalizing the dockets between the 14 Courts of Civil Appeals (Article 1738).
4. Promulgating the Rules of Procedure for the Commission on Judicial Conduct and disciplining or removing judges from office. (Art. V, Sec. 1a, Tex. Con.).
5. Supervising the operations of the State Bar of Texas and the rules and regulations for the admission, discipline, supervision, and disbarment of lawyers, and approving the law schools of the state. (Arts. 304,306,302a-1).

6. Promulgating disciplinary rules for the Texas Prosecutor's Coordinating Council (Article 323d).
7. Promulgating the rules for the operations of the Texas Court Reporter's Committee and the disciplinary rules enforced by this Committee (Article 2324b).

The Chief Justice has the responsibility of:

1. Conferring with the Presiding Judges of the Administrative Judicial Districts to promote the expedient dispatch of judicial business (Article 200a).
2. Assigning of judges between Administrative Judicial Districts (Article 200a), and
3. Finally, the Chief Justice is required to deliver a "State of the Judiciary" message at the commencement of each regular session of the Legislature. (Art. 5428h).

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS

During 1977, 3,267 new cases were docketed in the Court of Criminal Appeals, a 33 percent increase over the 2,458 cases docketed in 1976 and 101 percent higher than the ten-year average of 1,625.

A total of 1,396 applications for writs of habeas corpus and mandamus were filed during 1977. One thousand three hundred sixty-one matters were disposed of in 1977, an increase of 27 percent over the 1976 total of 1,092 and 65 percent higher than the ten-year average.

An amendment to Article 40.09, Sec. 16, C.C.P., effective May 25, 1977, gave the Court exclusive power to grant extensions of time for the filing of transcriptions of court reporters' notes, bills of exception and briefs in criminal cases. The Court heard and disposed of 1,887 such applications.

In 1977, the Court of Criminal Appeals disposed of 57 percent of the cases docketed during the year or carried over from 1976, compared to 67 percent the previous year. Eighty-two percent were disposed of by per curiam opinions, compared to 75 percent in 1976.

During 1977, 2,787 opinions (including dissents and concurrences) were written, 28 percent more than the 1976 total of 2,177. Of these, 24 percent were authored opinions.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the trial courts' decision in 74 percent of the cases reviewed and dismissed or abated the appeal. in an additional 10 percent.

At the end of 1977, 1,904 cases were pending on the docket--77 percent higher than a year earlier and 167 percent higher than the ten-year average of 714.

Based on the service of five judges and four full-time commissioners, the caseload per judge in the Court of Criminal Appeals increased to 363 in 1977 from 273 in 1976.

COURTS OF CIVIL APPEALS

In 1977, the courts of civil appeals together disposed of 64 percent of the cases filed during the year or carried over from 1976, the same as the previous year. The 1,898 dispositions were 32 percent higher than the ten-year average of 1,434 and 11 percent higher than 1976's 1,717 dispositions. During this same period, a total of 1,771 opinions were written by the courts of civil appeals, compared to 1,562 in 1976. The Beaumont Court wrote the largest number of opinions--163--compared to the average per court of 127 (up from 112 in 1976).

The courts of civil appeals reversed, at least in part, the decision of the trial court in 27 percent of the cases disposed, compared to 28 percent in 1976.

At the end of 1977, 1,080 cases remained on the courts of civil appeals dockets for subsequent disposition, a 10 percent increase over the previous year. The number of cases pending at the end of 1977 was 57 percent higher than the ten-year average of 689. Of the 1,080 cases pending December 31, 1977, 194 had been on the docket 6 to 12 months and 9 had been pending more than a year.

The average lapse of time (for all courts of civil appeals) between the filing of a case and its disposition was 6 months, up from 5 1/2 months in 1976.

While the 14 courts of civil appeals operate as autonomous courts in specific geographical areas, some desirable aspects of unification are achieved by transferring cases among the courts by order of the Supreme Court pursuant to Article 1738, V.A.T.S. Under this authority, the Supreme Court transferred 415 cases during 1977, 18 percent more than the 351 transferred in 1976.

DISTRICT COURTS

The 284 district, domestic relations and special juvenile courts in operation during 1977 experienced a five percent increase in new cases filed in 1977--to 356,042 from 338,382 in 1976.

New civil cases filed increased four percent over 1976 while criminal cases increased 6 percent and juvenile cases one percent.

Civil cases accounted for 77 percent of the new cases filed in 1977. Almost half of the civil cases filed (45 percent) were for divorce or annulment. Personal injury cases (including workmen's compensation) comprised nine percent and tax cases seven percent of the civil cases filed.

Juvenile cases (Title 3 of the Texas Family Code) accounted for almost 3 percent of the total cases filed in district courts.

Criminal cases accounted for 20 percent of the total new cases filed in 1977. Of the criminal cases, 21 percent involved a charge of burglary, 21 percent theft, 6 percent each robbery and felony D.W.I. and 31 percent drug offenses, including marijuana. Fourteen percent of the criminal cases filed in the district court were by information, the remainder by indictment.

In 1977, the district courts of the state disposed of 48 percent of the total cases on their dockets (filed in 1977 or carried over from 1976)--the same percentage as in 1976. Statewide, 57 percent of the criminal cases and 45 percent of the civil cases on docket were disposed of during the year. An average of 1,219 cases per judge were disposed of in 1977.

Fifty percent of all civil cases were disposed of by non-jury trials. (Seventy-one percent of these non-jury trials were in divorce cases.) Fourteen percent were dismissed for want of prosecution and 15 percent at the request of the plaintiff.

Of the 77,303 criminal cases disposed of, in 54 percent the defendant had entered a plea of guilty. Including these pleas, the defendant was convicted in 57 percent of the total criminal cases, acquitted in 1.2 percent and dismissed in 39 percent. Of those cases dismissed, 21 percent were because of insufficient evidence and 19 percent because the defendant was convicted in another case. In the cases in which the defendant pleaded not guilty and which were disposed of by jury verdicts, the defendant was found guilty in 84 percent of the cases and was acquitted in 16 percent. In trials before the judge alone on non-guilty pleas, convictions resulted in 55 percent of the cases and acquittals in 45 percent. The defendant was convicted of a lesser offense than that originally filed in 15 percent of the cases resulting in convictions.

Among the criminal cases, the highest rate for disposition by conviction was the category of Felony D.W.I. with 82 percent of the dispositions being by conviction. The highest rate of disposition by dismissal was in theft (56 percent). Conversely, the lowest rate of dismissal was for Felony D.W.I.--17 percent were dismissed.

Twenty-four death sentences and 584 life sentences were assessed in the district courts. During 1977, 9,299 persons were committed to the Texas Department of Corrections, 2,828 to local jails and $4,688,900 in fines were assessed.

Texas courts granted 5 percent more divorces in 1977 than in 1976. In 1977, 117,539 divorce cases were disposed of--34 percent of all cases handled by district courts. Fifteen percent were dismissed for want of prosecution.

Tax cases tend to stay on the docket for long periods of time compared to other categories. Only 26 percent of the tax cases filed in 1977 or carried over from 1976 were disposed of by the district courts in 1977. Of those dispositions, 48 percent were dismissed by the plaintiff and another 23 percent were default judgments.

Thirty-one percent of the personal injury cases ended in agreed judgments and 29 percent were dismissed by the plaintiff.

The total number of cases pending in the district courts at the end of 1977--378,826--was 6 percent higher than the 257,353 pending at the end of 1976.

Another way to look at the volume of cases pending December 31, 1977, is to assume that no new cases are filed in 1978 and that the district judges dispose of cases at the same rate as during 1977. At that rate, it would take an average of 399 days to dispose of the cases pending at the end of the year.

COUNTY COURTS

By constitutional provision, there is one "constitutional" county court in each county. In addition to these 254 county courts, the Legislature has established 94 "statutory" county-level courts in 40 of the larger counties to relieve the single county court. Statewide, the Council received a 97 percent response rate of monthly reports from the county courts in 1977.

In terms of numbers of cases, criminal cases constituted 66 percent of the 405,273 cases filed or appealed from lower courts. Civil cases accounted for 20 percent and probate 14 percent. New juvenile cases filed were less than one-half percent of the total.

Concerning the criminal cases only, 31 percent (81,441) of those filed or appealed to the county courts from lower courts were for driving while intoxicated. Thirteen percent (34,221) were for worthless checks and 9 percent (25,303) for violations of law concerning marijuana possession or delivery.

Again concerning criminal cases only, 18 percent of the cases added to the county court dockets came by way of appeal from justice of the peace or municipal courts rather than being filed originally in the county court.

Of the new civil cases docketed, 31 percent were classified as a suit on debt. Eleven percent concerned automobile-related damage suits and 0.4 percent were condemnation actions.

During the twelve-month reporting period, the county courts of the state disposed of 50 percent of the total criminal, civil and juvenile cases on their dockets (filed during 1977 or carried over from 1976. This disposition rate was highest for criminal cases (52 percent). Forty-three percent of the civil cases on the docket were disposed of and 49 percent of the juvenile cases. Within the criminal cases category, 63 percent of the marijuana charges and 39 percent of the worthless check cases were disposed.

Looking at all cases (except probate), the country courts disposed of 345,098 cases, which is 98 percent of the 352,992 cases added to the dockets (excluding probate), up from 92 percent in 1976.

Of the criminal cases in county courts, 53 percent were disposed of following a plea of guilty or nolo contendere and 39 percent were dismissed. Trials were held in 2 percent of the criminal cases, 2,117 before the judge alone and 1,972 before a jury.

The highest percentage of dismissals occurred in the worthless check cases--76 percent of the dispositions were by dismissals. Pleas of guilty or nolo contendere accounted for 82 percent of the driving while intoxicated and 73 percent of the marijuana case dispositions.

The methods of disposition of civil cases parallel those for criminal cases except that a higher percentage of cases involved a trial. Five percent of the civil cases were disposed of following a trial, 1,116 before a jury and 3,078 before the judge alone. Fifty percent of the civil cases were disposed of following a default or agreed judgment and 43 percent were dismissed.

The county courts disposed of fewer cases than were added to their dockets during 1976, and the cases pending on the dockets increased 2 percent from the first to the end of the year--342,478 on January 1 and 350,372 on December 31. (This does not include probate cases.) Four percent more civil cases but 2 percent fewer criminal cases were left pending December 31 than on January 1.

COMBINED JUVENILE ACTIVITY IN DISTRICT AND COUNTY COURTS

Section 51.04 of the Texas Family Code provides for the designation of a court or courts in each county as the juvenile court to hear proceedings under Title 3 of the Family Code. The court(s) designated must be either a district, criminal district, county court-at-law or "constitutional" county court. The designation is to be made by the juvenile board in each county, or if there is none, by the judges of the above-mentioned types of courts in the county.

Juvenile court activity is therefore reported to the Judicial Council by either the district clerk, or the county clerk, or both, depending on which courts have been designated under Section 51.04.

Approximately 90 percent of the juvenile cases in the state were handled by district-level courts (district, criminal district, domestic relations or statutory created Juvenile Courts) and the remaining 10 percent were handled by county-level courts (county courts-at-law or constitutional county courts).

Statewide, 12,791 new juvenile cases were docketed during 1977. The Courts disposed of 12,177 cases. Findings of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision were entered in 60 percent of the dispositions, a finding of no delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision was entered in 2 percent and 37 percent were dismissed.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

There is no central state registry for justice of the peace courts.

From various sources, the Judicial Council determined that there were approximately 925 justices of the peace in Texas during 1977. Each justice was asked to submit a one-page monthly report to the Council on activity in his court. All twelve months activity for 1977 was reported by 618 justices of the peace, 141 others reported fewer than twelve months activity and 166 submitted no reports at all. Statewide, the Council received 8,521 reports out of a possible 11,100 for 1977 (77 percent).

Over one million traffic cases were filed in these courts during 1977, comprising 67 percent of the total cases filed in these courts. Non-traffic criminal cases and civil cases (including "small claims" cases) provided 21 and 12 percent of the new cases filed respectively.

In addition, the reporting courts received 10,741 peace bond applications and held 6,991 hearings to determine if a peace bond should be issued. In the justice of the peace's capacity as a state magistrate, the reporting judges accepted 44,723 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 82,073 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies). Sixteen thousand three hundred thirty-four examining trials (preliminary hearings of district or county court cases) were held and 10,260 inquests were conducted. Drivers license suspension hearings totaled 39,109. Five thousand six hundred fourteen search warrants were issued and 88,975 defendants charged with county or district court offenses were given statutory warnings.

Of the total 1,583,808 cases filed in these courts during 1977, 73 percent were disposed of before trial, 16 percent at trial and 11 percent were dismissed.

Looking at traffic cases only, 83 percent were disposed of prior to trial, practically all by payment of fine. Of the 13 percent that were on trial, 98 percent of the cases were tried before the judge alone and the remaining 2 percent were tried before a jury. The defendant was found guilty in 95 percent of the cases tried before the judge alone and in 78 percent of the cases tried before a jury.

Concerning non-traffic criminal cases, 62 percent were disposed of prior to trial. Nineteen percent went to trial. Of those that went to trial, 98 percent were before the judge without a jury. Guilty findings were made in 92 percent of the trials before a judge alone and in 68 percent of the jury trials.

A much higher percentage (28 percent) of civil suits went to trial than criminal cases. Thirty-five percent of the civil suits were settled before the trial and 37 percent were dismissed. Of the cases that went to trial, 98 percent were before the judge alone and the remainder before a jury.

The courts reported disposing of 1,325,330 cases, which is 84 percent of the 1,583,808 filed.

Appeals from the justice of the peace courts totaled 17,378 cases, or slightly more than 1 percent of the cases disposed of.

Total revenue collected by the reporting courts during 1977 was $32,823,947. This revenue becomes part of the treasury of the county where the court is located except for a $2.50 court cost on each case which is remitted to the state Criminal Justice Planning Fund and a $1.00 Law Enforcement Education and Standards fee.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

The municipal courts in the 214 cities with 1970 population of 5,000 or greater were each asked to submit a one-page monthly report to the Council on activity in the court. The residents of these cities represent 71 percent of the population of the entire state, according to the 1970 census. All twelve months activity for 1977 was reported by 1,974 of the courts, 18 others reported fewer than twelve months' activity and 22 submitted no reports at all. Statewide, the Council received 2,168 reports out of a possible 2,568 for the year (84 percent).

Of the 2,751,953 cases filed in the reporting municipal courts, over 2,300,000 were traffic cases, 10 percent more than those reported during 1976. Non-traffic criminal cases provided the other 15 percent of the new cases filed.

In addition to those cases, 2,549,391 parking citations were received by the courts and 1,322,945 parking offense cases were disposed of. In the municipal judge's capacity as a state magistrate, the reporting judges accepted 10,085 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 3,738 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies). Four hundred three examining trials (preliminary hearings of district or county court cases) were held, and 43 inquests were conducted by municipal judges. Drivers license suspension hearings totaled 13,198. A total of 2,787 search warrants were issued and 57,228 defendants charged with county or district court offenses were given statutory warnings.

Of the cases reported, 71 percent were disposed of before trial (by payment of fine or forfeiture of bond), 15 percent at trial (after an appearance before the judge) and 14 percent were dismissed.

Looking at traffic cases only, 72 percent were disposed of prior to trial, 86 percent of those by payment of fine and 14 percent by bond forfeiture. Of the 14 percent that went to trial, 99 percent of the cases were tried before the judge alone and the other 1 percent before a jury. The defendant was found guilty in 80 percent of tne cases tried before the judge alone and in 62 percent of the cases tried before a jury.

Concerning non-traffic criminal cases, 67 percent were disposed of prior to trial, 20 percent went to trial and 13 percent were dismissed. Of those that went to trial, 99 percent were before the judge without a jury. Guilty findings were made in 86 percent of the trials before the judge alone and in 59 percent of the jury trials.

The courts reported disposing of 2,035,527 cases, which is 74 percent of the 2,751,953 filed.

Appeals from the municipal courts totaled 37,837 cases, nearly 2 percent of the cases disposed of.

Total revenue collected by the reporting courts during 1977 was $53,922,849. This was 27 percent higher than the amount collected by the courts reporting in 1976. This revenue becomes part of the treasury of the city in which the court has jurisdiction except for a $2.50 court cost on each case remitted to the state Criminal Justice Planning Fund and a $1.00 Law Enforcement Education and Standards fee.

THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM IN TEXAS

THE TEXAS JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT

The judicial process concerning children developed over a long period of time.

In the early English chancery courts, jurisdiction over children was based upon the principle of pater patriae, i.e., the authority of the king over his subjects. Although this jurisdiction was broad regarding the welfare of children, it was exercised primarily on behalf of minors whose property rights had been jeopardized. Such jurisdiction was exercised only secondarily, if at all, on behalf of children who were victims of poverty, neglect or abuse.

In the early American courts, children were often punished for crimes in the same manner as adults. Harsh penalties, including hanging, were imposed on children for minor offenses. However, by the early nineteenth century more protective attitudes toward children began to emerge on the theory that children were less responsible for their actions than adults. The first step toward this increased protection in Texas came in 1856 when the Legislature forbid the imposition of the death penalty for children under the age of 17.

The first juvenile court legislation was passed in Texas in 1907. This legislation provided that offenders under 16 years of age were to be known as delinquents, required notice to parents, and allowed the appointment of the first juvenile probation officers.

In 1943 all adult criminal procedures in areas involving juveniles were replaced with special civil procedures by means of a new Juvenile Court Act. In 1973, a new Family Code was adopted. Title 3 of this Act codified all pertinent laws concerning juvenile offenders. The new Code was amended in 1975 and appellate courts have interpreted the new juvenile laws since that time.

Recent decisions by the United States Supreme Court have emphasized the legal rights of juveniles involved in the justice system.

The Court held in Kent v. U.S., 383 U.S. 541 (1966), that ". . . the basic requirements of due process and fairness . . ." must be met in any juvenile proceedings for the transfer of a child to an adult criminal court. In re Gault, 389 U.S. 1 (1967), the Court expanded the Kent decision by affirming that juveniles have the same constitutional protection as do adults at the hearing stage.

The Gault decision held that a child must have (1) reasonable notice of the charges against him, (2) the right to counsel, (3) the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses, and (4) the privilege against self-incrimination, i.e., the right to remain silent. It also stressed the principle of a bifurcated proceeding - dividing the juvenile proceeding into a separate adjudication hearing (similar to the trial in adult cases) and a disposition hearing (similar to assessment of punishment and sentencing in adult trials).

In the case of In re Winship, 397 U.S.358 (1970), the Court further expanded the due process rights of juveniles to require the use of the standard of "beyond a reasonable doubt" instead of "by a preponderance of the evidence" in any juvenile trial. The Fifth Amendment, protection against double jeopardy, was extended to juveniles by Breed v. Jones, 421 U.S. 519 (1975).

MOVEMENT OF CHILDREN THROUGH THE SYSTEM

PERSONS SUBJECT TO THE SYSTEM

All matters involving a "child" are subject to Title 3 of the Texas Family Code. A child is defined by Texas law as a person between the ages of 10 and 17 at the time of alleged unlawful conduct. To avoid labeling a child with the stigma of criminality, such terms as "delinquent child" or "child in need of supervision" are not used in the Family Code. Instead the child's behavior is labeled either "delinquent conduct" or "conduct indicating a need for supervision."

Delinquent conduct is conduct by a child which, if committed by an adult, would be a violation of a law that is a felony, or a misdemeanor punishable by a jail sentence (i.e. murder, rape, assault, robbery, burglary, theft, etc.) or which is in violation of a juvenile court order in a previous case (such as violation of probation terms). Section 51.03(a), Texas Family Code.

Conduct indicating a need for supervision includes truancy, running away, misdemeanors punishable by a fine (committed three or more times), and driving while intoxicated (DWI) or under the influence of drugs (DUID). Perjury and traffic violations (except DWI and DUID) are specially excluded from the original jurisdiction of the juvenile court. Section 51.03(b).

RIGHTS OF CHILDREN

Juveniles are entitled to most of the constitutional rights afforded adults. These include the right to counsel, the right to be notified of the charges, the right to a jury trial, the right to be confronted by witnesses and the right of habeas corpus. Constitutional rights also give protection against unreasonable searches and seizures, against double jeopardy, and against self-incrimination. However, bail is not provided in juvenile court, nor is indictment by a grand jury required. The court may allow the child to waive his rights if the judge feels that the child and his attorney understand them and the consequences of waiving them. Section 51.10.

TAKING A CHILD INTO CUSTODY

Most juveniles are referred to the juvenile court by law enforcement officials. Referrals may also come from probation officers, schools, social agencies, or relatives.

The Family Code outlines specific procedures for taking a child into custody (paralleling arrest in the adult system) and for any subsequent referral to juvenile court. However, instead of taking a child into custody, the police may decide to issue a warning notice (which results in no further action). Guidelines for the issuing of such notices must be approved by the juvenile court. These guidelines also include information such as locations where juveniles may be taken after being taken into custody and procedures for obtaining court approval for any diversionary programs to which the police may refer the child. These guidelines vary widely throughout the various jurisdictions in Texas. Section 52.01.

Once a child is taken into custody, the officer has several options: (1) to release the child to the parents with their promise to bring the child to court when requested; (2) to take the child directly to the intake officer of the juvenile court; (3) to take the child to a detention facility or to a medical facility, if necessary; or (4) to dispose of the case without referral to juvenile court. This last option, as in the case of issuing a warning notice, must be carried out under approved guidelines. Such disposition may be referral of the child to a social agency, or simply a conference with the child and the parents. Sections 52.02, 52.03.

If the child is taken into custody, and the case is not disposed of without referral to juvenile court, the law enforcement official prepares a report with information about the child and the offense, which is to be used by the court in further proceedings.

Police booking procedures for juveniles are somewhat different than those for adults. No child may be fingerprinted or photographed except under certain circumstances or with the consent of the court. When fingerprints and photographs are taken, they must be kept separate from adult records and must not be sent to a central state or federal agency. If the case is dismissed at any point, all fingerprints and photographs must be destroyed.

Confessions or statements by juveniles are subject to specific requirements. They must be in writing and signed in the presence of a magistrate without the presence of law enforcement officers or the prosecuting attorney. Oral confessions are admissible as evidence if they lead to the fruits of the crime. Oral statements are also admissible under the res gestae rule.

Access to files and records of juveniles is limited by the Family Code to specific court-approved agencies and to attorneys involved in the case. Juvenile court proceedings are open to the public only at the judge's discretion.

The Family Code specifies that a written explanation of the Code record sealing provisions be given to a child at whatever point the child leaves the system. These provisions allow the person to ask the court to have all records at every level sealed. Sealing of records, however, is not an automatic process. If a person applies to have records sealed, the court must hold a hearing to determine that the person has not been in trouble again and that is is unlikely that he will engage in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision in the future. The Code also allows the court, on its own motion, to seal records.

COURT INTAKE

Referral to juvenile court requires that a preliminary investigation be made by an official of the court (most often an intake probation officer). If this investigation finds that there is no probable cause to show that the child has engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision, the case is dismissed. If the investigation shows that there is probable cause and the intake worker decides formal court proceedings are necessary, a petition for adjudication is prepared by the prosecuting attorney. When a case is a minor first offense, it is common for the intake officer to simply issue a warning notice or to refer the child to another agency, just as the police do in similar cases. If more supervision is necessary for the voluntary rehabilitation of the child, the intake officer may work with the child and his or her parents for a period of up to six months. This is called informal adjustment. Section 53.03.

PROCEEDINGS CONCERNING CHILDREN WITH MENTAL ILLNESS, RETARDATION, DISEASE OR DEFECT

A child must be able to understand the proceedings in juvenile court and to assist in his defense in order to be subject to any of the proceedings. If the court determines that a child is not fit to proceed because of mental illness, retardation, disease or defect, the judge or jury may commit the child to a facility for care and treatment. If the child is released from the institution before reaching the age of 18, the court is notified and the original juvenile proceedings may be continued.

The Family Code also makes provision for a defense of insanity if the child was mentally incapacitated at the time the unlawful act was committed. If such a finding is made, the case is dismissed with prejudice, and the court commits the child to an institution for care and treatment.

DETENTION HEARING

(Section 54.01) - Even when a petition for adjudication is to be filed, the intake officer must release a child from detention unless there is no other adequate supervision for the child, or if the child is likely to run away or to be taken away from the court hearings. If the child is not released by the intake officer, a request is made for a detention hearing before the court to determine if detention is necessary. A detention hearing must be held promptly (not later than the second working day after the child is taken into custody, or the first working day if the child is placed in detention over a weekend). At this hearing, the child must be represented by an attorney. If the decision is made to keep the child in detention, additional detention hearings must be held every 10 days until disposition of the case unless such hearings are waived by the child and the attorney for the child.

TRANSFER HEARING

(Section 54.02) - The juvenile court may transfer a child to district or criminal district court for trial as an adult if: (1) the alleged offense is a felony, (2) the child was 15 or older at the time of the offense, (3) no adjudication hearing has been held, and (4) after full investigation and hearing the juvenile court finds that because of the seriousness of the offense or the background of the child, the welfare of the community requires criminal proceedings.

If such a transfer is made, the subsequent trial is conducted in district or criminal district court in exactly the same manner as for adults. However, a person cannot receive the death penalty for an offense committed prior to attaining the age of 17. If the case is transferred, but the grand jury does not present an indictment, the juvenile court resumes jurisdiction of the case.

ADJUDICATION HEARING

(Section 54.03) - If a petition for adjudication is filed by the prosecuting attorney, a time is set for an adjudication hearing (similar to the trial in adult cases). This hearing must be held within 10 days after the petition is filed if the child is in detention, unless this requirement is waived by the child and the attorney. A parent, guardian or guardian ad litem must be present at this hearing. The case is tried by a jury unless a jury is waived by the child and his or her attorney. The child is presumed innocent, and the prosecution must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the child has engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision. Jury verdicts must be unanimous, as in an adult criminal court.

If the child is found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision, a disposition hearing may be set.

DISPOSITION HEARING

(Section 54.04) - The disposition hearing (comparable to assessment of punishment and sentencing in an adult case) is held after the adjudication hearing. The child must be represented by an attorney. The interval between the hearings allows time for the judge to study reports on the child, the probation officers to make further investigations and reports, and the child's attorney to develop plans to suggest to the court. Sometimes the disposition hearing immediately follows the adjudication hearing. This may be done in small communities where personnel are not available to make a study or in cases in which the judge knows enough about the child and the family situation to make an immediate decision. Even if the child is found to have committed the alleged offense, the court may find that no rehabilitation of the child or protection of the public is needed. If this decision is reached, no disposition may be made.

Because of this option, the state must prove not only that the child committed an act, but that a disposition should be made. If a child is found to have engaged in delinquent conduct, he or she may be placed on probation at home, or in a foster home or agency. Probation is supervised by a juvenile probation officer. The other alternative is commitment to the Texas Youth Council (TYC). Commitment to TYC is usually reserved for serious offenses or for violation of an earlier probation. This removes the child from the jurisdiction of the court.

A child found to have engaged in conduct indicating a need for supervision may be placed on probation but may not be committed to the Texas Youth Council. A child in this category who thereafter violates the terms of probation may be committed to a facility of the Texas Youth Council. However, the child may not be placed in the same facility with children who have been found to have engaged in delinquent conduct.

A child on probation remains under the care of the juvenile court until the term of probation is completed. At the end of each year of probation, probation may be extended for another year until the child is eighteen. If a child is placed in a foster home or agency during the probation period, parents may be ordered to pay for the support of the child. The court also has the authority to prevent a person from having further contact with a juvenile if such a person is found to be a contributing cause of the child's unlawful conduct. Section 54.041.

After a child has been put on probation, a hearing may be requested to modify disposition. Modification of disposition may, for example, consist of probation being revoked, with commitment to the Texas Youth Council. Specific probation requirements, such as the school attended, curfew hours, etc., may be changed according to circumstances. Such a hearing may be requested by the child, representative of the child, the probation officer or the court itself. Section 54.05.

APPEALS

(Chapter 56, Texas Family Code)- A juvenile case may be appealed to the appropriate Texas Court of Civil Appeals and from that court to the Texas Supreme Court. Any decision made at the transfer, adjudication, disposition or modification of disposition hearings, or at any hearings for children with mental disorders or mental defects may be appealed. The judge is required to instruct the attorney to advise the child and the parents of the rights to appeal and to have legal counsel upon appeal. (A 1977 amendment allows the designation of a non-lawyer judge as the juvenile judge. In all appealable cases heard by a non-lawyer judge, an intermediate appellate process is provided wherein the juvenile may appeal on trial de novo to an "alternate juvenile court" presided over by a lawyer-judge).

The appellate court may affirm, reverse or modify the decision of the juvenile court. The appellate court's decision may even include a change in the order of disposition or a modified disposition. The power to modify the juvenile court's decision (the power to review the sentence) gives the appellate court authority in juvenile cases that it does not have in civil or criminal cases. The Family Code also gives the juvenile court and the appellate court discretion to release a child on personal bond when an appeal is filed.

STRUCTURE OF THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

JUVENILE BOARDS

In 1917 legislation was passed establishing juvenile boards in the four largest counties. Since then similar boards have been created for many other counties. These boards administer most juvenile functions.

Although there is little uniformity in the statutes creating these boards, they generally specify: (1) who shall serve — usually the county judge and some or all of the other judges in the county, sometimes other officials such as the county attorney; (2) the salary, if there is any in addition to their regular salaries, is paid from county funds to juvenile board members; and (3) the duties of the juvenile board, such as overseeing county juvenile institutions and operating the juvenile probation department. The Family Code specifies other juvenile board responsibilities: (1) the designation of the juvenile judge(s) for a county; (2) appointment of a referee to assist the judge, if needed; and (3) annual inspection of detention facilities.

Sixty-four counties reported in a survey conducted by the Office of Court Administration having juvenile boards in 1977. In counties without juvenile boards, these duties are handled by other local county officials.

Some juvenile boards have citizen advisory committees, either created by the boards or by statute. The purpose of such committees is usually to provide input from the community in developing programs for children in trouble and to report to the community on these programs.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The law enforcement agencies which deal with adults also have authority to deal with juveniles. Once a law enforcement officer (policeman, deputy sheriff, etc.) makes contact with a juvenile in regard to an alleged offense, specific procedures outlined in the Texas Family Code must be followed. However, these procedures provide several alternatives for the law enforcement officer relative to the apprehension process, and give the officer much discretion not available in dealing with adults. Chapter 52, Texas Family Code.

Police departments in large metropolitan areas commonly have juvenile units staffed with specially trained officers on duty 24 hours a day. In less populous areas all law enforcement officers are expected to apply Family Code procedures. In practice, there are a variety of approaches in staffing law enforcement agencies to deal with juveniles. In a November, 1977, survey conducted by the Office of Court Administration, fifty-one (51) counties reported that at least one law enforcement officer (sheriff's deputy, police officer) was assigned full-time to juvenile cases.

A summarized report on Crime in Texas during 1977 was compiled from data submitted to the Texas Department of Public Safety Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau by 666 Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police whose jurisdictions represented 98.2% of the state's population. The report indicated that 75,497 males and 24,125 females sixteen years of age and under were taken into custody during 1977.

JUVENILE PROBATION SERVICES

A majority of the State's 254 counties have formalized juvenile probation services. An April, 1978 survey indicated that such services were available in 224 counties.

Juvenile probation services have three interrelated aspects: (1) intake - a screening and referral process; (2) preparation of social histories for the juvenile court's consideration, and (3) probation supervision. Juvenile probation departments also administer or coordinate a wide range of services intended to rehabilitate or divert children from the juvenile justice system.

Texas has a total of 142 juvenile probation departments which provide services to 224 counties - an increase of coverage in 9 counties since 1976. In 111 counties, juvenile probation personnel work only within the boundaries of their respective counties. Services in the remaining 113 counties are provided by 31 district probation departments. (Map 1 identifies those counties which currently do not have formalized juvenile probation services; Map 2 identifies district juvenile probation departments; and Map 3 identifies 87 counties in which probation department staff handle both adult and juvenile probationers.)

The size of juvenile probation departments and the number of services provided by the departments vary widely across the state. The April, 1978 survey identified a total of 681 probation officers working directly or administratively with juveniles across the state.

Juvenile probation officers have authority, as intake officers for the court, to divert juveniles from the system without a formal court proceeding. Although not part of police or sheriff departments, probation officers are law enforcement officers and, as such, have the power and authority to take a child into custody, to carry firearms, etc. Provisions for their appointment vary. For example, they may be appointed by the juvenile board, commissioners court, or district judges. Although there are no statewide standards for training or education of juvenile probation officers as there are for adult probation officers, some counties require a college degree in an appropriate field, such as social work. More than half of the juvenile probation departments have their staff regularly attend formal job-related training throughout the year. The Institute for Contemporary Correction at Sam Houston State University conducted training seminars for 373 adult and juvenile probation officers during 1977.

JUVENILE COURTS

In Texas, a court in each county is designated as the juvenile court. This court, which has exclusive jurisdiction over juvenile matters, is so designated by the juvenile board or by the judges of the various courts in the county if there is no juvenile board. During 1977 the courts that could be designated as the juvenile court were: district courts, criminal district courts, county courts, county courts-at-law, domestic relations courts, and juvenile courts created by special legislation.

In the past, domestic relations courts and juvenile courts created by special legislation were often designated as the juvenile court. Effective September 1, 1977, S.B. 266 replaced the 31 functioning domestic relations and special juvenile courts with district courts of general jurisdiction to be called "family district courts" and which are to "have primary responsibility for" cases involving family law matters (Art. 1926a). Section 51.04.

Prior to the enactment of Title 3 in 1973, in most counties the "constitutional" county court had been designated to sit as the juvenile court. In 1976, in most counties (83%) the district court had been designated. S.B. 249, effective June 15, 1977, dealt with the section of the Family Code requiring a juvenile court judge to be a lawyer (Section 51.04(d) and 51.18, Texas Family Code).

The former confusing provisions allowing some exceptions to the lawyer-judge rule were replaced with a subsection requiring that if a non-lawyer judge is designated the juvenile judge, an alternate juvenile court must also be designated to which the child has the right to a trial de novo on any appealable orders of the non-lawyer judge.

Most of the designated juvenile courts surveyed in the state indicated that juvenile matters comprised less than 20% of their docket. In 22 counties the juvenile docket was rotated to other courts on a regular basis.

The commissioners court of each county is responsible for providing facilities for the use of the court. The juvenile judge and the juvenile board report annually to the commissioners on the suitability of these facilities. Usually, the juvenile court is located in the regular county court building. In a few counties, all components of the system, including court intake, detention facilities, and the courtroom are located in one facility.

JUVENILE COURT SERVICES

Table 1 illustrates the range of services available to juvenile courts. A majority of the specialized services are available through county and state agencies: county probation departments, county health departments, Texas Department of Human Resources, Texas Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation, Texas Rehabilitation Commission, and Texas Employment Commission. Most of the surveyed counties had access to medical and psychiatric/psychological services. Approximately 70% of the counties reported access to alcohol counseling and 66% had access to family counseling services. Local probation departments coordinate the placement of children to these specialized facilities and in many circumstances these services are paid for from county funds.

TABLE 1

SERVICES AVAILABLE TO JUVENILE COURTS IN TEXAS
(Based upon 218 reports)

SERVICE	PERCENT OF REPORTING COUNTIES WITH IDENTIFIED SERVICES	NUMBER OF COUNTIES
Physical Examination	58	127
Psychiatric/Psychological Testing Evaluation	85	187
Psychiatric/Psychological Therapy	66	145
Vocational Training	44	97
Employment Placement	51	113
Emergency Shelter (short-term residential care for less than 10 days)	47	103
Foster Family Home (full-time care for less than 6 children for more than 10 days)	21	46
Foster Group Home (full-time care for 7-12 children for more than 10 days)	12	27
Halfway House (full-time care for 12-24 children for more than 10 days)	8	19
Drug Counseling	67	148
Alcohol Counseling	70	153
Family Counseling	66	144

The survey indicated that more than half (58%) of the responding counties had access to services that the juvenile court considered adequate and that additional services would not improve the quality of their present programs. Approximately 35 percent of the respondents reported additional services that would benefit their juvenile court programs while the remaining 7 percent of the respondents did not identify what programs were needed. The most frequently identified services were "alternative placement facilities" which would include foster care, halfway houses, and emergency shelter facilities.

PROSECUTION AND DEFENSE

When a child is referred to juvenile court, the prosecuting attorney, who may be a district, county, or special attorney appointed by the court, defines the charges in a petition. This petition corresponds to indictment in an adult felony case. The prosecutor prepares the case for the state and presents it at the adjudication hearing.

The Office of Court Administration's survey found that juvenile cases were prosecuted by county attorneys in 141 of the counties surveyed and district attorneys prosecuted in 58 counties. In Travis County a special family court prosecutor handles juvenile cases.

The Family Code provides that a child may be represented by an attorney at every stage of juvenile court proceedings. An attorney for the child must be present for any waiver of rights and at detention, transfer, adjudication, and disposition hearings. If the child does not have, or cannot afford, an attorney, one is required to be appointed by the court. Section 51.10. The survey indicated that juvenile cases were defended most often by court appointed attorneys. Defense attorneys were appointed by the courts in 75-100 percent of their juvenile cases. Legal aid attorneys were utilized in only Travis and Zavala Counties and public defenders in only Travis County.

DETENTION FACILITIES

The term detention refers to the keeping of a child in custody pending disposition of the case. County Commissioners courts are responsible for providing detention facilities. Although all metropolitan areas have separate juvenile detention facilities, less populous counties use a portion of the county jail to detain juveniles. The Family Code requires that juveniles detained in a county jail be kept separate from adults, and that the jail meets the "safe and suitable" standards of Texas law. Section 51.12.

The law allows a detention facility to serve several counties and also permits the purchase of detention services from private agencies.

The respondents to the survey identified 154 counties with at least one detention facility available for use by the juvenile court. A vast majority of the detention facilities used to detain juveniles in Texas were described as county jails. One hundred and eighteen county jails; 12 city jails, and 16 juvenile detention homes were identified. A majority of the juvenile detention homes were located in the more densely populated counties in the state. The remaining counties indicated that there were no juvenile detention facilities within their county jurisdictional limits.

According to Section 51.12, Title 3, Texas Family Code, in each county the judge of the juvenile court and the members of the juvenile board, if there is one, must personally inspect the detention facilities at least annually and certify in writing that such facilities are suitable or unsuitable for the detention of children. The survey found that 75 percent (119 counties) had been certified. Five percent did not respond while 13 percent (30) of the counties reported that their juvenile detention facilities had not been certified. Twenty-four hour supervision was generally provided. The total juvenile-only capacity ranged from 110 children in Harris County to one child in the less populated counties.

FINANCING

Juvenile Probation services are primarily funded by the individual counties of the state. Budget information was received from counties as a result of the November, 1977 survey which indicated that $18,906,411.00 was expended for the operation of juvenile probation services in the 208 counties reporting. A majority of the funds were local county funds while the Texas Youth Council and the Office of the Governor, Criminal Justice Division, were responsible for roughly 13 percent of the funds identified above.

CJD FUNDED JUVENILE JUSTICE PROJECTS

Office of the Governor, Criminal Justice Division (CJD), awarded approximately $10.5 million during 1977 for development of juvenile services in Texas.

These funds are made available under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act and the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act to state agencies and units of local government.

A total of 105 projects were awarded during 1977, providing a wide range of alternatives tailored to community and agency needs. In many cases CJD funding fills resource gaps, especially in rural areas where juvenile services have been limited by low tax bases. Funding also enables development of innovative programs. Most projects attempt to give the justice system adequate tools for dealing with the child's total life situation.

Individual projects vary in scope and design. Major types of projects funded during 1977 are as follows:

Probation--In 1977 CJD funded 22 juvenile probation projects and 13 combined adult/juvenile probation projects. Many of these projects are in rural areas, and operate on a regional basis. CJD funding has been a major factor in the increased availability of juvenile probation services from 72 counties in 1970 to 215 counties in 1978. Also funded were expansions of several probation departments to provide such services as family therapy, health care, volunteer programs, and diversion to community agencies.

Juvenile Law Enforcement Units--A total of 23 law enforcement agencies received funding for juvenile units. In these units, a specific officer is responsible for investigating, counseling, and, where feasible, diverting juveniles from the justice system. Specialization gives officers opportunity to gain rapport with juveniles and with juvenile justice officials and to strengthen liason with schools, probation departments, and community agencies.

Residential Treatment Programs--In 1977 CJD funded 18 residential centers, including halfway houses, group homes, youth ranches, camping projects, and emergency shelters. Before development of such facilities, many youths were institutionalized, not because they posed a danger to the community, but because there were no other resources for children from an unhealthy home life. Most residential centers also provide other services such as counseling and community agency referral.

Diversion Projects--During 1977 CJD awarded 37 grants specifically aimed at deinstitutionalizing status offenders and diverting them from the juvenile justice system. Residential projects included purchase of service contracts, foster care, and emergency shelter care. In compliance with the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, these projects provide nonsecure detention and separation from delinquent youth. Projects also provide social services such as psychiatric assessments, individual counseling, family counseling, educational assistance, job placement, medical/dental, and recreational services.

Community Services--CJD funded 24 additional nonresidential community projects. Most projects operate under supervision of or in close cooperation with juvenile probation departments. Projects are designed to supplement existing services by providing diagnostic assessment, alternative education, and career development. Although the projects exhibit a variety of approaches, most feature strong adult models and individual attention.

Courts--CJD funded five projects to facilitate processing of cases through the juvenile court. Three grants were for juvenile prosecution, one for a juvenile court administrator, and one for a juvenile annex court.

State Agency Projects--Fourteen state agency projects were funded in 1977. Texas Youth Council received funding for five projects--staff training, minority recruitment, juvenile legal services, research and development, and wilderness camping. Texas Center for Volunteer Action received funds for Peace of Mind, a nationwide runaway hotline. Also funded were projects for drug abuse treatment, law focused training in public schools, and specialized professional training.

TEXAS YOUTH COUNCIL

As a state juvenile corrections agency, the Texas Youth Council is responsible for the care of young people with a wide range of needs. In order to provide appropriate care for every child placed with the agency, TYC operates an array of community and institutional programs based on the concept of a "continuum of care."

The Texas Youth Council continuum offers a range of services beginning and ending in the child's community. It includes both residential and non-residential services, as well as a program of financial assistance to local juvenile probation departments and youth service agencies.

Community Residential Treatment--Halfway houses, residential treatment centers and group homes are meeting the needs of many TYC wards. The Youth Council places children in more than 50 private child care facilities in Texas on a contractual basis.

TYC also operates its own halfway house program. Youth Council halfway houses at Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso and Houston provide care for children needing a more structured environment than that available in most private facilities.

Some Youth Council wards are placed in community residential care upon their commitment to the agency, while others are served after they have completed an institutional program.

Institutional Services--TYC's five training school campuses are open. There are no fences.

The Wilderness Camping Program of the Crockett State School offers a rewarding challenge to the youth willing to forego modern conveniences for the rigors of an East Texas forest. Crockett students construct their own campsites, receive academic training in the woods, and take part in a wilderness trip that includes a three-day solo experience. A separate camping program is offered at Crockett for status offenders placed in Youth Council care.

Youths committing the most serious offenses are placed at the Hackberry Unit of the Gatesville State School. Intensive staff supervison and Postive Peer Culture group counseling are proving successful treatment methods at this facility. Hackberry is one of four Gatesville units. Each is a separate program with its own residential, academic and dining facilities.

TYC operates coeducational schools at Brownwood, Gainesville, and Giddings. When possible, a child is placed in one of these schools according to its proximity to his home. Community volunteer service, Boy Scouts and "Adventure Trails" camping are among the enrichment programs offered at these and other TYC schools.

All youth referred to TYC for delinquent behavior are first received at the Youth Council's Statewide Reception Center at Brownwood. Evaluation and program placement are conducted at the Reception Center, which provides children with any necessary medical and psychological services.

In addition to serving youthful offenders, the Texas Youth Council provides care for dependent and neglected children. TYC children's homes are located at Corsicana, Pyote and Waco. The Waco State Home is conducting a foster home placement program.

All training school children's home and field service personnel receive training in interpersonal skills, problem solving and program development.

Field Placement--TYC wards in community residential programs, or on home placement, are under the supervision of a Youth Council field service counselor. The counselor works closely with the youth, his family and the community resources available to meet the child's needs. Field service counselors can purchase services for their clients such as vocational training, psychological counseling, medical care and clothing when they are not otherwise available.

Any child facing return to a training school for violation of a field placement condition is provided a Field Placement Revocation Hearing prior to such a disposition. Each child is represented in the hearing by the retained attorney of his choice, or if indigent, by an attorney provided through the State Bar of Texas.

COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE/PROBATION ASSISTANCE

The Texas Youth Council offers aid to juvenile probation departments and community youth service agencies which seek to develop and expand local services. Such funding allows these agencies to provide hometown care for children who otherwise would be placed with the Youth Council. TYC offers funds to most probation departments on a base rate formula, with assistance provided in return for a specific number of youth diverted from TYC commitment. Discretionary funds are available for smaller probation departments and privately operated diversion programs.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS AFFECTING THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

On July 8, 1974, using a false name and giving her age as 22, Defendant plead guilty to burglary of a habitation. When State moved to revoke probation, Defendant proved that she was only 15 at time. Trial court revoked probation. Held: Reversed and remanded. While failure to raise age at time of conviction would have waived her right to be tried as a juvenile under past decisional laws, waiver here was not in accordance with Sec. 51.09, Family Code. District court did not have jurisdiction to try defendant for burglary of habitation in view of her age despite her deliberate action in misleading court. This was not a waiver under statute. Trial court should have transferred case to juvenile court upon learning Defendant's true age. Since it now appears that Defendant is 18, even juvenile courts cannot exercise jurisdiction over her. Bannister v. State, 552 S.W.2d 124 (Tex. Crim. App. 1977)

Juvenile moved for dismissal of juvenile revocation proceeding on theory that state failed to prove county and state of alleged violation (burglary) of probation. Held: A juvenile proceeding is civil in nature. Defendant did not file a plea of privilege, and a Plaintiff is not required to plead facts supporting venue in county of suit until Defendant raises issue by filing a plea of privilege. J.J.H. v. State, 557 S.W.2d 838 (Tex. Civ. App.--Waco 1977, no writ)

CONFESSIONS

Although mechanics and procedure as prescribed by Sec. 51.09(B), Family Code were carefully carried out in taking juvenile confession, confession was inadmissible as matter of law. 11-year old girl, of average intelligence for her age and with 6th-grade education, could not knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily waiver her constitutional privilege against self-incrimination in absence of presence and guidance of parent, other friendly adult, or attorney. Under facts of this case, admission of juvenile's confession in evidence against her violated due process. E.A.W. v. State, 547 S.W.2d 63 (Tex. Civ. App.--Waco 1977, no writ)

Minor (Defendant) was detained at police substation from 12:20 p.m. until 10:20 p.m., while police reports were being prepared. Defendant was taken before a magistrate at 7:25 p.m. Held: Defendant's confession was inadmissible because of violation of Sec. 52.02, Family Code, requiring release or delivery of minor. There was clearly an unnecessary delay, and police substation was within term elsewhere of statute. Matter of D.M.G.H., 553 S.W.2d 827 (Tex. Civ. App.--El Paso 1977, no writ)

On July 8, 1976, juvenile (Defendant) presented a check at store. On August 2, 1976, a detention hearing was held in connection with an unrelated charge against Defendant. An attorney was appointed to represent Defendant for duration of hearing. Defendant was ordered detained for 10 days, during which he was not represented by an attorney or a guardian ad litem. During that time, his mother filed charges against him for forging check in question, and Defendant confessed to officer, both orally and in writing. Defendant was warned of rights by magistrate, and a waiver of rights is contained in confession. Confession was signed before magistrate. Before expiration of 10 days, a second detention hearing was held, and same attorney was appointed to represent Defendant at hearing. At trial, trial court found that Defendant engaged in delinquent conduct (forging check). Held: Affirmed. Defendant was represented by counsel at every significant stage of proceeding against him except when he waived right to counsel pursuant to Sec. 51.09(b), Family Code, and made his confession. His rights were adequately safeguarded in compliance with requirements of Family Code. Court of Civil Appeals cannot say that failure to appoint counsel during entire period of detention was harmful error. Court of Civil Appeals suggests that in future counsel for juveniles not be appointed in such a piecemeal fashion. D.B. v. State, 556 S.W.2d 845 (Tex. Civ. App.--Houston [14th Dist.] 1977, no writ)

Failure of magistrate to warn Defendant pursuant to Sec. 51.09(b)(1)(F), Family Code, does not require reversal when Sec. (F) was otherwise complied with; Defendant was not threatened or coerced to make a confession, and warning given substantially complied with Sec. 51.09(b)(1). D.B. v. State, 556 S.W.2d 845 (Tex. Civ. App.--Houston [14th Dist.] 1977, no writ)

14-year old Defendant was improperly warned before first confession was taken. 40 hours later, after proper warning, second confession was secured. Second confession was admitted in juvenile proceeding. Held: Reversed. Evidence does not establish beyond reasonable doubt that 14-year old boy, who had been continuously incarcerated since time he gave illegal confession, was adequately warned of fact that his first confession in no way affected his right to refuse to submit to further interrogation some 40 hours later and to refuse to give second statement. Fact that policeman, while escorting child across street from detention center to court room, informed child that first statement could not be used and that he had a right to remain silent, falls far short of satisfying requirements of statutory scheme, and confession was improperly received. R.C.S. v. State, 546 S.W.2d 939 (Tex. Civ. App.--San Antonio 1977, no writ)

TRANSFER HEARINGS

A. Summons, Notice

D.W.M., a 16-year old boy, was alleged to have participated in a murder and burglary. After a hearing, the Juvenile Court waived its jurisdiction and ordered the juvenile be transferred to the District Court for adult criminal proceedings.

The Court of Civil Appeals affirmed, holding that the juvenile had waived the statutory requirement that a summons to the transfer hearing be served upon him.

The Supreme Court said: "Section 53.06 of the Family Code pertains to the citation of parties participating in juvenile proceedings. * * *Citation may be waived by all of the parties to the proceedings with the exception of the juvenile. * * *We hold that a juvenile must be served with summons and that it must be affirmatively appear of record. * * *In the absence of a summons to the juvenile, the juvenile court did not acquire jurisdiction to consider discretionary transfer. The cause is remanded to the juvenile court for further proceedings consistent with this opinion." Matter of D.W.M. 21 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 242 (March 4, 1978)

The State brought this juvenile delinquency proceeding against W.L.C., and filed a motion to transfer the case to the District Court of Limestone County on the grounds of commission of murder in the course of a burglary. A hearing on the motion was held, and the court overruled the objection of W.L.C.'s attorney that summons on W.L.C. had not been returned and was not on file.

The Court then ordered the clerk to serve W.L.C., the records reflects a "precept to serve," which the clerk handed W.L.C. in open court; the return of service form on the precept to serve is blank; the hearing proceeded, and the court waived its jurisdiction and transferred W.L.C. to the District Court.

The Court of Civil Appeals affirmed, noting that the testimony of a probation officer did not conclusively establish that W.L.C. was not served with process.

The Supreme Court outlined the statutory requisits for service of process upon juveniles, and said: "Compliance with Sec. 54.02(b) and the Code sections to which it refers is mandatory and prerequisite to the juvenile court jurisdiction to consider waiver of jurisdiction and discretionary transfer to criminal court. The cause is remanded to the juvenile court for further proceedings consistent with this opinion." Matter of W.L.C., 21 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 244 (March 4, 1978)

Lack of service on juvenile for hearing to certify him for criminal prosecution may be raised in appeal from criminal conviction. Failure to appeal order certifying minor would not waive jurisdiction defect.

At time of offense, Defendant was at least 15 years of age but less than 17. Defendant was not served with petition in juvenile court proceedings at which jurisdiction was waived over Defendant and Defendant was certified for criminal prosecution. Defendant, his mother, and his attorney ad litem were all present at hearing in juvenile court. Defendant was convicted of murder under old penal code. Held: Reversed. Juvenile must be personally served with process. Minor lacks capacity to waive service, and no one may waive it for him. Johnson v. State, 551 S.W.2d 379 (Tex. Crim. App. 1977)

B. Evidence

Psychological and social reports were properly received by juvenile court in transfer proceeding. Although reports (being ex parte and made out of court) were hearsay, legislature was free to provide for reception of hearsay statements into evidence when it is decreed necessary, and it has frequently created exceptions to hearsay rule for such purposes. It was not necessary that introduction of reports be accompanied by testimony of authors. Nor did failure to identify or authenticate reports require their exclusion. Matter of J.R.C., 551 S.W.2d 748 (Tex. Civ. App.--Texarkana 1977, writ ref'd n.r.e.)

C. Order

Sec. 54.02 (f), Family Code, does not require that, in order for juvenile court to waive its jurisdiction, all of matters listed in subdivision (f) must be established. Statute directs that juvenile court consider matters listed in subdivision (f) in making its determination. Matter of J.R.C., 551 S.W.2d 748 (Tex. Civ. App.--Texarkana 1977, writ ref'd n.r.e.)

D. Subsequent Proceedings

Trial court failed to conduct an examining trial for juvenile after transfer by juvenile court for prosecution of juvenile as an adult. Held: Examining trial required by Sec. 54.02, Family Code, is mandatory. An indictment returned against a juvenile after a discretionary transfer from juvenile court is void for failure of district court (to which transfer was made) to conduct examining trial prior to return of indictment.

Court of Criminal Appeals has jurisdiction to consider writ of habeas corpus before conviction where trial court has no jurisdiction to proceed. A district court has no jurisdiction to proceed on a void indictment; a void indictment having been shown (because juvenile was not given an examining trial after transfer of jurisdiction and before indictment), indictment will be set aside. Ex Parte Menefee, ___S.W. 2d ___ (Tex. Crim. App. 1977) (#54,708)

ADJUDICATION

A. Explanations

State's pleadings seeking to declare Defendant-minor a delinquent child alleged commission of aggravated rape. At beginning of adjudication hearing, trial court asked if Defendant has discussed charge with his attorney and determined that attorney had explained rights. Held: Reversed and remanded. Court explained nothing required by Sec. 54.03 Family Code. Court made no effort to explain meaning of term aggravated rape or that, under allegations of aggravated rape, he could also be found guilty of rape or aggravated assault. To "explain" is to make something plain. A.E.M. v. State, 552 S.W.2d 952 (Tex. Civ. App.--San Antonio 1977, no writ)

It is contended that court, in juvenile adjudication proceeding, furnished instrument to Defendant stating rights and further instructing Defendant, in event that instructions and explanations were not fully understood, to call on bailiff or secretary of court for further instructions. Held: If document was furnished by court, entire adjudication hearing was of no value as record would then show that juvenile was directed to bailiff or secretary to answer juvenile's questions concerning his rights and possible disposition, and error would be obvious. Mandatory requirements of Sec. 54.03(b), Family Code, would not have been complied with. Matter of N.S.D., 555 S.W.2d 807 (Tex. Civ. App.--El Paso 1977, no writ)

B. Offenses

In October 1975, minor was adjudicated to be a child in need of supervision for voluntarily being absent from her parent's home without consent for a substantial length of time without intent to return, i.e., she was found to be a "runaway." A supervision order was entered, and she was placed in a group foster home. In March 1976, she ran away again. She voluntarily returned and was adjudged to have engaged in delinquent conduct by committing offense of escape, a violation of Sec. 38.07(a), Penal Code. Held: Reversed and remanded. Running away is not an offense against criminal laws. Nothing is found to indicate that legislature intended to denounce conduct of this nature as an offense as that term is used in Sec. 38.07(a).T.P.C. Child has not been convicted of an offense defined by statute and so could not have committed offense of escape as defined by Sec. 38.07(a), Penal Code. Matter of E.A.R., 548 S.W.2d 454 (Tex. Civ. App.--Texarkana 1977, no writ)

C. Evidence

Requirement that State prove corpus delicti merely means that there must be proof a crime has been committed by somebody. Proof of Defendant's connection with criminal conduct is necessary for conviction, but proof of Defendant's involvement is not essential to proof a crime has been committed. Defendant's extrajudicial admissions, standing alone, do not constitute sufficient proof of corpus delicti, i.e., there must be evidence, outside admissions or confession, that a crime was in fact committed by someone, and that is all. This rule, sometimes stated in terms of a requirement that confession of Defendant be corroborated, does not apply to issue of Defendant's involvement in crime. Defendant's identity as perpetrator of crime can be established by his confession alone. Total absence of corroborative evidence merely means that evidence, because of absence of required independent evidence, is insufficient to establish corpus delicti. Such holding requires that judgment (here declaration that juvenile was a delinquent) be remanded for a new trial. R.C.S. v. State, 546 S.W.2d 939 (Tex. Civ. App.--San Antonio 1977, no writ)

In criminal cases, handwritten comparison is, by itself, insufficient to establish maker of check when witness denies his signature under oath. However, in this juvenile case Defendant did not deny signature under oath and proceeding was civil and not governed by Code of Criminal Procedure or by criminal law. Handwriting comparison was sufficient evidence to show that Defendant was maker of check. D.B. v. State, 556 S.W.2d 845 (Tex. Civ. App.--Houston [14th Dist.] 1977, no writ)

DISPOSITION

Minor's misdeeds were done in an aggressive manner over a sustained period of time. Infamous nature of Defendant's acts reflects unfavorably upon chances for his rehabilitation within contemplation of Sec. 54.02(f)(6), Family Code. Thompson v. State, 552 S.W.2d 618 (Tex. Civ. App.--Austin 1977, no writ)

Trial court revoked juvenile probation, giving appointed counsel for juvenile (Defendant), less than 10 days' notice before first stage of hearing on motion to modify disposition. Held: Affirmed. Under facts (detailed in opinion), Defendant's attorney had reasonable notice of hearing on motion to modify disposition, which is all that is required under Sec. 54.05, Family Code. While a juvenile is entitled to fundamental due process, a juvenile is not entitled to all rights assured an adult accused of a crime. Matter of J.C., 556 S.W.2d 119 (Tex. Civl. App.--Waco 1977, no writ)

Trial court found juvenile (Defendant), whose managing conservator was Department of Public Welfare (DPW), to be in need of supervision. Trial Court ordered that Defendant be placed in custody of foundation and ordered Department of Public Welfare to pay $1,020 monthly charge to foundation. Held: Reversed and remanded. There is no appropriation authorizing state expenditure to place Defendant in substitute care. State funds may not be expended for payment of any judgment except where it is specifically provided in an item of appropriation that funds thereby appropriated may be used in payment of such judgments. Matter of D.H., 556 S.W.2d 628 (Tex. Civ. App.--Waco 1977, writ ref'd n.r.e.)

Trial court revoked juvenile's probation and committed him to care of Texas Youth Council. Order recited that trial court found that evidence was sufficient to support motion to modify disposition insofar as it alleged violation of one provision of judgment. Held: Reversed with directions. A modifying order must contain a specific recital of offense committed by child. It is not enough that modification order refers to provision of which sets out conditions of probation. A.Y. v. State, 554 S.W.2d 805 (Tex. Civ. App.--San Antonio 1977, no writ)

MENTAL ILLNESS AND RETARDATION PROCEEDINGS

Defendant, 15 years old, was referred to juvenile court for alleged offense of murder. State petitioned for waiver of jurisdiction and transfer hearing. Defendant asked court to consider his mental fitness to proceed. At conclusion of testimony trial court found Defendant lacked capacity to assist his own defense. After hearing, Defendant was committed for 90 day's temporary hospitalization. Subsequently, Defendant was discharged and sent back to juvenile court with report that there was no evidence of serious mental illness or organicity but that test data was suggestive of possible brain dysfunction. Defendant moved that proceedings be initiated to determine question of his mental illness or retardation under Sec. 55.02, 55.03 and 55.04, Family Code. This was denied, and Defendant was ordered transferred to district court for criminal proceedings, despite fact that transfer order declared Defendant lacked capacity to understand proceedings and to assist counsel. Held: Reversed and remanded. Under this state of record, Defendant remains unfit for transfer to criminal court. A hearing on this matter should have been held, followed by a judicial determination as to whether Defendant's unfitness to proceed still existed. Dominguez v. State, 546 S.W.2d 110 (Tex. Civ. App.--Eastland 1977, no writ)

Trial court overruled Defendant--juvenile's motion for psychiatric exam pursuant to Sec. 55.05, Family Code, in transfer proceeding. Trial court waived jurisdiction over Defendant and ordered transfer for trial as an adult. Held: Affirmed. Sec. 55.05(b), providing for psychiatric inquiry, is not referrable to a discretionary transfer proceeding that is concerned with adult responsibility for criminal activity but applies only in event child is to be tried as a juvenile on issue of delinquent conduct or need for supervision. Matter of K.W.E., 556 S.W.2d 626 (Tex. Civ. App.--Waco 1977, no writ)

Responsibility of a juvenile for delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision is determined by whether, at time of alleged conduct, as a result of mental disease or defect, he lacks substantial capacity either to appreciate wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to requirements of law. R.K.A. v. State, 553 S.W.2d 781 (Tex. Civ. App.--Fort Worth 1977, no writ)

Texas Youth Council's (TYC's) administrative determination that a delinquent child is mentally ill or feebleminded is not final. After such a determination, child is returned to committing court for appropriate action or to court in county in which training school is located to take such action as child's conditions require. If, after hearing and from evidence, court determines child is mentally ill or feebleminded, an appropriate judgment should be entered pursuant to Art. 5547-1 et seq or Art. 3871b, RCS. If, after hearing, however, court is of opinion from evidence that child is not mentally ill or feebleminded, then court is empowered to order child returned to care, custody, and control of TYC. Texas Youth Council v. State, 555 S.W.2d 178 (Tex. Civ. App.--Austin 1977, no writ)

REVIEW ON APPEAL

State has right of appeal in juvenile delinquency cases and thus can appeal erroneous entry of summary judgment in favor of juvenile. State v. L.J.B., ___ S.W.2d ___ (Tex. Civ. App.--Dallas 1977, no writ)

Trial court's judgment did not contain a specific statement of reasons for modifying disposition. Held: Court of Civil Appeals is unable to determine whether record supports action of trial court. Trial court is directed, pursuant to Rule 434, to enter an order stating reasons for its action, as required by Sec. 54.04(i), Family Code, and transmit to Court of Civil Appeals, by set date, a copy of order, after which Court of Civil Appeals will determine appeal. A.Y. v. State, 554 S.W.2d 805 (Tex. Civ. App.--San Antonio 1977, no writ)

JUVENILE COURT STATISTICS

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court and juvenile probation statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or juvenile probation departments do, nor how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these statistics. There is no reliable way to ascertain the time spent by juvenile judges or juvenile probation officers in counselling, study or research.

At least three factors are not represented in the juvenile court and juvenile probation departments statistics presented and should be borne in mind when evaluating such statistics:

1. Differing organization, scope and policy of an individual court and juvenile probation department.

2. The size and density of a county's population and its social, cultural and economic composition.

3. One very complicated referral or case may consume an inordinate amount of time compared to less complicated or less time consuming referrals or cases.

The definition of terms used by the reporting system should be reviewed prior to any analysis of the statistics contained in this report. As an example, the term "referral" is used to indicate a reported activity only when an actual interview occurs between a juvenile court representative (probation officer) and a child or his parents.

A PROFILE OF CHILDREN REFERRED TO JUVENILE PROBATION DEPARTMENTS IN 1977

INTRODUCTION

This report contains information on the activities of the Juvenile Justice System during the year 1977. Juvenile probation departments or designated representatives of the Juvenile Court in each of Texas' 254 counties have been requested to submit a monthly report containing basic data about every child referred to their court for alleged delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision.

The monthly reports contain data about each juvenile's age, sex, ethnicity, and residence at the time of referral. The reports also contain information about the specific type of offense for which the youth was referred, the agency or source which initially referred the child, whether the child had a history of referrals, and a record, if any, of prior findings of delinquency or conduct indicating a need for supervision in the child's history. Juvenile authorities are also asked to report with whom the child was living at the time of referral and whether the child was attending school. Finally, juvenile authorities provide information about whether or not each referral was held in detention prior to adjudication, how long the child was detained and whether the child's case was handled informally.

Juvenile authorities are requested to report a referral when a child of juvenile age (10-16) is processed for a decision by a juvenile court representative as to what action should be taken regarding an alleged misconduct. A referral is to be reported only when an interview occurs between a juvenile court representative (probation officer) and a child and/or his parents. If an individual child is referred more than once during a reporting month each referral is to be reported. Thus, the total number of referrals exceeds the actual number of individual children because some were referred more than once during the year.

All twelve months' activity for 1977 was reported by 211 counties, an increase of 25 reporting counties over the 1976 reporting rate, 20 other counties reported fewer than twelve months activity, and 23 submitted no reports at all. Statewide, the Council received 2,672 reports out of a possible 3,048 for the year (87.7 percent). According to 1970 census figures, reports were received from counties that contain 94.9 percent of the juvenile court age population of Texas within their boundaries.

DEFINITIONS

Section 51.02 of Title 3 of the Texas Family Code defines a child as a person who is:

"(A) Ten years of age or older and under 17 years of age; or

(B) Seventeen years of age or older and under 18 years of age who is alleged or found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision as a result of acts committed before becoming 17 years of age."

Section 51.03(a) defines delinquent conduct as conduct, other than a traffic offense, that violates:

"(1) A penal law of this state punishable by imprisonment or by confinement in jail; or

(2) A reasonable and lawful order of a juvenile court entered under Section 54.04 or 54.05 of this code, including an order prohibiting conduct referred to in Subsection (b)(4) of this Section."

Section 51.03(b), Texas Family Code, defines conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) as:

"(1) Conduct, other than a traffic offense, that on three or more occasions violates either of the following:

(a) the penal law of this state of the grade of misdemeanor that are punishable by fine only; or

(b) the penal ordinances of any political subdivision of this state;

(2) The unexcused voluntary absence of a child on 10 or more days or parts of days within a six month period or three more days or parts of days within a four week period from school;

(3) The voluntary absence of a child from his home without the consent of his parents or guardian for a substantial length of time or without intent to return; or

(4) Conduct which violates the laws of this state prohibiting driving while intoxicated or under the influence of intoxicating liquor (first or subsequent offense) or driving while under the influence of any narcotic drug or of any other drug to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving a vehicle (first or subsequent offense)."

For statistical reporting purposes, juvenile authorities were asked to categorize the reason each child was referred into one of thirteen categories of offenses which were divided into two groupings designated as delinquent conduct and conduct indicating a need for supervision. If a child was referred for multiple charges, the juvenile authorities were asked to report only the most serious offenses.

Delinquent conduct may include any penal law violation which is a class B misdemeanor or more serious. The following categories are included in this grouping:

HOMICIDE. Any offense cited in Chapter 19, Texas Penal Code. This category includes murder, voluntary manslaughter, involuntary manslaughter, and criminally negligent homicide.

Conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) may include any offense or behavior which is considered a class C misdemeanor or other conduct indicating a need for supervision as defined in the Family Code.

The categories in this grouping are descriptive: For example, although there is no state law concerning inhalents, many cities have ordinances that prohibit the use of inhalents.

The following categories were included in this grouping:

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE. Any conduct which violates Section 51.03(b)(2), Texas Family Code.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATION. Any conduct covered by provisions of the Penal Code (Liquor Control Act), which are class C misdemeanors. Included within this category are referrals for D.W.I. (Section 51.03(b)(4), Texas Family Code).

STATISTICAL ANALYSIS

In 1977, a total of 53,675 children were processed in 71,598 referrals. (Note: the term "referrals" apply only to that contact with a child as previously defined in this report). Of the total number of referrals, 52,102 were initially screened from official court action.

PRIOR COURT REFERRALS

Table 1 indicates that 55.0 percent of the referrals reported in 1977 had their first contact with juvenile authorities during the reporting year. Almost half of the referrals had a previous history of at least one prior referral.

PRIOR COURT ADJUDICATION

An analysis of Table 2 reveals that 87.2 percent of the referrals had no prior adjudication for delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision prior to the time of their referral. In contrast, 12.8 percent of the referrals had been adjudicated prior to their subsequent return to juvenile authorities.

Law enforcement agencies were responsible for the majority of juvenile referrals as they were in 1976. These agencies referred 87.1 percent of the referrals while the remaining 11.9 percent were referred from social agencies, parents, schools, and other sources.

REASON FOR REFERRAL

Table 7A indicates by sex, the number and percentages of juveniles referred to authorities for each of the thirteen broad offense categories. Males accounted for 53,480 referrals (75 percent). The most frequent reason youths were referred to juvenile authorities was theft. Males accounted for 78 percent of that offense category. The second most frequent reason for referral was runaways (17.1 percent). Females accounted for 61 percent of those referrals. The only category in which more females were referred than males was runaway.

REASON FOR REFERRAL (Con't)

Table 7B presents data concerning the race-ethnicity by offense of the referrals reported in 1977. Alleged delinquent conduct accounted for 55.9 percent of the referrals as opposed to conduct indicating a need for supervision. Fifty-two percent of the white youth, 66 percent of the black youth and 57 percent of the spanish surname youth were referred for alleged delinquent conduct rather than lesser charges. The data suggests that delinquent conduct is the most frequent reason for referral, regardless of race-ethnic background.

More than three-fourths (77.7 percent) of the referrals processed by juvenile authorities were 14 through 16 years of age. Tables 8A and 8B show that the distribution of ages is relatively constant regardless of sex or race-ethnic background. The ages of 76.7 percent of the males and 77.3 percent of the females referred were between 14 and 16 years of age.

Table 9A indicates that children referred for conduct indicating a need for supervision were detained slightly more frequently (42.4 percent) than those referred for alleged delinquent conduct (41.3 percent). Table 9B shows the percentages of referrals detained in secure detention facilities by offense and sex. Forty-two percent of the males and 42.5 percent of the females were detained.

JUVENILE COURT ACTIVITY

Section 51.04 of the Texas Family Code provides for the designation of a court or courts in each county as the juvenile court, to hear proceedings under Title 3 of the Family Code. The court(s) designated must be either a district, or criminal district, domestic relations, county court at law or constitutional county court. The designation is made by the juvenile board in each county, or if there is none, by the judges of the above-mentioned types of courts in the county. If the judge designated to preside over the juvenile court is a non-lawyer judge, Section 51.04 provides for a trial de novo by an alternate juvenile judge, who must be a lawyer, on all appealable matters. A more thorough decision of the courts which may have juvenile jurisdiction is presented in the Overview of the Texas Judicial System.

Juvenile court activity is therefore reported to the Judicial Council by either the district clerk, or the county clerk or both, depending on which courts have been designated under Section 51.04. In 63 counties there was no reported juvenile activity.

Statewide, approximately 90 percent of the juvenile cases in the state were handled by district-level courts (district or criminal district courts) and the remaining 10 percent were handled by county-level courts (county courts at law or constitutional county courts).

Statewide, 12,791 new juvenile cases were docketed. Delinquent conduct was alleged in 9,460 cases and conduct indicating a need for supervision was alleged in 1,635 of the cases filed in juvenile court in 1977. The courts disposed of 12,177 cases. Findings of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision were entered in 59.8 percent of the dispositions and a finding of no delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision was entered in 1.5 percent. Thirty-seven percent were dismissed. A total of 950 hearings to modify court orders and 9,747 detention hearings were reported in 1977.

Probation was granted in 5,802 cases. As provided by Section 54.04(d), Texas Family Code, the court order in each order of probation must specify "where the probationer is to stay as a condition of his probation." There are three possible settings; (1) home or with his relatives; (2) foster homes; or (3) residential facility. In 287 delinquency cases, the probation order specified that a probationer be placed under foster care. In 572 delinquency cases the probation order specified that the juvenile be placed in a residential facility other than the Texas Youth Council. In approximately 9 percent (1,096) of the cases disposed during 1977, juveniles were committed to the Texas Youth Council.

THE FAMILY CODE

TITLE 3

FAMILY CODE — TITLE 3
DELINQUENT CHILDREN AND CHILDREN IN NEED OF SUPERVISION (JUVENILES)

CHAPTER 51. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec. 51.01. Purpose and Interpretation. "This title shall be construed to effectuate the following public purposes:

(1) to provide for the care, the protection and the wholesome moral, mental, and physical development of children coming within its provisions;

(2) to protect the welfare of the community and to control the commission of unlawful acts by children;

(3) consistent with the protection of the public interest, to remove from children committing unlawful acts the taint of criminality and the consequences of criminal behavior and to substitute a program of treatment, training, and rehabilitation;

(4) to achieve the foregoing purposes in a family environment whenever possible, separating the child from his parents only when necessary for his welfare or in the interest of public safety and when a child is removed from his family, to give him the care that should be provided by parents; and

(5) to provide a simple judicial procedure through which the provisions of this title are executed and enforced in which the parties are assured a fair hearing and their constitutional and other legal rights recognized and enforced.

Sec. 51.02. Definitions. "In this title:

(1) "Child" means a person who is:

(A) ten years of age or older and under 17 years of age; or

(2) "Parent" means the mother, the father whether or not the child is legitimate, or an adoptive parent, but does not include a parent whose parental rights have been terminated.

(3) "Guardian" means the person who, under the court order, is the guardian of the person of the child or the public or private agency with whom the child has been placed by a court.

(4) "Custodian" means the adult with whom the child resides.

(5) "Juvenile court" means a court designated under Section 51.04 of this code to exercise jurisdiction over proceedings under this title.

(6) "Judge" or "juvenile court judge" means the judge of a juvenile court.

(7) "Prosecuting attorney" means the county attorney, district attorney, or other attorney who regularly serves in a prosecutory capacity in a juvenile court.

(8) "Law-enforcement officer" means a peace officer as defined by Article 2.12, Texas Code of Criminal Procedure.

(9) "Traffic offense" means:

(A) a violation of a penal statute cognizable under Chapter 302, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957, as amended (Article 802e, Vernon's Texas Penal Code); or

(B) a violation of a motor vehicle traffic ordinance of an incorporated city or town in this state.

(10) "Party" means the state, a child who is the subject or proceedings under this subtitle, or the child's parent, spouse, guardian, or guardian ad litem.

Sec. 51.03. Delinquent Conduct; Conduct Indicating a Need for Supervision. (a) Delinquent conduct is conduct, other than a traffic offense that violates:

(1) a penal law of this state punishable by imprisonment or by confinement in jail; or

(2) a reasonable and lawful order of a juvenile court entered under Section 54.04 or 54.05 of this code, including an order prohibiting conduct referred to in Subsection (b)(4) of this section.

(b) Conduct indicating a need for supervision is:

(1) conduct, other than a traffic offense or other than an offense included in Subdivision (5) of this subsection, that on three or more occasions violates either of the following:

(A) the penal laws of this state of the grade of misdemeanor that are punishable by fine only; or

(B) the penal ordinances of any political subdivision of this state;

(2) the unexcused voluntary absence of a child on 10 or more days or parts of days within a six-month period or three or more days or parts of days within a four-week period from school;

(3) the voluntary absence of a child from his home without the consent of his parent or guardian for a substantial length of time or without intent to return;

(5) conduct prohibited by city ordinance or by state law involving the inhalation of the fumes or vapors of paint and other protective coatings or glue and other adhesives.

(c) Nothing in this title prevents criminal proceedings against a child for perjury.

(d) For the purpose of Subsection (b)(2) of this section an absence is excused when the absence results from:

(1) illness of the child;

(2) illness or death in the family of the child;

(3) quarantine of the child and family;

(4) weather or road conditions making travel dangerous;

(5) an absence approved by a teacher, principal, or superintendent of the school in which the child is enrolled; or

(6) circumstances found reasonable and proper.

Sec. 51.04. Jurisdiction. (a) This title covers the proceedings in all cases involving the delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision engaged in by a person who was a child within the meaning of this title at the time he engaged in the conduct, and the juvenile court has exclusive original jurisdiction over proceedings under this title."

(b) In a county having a juvenile board, the board shall designate one or more district, criminal district, domestic relations, juvenile, or county courts or county courts at law as the juvenile court, subject to Subsection (d) of this section.

(c) In a county not having a juvenile board, the judges of the district, criminal district, domestic relations, juvenile, and county courts and county courts at law shall designate one or more of their courts as the juvenile court, subject to Subsection (d) of this section.

(d) If the judge of a court designated in Subsection (b) or (c) of this section is not an attorney licensed in this state, there shall also be designated an alternate court, the judge of which is an attorney licensed in this state. The alternate juvenile court shall rule on motions and hold hearings as provided in Section 51.18 of this chapter.

(e) A designation made under Subsection (b) or (c) of this section may be changed from time to time by the authorized boards or judges for the convenience of the people and the welfare of children. However, there must be at all times a juvenile court designated for each county. It is the intent of the legislature that in selecting a court to be the juvenile court of each county, the selection shall be made as far as practicable so that the court designated as the juvenile court will be one which is presided over by a judge who has a sympathetic understanding of the problems of child welfare and that changes in the designation of juvenile courts be made only when the best interest of the public requires it.

(f) If the judge of the juvenile court or any alternate judge named under Subsection (b) or (c) of this section is not in the county or is otherwise unavailable, any magistrate may conduct the detention hearing provided for in Section 54.01 of this code.

(g) The juvenile board, or if there is no juvenile board, the juvenile court, may appoint a referee to conduct hearings under this title and in accordance with Section 54.10 of this code. The referee shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in this state. Payment of any referee services shall be provided from county funds.

Sec. 51.05. Court Sessions and Facilities. (a) The juvenile court shall be deemed in session at all times. Suitable quarters shall be provided by the commissioners court of each county for the hearing of cases and for the use of the judge, the probation officer, and other employees of the court.

(b) The juvenile court and the juvenile board shall report annually to the commissioners court on the suitability of the quarters and facilities of the juvenile court and may make recommendations for their improvement.

Sec. 51.06. Venue. (a) A proceeding under this title shall be commenced in:

(1) the county in which the child resides; or

(2) the county in which the alleged delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision occurred.

(b) An application for a writ of habeas corpus brought by or on behalf of a child who has been committed to an institution under the jurisdiction of the Texas Youth Council and which attacks the validity of the judgment of commitment shall be brought in the county in which the court that entered the judgment of commitment is located.

Sec. 51.07. Transfer to Another County. (a) When a child has been found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision under Section 54.03 of this code, the juvenile court, with the consent of the child and appropriate adult given in accordance with Section 51.09 of this code, may transfer the case and transcripts of records and documents to the juvenile court of the county where the child resides for disposition of the case under Section 54.04 of this code.

(b) When a child who is on probation moves with his family from one county to another, the juvenile court may transfer the case to the juvenile court in the county of the child's new residence if the transfer is in the best interest of the child. In all other cases of transfer, consent of the receiving court is required. The transferring court shall forward transcripts of records and documents in the case to the judge of the receiving court.

Sec. 51.08. Transfer from Criminal Court. "If the defendant in a criminal proceeding is a child who is charged with an offense other than perjury or a traffic offense, unless he has been transferred to criminal court under Section 54.02 of this code, the court exercising criminal jurisdiction shall transfer the case to the juvenile court, together with a copy of the accusatory pleading and other papers, documents, and transcripts of testimony relating to the case, and shall order that the child be taken to the place of detention designated by the juvenile court, or shall release him to the custody of his parent, guardian, or custodian, to be brought before the juvenile court at a time designated by that court.

Sec. 51.09. Waiver of Rights. (a) Unless a contrary intent clearly appears elsewhere in this title, any right granted to a child by this title or by the constitution or laws of this state or the United States may be waived in proceedings under this title if:

(1) the waiver is made by the child and the attorney for the child;
(2) the child and the attorney waiving the right are informed of and understand the right and the possible consequences of waiving it;
(3) the waiver is voluntary; and
(4) the waiver is made in writing or in court proceedings that are recorded.

(b) Notwithstanding any of the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section, the statement of a child is admissible in evidence in any future proceeding concerning the matter about which the statement was given if:

(1) when the child is in a detention facility or other place of confinement or in the custody of an officer, the statement is made in writing and the statement shows that the child has at some time prior to the making thereof received from a magistrate a warning that:
(A) he may remain silent and not make any statement at all and that any statement he makes may be used in evidence against him;
(B) he has the right to have an attorney present to advise him either prior to any questioning or during the questioning;
(C) if he is unable to employ an attorney, he has the right to have an attorney to counsel with him prior to or during any interviews with peace officers or attorneys representing the state;
(D) he has the right to terminate the interview at any time;
(E) if he is 15 years of age or older at the time of the violation of a penal law of the grade of felony the juvenile court may waive its jurisdiction and he may be tried as an adult; and
(F) the statement must be signed in the presence of a magistrate by the child with no law enforcement officer or prosecuting attorney present. The magistrate must be fully convinced that the child understands the nature and contents of the statement and that the child is signing the same voluntarily. If such a statement is taken, the magistrate shall sign a written statement verifying the foregoing requisites have been met.
The child must knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily waive these rights prior to and during the making of the statement and sign the statement in the presence of a magistrate who must certify that he has examined the child independent of any law enforcement officer or prosecuting attorney and determined that the child understands the nature and contents of the statement and has knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily waived these rights.

(2) it be made orally and the child makes a statement of facts or circumstances that are found to be true, which conduct tends to establish his guilt, such as the finding of secreted or stolen property, or the instrument with which he states the offense was committed.
(3) the statement was res gestae of the delinquent conduct or the conduct indicating a need for supervision or of the arrest.

Sec. 51.10. Right to Assistance of Attorney; Compensation. (a) A child may be represented by an attorney at every stage of proceedings under this title, including:

(1) the detention hearing required by Section 54.01 of this code;
(2) the hearing to consider transfer to criminal court required by Section 54.02 of this code;
(3) the adjudication hearing required by Section 54.03 of this code;
(4) the disposition hearing required by Section 54.04 of this code;
(5) the hearing to modify disposition required by Section 54.05 of this code;
(6) hearings required by Chapter 55 of this code;
(7) habeas corpus proceedings challenging the legality of detention resulting from action under this title; and
(8) proceedings in a court of civil appeals or the Texas Supreme Court reviewing proceedings under this title.

(b) The child's right to representation by an attorney shall not be waived in:
(1) a hearing to consider transfer to criminal court as required by Section 54.02 of this code;
(2) an adjudication hearing as required by Section 54.03 of this code;
(3) a disposition hearing as required by Section 54.04 of this code;
(4) a hearing prior to commitment to the Texas Youth Council as a modified disposition in accordance with Section 54.05(f) of this code; or
(5) hearings required by Chapter 55 of this code.

(c) If the child was not represented by an attorney at the detention hearing required by Section 54.01 of this code and a determination was made to detain the child, the child shall immediately be entitled to representation by an attorney. The court may order the retention of an attorney according to Section 51.10(d) of this code or appoint an attorney according to Section 51.10(f) of this code.

(d) The court shall order a child's parent or other person responsible for support of the child to employ an attorney to represent the child, if:
(1) the child is not represented by an attorney;
(2) after giving the appropriate parties an opportunity to be heard, the court determines that the parent or other person responsible for support of the child is financially able to employ an attorney to represent the child; and
(3) the child's right to representation by an attorney:
(A) has not been waived under Section 51.09 of this code; or
(B) may not be waived under Subsection (b) of this section.

(e) The court may enforce orders under Subsection (c) of this section by proceedings under Section 54.07 of this code or by appointing counsel and ordering the parent or other person responsible for support of the child to pay a reasonable attorney's fee set by the court. The order may be enforced under Section 54.07 of this code.

(f) The court shall appoint an attorney to represent the interest of a child entitled to representation by an attorney, if:
(1) the child is not represented by an attorney;
(2) the court determines that the child's parent or other person responsible for support of the child is financially unable to employ an attorney to represent the child; and
(3) the child's right to representation by an attorney:
(A) has not been waived under Section 51.09 of this code; or
(B) may not be waived under Subsection (b) of this section.

(g) The juvenile court may appoint an attorney in any case in which it deems representation necessary to protect the interest of the child.

(h) Any attorney representing a child in proceedings under this title is entitled to 10 days to prepare for any adjudication or transfer hearing under this title.

(i) Except as provided in Subsection (d) of this section, an attorney appointed under this section to represent the interests of a child shall be paid from the general fund of the county in which the proceedings were instituted according to the schedule in Article 26.05 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. For this purpose, a bona fide appeal to a court of civil appeals or proceedings on the merits in the Texas Supreme Court are considered the equivalent of a bona fide appeal to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Sec. 51.11. Guardian Ad Litem. (a) If a child appears before the juvenile court without a parent or guardian, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to protect the interests of the child. The juvenile court need not appoint a guardian ad litem if a parent or guardian appears with the child.

(b) In any case in which it appears to the juvenile court that the child's parent or guardian is incapable or unwilling to make decisions in the best interest of the child with respect to proceedings under this title, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem to protect the interests of the child in the proceedings.

(c) An attorney for a child may also be his guardian ad litem. A law-enforcement officer, probation officer, or other employee of the juvenile court may not be appointed guardian ad litem.

Sec. 51.12. Place and Conditions of Detention. (a) Except after transfer to criminal court for prosecution under Section 54.02 of this code, a child shall not be detained in or committed to a compartment of a jail or lockup in which adults arrested for, charged with, or convicted of crime are detained or committed, nor be permitted contact with such persons.

(b) The proper authorities in each county shall provide a suitable place of detention for children who are parties to proceedings under this title, but the juvenile court shall control the conditions and terms of detention and detention supervision and shall permit visitation with the child at all reasonable times.

(c) In each county, the judge of the juvenile court and the members of the juvenile board, if there is one, shall personally inspect the detention facilities at least annually and shall certify in writing to the authorities responsible for operating and giving financial support to the facilities that they are suitable or unsuitable for the detention of children in accordance with:
(1) the requirements of Subsection (a) of this section;
(2) the requirements of Article 5115, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, defining 'safe and suitable jails,' if the detention facility is a county jail; and
(3) recognized professional standards for the detention of children.

(d) No child shall be placed in a facility that has not been certified under Subsection (c) of this section as suitable for the detention of children. A child detained in a facility that has not been certified under Subsection (c) of this section as suitable for the detention of children shall be entitled to immediate release from custody in that facility.

(e) If there is no certified place of detention in the county in which the petition is filed, the designated place of detention may be in another county.

Sec. 51.13. Effect of Adjudication or Disposition. (a) An order of adjudication or disposition in a proceeding under this title is not a conviction of crime, and does not impose any civil disability ordinarily resulting from a conviction or operate to disqualify the child in any civil service application or appointment.

(b) The adjudication or disposition of a child or evidence adduced in a hearing under this title may be used only in subsequent proceedings under this title in which the child is a party or in subsequent sentencing proceedings in criminal court against the child to the extent permitted by the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

(c) A child may not be committed or transferred to a penal institution or other facility used primarily for the execution of sentences of persons convicted of crime, except:
(1) for temporary detention in a jail or lockup pending juvenile court hearing or disposition under conditions meeting the requirements of Section 51.12 of this code; or
(2) after transfer for prosecution in criminal court under Section 54.02 of this code.

Sec. 51.14. Files and Records. (a) All files and records of a juvenile court, a clerk of court, or a prosecuting attorney relating to a child who is a party to a proceeding under this title are open to inspection only by:
(1) the judge, probation officers, and professional staff or consultants of the juvenile court;
(2) an attorney for a party to the proceeding;
(3) a public or private agency or institution providing supervision of the child by arrangement of the juvenile court, or having custody of the child under juvenile court order; or
(4) with leave of juvenile court, any other person, agency, or institution having a legitimate interest in the proceeding or in the work of the court.

(b) All files and records of a public or private agency or institution providing supervision of a child by arrangement of the juvenile court or having custody of the child under order of the juvenile court are open to inspection only by:

(1) the professional staff or consultants of the agency or institution;

(2) the judge, probation officers, and professional staff or consultants of the juvenile court;

(3) an attorney for the child; or

(4) with leave of the juvenile court, any other person, agency, or institution having a legitimate interest in the work of the agency or institution.

(c) Law-enforcement files and records concerning a child shall be kept separate from files and records of arrests of adults and shall be maintained on a local basis only and not sent to a central state or federal depository.

(d) Except for files and records relating to a charge for which a child is transferred under Section 54.02 of this code to a criminal court for prosecution, the law-enforcement files and records are not open to public inspection nor may their contents be disclosed to the public, but inspection of the files and records is permitted by:

(1) a juvenile court having the child before it in any proceeding;

(2) an attorney for a party to the proceeding; and

(3) law-enforcement officers when necessary for the discharge of their official duties.

Sec. 51.15. Fingerprints and Photographs. (a) No child may be fingerprinted without the consent of the juvenile court except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section. However, if a child 15 years of age or older is referred to the juvenile court for a felony, his fingerprints may be taken and filed by a law-enforcement officer investigating the case.

(b) No child taken into custody may be photographed without the consent of the juvenile court unless the child is transferred to criminal court for prosecution under Section 54.02 of this code.

(c) Fingerprint and photograph files or records of children shall be kept separate from those of adults, and fingerprints or photographs known to be those of a child shall be maintained on a local basis only and not sent to a central state or federal depository.

(d) Fingerprint and photograph files or records of children are subject to inspection as provided in Subsections (a) and (d) of Section 51.14 of this code.

(e) Fingerprints and photographs of a child shall be removed from files or records and destroyed if:

(1) a petition alleging that the child engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision is not filed, or the proceedings are dismissed after a petition is filed, or the child is found not to have engaged in the alleged conduct; or

(2) the person reaches 18 years of age and there is no record that he committed a criminal offense after reaching 17 years of age.

(f) If latent fingerprints are found during the investigation of an offense, and a law-enforcement officer has reasonable cause to believe that they are those of a particular child, if otherwise authorized by law, he may fingerprint the child regardless of the age or offense for purpose of immediate comparison with the latent fingerprints. If the comparison is negative, the fingerprint card and other copies of the fingerprints taken shall be destroyed immediately. If the comparison is positive, and the child is referred to the juvenile court, the fingerprint card and other copies of the fingerprints taken shall be delivered to the court for disposition. If the child is not referred to the court, the fingerprint card and other copies of the fingerprints taken shall be destroyed immediately.

(g) When destruction of fingerprints or photographs is required by Subsection (e) or (f) of this section, the agency with custody of the fingerprints or photographs shall proceed with destruction without judicial order. However, if the fingerprints or photographs are not destroyed, the juvenile court, on its own motion or on application by the person fingerprinted or photographed, shall order the destruction as required by this section.

Sec. 51.16. Sealing of Files and Records. (a) On the application of a person who has been found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision, or a person taken into custody to determine whether he engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision, or on the juvenile court's own motion, the court, after hearing, shall order the sealing of the files and records in the case, including those specified in Sections 51.14 and 51.15 of this code, if the court finds that:

(1) two years have elapsed since final discharge of the person, or since the last official action in his case if there was no adjudication;

(2) since the time specified in Subdivision (1) of this subsection, he has not been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude or found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision and no proceeding is pending seeking conviction or adjudication; and

(3) it is unlikely the person will engage in further delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision or will commit a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude.

(b) The court may grant the relief authorized in Subsection (a) of this section at any time after final discharge of the person or after the last official action in this case if there was not adjudication.

(c) Reasonable notice of the hearing shall be given to:

(1) the person who made the application or who is the subject of the files or records named in the motion;

(2) the prosecuting attorney for the juvenile court;

(3) the authority granting the discharge if the final discharge was from an institution or from parole;

(4) the public or private agency or institution having custody of files or records named in the application or motion; and

(5) the law-enforcement agency having custody of files or records named in the application or motion.

(d) Copies of the sealing order shall be sent to each agency or official therein named.

(e) On entry of the order:

(1) all law-enforcement, prosecuting attorney, clerk of court, and juvenile court files and records ordered sealed shall be sent to the court issuing the order;

(2) all files and records of a public or private agency or institution ordered sealed shall be sent to the court issuing the order;

(3) all index references to the files and records ordered sealed shall be deleted;

(4) the juvenile court, clerk of court, prosecuting attorney, public or private agency or institution, and law-enforcement officials and agencies shall properly reply that no record exists with respect to such person upon inquiry in any matter; and

(5) the adjudication shall be vacated and the proceeding dismissed and treated for all purposes, including the purpose of showing a prior finding of delinquency, as if it had never occurred.

(f) Inspection of the sealed files and records may be permitted thereafter by an order of the juvenile court on the petition of the person who is the subject of the files or records and only by those persons named in the order.

(g) On the final discharge of a child or on the last official action in his case if there is no adjudication, the child shall be given a written explanation of his rights under this section and a copy of the provisions of this section.

(h) A person whose files and records have been sealed under this Act is not required in any proceeding or in any application for employment, information, or licensing to state that he has been the subject of a proceeding under this Act; and any statement that he has never been found to be a delinquent child shall never be held against the person in any criminal or civil proceeding.

Sec. 51.17. Procedure. Except when in conflict with a provision of this title, the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure govern proceedings under this title. Particular reference is made to the burden of proof to be borne by the state in adjudicating a child to be delinquent or in need of supervision (Section 54.03(f)).

Sec. 51.18. Powers and Duties of Alternate Juvenile Court. If a juvenile court, the judge of which is not an attorney licensed in this state, issues an order that may be appealed as provided in Subsection (c) of Section 56.01 of this code, the child shall have a right to a trial de novo before the alternate juvenile court or may appeal the order of the court as provided in Section 56.01.

CHAPTER 52. PROCEEDINGS BEFORE AND INCLUDING REFERRAL TO JUVENILE COURT

Sec. 52.01. Taking Into Custody; Issuance of Warning Notice. (a) A child may be taken into custody:

(1) pursuant to an order of the juvenile court under the provisions of this subtitle;

(2) pursuant to the laws of arrest;

(3) by a law-enforcement officer if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the child has engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision; or

(4) by a probation officer if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the child has violated a condition of probation imposed by the juvenile court.

(b) The taking of a child into custody is not an arrest except for the purpose of determining the validity of taking him into custody or the validity of a search under the laws and constitution of this state or of the United States.

(c) A law-enforcement officer authorized to take a child into custody under Subdivisions (2) and (3) of Subsection (a) of this section may issue a warning notice to the child in lieu of taking him into custody if:

(1) guidelines for warning disposition have been issued by the law-enforcement agency in which the officer works;

(2) the guidelines have been approved by the juvenile court of the county in which the disposition is made;

(3) the disposition is authorized by the guidelines;

(4) the warning notice identifies the child and describes his alleged conduct;

(5) a copy of the warning notice is sent to the child's parent, guardian, or custodian as soon as practicable after disposition; and

(6) a copy of the warning notice is filed with the law-enforcement agency and the office or official designated by the juvenile court.

(d) A warning notice filed with the office or official designated by the juvenile court may be used as the basis of further action if necessary.

Sec. 52.02. Release or Delivery to Court. (a) A person taking a child into custody, without unnecessary delay and without first taking the child elsewhere, shall do one of the following:

(1) release the child to his parent, guardian, custodian, or other responsible adult upon that person's promise to bring the child before the juvenile court when requested by the court;

(2) bring the child before the office or official designated by the juvenile court;

(3) bring the child to a detention facility designated by the juvenile court;

(4) bring the child to a medical facility if the child is believed to suffer from a serious physical condition or illness that requires prompt treatment; or

(5) dispose of the case under Section 52.03 of this code.

(b) A person taking a child into custody shall promptly give notice of his action and a statement of the reason for taking the child into custody, to

(1) the child's parent, guardian, or custodian; and

(2) the office or official designated by the juvenile court.

Sec. 52.03. Disposition Without Referral to Court. (a) A law-enforcement officer authorized by this title to take a child into custody may dispose of the case of a child taken into custody without referral to juvenile court, if:

(1) guidelines for such disposition have been issued by the law-enforcement agency in which the officer works;

(2) the guidelines have been approved by the juvenile court of the county in which the disposition is made;

(3) the disposition is authorized by the guidelines; and

(4) the officer makes a written report of his disposition to the law-enforcement agency, identifying the child and specifying the grounds for believing that the taking into custody was authorized.

(b) No disposition authorized by this section may involve:

(1) keeping the child in law-enforcement custody; or

(2) requiring periodic reporting of the child to a law-enforcement officer, law-enforcement agency, or other agency.

(c) A disposition authorized by this section may involve:

(1) referral of the child to an agency other than the juvenile court; or

(2) a brief conference with the child and his parent, guardian, or custodian.

(d) Statistics indicating the number and kind of dispositions made by a law-enforcement agency under the authority of this section shall be reported at least annually to the office or official designated by the juvenile court, as ordered by the court.

Sec. 52.04. Referral to Juvenile Court. (a) The following shall accompany referral of a child or a child's case to the office or official designated by the juvenile court or be provided as quickly as possible after referral:

(1) all information in the possession of the person or agency making the referral pertaining to the identity of the child and his address, the name and address of the child's parent, guardian, or custodian, the names and addresses of any witness, and the child's present whereabouts;

(2) a complete statement of the circumstances of the alleged delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision;

(3) When applicable, a complete statement of the circumstances of taking the child into custody; and

(4) when referral is by an officer of a law-enforcement agency, a complete statement of all prior contacts with the child by officers of that law-enforcement agency.

(b) The office or official designated by the juvenile court may refer the case to a law-enforcement agency for the purpose of conducting an investigation to obtain necessary information.

CHAPTER 53. PROCEEDING PRIOR TO JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

Sec. 53.01. Preliminary Investigation and Determinations; Notice to Parents. (a) On referral of a child or a child's case to the office or official designated by the juvenile court, the intake officer, probation officer, or other person authorized by the court shall conduct a preliminary investigation to determine whether:

(1) the person referred to juvenile court is a child within the meaning of this title;

(2) there is probable cause to believe the child engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision; and

(3) further proceedings in the case are in the interest of the child or the public.

(b) If it is determined that the person is not a child, or there is no probable cause, or further proceedings are not warranted, the child shall immediately be released and proceedings terminated.

(c) When custody of a child is given to the office or official designated by the juvenile court, the intake officer, probation officer, or other person authorized by the court shall promptly give notice of the whereabouts of the child and a statement of the reason he was taken into custody to the child's parent, guardian, or custodian unless the notice given under Section 52.02(b) of this code provided fair notice of the child's present whereabouts.

Sec. 53.02. Release from Detention. (a) If a child is brought before the court or delivered to a detention facility designated by the court, the intake or other authorized officer of the court shall immediately make an investigation and shall release the child unless it appears that his detention is warranted under Subsection (b) of this section. The release may be conditioned upon requirements reasonably necessary to insure the child's appearance at later proceedings, but the conditions of the release must be in writing and filed with the office or official designated by the court and a copy furnished to the child.

(b) A child taken into custody may be detained prior to hearing on the petition only if:

(1) he is likely to abscond or be removed from the jurisdiction of the court;

(2) suitable supervision, care, or protection for him is not being provided by a parent, guardian, custodian, or other person;

(3) he has no parent, guardian, custodian, or other person able to return him to the court when required.

(c) If the child is not released, a request for detention hearing shall be made and promptly presented to the court, and an informal detention hearing as provided in Section 54.01 of this code shall be held promptly, but not later than the next working day after he was taken into custody.

Sec. 53.03. Intake Conference and Adjustment. (a) If the preliminary investigation required by Section 53.01 of this code results in a determination that further proceedings in the case are authorized and warranted, the probation officer or other designated officer of the court, subject to the direction of the juvenile court, may advise the parties for a reasonable period of time not to exceed six months concerning an informal adjustment and volunatry rehabilitation of a child if:

(1) advice without a court hearing would be in the interest of the public and the child;

(2) the child and his parent, guardian, or custodian consent with knowledge that consent is not obligatory; and

(3) the child and his parent, guardian, or custodian are informed that they may terminate the adjustment process at any point and petition the court for a court hearing in the case.

(b) Except as otherwise permitted by this title, the child may not be detained during or as a result of the adjustment process.

(c) An incriminating statement made by a participant to the person giving advice and in the discussions or conferences incident thereto may not be used against the declarant in any court hearing.

Sec. 53.04. Court Petition; Answer. (a) If the preliminary investigation, required by Section 53.01 of this code results in a determination that further proceedings are authorized and warranted, a petition for an adjudication or transfer hearing of a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may be made as promptly as practicable by a prosecuting attorney who has knowledge of the facts alleged or is informed and believes that they are true.

(b) The proceedings shall be styled "In the matter of ....."

(c) The petition may be on information and belief.

(d) The petition must state:

(1) with reasonable particularity the time, place, and manner of the acts alleged and the penal law or standard of conduct allegedly violated by the acts;

(2) the name, age, and residence address, if known, of the child who is the subject of the petition;

(3) the names and residence addresses, if known, of the parent, guardian, or custodian of the child and of the child's spouse, if any; and

(4) if the child's parent, guardian, or custodian does not reside or cannot be found in the state, or if their places of residence are unknown, the name and residence address of any known adult relative residing in the county or, if there is none, the name and residence address of the known adult relative residing nearest to the location of the court.

(e) An oral or written answer to the petition may be made at or before the commencement of the hearing. If there is no answer, a general denial of the alleged conduct is assumed.

Sec. 53.05. Time Set for Hearing. (a) After the petition has been filed, the juvenile court shall set a time for the hearing.

(b) The time set for the hearing shall not be later than 10 days after the day the petition was filed if:

(1) the child is in detention; or

(2) the child will be taken into custody under Section 53.06(d) of this code.

Sec. 53.06. Summons. (a) The juvenile court shall direct issuance of a summons to:

(1) the child named in the petition;

(2) the child's parent, guardian, or custodian;

(3) the child's guardian ad litem; and

(4) any other person who appears to the court to be a proper or necessary party to the proceeding.

(b) The summons must require the persons served to appear before the court at the time set to answer the allegations of the petition. A copy of the petition must accompany the summons.

(c) The court may endorse on the summons an order directing the parent, guardian, or custodian of the child to appear personally at the hearing and directing the person having the physical custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing. A person who violates an order entered under this subsection may be proceeded against under Section 54.07 of this code.

(d) If it appears from an affidavit filed or from sworn testimony before the court that immediate detention of the child is warranted under Section 53.02(b) of this code, the court may endorse on the summons an order that a law-enforcement officer shall serve the summons and shall immediately take the child into custody and bring him before the court.

(e) A party, other than the child, may waive service of summons by written stipulation or by voluntary appearance at the hearing.

Sec. 53.07. Service of Summons. (a) If a person to be served with a summons is in this state and can be found, the summons shall be served upon him personally at least two days before the day of the adjudication hearing. If he is in this state and cannot be found, but his address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served on him by mailing a copy by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, at least five days before the day of the hearing. If he is outside this state but he can be found or his address is known, or his whereabouts or address can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy to him personally or mailing a copy to him by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, at least five days before the day of the hearing.

(b) The juvenile court has jurisdiction of the case if after reasonable effort a person other than the child cannot be found nor his post-office address ascertained, whether he is in or outside this state.

(c) Service of the summons may be made by any suitable person under the director of the court.

(d) The court may authorize payment from the general funds of the county of the costs of service and of necessary travel expenses incurred by persons summoned or otherwise required to appear at the hearing.

(e) Witnesses may be subpoenaed in accordance with the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

CHAPTER 54. JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

Sec. 54.01. Detention Hearing. (a) If the child is not released under Section 53.02 of this code, a detention hearing without a jury shall be held promptly, but not later than the second working day after he is taken into custody; provided, however, that when a child is detained on a Friday or Saturday, then such detention hearing shall be held on the first working day after the child is taken into custody.

(b) Reasonable notice of the detention hearing, either oral or written, shall be given, stating the time, place, and purpose of the hearing. Notice shall be given to the child and, if they can be found, to his parents, guardian, or custodian. Prior to the commencement of the hearing, the court shall inform the parties of the child's right to counsel and to appointed counsel if they are indigent and of the child's right to remain silent with respect to any allegations of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision.

(c) At the detention hearing, the court may consider written reports from probation officers, professional court employees, or professional consultants in addition to the testimony of witnesses. Prior to the detention hearing, the court shall provide the attorney for the child with access to all written matter to be considered by the court in making the detention decision. The court may order counsel not to reveal items to the child or his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem if such disclosure would materially harm the treatment and rehabilitation of the child or would substantially decrease the likelihood of receiving information from the same or similar sources in the future.

(d) A detention hearing may be held without the presence of the child's parents if the court has been unable to locate them. If no parent or guardian is present, the court shall appoint counsel or a guardian ad litem for the child.

(e) At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall order the child released from detention unless it finds that:

(1) he is likely to abscond or be removed from the jurisdiction of the court;

(2) suitable supervision, care, or protection for him is not being provided by a parent, guardian, custodian, or other person; or

(3) he has no parent, guardian, custodian, or other person able to return him to the court when required.

(f) A release may be conditioned on requirements reasonably necessary to insure the child's appearance at later proceedings, but the conditions of the release must be in writing and a copy furnished to the child.

(g) No statement made by the child at the detention hearing shall be admissible against the child at any other hearing.

(h) A detention order extends to the conclusion of the disposition hearing, if there is one, but in no event for more than 10 days. Further detention orders may be made following subsequent detention hearings. Subsequent detention hearings may be waived in accordance with the requirements of Section 51.09 of this code, but each detention order shall extend for no more than 10 days.

(i) A child in custody may be detained for as long as 10 days without the hearing described in Subsection (a) of this section if:

(1) a written request for shelter in detention facilities pending arrangement of transportation to his place of residence in another state or country or another county of this state is voluntarily executed by the child not later than the next working day after he was taken into custody;

(2) the request for shelter contains:

(A) a statement by the child that he voluntarily agrees to submit himself to custody and detention for a period of not longer than 10 days without a detention hearing;

(B) an allegation by the person detaining the child that the child has left his place of residence in another state or country or another county of this state, that he is in need of shelter, and that an effort is being made to arrange transportation to his place of residence; and

(C) a statement by the person detaining the child that he has advised the child of his right to demand a detention hearing under Subsection (a) of this section; and

(3) the request is signed by the juvenile court judge to evidence his knowledge of the fact that the child is being held in detention.

(j) The request for shelter may be revoked by the child at any time, and on such revocation, if further detention is necessary, a detention hearing shall be held not later than the next working day in accordance with Subsections (a) through (g) of this section.

(k) Notwithstanding anything in this title to the contrary, the child may sign a request for shelter without the concurrence of an adult specified in Section 51.09 of this code.

(l) The juvenile board or, if there is none, the juvenile court, may appoint a referee to conduct the detention hearing. The referee shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in this state. Such payment or additional payment as may be warranted for referee services shall be provided from county funds. Before commencing the detention hearing, the referee shall inform the parties who have appeared that they are entitled to have the hearing before the juvenile court judge or a substitute judge authorized by Section 51.04(f) of this code. If a party objects to the referee conducting the detention hearing, an authorized judge shall conduct the hearing within 24 hours. At the conclusion of the hearing, the referee shall transmit written findings and recommendations to the juvenile court judge or substitute judge. The juvenile court judge or substitute judge shall adopt, modify, or reject the referee's recommendations within 24 hours. Failure to act within that time results in release of the child by operation of law. A recommendation that the child be released operates to secure his immediate release, subject to the power of the juvenile court judge or substitute judge to reject or modify that recommendation. The effect of an order detaining a child shall be computed from the time of the hearing before the referee.

(m) The detention hearing required in this section may be held in the county of the designated place of detention where the child is being held even though the designated place of detention is outside the county of residence of the child or the county in which the alleged delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision occurred.

Sec. 54.02. Waiver of Jurisdiction and Discretionary Transfer to Criminal Court. (a) The juvenile court may waive its exclusive original jurisdiction and transfer a child to the appropriate district court or criminal district court for criminal proceedings if:

(1) the child is alleged to have violated a penal law of the grade of felony;

(2) the child was 15 years of age or older at the time he is alleged to have committed the offense and no adjudication hearing has been conducted concerning that offense; and

(3) after full investigation and hearing the juvenile court determines that because of the seriousness of the offense or the background of the child the welfare of the community requires criminal proceedings.

(b) The petition and notice requirements of Sections 53.04, 53.05, 53.06, and 53.07 of this code must be satisfied, and the summons must state that the hearing is for the purpose of considering discretionary transfer to criminal court.

(c) The juvenile court shall conduct a hearing without a jury to consider transfer of the child for criminal proceedings.

(d) Prior to the hearing, the juvenile court shall order and obtain a complete diagnostic study, social evaluation, and full investigation of the child, his circumstances, and the circumstances of the alleged offense.

(e) At the transfer hearing the court may consider written reports from probation officers, professional court employees, or professional consultants in addition to the testimony of witnesses. At least one day prior to the transfer hearing, the court shall provide the attorney for the child with access to all written matter to be considered by the court in making the transfer decision. The court may order counsel not to reveal items to the child or his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem if such disclosure would materially harm the treatment and rehabilitation of the child or would substantially decrease the likelihood of receiving information from the same or similar sources in the future.

(f) In making the determination required by Subsection (a) of this section, the court shall consider, among other matters:

(1) whether the alleged offense was against person or property, with greater weight in favor of transfer given to offenses against the person;

(2) whether the alleged offense was committed in an aggressive and premeditated manner;

(3) whether there is evidence on which a grand jury may be expected to return an indictment;

(4) the sophistication and maturity of the child;

(5) the record and previous history of the child; and

(6) the prospects of adequate protection of the public and the likelihood of the rehabilitation of the child by use of procedures, services, and facilities currently available to the juvenile court.

(g) If the juvenile court retains jurisdiction, the child is not subject to criminal prosecution at any time for any offense alleged in the petition or for any offense within the knowledge of the juvenile court judge as evidenced by anything in the record of the proceedings.

(h) If the juvenile court waives jurisdiction, it shall state specifically in the order its reasons for waiver and certify its action, including the written order and findings of the court, and transfer the child to the appropriate court for criminal proceedings. On transfer of the child for criminal proceedings, he shall be dealt with as an adult and in accordance with the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. The transfer of custody is an arrest. The examining trial shall be conducted by the court to which the case was transferred, which may remand the child to the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

(i) If the child's case is brought to the attention of the grand jury and the grand jury does not indict for the offense charged in the complaint forwarded by the juvenile court, the district court or criminal district court shall certify the grand jury's failure to indict to the juvenile court. On receipt of the certification, the juvenile court may resume jurisdiction of the case.

(j) The juvenile court may waive its exclusive original jurisdiction and transfer a person to the appropriate district court or criminal district court for criminal proceedings if:

(1) the person is 18 years of age or older;

(2) the person was 15 years of age or older and under 17 years of age at the time he is alleged to have committed a felony;

(3) no adjudication concerning the alleged offense has been made or no adjudication hearing concerning the offense has been conducted; and

(4) the juvenile court finds from a preponderance of the evidence that after due diligence of the state it was not practicable to proceed in juvenile court before the 18th birthday of the person because:

(A) the state did not have probable cause to proceed in juvenile court and new evidence has been found since the 18th birthday of the person; or

(B) the person could not be found.

(k) The petition and notice requirements of Sections 53.04, 53.05, 53.06, and 53.07 of this code must be satisfied, and the summons must state that the hearing is for the purpose of considering waiver of jurisdiction under Subsection (j) of this section.

(l) The juvenile court shall conduct a hearing without a jury to consider waiver of jurisdiction under Subsection (j) of this section.

Sec. 54.03. Adjudication Hearing. (a) A child may be found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision only after an adjudication hearing conducted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) At the beginning of the adjudication hearing, the juvenile court judge shall explain to the child and his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem:

CONTINUED

4 OF 5

(1) the allegations made against the child;
(2) the nature and possible consequences of the proceedings;
(3) the child's privilege against self-incrimination;
(4) the child's right to trial and to confrontation of witnesses;
(5) the child's right to representation by an attorney if he is not already represented; and
(6) the child's right to trial by jury.

(c) Trial shall be by jury unless jury is waived in accordance with Section 51.09 of this code. Jury verdicts under this title must be unanimous.

(d) Only material, relevant, and competent evidence in accordance with the requirements for the trial of civil cases may be considered in the adjudication hearing. Except in a detention or discretionary transfer hearing, a social history report or social service file shall not be viewed by the court before the adjudication decision and shall not be viewed by the jury at any time.

(e) A child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision need not be a witness against nor otherwise incriminate himself. An extrajudicial statement which was obtained without fulfilling the requirements of this title or of the constitution of this state or the United States, may not be used in an adjudication hearing. A statement made by the child out of court is insufficient to support a finding of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision unless it is corroborated in whole or in part by other evidence. Evidence illegally seized or obtained is inadmissible in an adjudication hearing.

(f) At the conclusion of the adjudication hearing, the court or jury shall find whether or not the child has engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision. The finding must be based on competent evidence admitted at the hearing. The child shall be presumed to be innocent of the charges against him and no finding that a child has engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may be returned unless the state has proved such beyond a reasonable doubt. In all jury cases the jury will be instructed that the burden is on the state to prove that a child has engaged in delinquent conduct or is in need of supervision beyond a reasonable doubt.

(g) If the court or jury finds that the child did not engage in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision, the court shall dismiss the case with prejudice.

(h) If the finding is that the child did engage in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision, the court or jury shall state which of the allegations in the petiton were found to be established by the evidence. The court shall also set a date and time for the disposition hearing.

Sec. 54.04. Disposition Hearing. (a) The disposition hearing shall be separate, distinct, and subsequent to the adjudication hearing. There is no right to a jury at the disposition hearing.

(b) At the disposition hearing, the juvenile court may consider written reports from probation officers, professional court employees, or professional consultants, in addition to the testimony of witnesses. Prior to the disposition hearing, the court shall provide the attorney for the child with access to all written matter to be considered by the court in disposition. The court may order counsel not to reveal items to the child or his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem if such disclosure would materially harm the treatment and rehabilitation of the child or would substantially decrease the likelihood of receiving information from the same or similar sources in the future.

(c) No disposition may be made under this section unless the court finds that the child is in need of rehabilitation or that the protection of the public or the child requires that disposition be made. If the court does not so find, it shall dismiss the child and enter a final judgment without any disposition.

(d) If the court makes the finding specified in Subsection (c) of this section, it may:

(1) place the child on probation on such reasonable and lawful terms as the court may determine for a period not to exceed one year, subject to extensions not to exceed one year each:

(A) in his own home or in the custody of a relative or other fit person;

(B) in a suitable foster home; or

(C) in a suitable public or private institution or agency, except the Texas Youth Council; or

(2) if the court or jury found at the conclusion of the adjudication hearing that the child engaged in delinquent conduct, the court may commit the child to the Texas Youth Council.

(e) The Texas Youth Council shall accept a child properly committed to it by a juvenile court even though the child may be 17 years of age or older at the time of commitment.

(f) The court shall state specifically in the order its reasons for the disposition and shall furnish a copy of the order to the child. If the child is placed on probation, the terms of probation shall be written in the order.

(g) REPEALED

(h) At the conclusion of the dispositional hearing, the court shall inform the child of his right to appeal, as required by Section 56.01 of this code.

Sec. 54.041. Order prohibiting Harmful Contacts. When a child has been found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision and the juvenile court has made a finding that the child is in need of rehabilitation or that the protection of the public or the child requires that disposition be made the juvenile court, on notice to all persons affected and on hearing, may enjoin all contact between the child and a person who is found to be a contributing cause of the child's delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision.

Sec. 54.05. Hearing to Modify Disposition. (a) Any disposition, except a commitment to the Texas Youth Council, may be modified by the juvenile court as provided in this section until

(1) the child reaches his 18th birthday; or

(2) the child is earlier discharged by the court or operation of law.

(b) All dispositions automatically terminate when the child reaches his 18th birthday.

(c) There is no right to a jury at a hearing to modify disposition.

(d) A hearing to modify disposition shall be held on the petition of the child and his parent, guardian, guardian ad litem, or attorney, or on the petition of the state, a probation officer, or the court itself. Reasonable notice of a hearing to modify disposition shall be given to all parties.

(e) At the hearing to modify disposition, the court may consider written reports from probation officers, professional court employees, or professional consultants in addition to the testimony of witnesses. Prior to the hearing to modify disposition, the court shall provide the attorney for the child with access to all written matter to be considered by the court in deciding whether to modify disposition. The court may order counsel not to reveal items to the child or his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem if such disclosure would materially harm the treatment and rehabilitation of the child or would substantially decrease the likelihood of receiving information from the same or similar sources in the future.

(f) A disposition based on a finding that the child engaged in delinquent conduct may be modified so as to commit the child to the Texas Youth Council if the court after a hearing to modify disposition finds beyond a reasonable doubt that the child violated a reasonable and lawful order of the court.

(g) A disposition based solely on a finding that the child engaged in conduct indicating a need for supervision may not be modified to commit the child to the Texas Youth Council. A new finding in compliance with Section 54.03 of this code must be made that the child engaged in delinquent conduct as defined in Section 51.03(a) of this code.

(h) A hearing shall be held prior to a commitment to the Texas Youth Council as a modified disposition. In other disposition modifications, the child and his parent, guardian, guardian ad litem, or attorney may waive hearing in accordance with Section 51.09 of this code.

(i) The court shall specifically state in the order its reasons for modifying the disposition and shall furnish a copy of the order to the child.

Sec. 54.06. Judgments for Support. (a) When a child has been placed on probation outside his home, the juvenile court, after giving the parent or other person responsible for the child's support a reasonable opportunity to be heard, may order the parent or other person to pay in a manner directed by the court a reasonable sum for the support in whole or in part of the child.

(b) Orders for support may be enforced as provided in Section 54.07 of this code.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed so as to authorize support payments for a child committed to the Texas Youth Council.

Sec. 54.07. Enforcement of Order. (a) Any order of the juvenile court may be enforced by contempt.

(b) The juvenile court may enforce its order for support by civil contempt proceedings after 10 days' notice to the defaulting person of his failure or refusal to carry out the terms of the order.

(c) On the motion of any person or agency entitled to receive payments for the benefit of a child, the juvenile court may render judgment against a defaulting person for any amount unpaid and owing after 10 days' notice to the defaulting person of his failure or refusal to carry out the terms of the order. The judgment may be enforced by any means available for the enforcement of judgments for other debts.

Sec. 54.08. Public Access to Court Hearings. The general public may be excluded from hearings under this title. The court in its discretion may admit such members of the general public as it deems proper.

Sec. 54.09. Recording of Proceedings. All judicial proceedings under this chapter except detention hearings shall be recorded by stenographic notes or by electronic, mechanical, or other appropriate means. Upon request of any party, a detention hearing shall be recorded.

Sec. 54.10. Hearings Before Referee. (a) The hearing provided in Sections 54.01, 54.03, and 54.04 of this code may be held by a referee appointed in accordance with Section 51.04(g) of this code provided:

(1) the parties have been informed by the referee that they are entitled to have the hearing before the juvenile court judge or in the case of a detention hearing provided for in Section 54.01 of this code, a substitute judge as authorized by Section 51.04(f) of this code; or

(2) the child and the attorney for the child have in accordance with the requirements of Section 51.09 of this code waived the right to have the hearing before the juvenile court judge or substitute judge.

(b) At the conclusion of the hearing, the referee shall transmit written findings and recommendations to the juvenile court judge. The juvenile court judge shall adopt, modify, or reject the referee's recommendations within 24 hours. In the same case of a detention hearing as authorized by Section 54.01 of this code, the failure of the juvenile court to act within 24 hours results in release of the child by operation of law and a recommendation that the child be released operates to secure his immediate release subject to the power of the juvenile court judge to modify or reject that recommendation.

CHAPTER 55. PROCEEDINGS CONCERNING CHILDREN WITH MENTAL ILLNESS, RETARDATION, DISEASE, OR DEFECT

Sec. 55.01. Physical or Mental Examination. (a) At any state of the proceedings under this title, the juvenile court may cause the child to be examined by a physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist.

(b) If an examination ordered under Subsection (a) of this section is to determine whether the child is mentally retarded, the examination must consist of a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation as defined in the Mentally Retarded Persons Act and shall be conducted at a facility approved by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Sec. 55.02. Mentally Ill Child. (a) If it appears to the juvenile court, on suggestion of a party or on the court's own notice, that a child alleged by petition or found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may be mentally ill, the court shall initiate proceedings to order temporary hospitalization of the child for observation and treatment.

(b) The Texas Mental Health Code (5547-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) governs proceedings for temporary hospitalization except that the juvenile court shall conduct the proceedings whether or not the juvenile court is also a county court.

(c) If the juvenile court enters an order of temporary hospitalization of the child, the child shall be cared for, treated, and released in conformity to the Texas Mental Health Code except:

(1) a juvenile court order of temporary hospitalization of a child automatically expires when the child becomes 18 years of age;

(2) the head of a mental hospital shall notify the juvenile court that ordered temporary hospitalization at least 10 days prior to discharge of the child; and

(3) appeal from juvenile court proceedings under this section shall be to the court of civil appeals as in other proceedings under this title.

(d) If the juvenile court orders temporary hospitalization of a child, the proceedings under this title then pending in juvenile court shall be stayed.

(e) If the child is discharged from the mental hospital before reaching 18 years of age, the juvenile court may:

(1) dismiss the juvenile court proceedings with prejudice; or

(2) continue with proceedings under this title as though no order of temporary hospitalization had been made.

Sec. 55.03. Mentally Retarded Child. (a) If it appears to the juvenile court, on the suggestion of a party or on the court's own notice, that a child alleged or found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may be mentally retarded, the court shall order a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation of the child to be performed at a facility approved by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. If the court finds that the results of such comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation indicate a significantly subaverage general intellectual function of 2.5 or more standard deviations below the age-group mean for the tests used existing concurrently with deficits in adaptive behavior of Levels I-IV, the court shall initiate proceedings to order commitment of the child to a facility for the care and treatment of mentally retarded persons.

(b) The Mentally Retarded Persons Act (Article 3871b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) governs proceedings for commitment of a child meeting the criteria set forth in Subsection (a) of this section except that:

(1) the juvenile court shall conduct the proceedings whether or not the juvenile court is also a county court; and

(2) on receipt of the court's order entering the findings set forth in Subsection (a) of this section, together with those findings set forth in the Mentally Retarded Persons Act as prerequisites for court commitments, the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation or the appropriate community center shall thereupon admit the child to a residential care facility for the mentally retarded.

(c) If the juvenile court enters an order committing the child for care and treatment in a facility for mentally retarded persons, the child shall be cared for, treated, and released in conformity to the Mentally Retarded Persons Act except:

(1) the juvenile court that ordered commitment of the child shall be notified at least 10 days prior to discharge of the child; and

(2) appeal from juvenile court proceedings under this section shall be to the court of civil appeals as in other proceedings under this title.

(d) If the juvenile court orders commitment of a child to a facility for the care and treatment of mentally retarded persons, the proceedings under this title then pending in juvenile court shall be stayed.

(e) If the child is discharged from the facility for the care and treatment of mentally retarded persons before reaching 18 years of age, the juvenile court may:

(1) dismiss the juvenile court proceedings with prejudice; or

(2) continue with proceedings under this title as though no order of commitment had been made.

Sec. 55.04. Mental Disease or Defect Excluding Fitness to Proceed. (a) No child who as a result of mental disease or defect lacks capacity to understand the proceedings in juvenile court or to assist in his own defense shall be subjected to discretionary transfer to criminal court, adjudication, disposition, or modification of disposition as long as such incapacity endures.

(b) If it appears to the juvenile court, on suggestion of a party or on the court's own notice, that a child alleged or found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may be unfit to proceed, the court shall order appropriate medical and psychiatric inquiry to assist in determining whether the child is unfit to proceed because of mental disease or defect.

(c) The court or jury shall determine from the psychiatric and other evidence at a hearing separate from, but conducted in accordance with the requirements for, the adjudication hearing whether the child is fit or unfit to proceed.

(d) Unfitness to proceed must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence.

(e) If the court or jury determines that the child is fit to proceed, the juvenile court shall continue with proceedings under this title as though no question of fitness to proceed had been raised.

(f) If the court or jury determines that the child is unfit to proceed, the court or jury shall determine whether the child should be committed for a period of temporary hospitalization for observation and treatment in accordance with Section 55.02 of this code or committed to a facility for mentally retarded persons for care and treatment in accordance with Section 55.03 of this code.

(g) Proceedings to determine fitness to proceed may be joined with proceedings under Sections 55.02 and 55.03 of this code.

(h) The fact that the child is unfit to proceed does not preclude any legal objection to the juvenile court proceedings which is susceptible of fair determination prior to the adjudication hearing and without the personal participation of the child.

Sec. 55.05. Mental Disease or Defect Excluding Responsibility. (a) A child is not responsible for delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision if at the time of such conduct, as a result of mental disease or defect, he lacks substantial capacity either to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law.

(b) If it appears to the juvenile court, on suggestion of a party or on the court's own notice, that a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may not be responsible as a result of mental disease or defect, the court shall order appropriate medical and psychiatric inquiry to assist in determining whether the child is or is not responsible.

(c) The issue of whether the child is not responsible for his conduct as a result of mental disease or defect shall be tried to the court or jury in the adjudication hearing.

(d) Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence.

(e) In its findings or verdict the court or jury must state whether the child is not responsible for his conduct as a result of mental disease or defect.

(f) If the court or jury finds the child responsible for his conduct the proceedings shall continue as though no question of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility has been raised.

(g) If the court or jury finds that the child is not responsible for his conduct as a result of mental disease or defect, the court shall dismiss the proceedings with prejudice, and the court shall initiate proceedings under Section 55.02 or 55.03 of this code to determine whether the child should be committed for care and treatment as a mentally ill or mentally retarded child.

(h) A child declared not responsible for his conduct because of mental disease or defect shall not thereafter be subject to proceedings under this title with respect to such conduct, other than proceedings under Section 55.02 or 55.03 of this code.

CHAPTER 56. APPEAL

Sec. 56.01. Right to Appeal. (a) An appeal from an order of a juvenile court is to the Texas Court of Civil Appeals and the case may be carried to the Texas Supreme Court by writ of error or upon certificate, as in civil cases generally.

(b) The requirements governing an appeal are as in civil cases generally.

(c) An appeal may be taken by or on behalf of the child from:

(1) an order entered under Section 54.02 of this code respecting transfer of the child to criminal court for prosecution as an adult;

(2) an order entered under Section 54.03 of this code with regard to delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision;

(3) an order entered under Section 54.04 of this code disposing of the case;

(4) an order entered under Section 54.05 of this code respecting modification of a previous juvenile court disposition; or

(5) an order entered under Chapter 55 of this code committing a child to a facility for the mentally ill or mentally retarded.

(d) Notice of appeal shall be given to the juvenile court as in civil cases generally.

(e) On entry of an order that is appealable under this section, the court shall instruct the attorney to advise the child and his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem of the child's right to appeal, of the child's right to representation by counsel on appeal, and of the child's right to appointment of an attorney for appeal if an attorney cannot be obtained because of indigency. If the child and his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem express a desire to appeal, the attorney shall file a notice of appeal with the juvenile court and inform the court whether or not he will handle the appeal.

(f) On entering an order that is appealable under this section, the juvenile court, if the child is not represented by an attorney, shall give notice to the child and his parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem of the child's right to appeal, of the child's right to representation by counsel on appeal, and of the child's right to appointment of an attorney for appeal if an attorney cannot be obtained because of indigency. Counsel shall be appointed under the standards provided in Section 51.10 of this code unless the right to appeal is waived in accordance with Section 51.09 of this code.

(g) An appeal does not suspend the order of the juvenile court, nor does it release the child from the custody of that court or of the person, institution, or agency to whose care the child is committed, unless the juvenile court so orders. However, the appellate court may provide for a personal bond.

(h) If the order appealed from takes custody of the child from his parent, guardian, or custodian, the appeal has precedence over all other cases.

(i) The appellate court may affirm, reverse, or modify the judgment or order, including an order of disposition or modified disposition, from which appeal was taken. It may reverse or modify an order of disposition or modified order of disposition while affirming the juvenile court adjudication that the child engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision.

(j) Neither the child nor his family shall be identified in an appellate opinion rendered in an appeal or habeas corpus proceedings related to juvenile court proceedings under this title. The appellate opinion shall be styled, "In the matter of .....," identifying the child by his initials only.

Sec. 56.02. Transcript on Appeal. (a) The attorney representing a child on appeal who desires to have included in the record on appeal a transcription of notes of the reporter has the responsibility of obtaining and paying for the transcription and furnishing it to the clerk in duplicate in time for inclusion in the record.

(b) The juvenile court shall order the reporter to furnish a transcription without charge to the attorney if the court finds, after hearing or on an affidavit filed by the child's parent or other person responsible for support of the child that he is unable to pay or to give security therefor.

(c) On certificate of the court that this service has been rendered, payment therefor shall be made from the general funds of the county in which the proceedings appealed from occurred.

(d) The court reporter shall report any portion of the proceedings requested by either party or directed by the court and shall report the proceedings in question and answer form unless a narrative transcript is requested.
