PHOENIX POLICE

Phoenix, the capital city of Arizona and the home of Arizona State Government, functions under a council-manager form of City administration.

Phoenix has grown from a population of 65,000 people and ten square miles in 1940, to over 726,800 people and 302.1 square miles by the end of 1978.

This growth has resulted in a considerable increase in demand for police services and a corresponding increase in Police Department strength from 173 employees in 1940, to 2,111 authorized employees (sworn and civilian) in 1978.

After the evaluation of the "Team Experience in Area Mobilization" which provided a nine square mile area of Western Phoenix with the advantages of a small-town police force plus having the resources of a large police department, Phoenix decided to further expand this project on a limited basis. In the areas of decentralization and team, or neighborhood, policing, 1978 was devoted primarily to further evaluation and planning. Officer training was begun in many different areas for those who were to be involved in this project. Some of this training was in the areas of: Management by Objective (MBO), Team Policing Concepts, Participatory Management, Leadership, Decision Making, and Group Dynamics.

The Crime Resistance Program, stressing community involvement and awareness, has continued to expand through radio, television, newspaper advertisements, information pamphlets, and special instructional programs and projects. The Police Activities League (PAL), which works with youth 14-19 years of age in selected areas of the City on job placement, counselling, educational and social events, reduced gang-related activity significantly in the program area.

The Crime Resistance Program initiated Cabs on Patrol (COP), which encourages cab drivers to report suspicious and criminal activity via cab radio to our Crime Stop people. Public Information Programs were expanded to include Business Fraud presentations on till tapping, short changing, diversionary tactics; Organized Crime Programs; and Drug Abuse presentations for parents of drug users. A color-coded marking system for construction material and equipment was established to reduce theft throughout the Valley.

The Canine Detail was reorganized and is now under the supervision of one sergeant, with four handlers available on 24 hour call-out. All four dogs on the team are highly skilled in track and search responsibilities. In addition to track and search functions, two of the dogs specialize in explosives detection and one specializes in narcotics detection. This canine team is recognized as a highly competent, skilled team and was recently given one of the top ratings by FAA certification inspectors.

Selected construction, as a result of the 12.4 million dollar Capital Improvement Program approved in 1975, has been completed in 1978. The Squaw Peak, Maryvale and Sky Harbor Station expansions were completed. The new Union Hills Station was occupied in October, 1978; the old Tower Plaza Station was closed down, and the eastside personnel moved to the Squaw Peak Station. Work has begun on the 400 West Southern Station and the Sky Harbor expansion.

"Operation Thunderbolt", a "sting" type storefront fencing operation, was completed in 1978, and resulted in the recovery of approximately $1.3 million worth of stolen property purchased for $141,065 in buy money from 212 subjects. There were 131 persons charged with 491 separate felony counts as a direct result of this project. In addition to these arrests, the project initiated external investigations which resulted in the arrest of 43 persons, and the recovery of $227,165 in stolen property, narcotics including 200 live marijuana plants, and a hashish oil (narcotics) laboratory.

The Department's Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) system became operational in May, 1978. All Calls For Service, to be dispatched, are entered into the CAD system via Cathode Ray Tube (CRT). The status of all calls including those not yet given final disposition, is maintained in the CAD system for 24 hours and is accessible from various CRT locations on the CAD network (including District Stations, Police Chief's Office, emergency Operating Center, etc.). Development and testing of Mobile Data Terminals (MDTs) continued, along with preparations to interface with the Computer Aided Police Records Index (CAPRI). The interface with DPS was completed in November, 1978.

On April 3, 1978, the Department was reorganized as shown on page five of this Annual Report. This reorganization was intended to be an interim change pending the implementation of decentralization. Additional changes will be made to accomodate neighborhood team policing.

This report is presented on the basis of the organizational structure as illustrated on page five of this report.

DEPARTMENT GOALS OBJECTIVES AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS FOR 1978

The primary goal of the Phoenix Police Department is to provide all areas of the community with a law enforcement system that integrates and utilizes all Departmental, civic, and community resources to provide police services, protect life and property, and to enforce the laws and ordinances within the framework of the constitution.

OBJECTIVES:

- Maintain emergency response time to calls for service at five minutes and non-emergency response time at 15 minutes.
ACCOMPLISHMENTS: In 1978, emergency response time was estimated to be four minutes and non-emergency response time was estimated to be 20 minutes. (Response time estimates were necessary because of data collection interruptions caused by Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) testing.)
- Continue to increase illegal narcotic suppression, thus reducing levels in trafficking and possession.
ACCOMPLISHMENTS: The Department arrested 3,201 persons (a 28% increase over 1977 arrests) for the sale and/or possession of narcotics and other dangerous drugs. A 38% decrease in the amount of seized drugs in Phoenix would indicate that the program is having positive results.
- Increase suppression of property crime by conducting an undercover Storefront Operation titled Operation Thunderbolt.
ACCOMPLISHMENTS: Recovered over 1.3 million dollars in stolen property and charged 131 persons with 491 separate felony counts. As a direct result of this operation there has been a dramatic decrease in burglaries in Phoenix.
- Develop and install a Computer Aided Dispatch system.
ACCOMPLISHMENTS: Completed development and testing of the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) system. The CAD system is currently operational with an uptime of 98.6%.
- Further develop and refine team policing and decentralization of the Department's resources.
ACCOMPLISHMENTS: Now that most of the scheduled district station expansions have been completed, planning for decentralization of Patrol, Detectives and Traffic continues and, based on present projections, should be initiated in early 1979.

PATROL

PROGRAMS/PROJECTS

Patrol began the final formulation of the most comprehensive reorganization in the history of the Police Department, that being decentralization. This decentralization is to be completed in early 1979 for District 8, which will then implement team policing on a district level. The remaining four districts will decentralize when construction of all district stations is completed.

October, 1978, marked the completion and occupation of the new Union Hills District Station in north Phoenix. The Tower Plaza Station was closed and District 7 personnel were moved to the Squaw Peak Station; remodeling of a new facility at 400 W. Southern was begun. These new police briefing stations will provide Patrol with the facilities required to implement decentralization of the Police Department.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Responded to 624,344 calls for emergency and non-emergency police service to the public, help for other police officers, and to perform routine police duties in 1978; an increase of 4.5% over the 596,324 calls in 1977.
