FOREWORD

The statistical summary which follows provides an overview of the Juvenile Court operations in Pennsylvania. It is limited to Juvenile Court delinquency and dependency cases originating in County Juvenile Probation Offices. Please note that the majority of dependency cases originate in the County Child Welfare Agency. This report contains data on the limited number of dependency cases that originated in county probation offices.

The report contains data on selected juvenile characteristics and methods by which children were handled by each Court. Although the report is general in nature, it should be used by each county to identify areas of court management that may need further evaluation or monitoring. More detailed data that is beyond the scope of this report is available in our Statistical Office data files. The Office will be glad to discuss any specific data requirements with each county court.

The Commission intends to produce a mid-year follow up report. This report will be limited to analytical data. It will be available for distribution during July of this year.

I wish to thank the Juvenile Court Judges and the Chief Juvenile Probation Officers and their staff, for without their cooperation, it would be impossible to complete this report.

SUMMARY OF JUVENILE COURT DISPOSITIONS, 1979

REASON FOR REFERRAL

There were 40,051 juveniles processed in Pennsylvania Juvenile Courts during 1979. Cases involving acts of delinquency (including traffic) accounted for 36,512 or 91.2% of the total. Dependency cases accounted for 3,539 or 8.8%. (Dependent cases include all deprived cases as well as ungovernable behavior cases which were classified as dependent cases after August 3, 1977.)

MANNER OF HANDLING

21,110 or 52.7% of the juveniles processed were handled by an adjudication hearing. 13,432 or 33.5% of the cases were handled informally, and 5,509 or 13.7% were handled by a consent decree.

DETENTION

Of the 40,051 referrals processed, there were a total of 10,530 pre-disposition detention experiences and 1,038 detentions after disposition. These detention incidents do not represent the number of juveniles detained since one child may be counted more than once (by both pre and post disposition detention or by entering more than one facility.) The majority of the detentions, 81.6% (down from 87.1% in 1978), were in detention homes while 15.8% (up from 8.3%) were in shelter facilities. Foster homes accounted for 1.0% of all detentions. Jail detention decreased to less than one third of one percent of all detentions during 1979 and now applies to considerably less than one tenth of one percent of all Juvenile Court referrals in Pennsylvania.

DISPOSITON

35,799 or 89.4% of the cases processed during 1979 did not require placement or other transfer of custody. The percentage of dismissals, 27.2%, remained unchanged from the figure one year earlier. There has been an 8.9% increase in the percentage of dispositions by either probation or informal adjustment. Conjointly there was an 8.6% decrease in the percentage of institutional placement or other court ordered care.* A summary of all dispositions is shown in Table A.

*1978 data was adjusted to provide comparable data.

There were fewer referrals to Juvenile Court during 1979 than at any other time during the past decade with the exception of 1972 which had 585 fewer cases. There has been a continual reduction of referrals annually since the peak year of 1975. Since that time annual statewide dispositions of referrals has dropped by one-sixth. Prior to the implementation of Act 41 the County Juvenile Probation Offices processed approximately 8,000 dependency cases per year. The present annual caseload of approximately 3,500 dependent children accounts for a large percentage of the loss of referrals since 1975.

During 1979 Delinquency referrals were down in both Allegheny and Philadelphia counties as well as in the balance of the state. Nearly one-half of all delinquency referrals in the state, 49.8%, are accounted for by these two counties. In the 65 other counties of Pennsylvania delinquency referrals constitute 95.6% of all referrals. In Philadelphia and Allegheny counties the corresponding figures are 88.6% and 84.0%.

Placement of delinquents in private institutions has increased by 45.0% during the past two years. During this same period their placement in public institutions has decreased by 31.1%. This resulted in a net decrease of approximately 200 annual placements in both private and public delinquency institutions.

Annual placements of delinquent children to other court ordered care has increased by over 700 placements during this same two year period. Placement in private or public delinquency institutions is not exactly comparable with the category of other court ordered care since the latter contains community based facilities. Nonetheless, combining both types of facilities shows a net increase over this period of approximately 550 placements annually.

Placements of dependent children who were referred to the juvenile courts via the county juvenile probation offices decreased from 893 placements in 1978 to 123 placements during 1979. Many referrals of dependent children are made to child welfare agencies and these children receive court dispositions without being tabulated by the data system upon which this report is based.

Most of the decrease in the placement of dependent children noted above can be accounted for by Philadelphia County which had 745 fewer dependent children placements in 1979 than in 1978. The dependent children who are included in Table E of this report represent only a portion of the entire number of dependent children who receive placement in Pennsylvania.

TIME LAPSE DATA FOR THE JUVENILE COURT PROCESS

The average time lapse from referral to disposition during 1979 was 68.47 days, only marginally higher than last year's figure of 67.64 days. There are at least four notable items when comparing TABLE F for 1978 and 1979:

- 1) Days from referral to disposition in adjudication cases was down 6.2% (5.5 days) in 1979.
- 2) Informal cases take 33.3% longer from referral to disposition than they did one year ago.
- 3) Numbers of jail detentions are down 82.5% from 1978 and now represent a very minimal portion of the number of juvenile court referrals in Pennsylvania.
- 4) Mean detention days for each juvenile detained increased 5.8% from 13.4 to 14.2 days.

ATTORNEY REPRESENTATION

The following information is based on 12,565 cases where attorney representation was known. Attorney representation is divided into four (4) categories: court appointed, private, public defender and cases where the juvenile waived his right to an attorney. No statewide county breakdown is available in the detail tables.

Mean time lapse from referral to disposition for cases under court appointed attorneys was up 22.0%, from 50.9 to 62.2, in 1979. Median time lapse increased from 35 to 40 days. Total juvenile court cases using court appointed attorneys increased 35.7% to 547 during 1979.

Private attorneys had an average time lapse between referral and disposition of 79.58 days, down 2.8%. The median time lapse was reduced 7.7% from 1978. The gap between time lapse data for court appointed attorneys vs. private attorneys narrowed from 30.9 days differential in 1978 to 17.4 days in 1979.

When the Attorney representing the youth was the Public Defender the time lapse from referral to disposition was 69.54 days. 50% of the juveniles in this category had disposition within 51 days. The median for this group was up 10.9% above the median for 1978.

The average time lapse from referral to disposition when the attorney was waived was 58.66 days. The median time lapse was 37 days, only 1 day longer than for 1978. Expressed as a percentage of the median time lapse when the attorney was waived, private attorneys took 62% longer, Public Defenders took 38% longer and Court appointed Attorneys took only 8% longer.
