There was a total of 246 inmates assigned to Amandale by the Classification Committee at the Youth Reception and Correction Center, Yardville. This figure was 92 less than the 1,076 inmates received during the previous fiscal year. This figure gave us an average monthly intake of 82 inmates which was less than the monthly average of 92 inmates the previous year. The average inmate continues to be in poor health with considerable neglect and abuse to the body. Several of these new arrivals require constant medical attention because of serious cases of epilepsy and asthma.

On June 30, 1977, Amandale had 85 state prison cases included in its population. These were primarily individuals who were originally committed to the Youth Complex with warrants and when these were acted upon, state prison sentences were given. There were several direct transfers from the prison reception units.

The average population was 205 as compared to 221 last year. Juvenile commitments this year was 13 percent.

Nine hundred and six inmates were paroled from Amandale during the 1976-77 year.

A total of 16 inmates were returned to the Reception Center for reclassification for disciplinary or administrative reasons.

INMATES DISCIPLINED AND MOVED: The inmate morale was good throughout the year and major incidents were at a minimum. It is felt that some of the reasons for maintaining good morale was the availability of staff to all inmates. New and constant changes in the program, as well as good communication with staff and inmates, have related in reducing friction and misunderstanding.

The following items and new and major changes in programs are of interest to inmates:

During the past year, 23 students were enrolled in programs with Veterans Benefits. Six participated in the college program at Bonneville County College, 5 in Adult Basic Education, and 12 in the GED Program. Program certification reports for each inmate were submitted to the V.A. Regional Office every three months. In addition, one inmate from V.A. was Donald Brown, counselor at the V.A. Regional Office in Newark. He was most helpful in expediting of Amandale inmate applications.

During the past year there was a total of 170 furloughs, 82 unescorted and 88 escorted. A total of 862 furlough applications were screened.

The Amandale Brotherhood of Jaycees continued earning money for their picture project. The money earned is used to maintain telephones in each of the housing units so that all inmates wanting to make collect phone calls are able to use these phones. They may be used on a daily basis from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.

During the year there were 15 escapes or attempted escapes involving 17 inmates; 9 from the main institution; 5 from High Point; one from Stokes and 2 from Newark House.

Unusual incidents created by some of our more disturbed inmates are as follows:

In addition to the large farm and grounds area to care for, maintenance of 150 buildings and 85 vehicles of all types remain a very large job. During the past year an off-grounds detail continued to work at the Correctional Institution for Women. Several work groups continued to function at both satellite units during the past year.

A CETA grant of $167,105.00 was received to continue the Vocational Program at Ammandale.

During FY-1977, numerous changes were initiated to upgrade the CETA programs. In an attempt to provide additional and advanced training to those who display the necessary aptitude and mechanical abilities, an open-ended Phase II program was developed in the Auto Service, Plumbing and Welding programs.

The adoption of the new programs in January necessitated revising the curriculum in those areas. Additional revision was done in the Building Service area where the program was shortened to twelve weeks. For scheduling reasons, the Carpentry Program was shortened one week to a sixteen week duration.

PLANS AND ASPIRATIONS: The institution continued its efforts to bring itself into compliance with Administrative Standards. We are now in compliance with all goals established except those which require additional budget funds.

A concerted effort was continued during the past year to reduce overtime. Hopefully, overtime can be further reduced with the cooperation of all department heads and the addition of Transportation Officers.

Work has begun to renovate and equip the trailer at the Stokes Forest Unit with automotive teaching aids needed to make that a permanent program offering to the students from both satellites.

Future education program needs are to provide a full-time teacher at High Point and a part-time G.E.D. teacher to split between the two satellites. This will give us two and one-half teachers at the units, not including the vocational teacher. A proposal has been submitted for these teaching positions.

A proposal has also been submitted to implement an In-Prison Skills program at the satellite units. This program will be stationed at High Point and will be available to residents from both camps.

As a supplement to the existing program, it is planned to hire a bi-lingual teacher to teach three nights at the parent institution and one night at each of the satellite units.

Budget requests include a new addition to the existing assembly building for much needed classroom space. There is also a request for a new vocational building which is needed. These requests have been recommended for approval by the superintendent of the institution and the superintendent of the Garden State School District.

A proposal has been written and approved to separate forty juveniles to a location other than the parent institution and satellite units. These juveniles will be housed at the English Pavilion, Glen Gardner.

The Youth Correctional Institution Complex Board of Trustees has continued to be supportive of programs at Ammandale and we are extremely interested in working to thank them, along with the Commissioner of Corrections and his staff, for their full support.

I also want to take this opportunity to personally thank all the members of our staff, the "Ammandale Team," for helping make this past year a successful one for the institution.
