ST. PAUL POLICE

annual report 1980

GEORGE LATIMER
MAYOR

CITY OF SAINT PAUL
DEPARTMENT OF POLICE

Wm. W. McCutcheon, Chief of Police
101 East Tenth Street
Saint Paul, Minnesota 55101

The Honorable George Latimer
Mayor, City of St. Paul
City Hall and Courthouse
St. Paul, Minnesota 55102

Dear Mayor Latimer:

The 1980 Annual Report is enclosed. It represents in a statistical sense the work program of the St. Paul Police Department. What it cannot represent is all the human emotion that takes place between the officer, the offender, and most importantly, the victim.

When one sorts out the activity of the Department for the year, there is no question that the citizens of St. Paul have received a fair return for their investment in the public order maintenance programs.

Sincerely,

Wm. W. McCutcheon

ACQUISITIONS

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF

William McCutcheon
Chief of Police

The first order of business for this Administration was a review of the Police Department's structure. The study resulted in the elimination of one of the Deputy Chief positions and the reassignment of functions within the police structure on the basis of three Divisions, instead of four.

Restructuring the Department brought with it a change in the assignment of the Division Commanders. Deputy Chief Blakely was reassigned from Commander of the South Patrol to the Commander of the Technical and Administrative Division; Deputy Chief Griffin was given added responsibility and became the Commander of the entire Patrol Division; and Deputy Chief LaBathe remained as Commander of the Investigative Division.

Another result of the restructuring was the enhancement of the Office of the Chief by the addition of "Special Staff". The historical functions of Watch Commander, Internal Affairs, Vice, and Inspection remained unchanged.

The Administration also initiated a rotation program whose purpose is to broaden supervisors' perspectives as they relate to management of a police operation in an urban setting. The rotation will see the movement of supervisory personnel between the various Divisions and functions of the Department.

SPECIAL STAFF

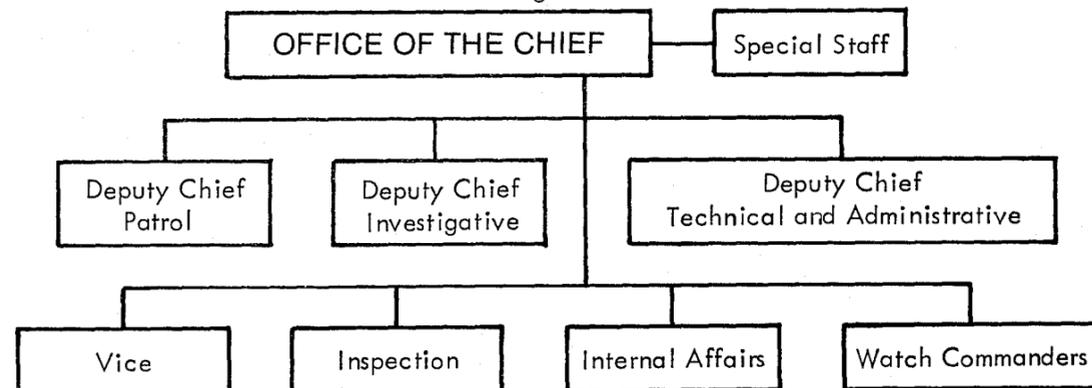

Barbara Renshaw

Thomas Reding
Sergeant

Carole Harren

The Office of the Chief is composed of the Chief of Police, Special Staff, Watch Commander and the Internal Affairs, Vice, and Inspection Units.

The Special Staff is responsible for keeping the Chief informed of both the status of the department's programs and daily operations by coordinating and auditing all Department functions.

The Watch Commanders are the operational commanders of field functions, internal operations, and security, assuming the duties of the Chief and the Deputy Chiefs in their absence.

Investigating allegations of misconduct made against employees of the St. Paul Police Department is the responsibility of the Internal Affairs Unit.

The Vice Unit enforces laws pertaining to prostitution, liquor violations and gambling.

Acting as a quality control for the Department, the Inspection Unit identifies and makes recommendations for improvements on procedural matters.

PATROL DIVISION

The Patrol Division underwent several changes in 1980:

The North and South Patrol Sectors were united under one head, Deputy Chief Griffin.

Five of the six original Team Lieutenants were reassigned enabling new leadership to experience the Team Policing Concept.

Forty-seven new officers were added to the Division.

The Patrol Division continued to provide quality service to all parts of the city:

The 340 members of the Division responded to 142,742 calls for service in 1980, an increase of approximately 4,000 calls over the previous year.

The unique service need of the Downtown Skyway System was met by the development of a business numbering system. Business places, phone locations and public facilities in the two and one-half miles of inner building passageways and large indoor park area were incorporated into this numbering system.

Special police service was provided for the visits of several presidential candidates in 1980.

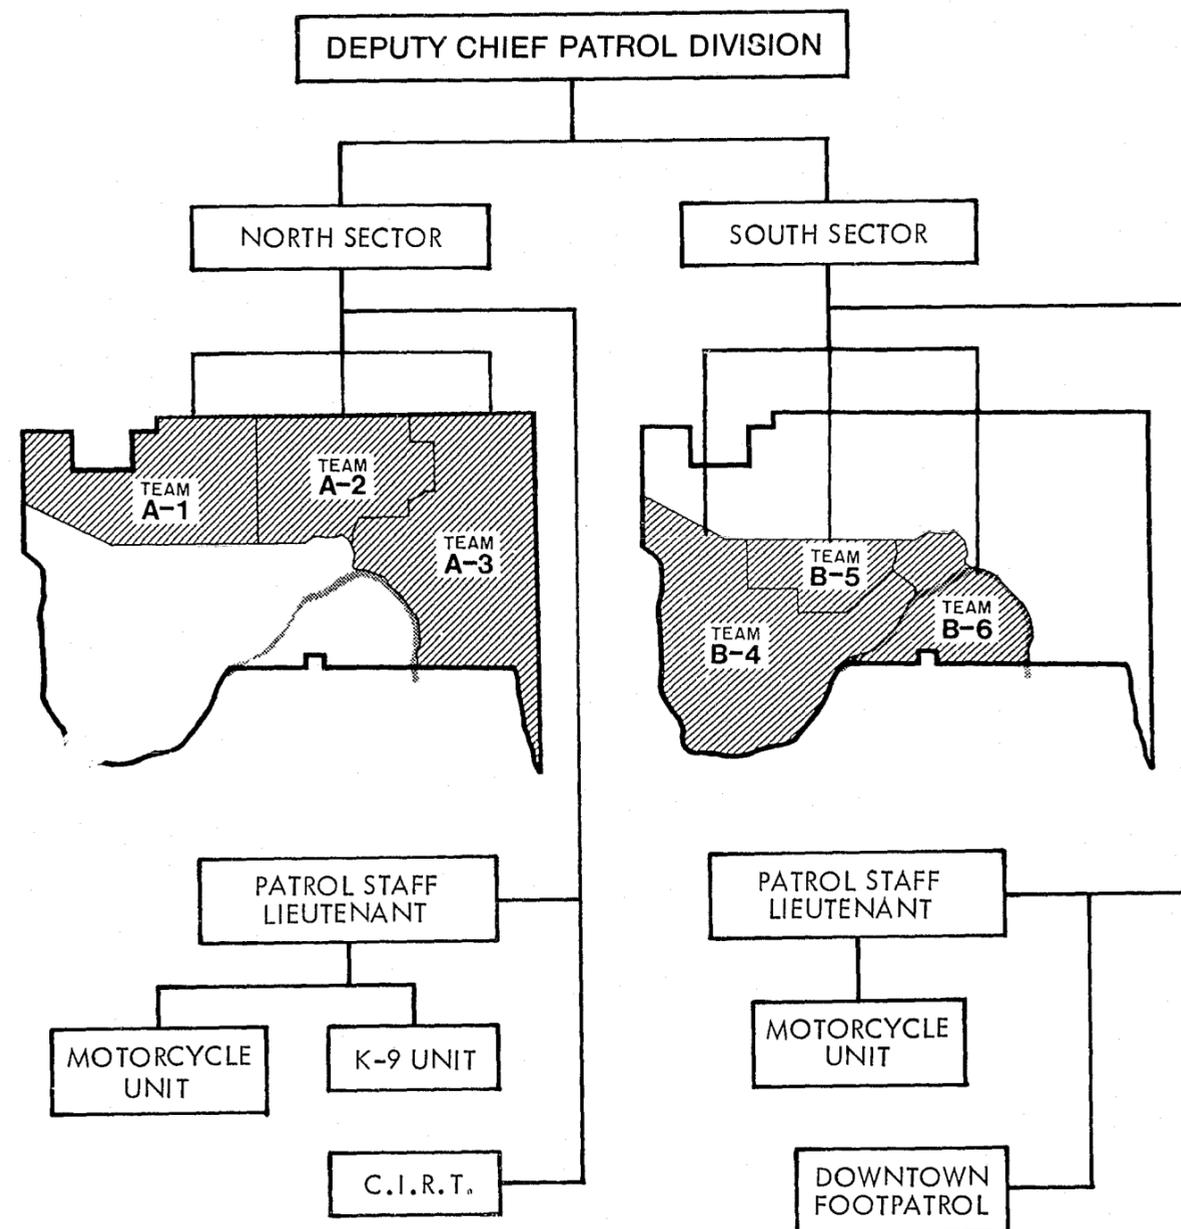

Officers assisted the Civic Center with 13 major rock concerts and many state and city-wide athletic events.

C.I.R.T. members accomplished their assignments without casualties to police personnel, victims, suspects or bystanders.

Team Policing in its third full year continued to afford an opportunity for establishing a greater rapport with community councils and citizen groups.

INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

Units oriented to the investigation of specific crimes comprise the Investigative Division.

The sharing of information between the individual Teams and Investigative Units is facilitated by the Investigative Coordinator. The Coordinator's office also sends letters to victims of crimes for which no follow-up will occur, monitors the total investigative functions, both the preliminary and follow-up investigations, and advises the Teams of any developing city-wide crime patterns.

All cases of homicide, assault, robbery, sexual assault and child abuse, are investigated by the Crimes Against Persons Unit.

The Crimes Against Property Unit handles all property crimes and the attempts to commit those crimes, except for Auto Theft.

The Auto Theft Unit investigates all cases of motor vehicle theft, including attempts and malicious damage to vehicles, and recovers and returns stolen vehicles to their owners.

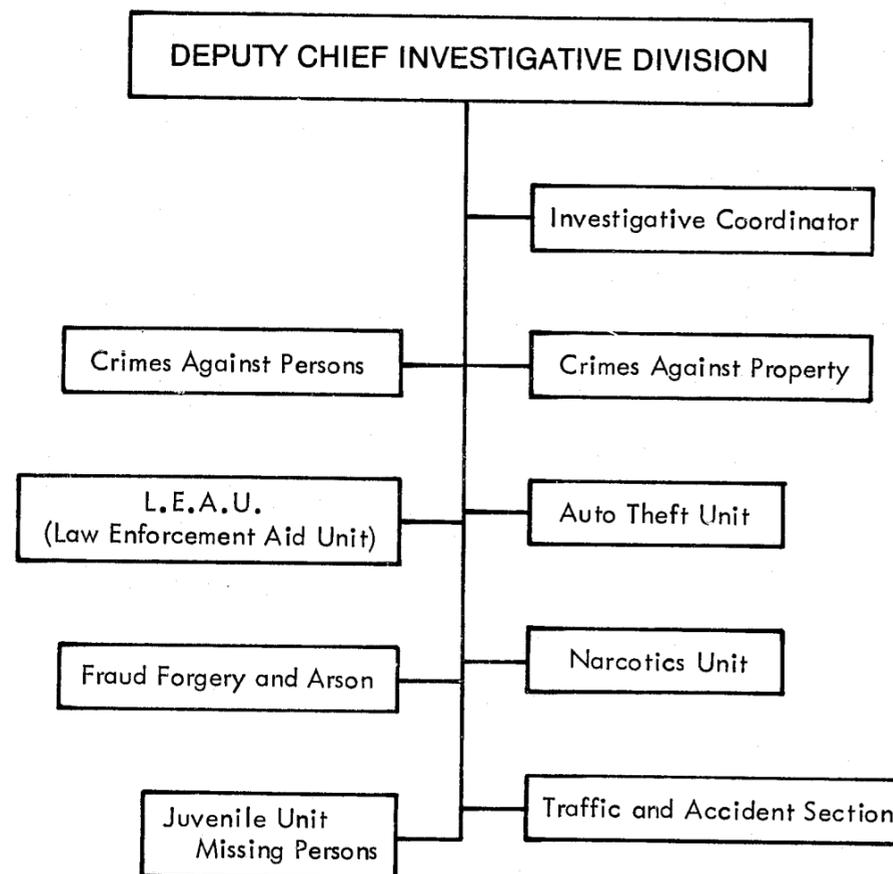

The Narcotics Unit handles all adult narcotic offenders.

The Fraud and Forgery investigators seek curtailment of the passing of bad checks via information exchanges and other preventive techniques. The Arson investigators have developed an Arson Alert which points out patterns and reoccurrences of the crime for special attention.

The Juvenile Unit is charged with the investigation of all offenses alleged or believed to have been committed by juveniles.

The traffic accident investigations are performed by the Traffic and Accident Section.

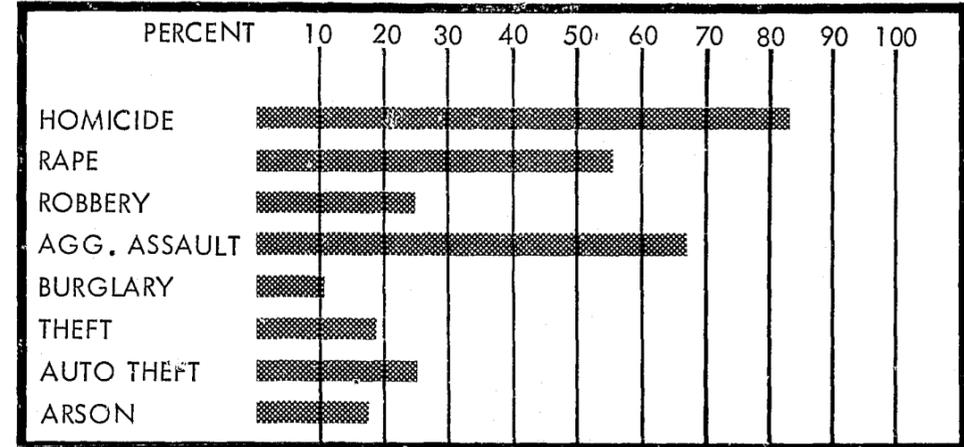

The Law Enforcement Aid Unit assists Units of the St. Paul Police Department and other law enforcement agencies in investigations or information gathering, and is also responsible for investigation of bombings, bomb threats, and assisting with security for visiting dignitaries.

TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION

The Technical and Administrative Division is responsible for the support services necessary to the Department.

The Audio Visual Unit, which includes the video studio, photo lab, and police artist, provides photographic and other graphic support for the Department.

The Building Maintenance Unit's primary task is the upkeep of the buildings and grounds of the Department.

The Communications Section is comprised of the Communications Center and Operations Center. The purpose of this section is to relay information from one point to another via electronic, telephonic and other means.

The Crime Lab exists as an aid in the investigation and subsequent prosecution of criminal matters.

The Personnel Section assumes all the responsibilities associated with maintaining accurate and up-to-date records of all personnel within the Department. Reporting to the Personnel Officer is the Fiscal Affairs Unit which is responsible for the Department's accounting procedures and, with the Research and Development Section, prepares the Annual Budget request.

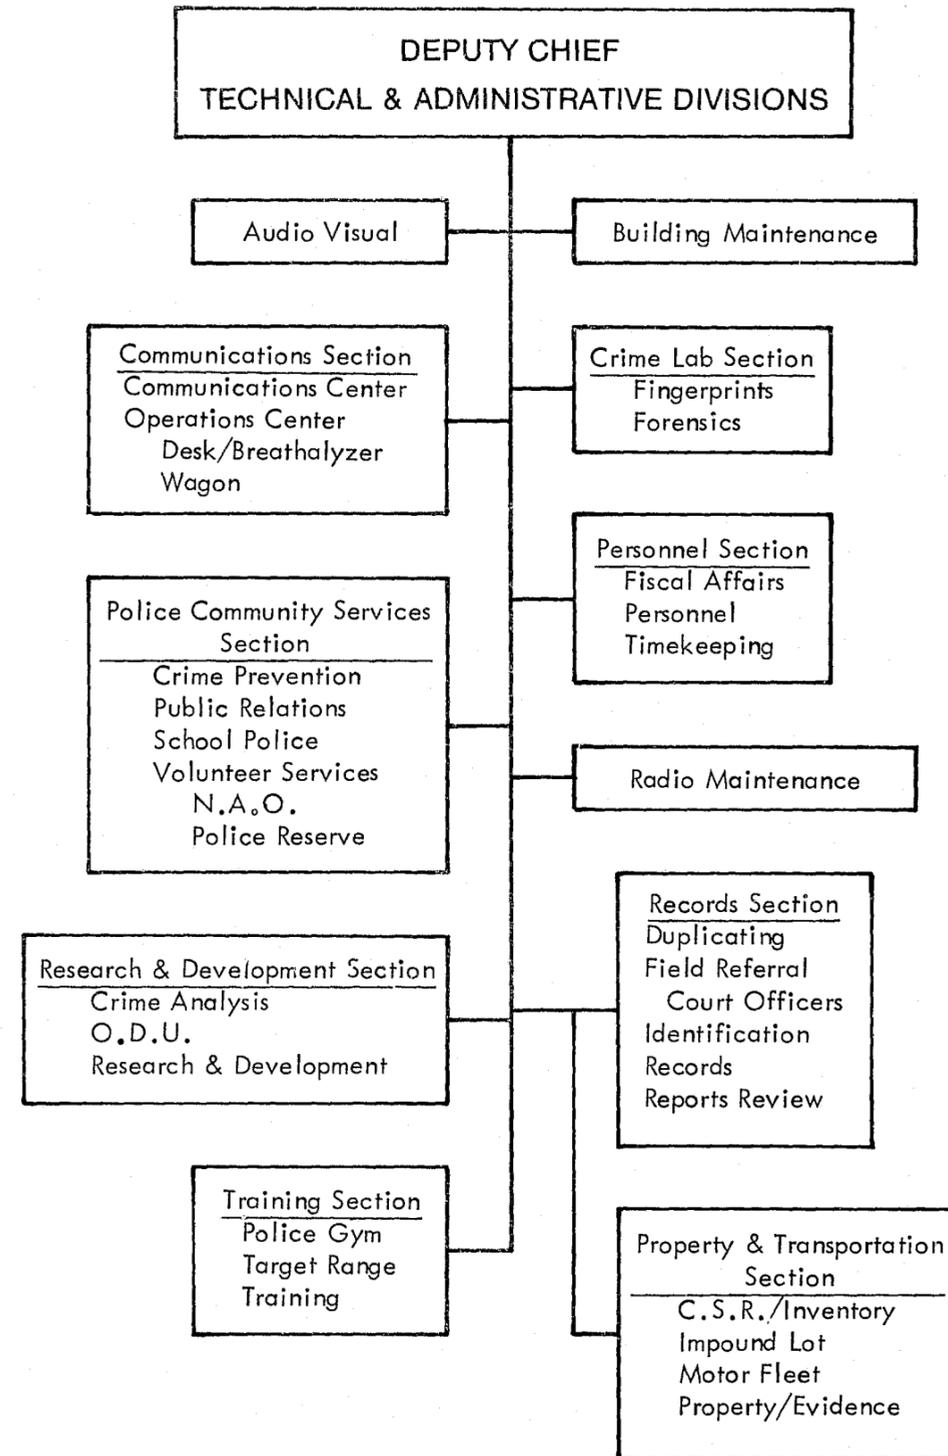

The Police Community Services Section consists of School Police, Public Relations, Crime Prevention and Volunteer Services.

The Radio Maintenance Unit provides the technical expertise necessary to sustain the radio communications system at an operational level.

The Records Section is responsible for the compilation, integration, and custody of Department records and identification mediums concerning crime, property, and persons. Also reporting to the Records Section Commander are the five support units of the Property and Transportation Section: Central Supply, Property Management, Fleet, Impound Lot and Property Unit.

The Research and Development Section is comprised of the Research and Development Unit and the Crime Analysis Unit. This section is responsible for staff work essential to the development of Departmental policies, programs and procedures, plus the collection and dissemination of timely statistical information.

The Training Section, which includes the Target Range, Gymnasium and Training Units, provides timely and thorough training for Department members in all phases of law enforcement work.
