Acknowledgments

Many persons have given of their time and talents to provide training at both the basic level and in the advanced and inservice programs. While it is not possible to herein recognize each person, we want each to know how much their effort has contributed to the program.

We do want to express our thanks to the organizations which have been of particular support and assistance. Among these are:

- Attorney General William J. Brown
- The Buckeye State Sheriffs Association
- The Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police
- The Zone Coordinators and Subcoordinators in the 14 Training Zones
- The School Commanders
- The Instructors In All of the Schools
- and
- The Entire Law Enforcement Community.

Summary of Activity

A. Basic Peace Officer Training

2367 new officers were issued certificates which is 340 more than in 1979 — a 16.77% increase in this phase of training. The training was offered in 105 Basic Schools with 73% of the schools scheduled in law enforcement academies and Technical/Vocational Schools. 80% of the schools were held in the evening hours.

B. Private Security Training

1912 certificates were issued in this voluntary program which is 868 more than in 1979 — an 83% increase in training. This training is concentrated in 16 counties with 58.76% of the schools scheduled in Cuyahoga County (19 schools), Montgomery County (17 schools), Hamilton County (11 schools), and Franklin County (10 schools). 30% of these schools were scheduled in the evening hours.

C. Peace Officer Training Academy

4033 student officers attended training courses at the Academy, which is 872 more than in 1979 -- an increase of 27.59%.

These officers attended 212 courses, an increase of 35 over 1979. The courses were in a wide range of subjects including criminal investigation, investigative hypnosis, protective operations, jailer custody and security, arson investigation, drug investigation and domestic violence.

Instructors Ronald Black and Ronald Jornd co-authored an article on "Effective Handling of Domestic Disputes". The article was published in "The Ohio Police Chief" and "The Royal Canadian Mounted Police Gazette".

Articles about firearms training at the Academy, and specifically, about the instructional methodology of Instructor William W. Groce, appeared in "Police Product News" and "The Indiana Trooper".

Other Academy activities:

- 17 law enforcement and civic organizations had meetings in the facility.
- 17 groups toured the Academy.
- 176 explorer scouts had a weekend training session.
- A blood bank collected 50 pints of blood for the American Red Cross.

Toward a Brighter Tomorrow

Ohio deserves the finest law enforcement which can be provided. The first step to achieve this goal is to develop a selection process that will insure that the best qualified persons are selected, and then to offer to these persons a training and educational process which prepares these persons to assume the multifaceted position of a law enforcement officer.

Council members have labored diligently throughout 1980 as a full council and in committee activities to chart a course which will improve the performance of law enforcement in the upcoming decade.

Council has resolved. . .

- That they will seek adequate funds to carry out the selection and training process.
- That they will utilize all available resources to provide the training.
- That they will explore the best method to implement preservice training as an alternative and substitute for postservice training.
- That they will, at the earliest time, require completion of entry level training by a new officer immediately upon appointment.
- That they will, as soon as practical, establish a schedule of retraining standards for all Ohio law enforcement officers.

Purpose Of The Academy

The Academy is dedicated to providing quality instruction in advanced and technical subjects for the peace officers of Ohio.

Philosophy Of The Academy

It is the philosophy of the Academy that the programs will be structured to facilitate the success of the learner.

Instructional Objectives

Officers will be able to perform tasks and apply techniques presented at the Academy, improving their professional efficiency and effectiveness. They will be able to demonstrate their acquired skills through objective tests, where applicable.

Information presented will be the latest available. Proven innovative techniques will be promoted and inquiry stimulated.

Course objectives will be stated in observable behavioral terms, clearly stating what the officer will be able to do as the result of instruction.

Instructional Assistance

The Academy has guest instructors from numerous sources including, Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, National Auto Theft Bureau, Ohio State Highway Patrol, Ohio State Fire Marshal, Ohio Department of Liquor Control, Federal Bureau of Investigation, and other federal, state and local agencies. Universities and colleges also provided instructional assistance.

Instructional Staff

Instructional staff numbers ten with up to 27 years law enforcement experience each. Nine instructors hold masters degrees or are completing work for this degree.

Staff members have given numerous speeches and presentations throughout Ohio and many police and law enforcement groups toured the Academy.

Program Evaluation

Program and instructional evaluation is conducted in each course presented at the Academy. Overall guest and staff instructional evaluation is at a high level. Pre and post tests are administered on all formal courses of instruction to determine the change in student performance levels. Pre and post tests reflect a significant improvement in scores.

Informal evaluation feedback from the law enforcement community is highly favorable.

Enrollment

The chart below indicates student enrollment for each year from 1976 through 1980.

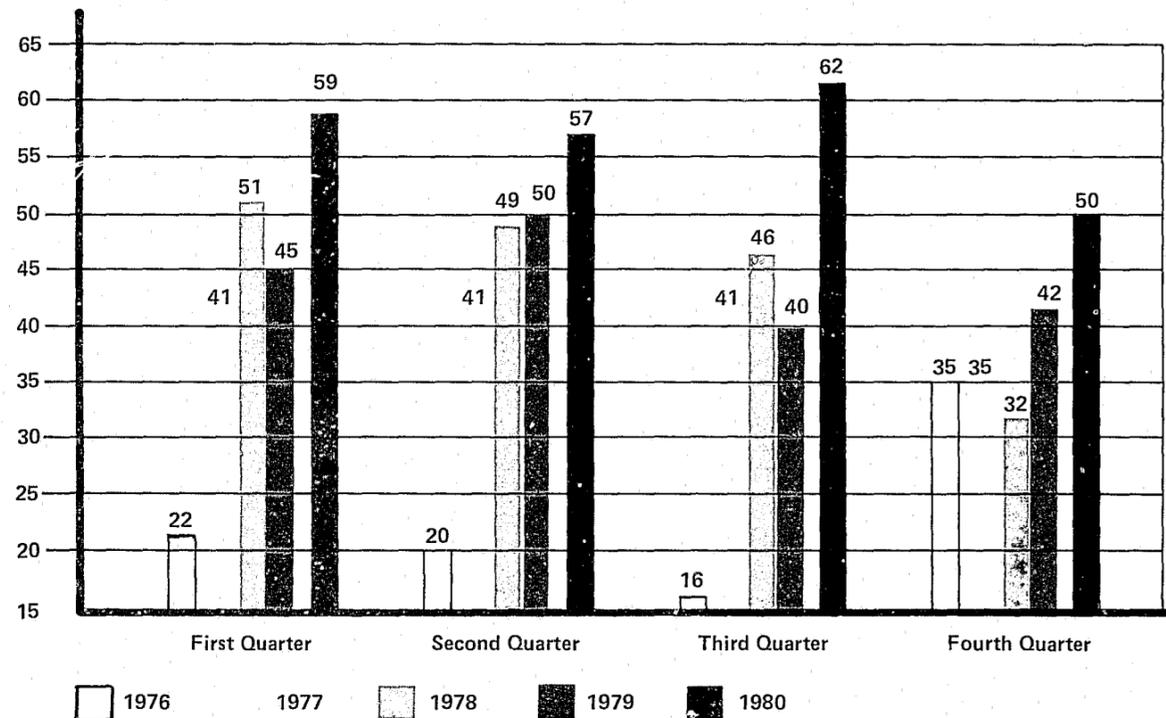

Courses Offered

The chart below indicates the number of courses offered each year from 1976 thru 1980.

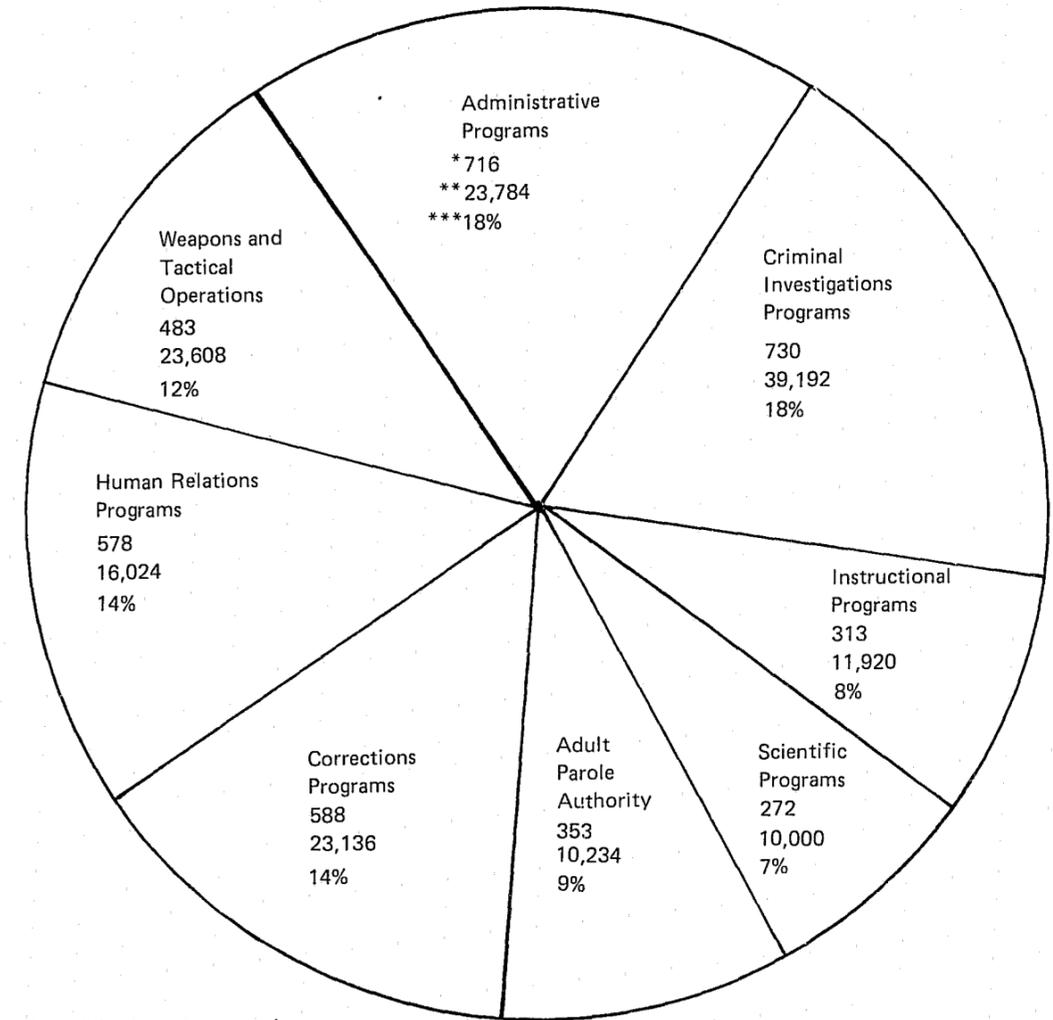

Courses by Quarter

The chart below indicates the number of courses offered each quarter by year, 1976 thru 1980.

1980 Breakdown of Student Training

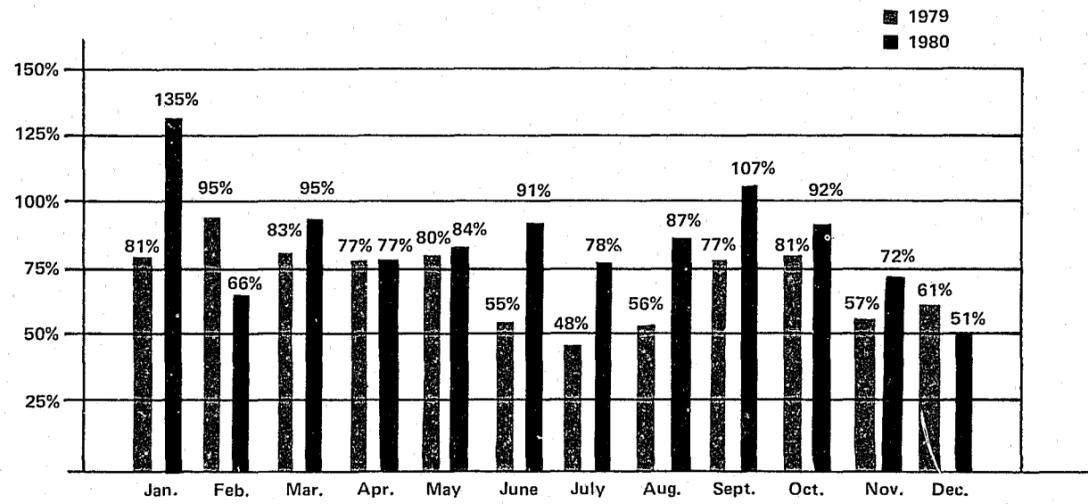

* Number of Students Instructed
  Number of Instructional Hours
  % of Students

4,033 students participated in training programs for calendar year 1980. Of these, 941 or 23% were from the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction. The remaining 3,092 students, or 77%, were members of state, county, municipal and township law enforcement agencies.

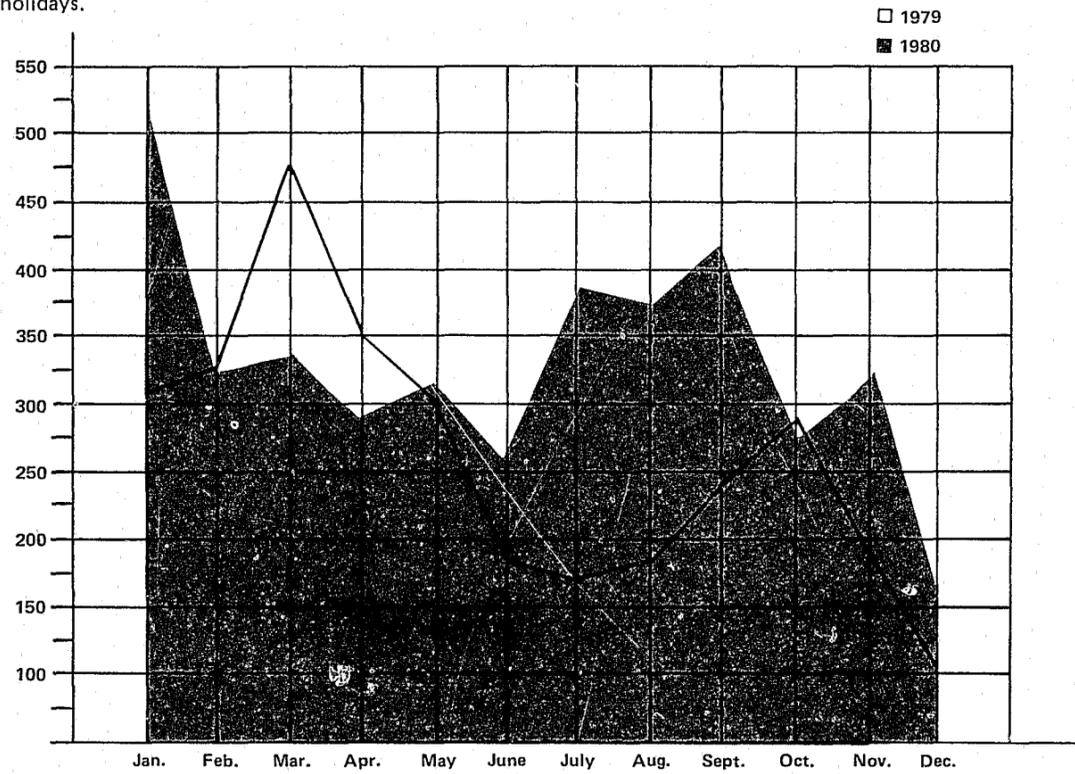

Bed Occupancy

The average use per month of available bed space in 1980 was 87% based on utilization of 4,782 beds, which is an increase of 16% compared to 1979. Months reflecting more than 100% indicate reissue of rooms for separate classes during the same week. Classes were not in session the first week of July and the last two weeks of December due to holidays during those weeks.

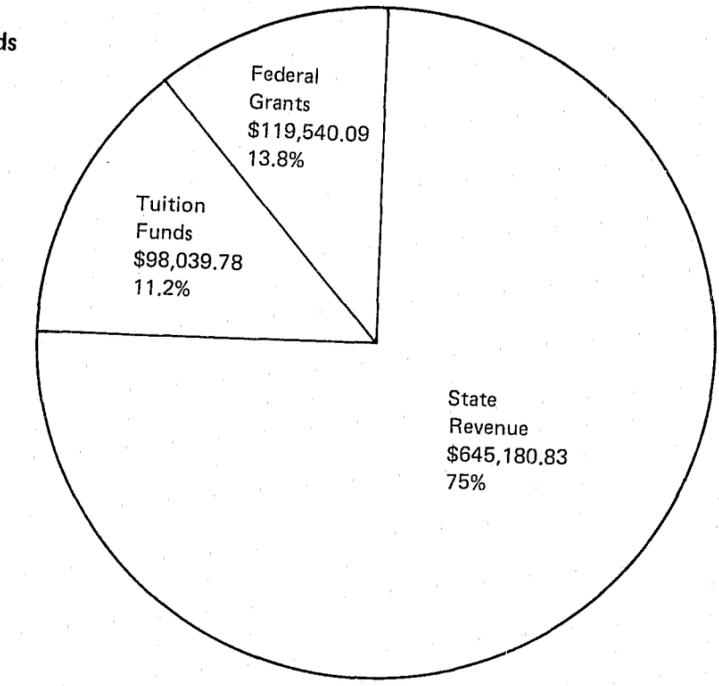

Enrollment by Months

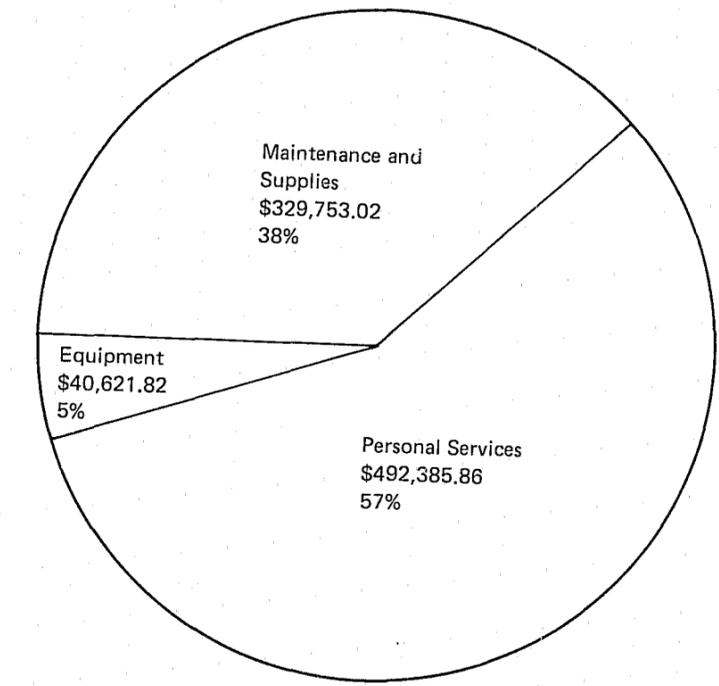

The chart below indicates enrollment by month. The Academy was not in operation the last two weeks of December because of holidays.
