A MESSAGE FROM THE POLICE CHIEF

I am pleased to present the 1982 Annual Report of the Phoenix Police Department. For the second continuous year, crime has declined in the City of Phoenix. This crime reduction has occurred despite an increase in population and a generally depressed economic situation.

Some of the programs that have been particularly successful in reducing crime are sting operations, Neighborhood Block Watch Programs and the overlapping shift deployment of manpower afforded us by our 4-10 Plan.

On the following pages you will find the accomplishments of each of our Department's, Bureaus and Districts.

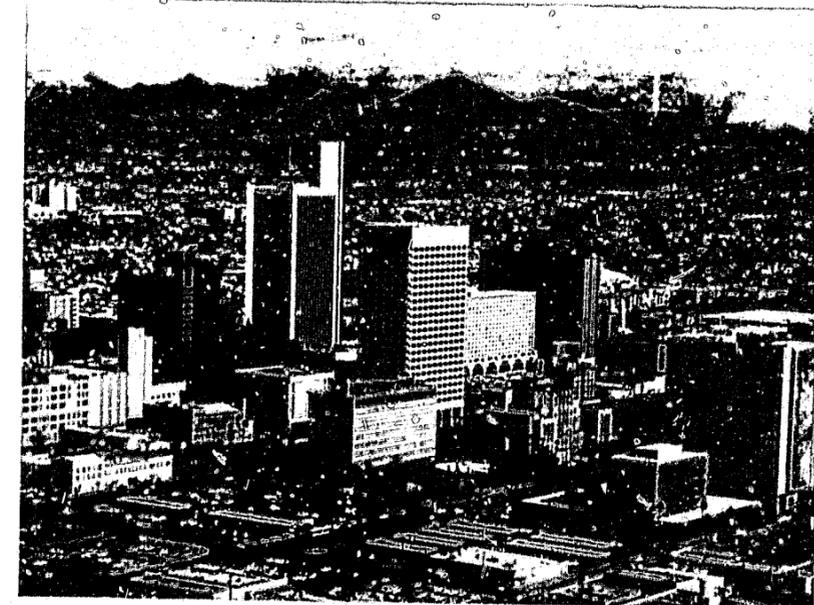

Ruben B. Ortega

RUBEN B. ORTEGA
Police Chief

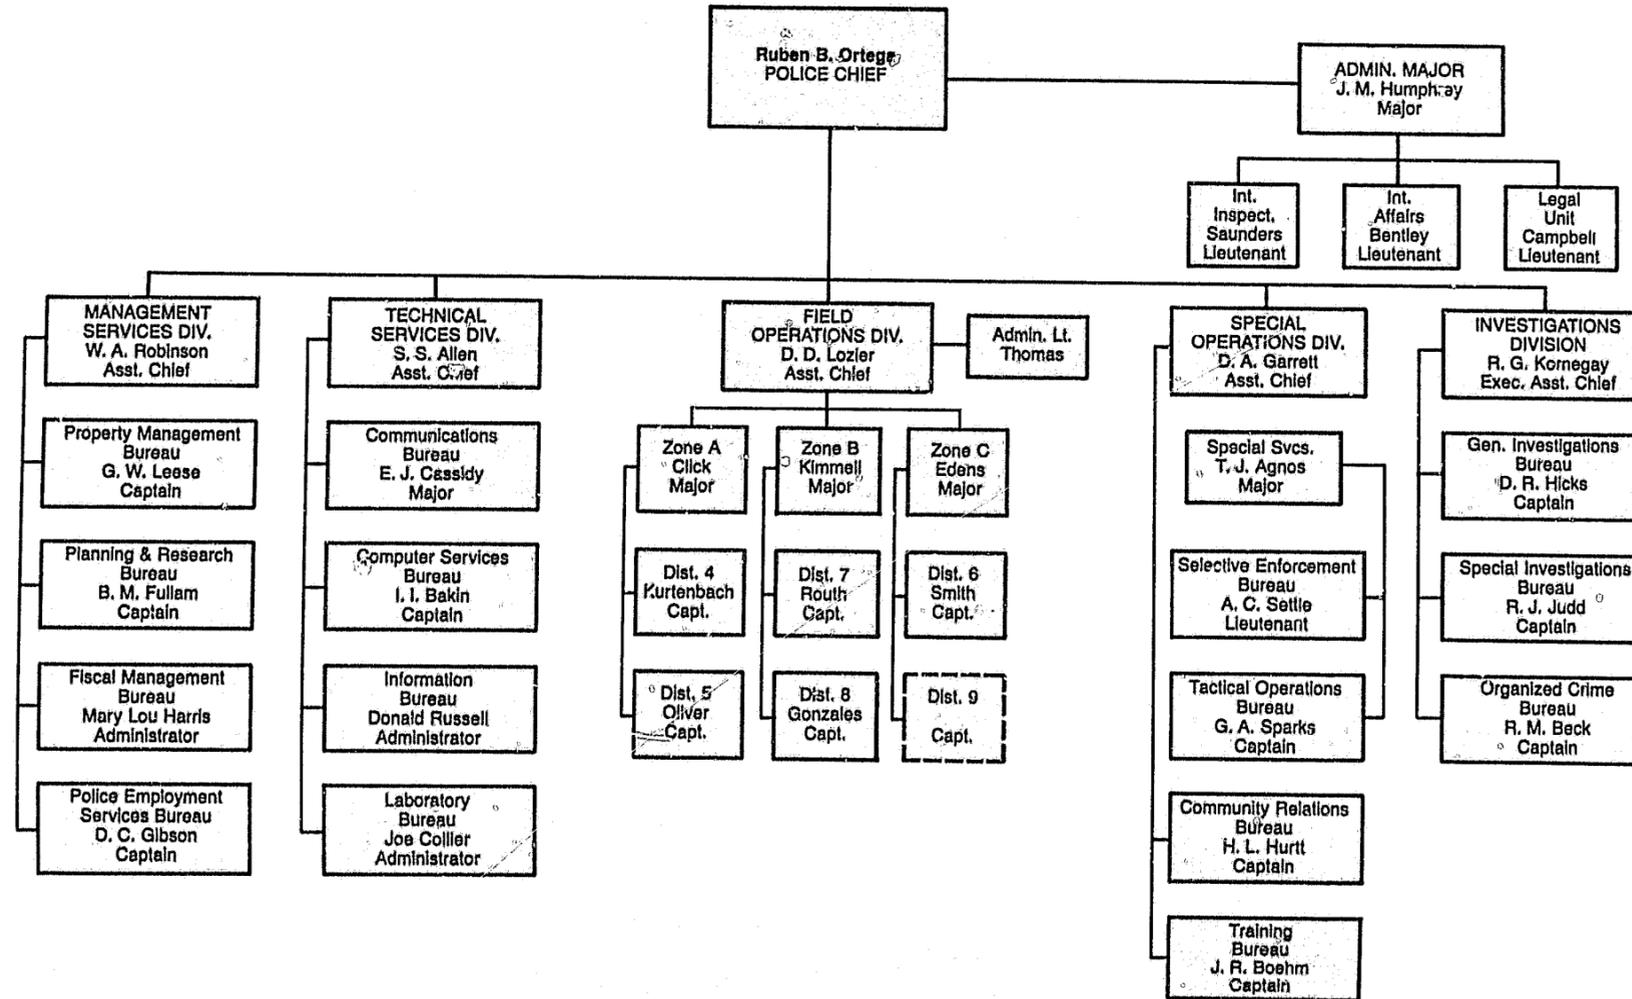

HISTORY

Phoenix, capital of the State of Arizona, derives its name from the legendary Phoenix Bird, which lived for 500 years, perished in the flames of a funeral pyre and rose from the ashes youthful and strong to begin life anew. So it is with Phoenix, the city, which was built on the remains of an ancient Hohokam Indian settlement and is today the ninth largest city in the United States. Phoenix has grown from a population of 65,000 and an area of ten square miles in 1940, to today's thriving metropolis of 828,415 people living in an area that encompasses 344.4 square miles.

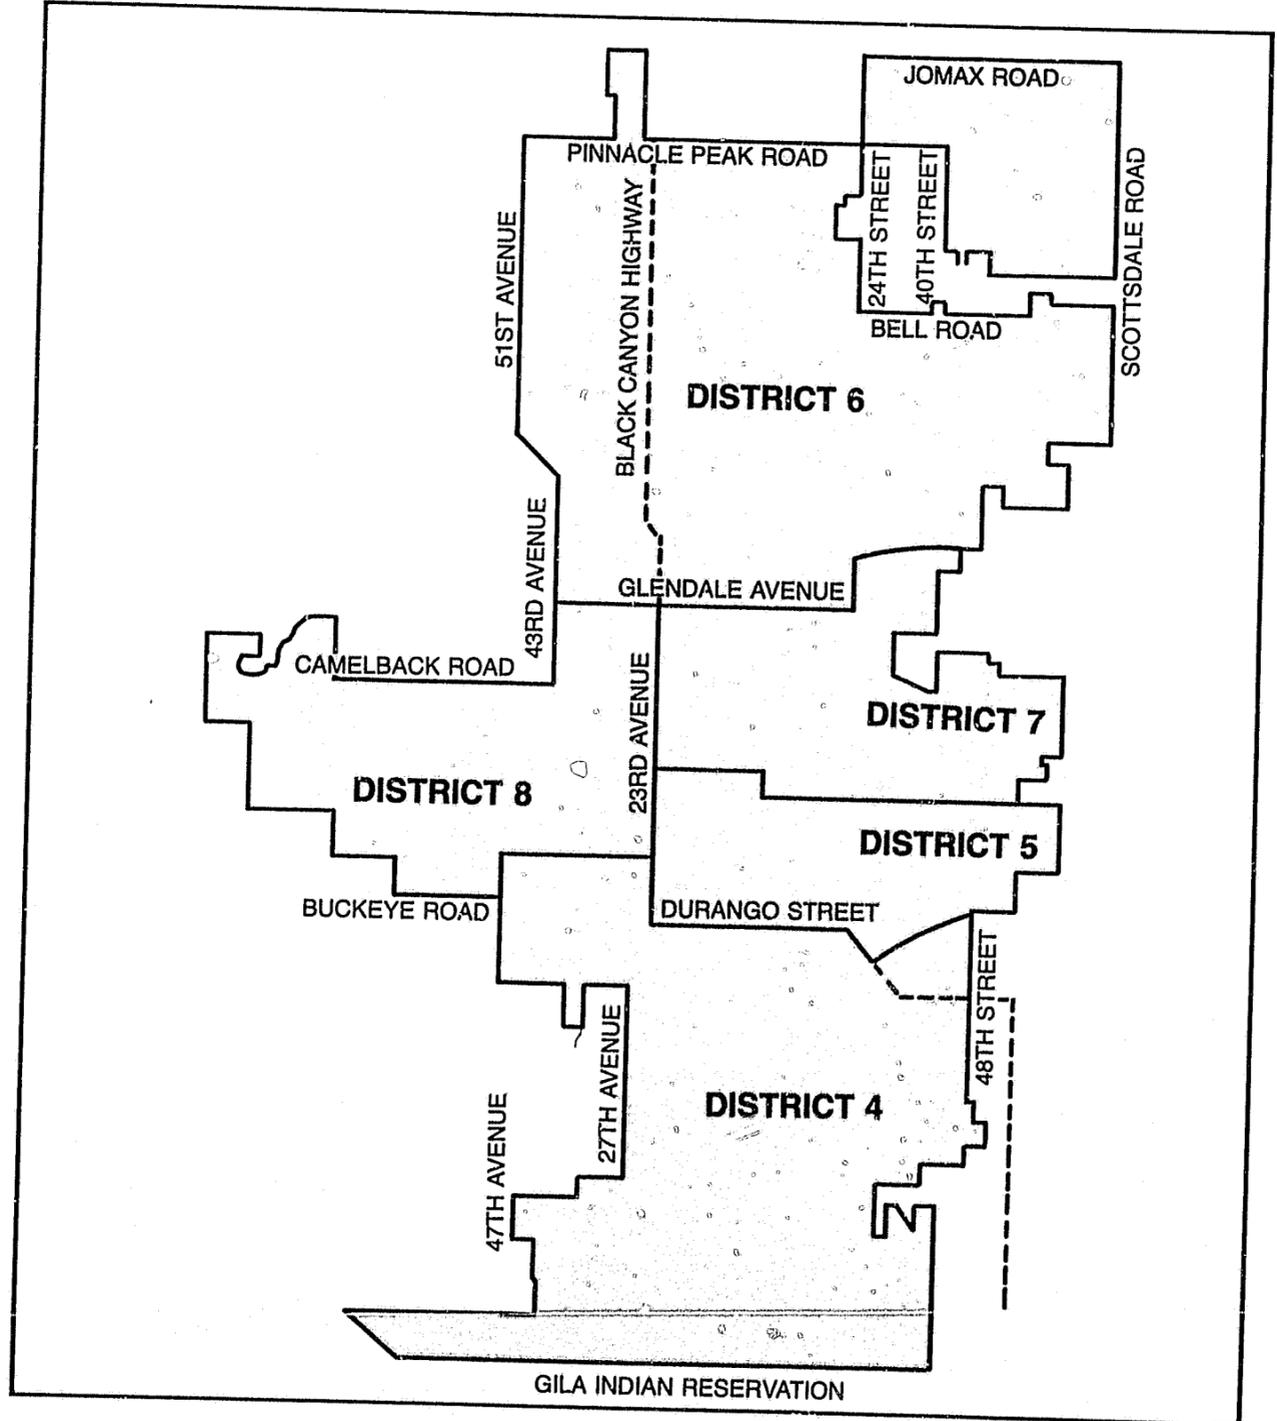

This growth has resulted in an increase in demand for police services and a corresponding increase in police department strength from 173 employees in 1940 to 2,260 authorized employees (sworn and civilian) in 1982.

Nineteen eighty-two was an extremely active year for the officers of the Phoenix Police Reserve. Reserve officers, in addition to their regular patrol requirements, participated in a number of special events which included 153 man-hours of service for the Fiesta Bowl Parade; participated in numerous crime resistance fairs conducted by the districts; continued assistance to the Community Relations Bureau by providing staffing for the Department's State Fair display; assisted the Special Investigations Bureau in providing personnel for the Customer Apprehension Program; made a special effort to provide additional reserve officers during the Police Olympics to allow a larger number of regular officers to participate in the athletic programs, and participated in the Department's Courteous Driver Awards Program.

Officers of the Police Reserve donated over 32,000 hours to the department during 1982, 22,000 of which were patrol time or activities directly related to the support of patrol officers and functions. DISTRICT 4
 South Mountain Station
 Area: 95 Square Miles
 Population: 107,942

District 4 initiated a Physical Fitness Program in July, 1982. The program is designed for personnel to improve their absolute strength, dynamic strength and flexibility. Camaraderie is an added benefit as personnel can spend time together enjoying both the exercise and good company. The program is so successful that the weight machine and officers' personal weights were moved into larger quarters to accommodate their increased use.

The South Phoenix Businessmen's Association hosted a District Awards Banquet at the Thunderbird Country Club to recognize all of the "Officers of the Month" and to honor the District 4 "Officer of the Year."

Team 43 mounted a board containing photographs of personnel assigned to the various district squads. As Team Policing and 4-10 scheduling makes it difficult for personnel to see one another, the picture board provides a means for team members to see who else is working their team area.

District 4 consolidated all of the area Block Watch groups into one cohesive organization called the South Mountain Block Watch Association. Members of the association elected a board of directors who meet with district personnel on a monthly basis. The association distributes a monthly Block Watch Newsletter which details association activities.

DISTRICT 5
 Sky Harbor Station
 Area: 25 Square Miles
 Population: 80,108

During 1982, District 5 launched several pilot crime reduction programs. These programs included team burglary reduction cars, specialized walking beat officers and an intensified community involvement campaign. The district's successes in community involvement programs are reflected in a 78% increase in Officer Friendly presentations and a 198% increase in crime prevention programs.

Self-protection seminars for women and the elderly were offered to district citizens. These seminars presented self-protection techniques to those citizens who were most likely to be exposed to crimes of violence.

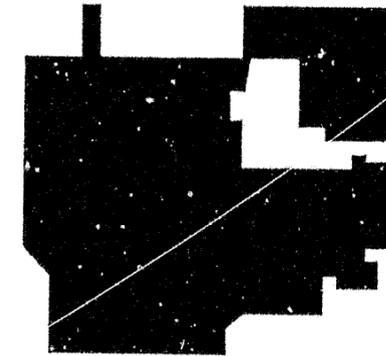

"Knock As You Walk" and "Business Watch" were new programs implemented in 1982. These programs had officers routinely contacting citizens in their homes and businesses to make them aware of the various security programs that were available.

Other successful programs implemented in 1982 included the development of special trespassing enforcement programs in the housing project areas and the promotion of McGruff as a crime prevention symbol in the schools.

During 1982, District 5 personnel answered 146,450 calls; made 12,901 arrests; investigated 5,780 accidents; wrote 41,692 citations; issued 11,363 parking tickets; recovered 748 stolen vehicles and trained 27 recruits.

DISTRICT 6
 Union Hills Station
 Area: 148 Square Miles
 Population: 290,857

District 6 personnel are responsible for providing police services to the citizens of Phoenix who live north of Glendale Avenue. This area is one of the most rapidly expanding in terms of population and contains 42% of the City's total area.

During 1982, the traffic investigators consisting of nine motor officers and seven civilian accident investigators, investigated 67% (5,359) of the 8,021 reported accidents.

District 6 personnel responded to 102,734 total calls for service; issued 52,942 citations and the Call-back Program processed 20,843 calls.

DISTRICT 7
 Squaw Peak Station
 Area: 50 Square Miles
 Population: 174,547

During 1982, District 7 rebuilt their "Phil, the Talking Car" program by creating a new electronic program system and installing it in a new patrol car. The district also built "Phil, Jr.," a miniature talking car that performs all of the functions of the full-sized "Phil."

District 7 presented a Crime Resistance Fair at the Colonnade Mall in August. The fair received excellent participation from Valley residents and visitors.

The district developed a Detective Case Management System which provides case accountability and a case screening system which determines the likelihood of case solvability and prosecution.

An effective slide presentation and instruction manual were created by district personnel to assist in the presentation of Block Watch programs.

During 1982, a Community Services Officer Program was implemented. This program assigns officers to Camelback and Central high schools to serve as liaison with school authorities and students to determine current and future problem areas. This allows the use of preventative measures to avert major confrontations.

The district initiated a Robbery Procedure Packet Program whereby packets containing suspect description forms, witness statements, and a pamphlet describing actions to take before, during and following a robbery were distributed to area convenience markets.

DISTRICT 8
Maryvale Station
Area: 62 Square Miles
Population: 174,961

District 8 is committed to working with the community to solve mutual problems. Programs such as the West Phoenix Block Watch Association, the Community Assist League and the Annual Crime Fair held at the Maryvale Mall under the cosponsorship of the Maryvale Mall Merchant's Association are indicative of the district's cooperation with the community. One of the results of the Crime Fair was the addition of 100 new Block Watches to the community.

District 8 has Community Service Officers assigned to each team who work out of the four high schools located within the district. The officers provide assistance in reducing dropout rates and absenteeism as well as preventing violent campus situations. These officers also conduct workshops on gang identification for the faculty, community organizations and parent organizations.

District personnel, the West Phoenix Chamber of Commerce and the Phoenix Parks and Recreation Department sponsored the annual "West Is Best Fair Days" in April. Crime prevention and Block Watch programs were presented at the fair.

In November, District 8 personnel and the West Phoenix Block Watch Association participated in a community carnival at Isaac Junior High School. In December, the district's Christmas project provided 41 needy families with food and gifts for the holiday.

On May 24, 1982, District 8 implemented a district-level sting operation known as "Project Snowball." This project was responsible for 141 felony arrest/indictments, recovering $180,090 worth of stolen property and clearing 184 cases. As a result of the resounding success of Project Snowball, similar operations are being implemented in other patrol districts.

Among these is a vigorous 14-week training program for police recruits which includes: criminal law, accident investigation, shooting techniques, defensive driving, policies and procedures and physical training. In 1982, the bureau added an advanced training sergeant and developed a new system for in-service training. The system incorporates training representatives for each bureau and district and establishes a training committee to determine the type of training needed and the format in which it should be developed.

The Video Services Unit also added an additional employee and began utilizing its new production facilities at an accelerated rate. The unit provides training tapes, informational tapes, and developed a new concept called the Video Hot Sheet. The Video Hot Sheet disseminates information to the department on criminal activities in a timely manner through the use of video tapes. The Video Services Unit is also responsible for taping and distributing the Silent Witness segments aired weekly on local television stations.
