Videotapes produced by the Police Foundation

INTRODUCTION

Crime File is a series of 22 video programs on critical issues in the criminal justice field. Produced by the Police Foundation under a grant from the National Institute of Justice, the series is designed to raise awareness and to stimulate discussion among professionals and students of criminal justice policies and practices. Each segment is 30 minutes and is available in one of three formats: VHS, Beta, and 3/4-inch tapes.

Although filmed in 1985, the series is not time specific because the topics are of enduring interest and are not tied to specific news events. Thus the tapes can sustain repeated showings and are useful in a variety of settings, including the classroom, conferences, and public affairs forums. This document is intended to aid both discussion and study of the issues. Further readings for each of the tapes are provided according to topic area. A list of participants and a price sheet for ordering additional tapes are also provided.
