SHELTER DIRECTORY OF SERVICES IN CALIFORNIA

This directory of services for battered women and their children has been compiled, printed and distributed by the Southern California Coalition on Battered Women. Data included was collected between September 1982 and March 1983.

In line with our networking goals, we attempt to maintain and distribute current resource and referral information. Therefore, the directory will be updated twice yearly and reprinted annually. Additional copies are available from the address above for $10.

Networking and information sharing can efficiently and effectively revitalize us in these fiscally and politically challenging times. Please consider joining us by filling out and returning the membership application at the back of the directory. We look forward to a lengthy and fulfilling relationship with you and your organization.

The Southern California Coalition on Battered Women

The Southern California Coalition on Battered Women, formed in 1976, is a tax-exempt, non-profit, membership organization whose major purpose is to facilitate communication and the exchange of information among service providers working with victims of domestic violence in Southern California. Among its members are shelters, hotlines, mental health centers, hospitals, medical clinics, law enforcement agencies, local and state legislators, and representatives from several minority and women's organizations and interested individuals numbering over 250 as members. The Coalition represents a wide range of expertise and interest in the problems of domestic violence.

The Southern California Coalition on Battered Women:

- provides volunteer and staff training to agencies providing services to battered women and their families
- provides training, technical assistance, and consultation to traditional and nontraditional service providers in over 20 subject areas
- publishes a monthly newsletter with up-to-date information on legislation, new resources, new written and audio-visual materials, and current events
- provides preventive education to the community through presentations and conferences
- compiles and disseminates information on domestic violence, including publication of a women's survival card
- provides information and referral services to battered women, and to community organizations
- provides a mechanism for organizations serving victims of domestic violence to work cooperatively

You Can Help

Participation in the Southern California Coalition on Battered Women provides a means for those of us concerned about domestic violence to work together to address common concerns.

There are several membership categories designed to meet the varying needs of our members. All SC/CBW members receive a monthly newsletter and discounts at SC/CBW sponsored conferences, and vote at annual membership meetings.

Individuals

Major Donor ..... $500 or more
Supporter ..... $100 or more
Sustaining Member $50
Active Member $30
Associate Member $20

Organizations

Agency Council Member $50

Each organization will have one voting member and one alternate at the annual Agency Council Meeting. The meetings will provide an opportunity for various organizations to share information and work cooperatively on the problems they face in working with families and individuals impacted by domestic violence.

All memberships are renewable annually in June.
