NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF JUSTICE EXAMINES BODY-WORN CAMERA PROGRAMS AND PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON – The Office of Justice Programs’ National Institute of Justice (NIJ) today published an article on www.nij.gov discussing the outcome of two NIJ funded studies reviewing body-worn camera product availability and criminal justice agency motivations for their use. The studies, A Market Survey on Body-Worn Camera Technologies and A Primer on Body-Worn Camera Technology are intended to inform agency officials and policymakers on procurement and use of body-worn cameras.

More information about today’s publication and other NIJ programs is available here: www.nij.gov
