OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS AWARDS NEARLY $49 MILLION TO SIX STATES, ONE TERRITORY TO ADDRESS COVID-19 PANDEMIC

WASHINGTON – The Department of Justice’s Office of Justice Programs announced that it has awarded nearly $49 million to six states and one territory to address the public safety challenges posed by the outbreak of COVID-19.

The grants are among the most recent to be awarded through the $850 million available under the Coronavirus Emergency Supplemental Funding program, authorized by the recent stimulus legislation signed by President Trump. This program allows eligible state, local and tribal governments to apply immediately for these critical funds. OJP is moving quickly, aiming to have funds available for drawdown as soon as possible after receiving an application. In addition to statewide awards, many local jurisdictions within these states are eligible for direct awards.

The grantees are: the Delaware Criminal Justice Council, $3,536,720; Georgia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, $15,840,333; Guam Bureau of Statistics and Plans, $2,932,867; Iowa Governor’s Office of Drug Control Policy, $5,754,321; Nebraska Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Commission, $4,337,801; Utah Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice, $5,465,514; and the Washington Department of Commerce, $10,885,923. New Hampshire and Texas received statewide awards last week.

“The outbreak of COVID-19 and the public health emergency it created are sobering reminders that even the most routine duties performed by our nation’s public safety officials carry potentially grave risks,” said OJP Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General Katharine T. Sullivan. “These funds will provide hard-hit communities with critical resources to help mitigate the impact of this crisis and give added protection to the brave professionals charged with keeping their citizens safe.”

The law gives jurisdictions considerable latitude in the use of these funds for dealing with COVID-19. Potential uses include hiring personnel, paying overtime, purchasing protective equipment, distributing resources to hard-hit areas and addressing inmates’ medical needs.

The solicitation, posted by OJP’s Bureau of Justice Assistance, will remain open for at least 60 days. As a top priority, OJP will fund successful applicants on a rolling basis as it receives applications. Grantees may apply the funds retroactively to January 20, 2020, subject to federal rules.

Agencies that were eligible for the fiscal year 2019 State and Local Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant Program are candidates for the emergency funding. A complete list of eligible jurisdictions and their allocations is available at <https://bja.ojp.gov/program/fy20-cesf-allocations>.
